"Be you shall, Bobby," gravely, "whenever you want."

Bobby shivered and, Felicia was singing "Jim Jam."

"Don't it sweet at him?" she thought "I never saw a man sing every time once at all to me." I don't wonder they call him the invincible one! Such a lively thing, to give me a serenade!"

"This is the first," lamented Jim while proudly "This is to Uncle's Brightness, but will this Bonnie be the very day. Get your cat, Uncle climbs out to a balcony!"

The big, fluffy Persian was brought out for the admiration of the guest, who regarded it with coldly relieved mien.

Miss Vera A. Beeler, 31 Tolosaire St., Montreal, P.Q., writes: "I had eczema for eight years on my hands. I tried many remedies, but they only made it worse. I was ashamed to shake hands with anyone. I had tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment before, but I stopped using them. I read an advertisement and decided to try them again. After using them for a few days I noticed a change for the better, and after using them for a few weeks I was entirely cured. I have not had any return of the eczema since."

"It's a secret," answered Gladys. "She's in the house—is a sign. When we put Fluff we had to shut the parrot out, 'cause he wanted to pick Fluff's eyes out."

"Two sister hear the parrot talk?" cried Jimmie. "The can say 'Here's the time,' 'Oh, it, and how,' and 'I'll bet on your pain at 4 cue.'"

"That's being bits out," snapped the scientific. "and look at all those surprises and one which is the river now."

"Oh, we can't!" cried Gladys breathy "If they should see that some thing was be soon next to death."

The back of the adorable one is turned squarely upon the timorous Gladys. "Then, Bobby," "Are it any ways sorts?"

"I guess we'd better, Glad," said Jim quite sharply. "She said do everything would to make them happy."

"But I make everybody happy," answered Bobby serenely. "We'll give her a Scrub Sadie!"

"What a Scrub Sadie?"

He waves homesick." interposed Gladys, anxious for reinstatement. "It help make it."

"Yes, it's a Scrub bede—staying and —and betaging gifts You make a present and here your pets for gifts and we'll all sing!"

"That's one thing so!" The girl were wonders for them her wardrobe.

"Now!" in concert from the three adorable.

"Oh, I mean play dress up," pleaded Gladys. "I'll put on one of mamma's dress sikes, and Jimmie can put on pape's coat"

"She's got tells!" The possibilities of the proposal appeal to the adorable one.

"I can find one with tails," eagerly "two tails."

"All right. Can't you put a skirt on, Jim? Then there'll be two ladies and two gentlemen—in the Scrub Sadie."

Jim objected, but his dignity was soon set reversed, and twenty minutes later the proverbial, acute noteworthy was assembled and upon the door bell rang.

"It is Sarah Sade," the manager had explained before leaving. "I very one things the things to Miss Ned, just to get to a town the curtains all the go."

Ism was like the heroes at Balaklava—had he in question way He poked his head in the door, sweet smiling face and waved his mouth in a deep bow. "Lady," he squeaked in a tone he had him, subtly pitying; Jimmie pleaded, "I have a lovely on the blue footard and greatly welcomed in an invitation home."

Their entrance was evidently not happily timed. As soluble young one sprang in his feet with a smothered exclamation, and Felicia was alone from sheer consternation.

Don't sent says, grasping "There the late in your eyes I could see," was insistent to the point of a sore sort. He has been under Cancer, his movements were usually salacious and relishing and the clinging broadcloth skirt added to the dignity of lectures. He is felt heavily, and his shadow load and his face was red. The shrieking Gladys and the rational one had been unable to get rid of his suffering gloves in his raising graves-downwardly and the tops of the embroidered Persian and two eyes from his knees on the morning lady.

Felicia stepped from Dan retailers and motioned a severe investigation of every toy, arm or body within reach of her whose knee level, stamping brow-ly, "Who is the fairy," lamented Jim while proudly "His name is Bunch o Britchens, but we call him Bunch for they dot. Get your cat, Glad climbs out to a balcony!"

The big, fluffy Persian was brought out for the admiration of the guest, who regarded it with coldly relieved mien.

A Double-Barrelled Escape

Miners are among the most brave people in the world. Danger is at ways beside them, and they are schooled to believe that a step time they will come face to face with death. The result of this is that they are humorous in their mine.

In one of the mines of Pennsylvania there was a man in which he discovered a rather hooded pipe. There was the ordinary hole-opening in one of the extended ends and he went at once to dig him out. It was not until Sunday morning, however that they reached his poison chamber, and by this time they were uncertain whether he had been suffocated or starved to death. When the first shaft his head through the aperture made for the pipe he was found and called out:

"Is he all right?"

All right!" came from the pipe, and the offer a pause. "What is that to-day?"

Sunday, answered the friend outside "Is it, Jack? Has glad: that was one fortunate night when those sailors frightened me my supper!

Found Waving

Michael Gallagher was ill and in bed, and the doctor was in attendance. The doctor's boy had gone with his father to see the patient.

"You won't eat but lots eat victim," said the doctor to the boy, "but I'll give you a good breakfast enable in after you've had your breakfast." Then turning to the sick man he said: "Now, Michael, you must be very careful and keep quiet."

The woman promised to obey in every particular and the doctor went on his way. When he called next morning he was surprised to find that the patient was dressed.

"Why, Michael!" he exclaimed, "I told you to keep quiet and not get out of bed."

Did you take his temperature this night, sir, I asked, and he told me to do it?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, said the patrician with a look of pride, "I found it was going to be a hot day, so I got up and put on my flannels."

Linguistics

A well-known actor was once asked on to sing at a concert hall

He was willing enough to do so, but he had an interpreter. He is quite fluent in French.

The particulars required by the programme were duly handed in to the interpreter.

Not me, the man replied "I can't sing."

Well, then, said the patrician with a look of pride, "you must translate it, I'll just write French in again."

You don't mean it, exclaimed the actor in horror. "I can't do that. The song chap's he said it to me as I should hold my head."

A Whole for a Time

A Cleveland school teacher writes that she asked her class what was the difference between the expressions "a while" and "awhile." Several days went by and then the answer came. Little Johnny Jones, aged seven, was the author of the following: "Awhile is a little and while is a little bit. A little bit is a piece of pie and a piece of pie is a piece of cake. You can't make awhile of while, mamma says she knows she's right because she's a woman."

The new way of looking at it "awhile" This Summer.

The Only Way

The late Wilbur Wright got safely through all the aeroplane contests in the U.S.

Mr. Wright was once watching with critical eye the flight of a new aeroplane, when a Dutch farmer, who had never seen one before, came up and began to chat with him.

Charlie Wilbur can you get to be a pilot in one month of lessons?

Not by going up regular the answer. "But if you have dived a good many lofs you may do so by coming down."

If He Didn't

The cartoon gentleman was one partly excuse, but he was not to be put off with the bad asked Mabel many times before she would consent to marry him. "There might be a man somewhere who would make me happier than you," she said, "and I should not like to feel that I had married you because I was afraid to refuse you." "I'll take my chance of that," said Algernon stoutly. "The only way to find out whether you are the right girl for me is to marry you."

Sent!

He sat: "I only ask to be By Tom at once—be thine!" Her father heard the plea, And Tommy sent—and mine!

Fragile Father

A man travelling in Maine met an old farmer whose son he had with him. The father appeared to be very proud of his son, who was a fine, strapping fellow. Ninety years old he.

"Is this your son?" he inquired.

Is he built good?

"Yes," was the reply. "He's been round Bath for five months back."

"Five months!" he repeated. "Why, I guess, sometimes I think farmer Bath is built of matches."

Subtle

The black-lower and bonnet navigator had a shrewish disposition, and the man that is a navigator by could only sail with her on condition that he should be allowed to go ashore for a time.

Whose you remain to go away?" the old lady asked of the driver of the hansom cab.

Whose you remain to go away?" the old lady asked of the driver of the hansom cab.

In Search of Useful Information

"Can you tell me," inquired a gentleman across a ruler," found slammed the door of a railway carriage, "whether the train will be stopping at Bletchley?"

"I am the food inspector," replied the guard.

Extraordinary

What became of that little kitten you had? asked a visitor of the small boy.

Who knows? I ate—I mean—I gave it away.

Family Failings

Israel Zangwill, the well-known writer, says a friend: I fancy—if he will excuse my saying so—that he has a little of the Shylock in him. Zangwill, who delights in his Jewish descent, replied: Shylock! Why, I don't believe I have a trace of it in me. I'm a mixture of Irish and Scotch—Irish by my father, Scotch by my mother.

Modern: I have none, he gravely added—by Lippincott's.

DAY OF THE LUMBERJACK ROD

Once Indispensable to Farm Building Now Seldom Seen

The announcement at the death in Missouri recently of John Cole, a native of the lumbering and rowing industry recalls the particular manner of that footpath in rowing figure in the world of contests and sport, and at once is understood by the laymen of earlier days.

No cadet there are half grown boys and girls in plenty now to be have seen a lumbering rod, yet a quarter of a century ago he plying he considered aside from a belt of light wood splines it was necessary for the rowing coast point which was expert to the art of the lumberjack rod.

Fisher built in the ordinary of the lumbering camp, and it was difficult for the owner of a building to get a few lumberjacks. They knew the use was about to cut home

But the last fit of fortune had been made, and the lumberjack rod was made, more power to the Demon. For full particulars and confidential information address the institute nearest you.

The Next Thing in Small Boys' Dogs

When Henry Miller is reluctant to play he works hard and long at something else on the side. He is very busy lately on a dog house, especially, such a strain on his time, and the complexities of carpentry, and artistic temperament seem to produce an awkward, a fact he is a slave of. During the rehearsal for his last play, several things and gone wrong and Miller had endless importance in carpentry and dogs.

He went on with the work and was in the midst of a crisis when he had to pick up a tapper to drive in the handle end of a saw, put the tool in the table, and the tar roof ran a hammer and nail in the other. The stage manager immediately was sent off by a trembling fit, and every member of the company began to wish that they were elsewhere. They knew the star was about to cut loose

But the last fit of fortune had been made, and the lumberjack rod was made, more power to the Demon. For full particulars and confidential information address the institute nearest you.

Satisfactory

A certain surly old bachelor who runs a general store has a very pretty and charming daughter. One morning a certain young man who wants to engage the large amount of assistance in the store called to see the proprietor, and was greeted by the surly old bachelor in the following manner:

"Now, look here, young man, I've got a daughter, and I don't want you hanging around her. Do you understand? Now, if you want to buy anything, you can do so, but if you come here for any other purpose you'll get the worst of it."

The young man, who had come to buy a pair of shoes, left the store in a hurry.

Unexpected Flippancy

We hardly look for humor in a medical examination, but a certain doctor was rather taken aback by an unexpected answer he received from a young man who was undergoing the usual examination for life insurance.

"Have you ever had any serious illness?" asked the doctor.

"Only once," was the reply.

"And what was that?"

"Why, I was born," was the unexpected answer.

BALDWIN'S NEW POST

FORMER WAR MINISTER NOW PRESIDES OVER LORDS.

Lord Chancellor He Will Have a Chance to Turn His Great Talents Into Another Channel—It Is Twenty-Seven Years Since He Took Up Parliamentary Work and His Labors Have Been Arduous.

Not for any office in the state would I lay down the task I have to hand.

His task completed at the War Office, Lord Haldane, the profound thinker and acclaimed work, his constant delight in philosophy, his knowledge of the Kaisers and the high destinies of the Empire, now goes John Morley for the high time since the Boer War, to the House of Lords, not as a party man in a department on whose efficiency he is responsible, but as one of the nation.

Lord Haldane had scarcely made preparations on the Law Courts when he was called to the Premiership. Parliament is now to have its way, and Lord Haldane will be free to devote himself entirely to the work he has always loved. He has otherwise ruled how declined a peerage, but he has now accepted it

FOR THE FARMERS

The C. P. R. Agricultural College Train, and the Work It Accomplished

On a clear morning, June 18, the Agricultural College Special run by the Canadian Pacific Railway for farmers arrived at the station of Sardis. The train consisted of 12 cars, and in the course of the Saturday, which it spent in the Fraser Valley, it visited 23 points and addressed meetings totalling 2,200 people. The total number of miles covered was 324 of the normal classes of railway. The following day the train spent on the work done on the journey.

Mr. Harrison, who is in charge of the train, said: "We set out originally to travel 5,000 miles, but we found that we could do more good by keeping closer home, and we have travelled 3,000 miles. We have had a number of lectures at each stop, and the average attendance was 200. The meetings were held in the morning and afternoon, and the evening was generally left free for the farmers to look around the town and meet their friends. The interest shown was very great, and the meetings were always enthusiastic. Many questions were asked, and discussions followed the addresses. The questions were of a very practical nature, and showed that the farmers were thinking deeply on the problems of their calling. The interest was greatest in the subjects of dairying and stock raising. Many farmers have small creameries and would like to make better butter, but they do not know how. Many of them have only a few cows, and they cannot afford to put in the necessary machinery. They want to know how they can make good butter with the facilities they have at their disposal. Many of the farmers have small orchards, and they want to know how to get the best results from them. Many of them have poultry, and they want to know how to get the best results from them. W.C.T.U.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. McCall at the Manor on Thursday afternoon. There was quite a large attendance and great interest was shown. Fourteen ladies present. Two new members added to the Union Roll. At this was annual business meeting there were a number of reports read and discussed. The Union had the very great privilege of having with them at this meeting Mrs. Bowes-Lyon who is a member of Uxbridge Union, Ontario. Mrs. Bowes-Lyon's address gave some very interesting suggestions of the different methods of W.C.T.U. work which will prove very profitable to the Tofield Union. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was given to the hostess very kindly dispensing tea and cake. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Crane, second Thursday in October.

And in There Really Such a Creature as "the Average Man?"

A very strong and exciting denial has got into my mind. One of the very models of my acknowledgments, a very "sleeper" of my remote bones, has been honored, and all sorts of strange fancies, like little wints and hazy insects, are scampering among my wits.

For it has occurred to me that, after all, the minority are in the majority. I know it sounds wrong. I know that. Heaven be thanked! I am spared the bad illusions of the insane that I see me.

But while I have always lived moreor-and had my being under conviction that the majority see only rules but also actual praises, more to those of it, I have never been a minority, while every term active in the large, active and exceedingly vocal and aggressive minority.

The majority of the people in the United States are drawn by our personal form of government, yet I never met a man in my life that did not think he could improve it.

The majority are sound and well, but did you ever run across a well woman?

The majority are sane, yet have you ever found one sane individually so?

The fact of the matter is that the average man is a myth, he is a mathematical hypothesis, he exists only for the purpose of statistics and argument; he is the small end of which generalities are formed. He is like an atom or a libretto or a solution hypothesis. Everybody is abnormal. Normalcy is merely the imaginary point where the abnormalities between it never linked any length of time with a human being who did not by and by say something like "Well, I am no rifler, I know," "I am strange," or "no one has ideas folks," or words to that effect.

Strange that the entire population of the globe is in the minority!

The rarest person in the world to find is the one who does, eats or thinks as most people do.—Frank Crane in Chicago News.

A STRUGGLE WITH A WIFE.

How Brietherg's Unhappy Marriage Colored His Work.

The extremely unhappy married life of August Strindberg is commented upon by Clayton Hamilton in the Bookman.

"At the age of twenty-six," he says, "Strindberg fell in love with the woman who was to exert a deeper influence upon his work than any other factor in his life's experience. He was already married, but she obtained a divorce and married Strindberg. For a time their wedded life was happy, and it was during this single period of calm his experience poured forth an assembly of motives and variety of literary works converted to the romantic mood. But a little love his marriage began to be disrupted by discussions, and the romantic idyll between increasingly unbearable to both parties as the years proceeded. Strindberg by their children, they endured a life of torture until finally, after fifteen years, they abandoned the hopeless struggle and were divorced.

"This tragic experience has colored all the later work of Strindberg. He had begun by conceiving life as not, and he discovered in his own case that love, which in the origin and essence of life, is also war—a war long, lifelong battle without an interruption for even a day. Love can be known to only the sternes of a two sided person, of which the inevitable reverse is hatred. Other poets have made the same observation. Congreve, for instance, Mr. Kipling's harrowing lines: 'I took it for granted them, * * * Ah, Gawd, I love you so!'"

Smothered Pig.

There is a fish in Hamilton waters which is known by the native name of humiliousness-chinkapoos, which means literally "rooting up the bone." The native Hawaiian method of kill ing this fish is to roast it in an oven-it, not cut its throat, and it is another fish that is caught only a month and soon. This fish with the long nose and sucking mouth which is found everywhere and is needless to say on the pig's table. Hence the name Sore Belly means "the fish that provides the necessary for serving up the name of the pig."

The Morning Star.

The morning star, the very half studded with spires and fastened by most of a clock in a short heads, was much used in mediaeval times as a talisman against the exceedingly formidable, for when thrown it could not be recalled or dodged, the chain pervading it to curve around the arm or even the shield. It was exclusively modeled after a common native which grows in every part of Italy.

Dangerous Early Marriages.

SPECIAL RATES FOR EXHIBITORS

One Way First Class Fare to the Great Dry-Farming Exposition

The growing interest in the International Dry Farmed Products Exposition to be held at Lethbridge, Alberta, next fall shows the largest exhibition of grains, grasses, roots, vegetables, fruits, machinery and implements ever held in Western Canada, and probably the largest of its kind ever held on the American Continent.

Applications for entry forms have been received by Chairman McNicol of the Exposition committee from nearly every country of the globe, and advices through diplomatic channels are to the effect that nearly all of the South American countries will be represented. Germany, Russia and the United States will be represented by large exhibits, it stated that the United States will outdo anything that has ever been undertaken by the department of agriculture, while the Japanese government will collect and stage an enormous mixed exhibit of the products of the soil from its every portion and the fairs and the provinces of British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be represented by no small exhibits.

Throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan great interest is being manifested and in many sections the farmers are organized and are carried and during this spring and summer a system of plots by which each will endeavor something different than his neighbor on one acreage and pays particular attention to the product with a view to having it very much improved. In Saskatchewan the Provincial government has very active in encouraging the farmers to make a specialty of growing a variety of grain and in distributing exhibits and the Saskatchewan commissioner, Prof. N. Thompson, has applied for 10,000 square feet of space and served notice that the requirements will without doubt exceed 15 to 1, view of the large number of farmers who are preparing individual exhibits.

Manitoba is not behind in any respect and has set aside a large area of ground in the Lethbridge showgrounds with which to make a display. Here the province will have the valuable farm machinery and implements offered by the manufacturers for collecting; the largest and finest exhibit of grain ever shown in the west and with the will not compare in many of the classes, being the largest and finest exhibit of grain ever shown in the province. Further, it is stated that all exhibits of grain will be shown in a water-plug, retorted the mild to the dominion.

Now, my dear sir, pulled the pencil from my pocket, and I wrote out her prescription, as I have said, primarily as a ping on which to attach a bone in case of fire in the vicinity. Therefore it is absolutely necessary that there be anything else on it.

You are entirely wrong, declared the lady. This piggy was placed here to supply water. Consecrately it is a water piggy. It is supplied with water, then of course, it would be a water piggy.

The pompous person stopped a passing policeman.

By he began, I desire to appeal to you as an officer of the law. This person has become involved in an argument with me, and I desire that this impudent creature be arrested at once. I regret considerably to have that is a water piggy, and I hereby notify the question be out.

The policeman pulled his pedometer from his belt in a fog-gun, and pushing the head aside with his left hand, kept at me insensitive.

Then he pulled out the plug and tapped it gently with his cane.

Why, he said, it is a water piggy, I should remarked. This appears to be an iron piggy.

Ground Food

The country has never looked so beautiful as it does this glorious summer, and the setting sun seems to linger lovingly on the beautiful fields of the old Hatchard road in Little Wilton, on the farm of Jacob Hatchard, who has lived in the same country occupied on old fashioned farm for the past forty years, and is still residing at all around him.

The old farmer's self began to push a chicken that had destined for the pot, but the pencil was taken away by married the more

Then the lady turned from the doctor and I were dropped into a corner. I had spent twenty minutes of an ordinary man like myself, and I was not a little humbled, as I thought, by the lady's attitude to me. And then to see the doctor's face—

Worn-Out Meadows

The probable value of time on an old meadow depends on the physical condition of the sod, and the amount of food locked up in the soil in unavailable forms. If the soil is heavy clay and inclined to bake lime would have a tendency to make the soil more friable, and hence more suited to plant growth. If the land is mossy, as evidenced by the growth of such plants as sheep sorrel, or horse tail, an application of 1,000 to 1,500 lbs. of lime per acre would be decidedly beneficial. Lime also acts in a remarkable manner in setting free the food of the soil, rendering it available for the use of the plants, but the result of this action of lime in the long run is still greater importance to the soil.

As a direct fertilizer, lime is of particular value for clover. In fact, clover cannot be grown successfully in a soil deficient in lime. But lime cannot take the place of the other fertilizing elements in which old meadows are usually deficient.

Prepare Roads for Winter

A little attention given the Fall now may save the necessity of driving over rough roads all winter. Rutty roads are worse, will at this time of the year simply work into bad mud holes and leave the road in very bad shape for a long time.

It is well to fill up the centre of the road and have the crown graded so that the wheels cannot form ruts or places where water can stand. The road drag or road scraper can be used to good advantage in filling in centre of the road. Observe the difference in the road when rutted and when ruts exist. There will be a big difference in the ease of hauling over the two, especially in fall and spring.

"Remember" for the Dairy

Prof. W. A. Henry's dairy experiments go to show that the opening of cream before churning increases the yield of butter from fifteen to twenty per cent. over the yield from sweet cream, if both are churned in the same way.

Cloths are not the best things in the world to use about the churn usually more than will remain from them, and this is likely to get into the butter. Brushes are far better.

If cows had the gift of speech, how eloquent they would be over the blanket you slip over them at milking time! And what would they not say if they could, by way of thanks for the extra chin every morning!

Tofield's Third Fair

Promises to be a Huge Success

To-morrow is the day of the big Fair that has been the talk of the Tofield District for the past month, and the direct cause of the Agricultural Society are to be praised for the enthusiastic manner in which they have carried on the preparations to make the day a huge success.

Farmers will have an opportunity to display their produce and stock and make good the statement, now becoming recognized all over Canada, that Tofield is the centre of one of the best farming districts in Alberta. The race track has been placed in fine shape and should be the cause of some interesting horse-racing. The feature, which will take place between the horse racing, will no doubt arouse considerable interest.

The programme as announced by Mr. Bennett, the Societies energetic secretary is as follow:

Mr. Yonah has plans prepared for a fine home to be built on fourth st. and several buildings are being designed and discussed, among them being a large basement home on Block thirty-five fourth st.

Besides the building operation considerable municipal construction will soon be under way. The design for the large concrete reservoir is complete and all materials for its construction now on job and when a satisfactory supply of water in street operations will be rushed. Tofield's Future

In a recent correspondence from Eastern Canada the writer says that visitors from the West, and especially those from the vicinity of Tofield, are being constantly besieged with queries as to the future of the Town of Tofield. We, who are at present residing in this district and can see undeniable what great inducements Tofield can offer to Prospective industrial concerns are not at all supposed to learn that such an interest is being taken in the future of our town.

In order for any industry to become successful it must fulfill two functions. First it must manufacture an article for which there is a good demand, and second it must be able to turn out this product at a price which will induce the public to buy.

If a concern is working under advantages that make the cost of the manufacture of their product cheaper than that of their competitor, then it is that they can afford to undersell him and not only make a good clear profit but can practically control the market.

No one will deny that throughout the public West there is an ever increasing demand for good staple manufactured products and no more favorable condition could enter into the cost of the producing, and it is on this point that Tofield stands forth with the strongest of indorsements.

We have in unbounable fields of good burning coal which can be obtained at a very low price.

We have natural gas the supply of which is from all indications unlimited.

We have areas of clays which are suitable for the manufacture of brick and we hope to learn from tests now being carried on that they are also suitable for different forms of fireproofing materials and drain pipe. We have an abundance of good quarts sand.

We have one-hundred and sixty acres of good land reserved as an industrial section, which will be given to manufacturing concerns at cost price.

We have competent engineers now designing and constructing an up to date fire protection, water and gas system. We have good railway connections with Edmonton and Winnipeg and the branch line will shortly be finished between Tofield and Calgary connecting with the main line at this point.

We have a class of business men in town and at the head of the town's affairs who will leave no stone unturned to encourage a good sound manufacturing concern to locate here.

Taking all these points into consideration and remembering that we are situated in one of the best farming districts in Alberta there anyone who can have but the most sanguine hopes for the future of our town.

Educated at Loretta public school, London High School, Trinity Medical College, Toronto University, and Western University, London, Ont., and as a practicing physician, left off being a man of much merit. In addition to other positions and honor Dr. Roche has been Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. for Manitoba, Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the same order, and for a number of years was member of the Manitoba Medical Council. He is a Liberal.

When Dr. Roche, Dr. Reddick, Dr. Roche and the agitation of a few years ago for a uniform standard for practicing physicians in every province of the Dominion. The Reddick bill failed to become operative because of the failure of certain provinces to co-operate but in an amended form it was made law at the last session of parliament.

Dr. Roche takes a great interest in the new Lady Minto Hospital in Ottawa, his home town. It is with him a labor of love to assist in building this institution which will be conducted on the most up to date and economical basis possible, in order to bring its privileges nearly every citizen, not the old patients, to such the wards of the Lady Minto Hospital at Ottawa, and to demonstrate that, at heart, he is still a doctor and a Westerner.

Mrs. R. L. Borden, A Charming Society Queen

In Mrs. Borden, wife of Canada's new premier, are combined all those qualities that make social life the best that dignity, grace and refinement of the ideal in business, and though perhaps disinclining to some extent in her social tastes, exercises to received in the Borden home on her or her merit.

The residence of the premier elect in Ottawa, situated on Wurtemberg Street, and formerly occupied by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, is arranged and furnished intensively for the comfort of its inmates. Strangers entering that home for the first time are immediately impressed with the restful atmosphere which pervades and reigns throughout the house, and among the collection of paintings which adorn the walls are several skilful productions from the brush of Mrs. Borden, who is an artist of some note. She is also a clever photographer, and in preparing her pictures does all the work herself from developing to finish. Many of the best pictures of Mr. Borden, some of which have been used for publication, were snapped, developed, and completed by his wife.

Another accomplishment Mrs. Borden is an enthusiast. Her garden is beautifully designed, and some of the richest blooms on the grounds surrounding her home are personally attended to by her.

Although not actively identified with many of the charitable institutions of Ottawa, Mrs. Borden has by kind acts, has brought cheer to the sick and needy.

While resident in Halifax she worked indefatigably in what is known as the Woman's Work Kitchens, an institution that has accomplished much good, especially for those of reduced circumstances. In the board of management she has been for several years a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses, and her name also appears on the membership rolls of the National Council of Women of Canada, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the Aberdeen Association and the Women's Auxiliary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England. Of the latter organization Mrs. Borden's activities have been chiefly through that branch at All Saints' Church, of which parish both she and Mr. Borden are members.

Mrs. Borden is a native of Halifax, Mrs. Borden's time. A skilful golfer she has been connected with the ladies' club of Ottawa, and was honored by that body last year when the members elected her as their president.

Mrs. Borden was born at Halifax, N. S., her maiden name being Laura Bond. Her father was Thomas Henry Bond and her's parents were of English extraction. Her grandfather Catherine Agnes, who was a descendant of an old Cornwall family of that name. Mrs. Borden's education was received in her home town.

Our Grain Situation

In a recent interview in Winnipeg Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk Railway system, proclaims a more serious grain blockade this year than has ever occured before but points out that it is the facilities for removing the grain from the terminals and not the railways that are at fault. "I do not hesitate to say," Mr. Chamberlain observed, "that the three railways are in a position, as far as rolling stock is concerned, to move all the grain they will be asked to handle but it cannot be removed from the terminal points. There is now at Montreal as well known a considerable quantity of last year's grain awaiting removal and our company has a great many hundred cars standing idle. The labor troubles in England have contributed towards the probable blockade by delaying steamship sailings but in any case there are not enough steamships to take the grain away with proper despatch. As far as elevator accomodation is concerned as far as it is not required for shortage but only for transferring grain from the cars to the ships, everything will be alright There is no doubt though that either better facilities for getting grain out of the country, or additional storage facilities are absolutely essential. Railroad cars are not intended for storage purposes, but they are obliged to be used for that purpose now.

According to a despatch from Western Canada, Mr. R. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk System has announced the company's decision to use oil as locomotive fuel on the mountain section of the G. T. P. The company has large sections of oil lands, along its lines which should assure a practically illimitable supply. Eventually it is hoped to use oil also on the National Transcontinental section section of the road.

"They Can't by Did"

When one a man lay a cap for his knee,
Or a key for a lock of his bale?
Can his cry to be called an assembly
Because there are people there?
In the crowns of his head what gems are set,
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use when shingling the roof of his mouth,
The nails on the ends of his toes?
Can the crack of his elbow be sent to jail?
And if so, what did it do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blade?
I'll be hanged if I know — do you?

If you know the real value of Chamberlain's Liniment for lame back, soreness of muscles, sprains and rheumatic pains, you never will be without it.—For sale by all dealers.

W. THOMPSON,
Returning Officer

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected.—For sale by all dealers.

CHINA MOVING INTO LIGHT

Only Recently in the Babylon Stage, China is To-Day on Threshold of Governing Along Constitutional Lines.

In its government five years ago China was not far from that which existed in Babylon or Nineveh; the will of the emperor was the final authority. Constitutional government, democracy were practically unknown terms and an unfit ruler during 1909 the ballot was granted to all people meeting certain property or education qualifications. To-day China stands on the threshold of a constitutional government, planning to take her place alongside the constitutional monarchies like Germany and great Britain. There are still a number of officials of the old type; there are many reforms on paper only; but the people themselves, entirely interfere, China promises in one decade to change from the political ideals of 2,500 years ago or these of the most modern times.

In 1906 China had the educational system that existed almost unchanged for 2,500 years. She was practically without government colleges and schools.

From the day the Portsmouth treaty was signed by Russia and Japan, China has been a new nation; to a man, it is dedicated to the gateway of reform and steady development. With unanimity she has cast overturns to its old course; and with unanimity it now resolves to take its place among the modern states.

The discovery of America, a wide-ocean, changed the civilization of the world; the discovery of China, with its 400,000,000 people, peaceable, industrious and capable, will make a new dating point for history.

For centuries her great intellectual life has been bound by the manacles of an effete subclassicism. Although this system was not entirely was intimately connected with the government, and with the social life of the empire, yet in one day the entire system was swept out of existence and there was yet in its place a combination of the American and Japanese systems. Colleges have sprung up like mushrooms after a rain in all the provincial capitals.

WHEN THE BEAVER BITES

A young beaver in Regents Park Gardens, London, was once placed at work upon a tree twelve feet long and one foot six inches thick, just as the workmen sounded the hour of noon. The beaver began by barking the tree a foot above the ground. That done, he attacked the trunk, worked hard, alternating his teeth with rips in his barking-pose. He barked and labored alternately until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when he ate his supper of bread and carrots and paddled about in his pond until half-past 5 o'clock. Ten minutes later, when only one inch of the tree's diameter remained intact, he bore sights upon his work, and the tree fell. Before it fell the beaver ran for home. Away they have fired a blast. Then, from his lair by on the ground, he portioned it out mentally and again began to gnaw.

He worked at intervals all night, cut the log into three parts, rolled two of the portions into the water, and reserved the other third for his permanent shelter.

REWARD OF GENIUS!

Apropos of the pension of $10 a week that the English government has just granted to the popular Rhodes novelist, Joseph Conrad, a Chicago poet said the other day: "The only popular rides in a French manner and drinks champagne with his dinner, is the good novelist to thankful for a bottle of claret! Our bad taste is to blame, even in this terrible story. A wealthy Chicago publisher visited a lunatic asylum one autumn afternoon, and a among the lunatics he noticed a man who sat counting his fingers and muttering.

'Ixiry, ixiry, cutsy, cors!

Apple seeds and briar thorns!

"The publisher regarded the man attentively. About that maniac brow, about that glowing eye, there was something strangely familiar.

'Ixiry, ixiry, cutsy, cors!

Apple seeds and briar thorns.

O-h-h—o-o-!

"The publisher laid his hand on the maniac's shoulder and said sadly: 'My poor friend, is it not true that in you I recognize a pitiable wreck of what was once a heaven-born genius. A Fenimore, an author of that immortal masterpiece, 'Shut up!' the other interrupted in a fierce whisper, and he glanced cautiously about the room. 'Shut up, you old fool! Do you want to ruin me? If some of the docs get onto who I am I can only here all winter."

A Safety Kicker

They were examining an old-fashioned shotgun of murderous build. It looked as if it would be an effective weapon against anything short of an elephant, and its owner was boasting. He had scorn of feet which is also of the successful hunter, of its power.

"Doesn't it kick like anything?" asked one.

"Oh, yes, it kicks some," said the proprietor, "but that's the beauty of it. Why once I shot at a grizzly that was charging me. I missed him, and on he came. If it had not been that the gun kicked me so far back that I had time to reload, I shouldn't have been here to tell the story."

The latest schoolboy howlers come from Brooklyn. They include these: "Our heart has a pulse as well as anybody else, but you cannot feel it at his wrist."

The blood flows through the alimentary canal into the abdominal

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson Ohio Falls, Ind, writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for cough, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by—all dealers.

The orders being received by our industries, before the completion of their respective plants, proves our claim, "We love in the North west, need you Mr. Manufacturer."

$250,000 Brick Plant For Tofield

Tofield Clay Products Company Signs Agreement with Town—Location Secured—Work Starts Immediately

The members of the Industrial League are today congratulating themselves upon the conclusion of an agreement between the Tofield Clay Products Company and the Town of Tofield.

Mr. W. J. Douglass, of the above named company, was introduced to our Councilmen at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, when an agreement was entered into, and at the adjourned meeting on Wednesday evening a resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor and Secretary to sign the agreement with Mr. Douglass.

The Tofield Clay Products Company will occupy 40 acres of land on the Industrial Site, upon which land suitable clays and shales are found for the making of a stock and brick, fireproofing, etc. The management, of the Tofield Clay Products Company will commence the preliminary work on their plant at once, and hope to have prepared, ready for burning, within the next 6 or 8 weeks, a kiln containing from 300,000 to 500,000 bricks. By so doing the material for construction of the largest Clay Products Plant west of Winnipeg, will be on the ground for the early spring when it is the intention of the Company to rapidly construct its Main Buildings and Kilns, to the end that at least one kiln of brick per day may be manufactured.

The plans of the Company provide for 10 large kilns, and when they have finally reached their running capacity, it will mean from 6 to 12 carloads of brick above per day shipment. Mr. Douglass has made a most thorough test of our clays and shales, and is now satisfied that we have the best in the great north west for the manufacture of brick, and while his final tests in connection with fire-proofing are yet to be made, he is sure of being able to turn out as good, and feels very confident of manufacturing from our clays and shales a better grade of fire proofing than is made from clays elsewhere.

Mr. Douglass has made several trips into Tofield during the last few weeks and has taken long drives in the rich and fertile agricultural districts of Tofield and fully appreciates the fact of Tofield being the centre of a rich and prosperous Mixed Farming District rapidly growing.

The Industrial League and our Mayor and Councilmen are to be congratulated upon securing a plant of this magnitude and we are pleased to learn that while Mr. Douglass not only expects to have his plant in shape to employ from 150 to 300 persons soon after April 1st, 1913, he personally will assume general management and reside in Tofield.

It is a pleasing frequent sight now to see four and five engines and crews working in the G. T. P. yards at Tofield. This show Tonnage.

Mr. C. G. McKahan of Cripple Creek, Colo., recently entertained by "Mine Host" McDonald of the Queens, is expected back into Tofield shortly.

The G. T. P. have found it necessary to construct two additional spur tracks in Tofield's freight yards to take care of additional tonnage from this point.

A G. T. P. special went through on Monday afternoon with a load of Italian workers. Most of these men came from Detroit, Mich. and will be put to work on the line west of Edmonton.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid tea meet tea which was held in the Manse on Thursday afternoon 3 p.m., was a huge success in spite of the inclemency of the weather. The amount realized was $21.25.

Mr. J. Fletcher Jobb, Manager of the Tofield Foundry & Machine Co., left on Monday last to meet and accompany his wife and children, now enroute from Lunenburg, N. S. to their new home, Tofield.

Much amusement was created at the Queens Hotel last evening when "Mine Host" McDonald found it necessary to explain to several startled guests that it was simply the roar of Tofield's Natural Gas Well.

Hurry, Mr. Mayor and Councilmen.

Frank Mahaffey of Mirror was in town on Saturday.

Mr. R. N. Whillans, wife and child returned Friday from a six week's visit in the east. All are looking well.

Miss Clara Cole of Edmonton, was here on Friday to visit her brother, Ernie Cole.

The new residence of Stuart Hall and E. P. Bovey are rapidly nearing completion.

Special Note

To Our Friends and Patrons:

I have returned from Eastern Canada after spending my first vacation in twelve years or more and wish to say that I am heartily glad to be back in Tofield. I can truly say that, after the experience of the last five weeks, Alberta seems to be a special pet of "Old Sol." Lack of space in this issue will not permit further observations regarding this splendid feature of Alberta's Climate. I wish to remark that "the best laid plans of mice and men, going aft agley," and "accidents happen in the best regulated families." I must confess that our mechanical department went somewhat out of order during my absence and that I appreciate the forbearance of our many friends. Now that I am back on the job I wish to announce that arrangements have been made for the enlargement of our printing and publishing plant, additions and improvements to our staff and the publication at an early date of a paper, brighter and better in every way than in the past.

Thanking You

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY OCTOBER 10, 1912.

THE opinion has got abroad that the gas has petered out, and Tofield is getting much adverse advertising because of it. The fact is that, well No. 1 has been grossly mismanaged. It is the town's first experience with a gas well and the experience price is being TOFIELD HAS GAS paid.

Still it is certain that the hole tapped a great gas vein. And it is imperative that well No. 2 be rushed to completion. The industries coming to Tofield want the gas—we must get it for them. Still the council waits. "Mr. Somebody is coming, then we are going after him hard," they say; but the Mr. Somebody don't come. Why not use the telegraph some! The town wants the well and needs it now.

The fact of a large clay products manufacturing plant deciding within the last two days to locate in the Town of Tofield, after a thorough and systematic test of our clays and shales and a careful investigation of our claims in regard to the enormous flow and high pressure of our natural gas, made by one who is perfectly familiar with gas fields elsewhere, is proof positive that the present trouble with our gas is due to errors in handling and not a question of lack of supply.

WILL the "Unspeakable Turk" be turned neck and crop out of Europe? The war clouds darken in the country on both sides of the Balkan mountains. Montenegro, Servia, Rounania and Bulgaria talk of uniting their forces to make war on Turkey. They seem to feel TURKEY that their chance has come when Turkey is busy with Italian affairs, but now peace has come in that direction, and Italy appears to have felt the wear of her army more than Turkey has done. At all events the government has just called out 40,000 men to fill the gaps left by dead and wounded in Tripoli. It is altogether likely that the "powers that be," which cannot trust one another in the matter of Turkish territory and are therefore not desirous of seeing European Turkey broken up at present, will control the movement of the minor states, and insist on Turkey purchasing a new lease of existance by granting concessions to the Christians.

THE "Scot" is not more ubiquitous than the "Emarld Island Man" whose interest in the dear old land of his birth will never die. We note that Sir Edward Carson, Mr. F. E. Smith and others have carried out a strenuous campaign in the city of Belfast and other parts of the province of Ulster to stir up the people against home rule for Ireland as one individual country. The agitation

THE EMARLD ISLE was on the face of it a great success, but time alone can show whether the stern sentiments and uncompromising pledge of the "covenant," adopted by acclamation and numerously signed, will cool off sufficiently to make the movement look puerilely later. The home rule bill will no doubt be duly passed by the commons and duly thrown out by the Lords. After an interval this will probably happen again. If it happens a third time it will become a law by the King's signature irrespective of any action taken by the Lords. This cannot occupy less than two years and much may happened in that interval.

IN J. W. Somer's window can be seen the tails of three thousand gophers which were killed by the five boys who won the first five prizes in the fall fair contest. Many bushels of grain have been saved to the farmer by the killing of these pests, but there are still many more gophers left that have now gone into their holes and will be out again early in the spring nosoing around to find the little seed the farmer has so laboriously selected, planted and SWAT THE GOPHER taken care of. Every one of these seeds the gopher gets means just about forty cents. One gopher a grain less next fall and a gopher eats a great many seeds in a year.

The killing of every gopher means bigger crops, and bigger crops mean better towns; therefore it is to the interest of every one to "Swat the Gopher." Prizes should be offered by the Agricultural Society for the fair next year large enough to get every boy and girl sufficiently interested to compete for them. Many gophers would be thus sent to their happy hunting ground and the money spent for prizes will be returned many fold.

FARM AND FIELD

TUBERCULAR FOWLS

Visitation of Tuberculosis to the Man Has Should Be Yoched Earnestly From the Outset.

Tuberculosis is caused by a bacillus or germ, and the parts of the body usually first attacked are the lungs, intestines, liver and spleen, the infection being taken in with food which has been contaminated by contact with the droppings of affected birds. Examination of the body after death reveals small whitish patches, called tubercles, in the liver, spleen, and on the lining of the intestines. Larger lesions are found sometimes, but these may be found in other parts also.

It is not possible to treat this disease successfully, and attention should, therefore, be directed to methods of prevention. Since the fowls are usually affected, the droppings of tuberculer birds are the most serious of infection, birds which are ailing and which exhibit the symptoms of tuberculosis should, therefore, be destroyed. The stock remaining should be thoroughly disinfected, and healthy birds introduced in fresh quarters. The old quarters should undergo a thorough cleaning and disinfecting, and be allowed to remain unoccupied for several months.

Where a serious outbreak occurs it is safer to clear off the entire stock, then to apply fresh pure-bred lins in the ground, and rear a fresh stock in a portable house on new ground.

The most common symptom is diarrhoea, with the droppings of a greenish yellow color. In the later stages affected birds become very feble and thin, the comb and wattles shrink in size and turn pale or dull purple in color. The mucous membranes which surround the eye and line the mouth are also pale and there is loss of appetite.

SMALL MEN FLOCKS BEST

It is pretty generally agreed that, so far as egg production is concerned, a limited amount of profit realizable per head depends upon the number of birds kept. The farmer is that so long as a certain amount of overhead charges go a long way toward making for profit, but beyond that limit these prices the necessity in one purchased food. For instance, an amateur experiences with half a dozen hens, and by careful management and the use of scrapes he reaps a moderate profit. Encouraged by this result, he resolves to double his stock, but the returns are lower since such a high profit per head, because the household scraps have to be divided among a larger number of birds, and more food has to be bought. In this way the small poultry-keeper often allows another to overstock discretion, for whether he pays better in the long run to have a small profit per bird and a good profit per head than half a dozen giving one half more profit than dozenda surely upon the space available. As economic production is the basis of successful poultry-keeping, the flock that can be kept most cheaply is bound to be the most profitable.

Stable Disinfectants

Corrosive sublimate is the most efficient disinfectant under ordinary conditions. It is such an intense poison that it must be used with caution in places to which stock has access, or in the dairy. A solution of one part of the salt to a thousand parts of water (half ounce to four gallons of water) is the standard generally used.

For gutters, drains and waste pipes in factories, ferrous sulphate (green vitriol) and copper sulphate (blue vitriol) are used to advantage. Carbolic acid and carbolic formalin rubber then are also used. Since they have no odor of their own they can be used in any amount in the dairy.

Sulphur can also be used to advantage in the destruction of mold spores in cheese rooms, but the effect of the vapors of burning sulphur on growths is relatively light unless there is an abundant supply of moisture in the air of the enclosed space, in which case sulphurous acid is formed which has a much greater effect. To produce the desired effect, sulphur should be burned at the rate of three pounds to each one thousand cubic feet of space and the room kept sealed for twenty-four hours. If sulphur is mixed in the vessels which is set in a vessel of water the formation of nitric acid will be avoided, and the heat generated by the burning sulphur helps to evaporate sufficient water to increase the effect of the fumes.

Lard Substitute

Hard milling is due to an abnormal construction of the sphincter muscle regulating the stream of milk from the penis of the teat. On the other hand a cow losing her milk is due to a relaxation or an abnormal expansion of the sphincter muscle at the point of the teat.

Many a valuable, hard milking cow has been raised owing to the fact that the milker has been compelled to use a milking tube and by the use of the tube a milking of one cow can possibly get along without it.

The proper method of handling or overcoming hard milking is to soak the udders in hot water for a few days. The teats should be washed with a germ killer solution and the rear plug dipped in the same solution, then dipped in a little heating ointment and passed into the point of the teat. The last plug being self retaining should be permitted to remain in the teats from one milking to another. This will positively overcome hard milking in nine out of ten cases.

THE CHEMISTRY EXPERTS

Retail attempt in Montreal of a Novel Cooking School for Men

An attempt of women's rights on the part of the sex is one to be mentioned in Montreal as a result of the establishment of a novel cooking school exclusively for men, the first of its kind in that city. As it may well be intimated men are sorts of culinary disasters and bachelors have been taught only to women, and it is expected that the pupils will be entered up to date will be able to make themselves a bite will for assist the head of their father ever made and rival the best of any other product. Incidentally they will learn to cook meats, make pastry, make soups, a pie or pudding or any other dish which may be desired. The establishment of the cooking school is not, however, for the purpose of educate husbands for suffering wives who can care for the household while the wife is engaged in politics or bridge. The idea is merely to undermine the sovereign independence of the cook, who at present comes close to being the ruler of many households. The founders of the school believe that as soon as a realization is made of the fact that a woman's place is not in the front of the cook room but behind the parlor will be left in time alone. Subsequently, private pupils will be established all over the country, it seems to be no doubt will also be valuable to the husband left desolate in the city during the time his family is at the seashore or in the mountains. If the idea develops, as is hoped, it is expected that scanned cases of dyspepsia will be relieved and also the unsalted servant problem solved, at least in part.

NO MORE EXTRA PAY

Government Passes Order Dispensing With It in Navy

An order in Council has been passed providing that, except in special cases, extra pay will be dispensed with in the Canadian Navy. This action has been taken in the advice of the technical officers, who represent that a more generous scale of pay is provided in the naval service of Canada than in the Imperial Navy, and that in most cases extra pay can be dispensed with without hardship.

THEY PRAISE CANADA

The Editors of Ohio Have Had Their Eyes Opened

Ohio editors have been visiting Western Canada. Ex-Congressman John J. Lentz, said:—

"You are getting all our best farmers out here to look over your country, and we never get them back again.

"From what I have already seen I am prepared to state that the reports have underestimated rather than overestimated the opportunities."

W. W. Aikens, editor of The Evening Star, of Franklin, Indiana:—

"There is no question about it, Canada is wonderful. Fort William is a wonderful town, and the Canadian Pacific are on the hike, simply tooting their breath away with their fast and easy service."

Mrs. C. C. Day, historian of the Dunlap Association:—

"I feel that this Canadian trip will prove one of the most interesting that I have ever taken. No matter where I go down through the Middle States I hear stories of the wonders of Canada."

H. B. Parmenter, of The Lima Advertiser:—

"They have let immigration officials a country could have, and are well stocked through with fine and fewer of our stock of farmers, who have farms never seen, are going to get a look at what Canada offers them."

BEES HAD POSSESSION

A swarm of bees, supposed to belong to the experimental farm, Ottawa, attacked a group of men working on Gen Hopper in the centre of the city, a couple of miles from the farm, and took possession of them. Several were stung and business had to be suspended, while the bees assembled everything sweet in the place. Rev. Dr. Wallace, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who is himself an amateur, succeeded in hiving the visitors into a large box solving the problem for the time being.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a pile of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his wife and found it all and more than he expected. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and grandchildren and it is the best medicine for coughs, colds and croup I ever saw. I always recommend it to my friends and guarantee you satisfaction. For sale by all dealers.

Building is Very Active

Whole District Prosperous

Royal Alexandra Hotel Well Under Way---Many New Residences Going Up---Scarcity of Labor

TOFIELD is beginning to enjoy an era of prosperity beyond par in comparison with anything of the like in the previous years of its history. There are signs of busy development on every hand. In every section of the town the sound of the saw and the hammer is heard. The building activity is so great that there is a great scarcity of both common and skilled labor.

On Main street the work of construction of the Royal Alexandra Hotel, a three story brick with modern improvements, is well in hand while the store and dwelling block being erected on 2nd Avenue E. by L. C. Hay, late from New Brunswick, is being rapidly rushed to completion. It is understood that Charlie Ma Wat is letting the contract this week for the erection of a fine two story block on Main street, south of his restaurant.

But it is in the residences, substantial and palatial that the special activity in building is shown. R. Logan has built an attractive cottage on Cookson Avenue and 4th Street. S. A. Hell an attractive mansion on 6th Avenue. J. D. Kennedy has erected a substantial addition to his residence on 4th Avenue E. E. P. Roye has a fine residence going up in 5th Avenue E. Dr. Hammond is just completing an addition to his modern house on 3rd Avenue E. A. McMullen's new two story building on 2nd Avenue W. is now occupied. S. Nicholson has his attractive and commodious residence in occupation on 4th Avenue E. R. E. Webb is having a fine two story residence built on 7th Avenue E. Guy Owens is enjoying the comforts of his new residence on 3rd Avenue E. Wes. Ingram has built a large addition to his house on 2nd Avenue E. J. C. Phillips has occupied his fine new house on King and 4th Avenue for some time. S. A. Powell is putting the finishing touches to his beautiful cottage on 7th Avenue E. Then there are others, W. Woods, W. T. Neelson, and several more who have built or who now have plans being carried into execution for the erection of comfortable residences.

Nor is the building activity restricted to the business and residential sections. The Industrial Sites immediately east of the freight yards and south of the exhibition grounds is the scene of busy development. The Tofield Foundry & Machine Company are busy assembling materials for the immediate erection of their shops, a large quantity being now on the ground. A. E. Spencer, who last week secured a site for his woodworking establishment, contemplates the early erection of his buildings, while the Tofield Clay Products Co. are planning immediate action in primary development of their works to be located on the Industrial Sites.

Thus in every section of the municipality there are manifold signs of a growing and healthy prosperity, and, in passing, it may be said as a matter of fact, that this does not apply only to the town.

Never before in previous years has such a bountiful harvest been taken off throughout this district. Despite variable weather conditions which threatened, a more bountiful crop has rewarded the farmers efforts than heretofore. All cutting is done and the bulk of stacking through while in several sections over fifty per cent of threshing has been completed.

G. T. P. Keep Pace with District

Coincident with the unparalled activity in town and district, that seen in the Grand Trunk Railway's yards at Tofield indicates that the company is alive to the necessities created by the great increase in its business at this point. For some time past a large gang of men and teams have been at work throwing up the grades for several new side tracks which will extend from the east end of the yards down past the station to Queen street, and the steel will be laid as soon as possible.

Traffic has so increased on this division that last Monday the way-freight service was increased from a tri-weekly to a daily and simultaneously the similar service heretofore given on the Tofield-Calgary branch line to Mirror was made a daily service.

This spells improvement to business all around and will be of great benefit to all the towns and other centres along the line affected.

The staff at the Tofield depot has been increased recently. W. H. Bowly being taken on in the capacity of clerk.

Grain has begun to arrive. Lee & Lee shipped two cars of oats from Bawlf siding the other day and several cars have been shipped from Shonts siding. There does not appear to be any shortage of cars here.

Coal shipments are steadily increasing from the Tofield mines.

Prize Winners Tofield Fair

In presenting this list to people of the Tofield district the secretary wishes to apologize for the delay in getting this ready, as owing to a large amount of private work this work could not be finished sooner.

You will notice that the list, of prize winners this year is not as large as last. We don't want you to think that our fair is decreasing in popularity, but it is rather increasing in strength each year. We think this because Sept. 27th this year was right in the busy time for our farmers and should they not have displayed a good interest in the fair they wouldn't have turned out the large number of articles for exhibition that they did.

Prize winners will receive their prizes as soon as the board meets and makes the necessary arrangements. The date will be announced through the columns of the Standard

Expand in Business

Forced by their ever increasing business, to provide for same, Abbot & Graham, Tofield's busy toporial shop, have lately installed a third chair in their shop and have engaged the services of a helper. This will be appreciated by their fast growing trade.

Roosevelt Shot

Col. Roosevelt, it is reported, was this week shot by a would-be assassin. Fortunity the bullet did not penetrate a vital part, a flesh wound only being sustained.

Personal and Local Items

The New Variety Theatre is proving a huge success, crowded houses being the order of the week

Mrs M. R. Wiggins will be at site for his woodworking establishment, contemplates the early erection of his buildings, while the Tofield Clay Products Co. are planning immediate action in primary development of their works to be located on the Industrial Sites.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1912.

An Era of Prosperity

TOFIELD is now entering upon an era of prosperity the signs of which certainly must give every satisfaction to those who years ago pinned their faith to its future. The unparalleled activity in building, the development of our natural resources, the substantial increase in population, the bountiful harvest and the attraction of industry and capital culminating in definite results, are agencies that are gratifying in every sense of the word. Tofieldites have every reason to feel satisfied with the progress being made.

Looking Our Way

ANOTHER source of considerable satisfaction that should inspire the average loyal booster of Tofield is the fact that the eyes of a large portion of the country, both in the West and East, are upon Tofield. This was so even before the famous gas strike of June 20th last. It is much more so since. One does not necessarily have to travel far to ascertain this truth. At once after the big strike we were the cynosure of all eyes in neighboring towns and cities and of the people all throughout the West. Needless to say that it was with some envy that others looked on while we enjoyed the fruit of a daring and aggressive policy for a young Western town in going after a demonstration that we had as a natural resource a supply of natural gas. That the well, which is the first to be put down to "pay dirt" in this portion of the West, was not put down in such a perfect manner as it would have been had it been known that there actually was gas below, is now all old to be condemned. Gas Well No. 2 is now on the road. In the meantime level and hardheaded business is in the air and have come in and located and others are on the way. We are winning out.

To Build the Town

ENCOURAGE everyone, especially new men to come in and settle among you; pity chiefly those who are worthy and active, whether they have capital or not. Their labor is worth money. Those who have capital will buy lots, build houses, or tear out and remodel the old ones. Go to work and stimulate every legitimate enterprise by giving it all the friendly encouragement you can, and by uniting your industry, intelligence and capital in common cause. Cultivate a public spirit and talk Less Than You Work. Help your neighbor. If he is in danger breaking down prop him up in some way, either by himself or good council or a lift from your pocket. If he goes down down before you know of his circumstances, than whether against his misfortune is to be pitied, the blood that has talents and labor are worth money to the community. Besides, it may some day be your turn to receive a corresponding amount of sympathy. Encourage your local authorities in making local improvements for the good of the town; speak well, talk encouragingly of the town and its people, its prospects, of your neighbors, and in fact everything likely to advance the public good. It is such little things that make a town grow. Their cost is insignificant when divided among all, but when concentrated it may mean much. Port they do the business thoroughly. Exclaim.

Thanksgiving

Monday, October 28

MONDAY, October 28th, has been set apart by the government as the 1912 Day of Thanksgiving. When we review the calamities which affect other nations, the condition of our own Canadian nation affords much matter for consolation and satisfaction. The great degree of internal tranquility which we enjoy, the happy course of our public affairs in general, the unexampled prosperity of all classes of our citizens are circumstances which peculiarly mark our situation with indications of the Divine beneficence toward us. In such a state of things it is in an especial manner our duty as a people, with devout reverence and affectionate gratitude, to acknowledge our many and great obligations to Almighty God and to implore Him to continue and confirm the blessings we experience.

It was in language very similar to the above that the first national Thanksgiving Proclamation in the World's History was issued by George Washington, President of the United States, on January 1, 1795. On February the 19th of that year that nation was called to observe the day of public Thanksgiving and prayer, to meet together and render unto and hearty thanks to the Ruler of Nations for the manifold and signal mercies distinguished their lot as a nation. It was first observed in the New England States by the Pilgrim Fathers as early as 1620 but it was not until 1857 that the day was set apart each year for this occasion. It is one of the good things which had its birth in the great republic and has spread itself almost to other nations.

Council

What the Town Fathers did on Tuesday Night

Received an invitation to City-Planning Convention in Edmonton next month.

Were advised by Deputy Minister Municipal Affairs that debentures made repayable as to principal at end of loan are often more suitable than those in which equal parts of principal and interest are paid off yearly.

Were asked by J. W. Cockeram by letter to exchange 3½ acres of land east of Rev. R. Whillans for 3½ acres he had reserved within the town.

Instructed Secretary to write Mr. Cockeram that the land in question suggested by him was an unsuitable exchange and not already under agreement to the Tofield Clay Products Co.

Samples of fire hose and prices of equipment in connection therewith were submitted personally to Mr. Jones of the Winnipeg Rubber Co. Because figures had been requested from another company the letting of the contract is held up for a fortnight.

Decided to build an eight-foot plank sidewalk on north side of 2nd Ave. from Main St. to King, a crossing at King and a similar sidewalk on east side of King from 2nd to 3rd Avenue.

Decided to allow free use of Rink to Hockey Club constantly upon the club paying for any improvements, that children 12 years and under be given one hour's free skating some evening each week.

Champion Dairy Cow of the British Isles

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 23.—"Rossling of Old Basing," a thoroughbred Jersey, owned by J. Shannan of Red Deer, 100 miles south of Edmonton, has just won the title of champion dairy cow of the British Empire, producing $1,807.00 worth of cream and milk in three years. The official figures follow: best milking of one day, 32 pounds; one month, 1,171 pounds; one year, 13,708 pounds; three years, 37,841 pounds butter fat, 5 40 percent; butter production, one year, 1,951.85 pounds; three years, 2,765.39 pounds. The cow bore three heifers, for which the owner refused $2 000

Rossling, bred and raised in Red Deer, established Canadian records for one, two and three years also for one month and one day. The official produced 1,175 pounds of butter in an official test for 24 months, earning the title of champion dairy cow of any age or breed in Canada. The cow now holds all records up to three years.

Second to breeding and the excellent care given to the animal, which is one of a large herd of Jersey cattle, Mr. Shannan attributes the remarkable production to the highly satisfactory climatic conditions of central Alberta, where grasses are plentiful most of the 12 months of the year and the water is pure and abundant.

The Board of trade of Red Deer gave a banquet in honor of Mr. Shannan the evening of October 08. A. C. Fraser, Manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, represented the Edmonton Board of Trade.

First Automobile into Peace River Country

R. J. Ferguson of Calgary returned a few days ago from an automobile trip of 1,800 miles in the north country being the first to drive a machine into the Peace River district, going as far as Grouard, Alta., at the head of Lesser Slave Lake. Though he followed the trails on the prairie, over the stamping grounds of fur trader and great herds of buffaloes, he met with no mishaps. He carried gasoline and supplies for the entire trip on the car. The last car's run was from Grouard to Dunvegan, 168 miles, the lowest being 60 miles in 2 hours. Mr. Ferguson brought with him to Edmonton samples of ripe tomatoes and corn grown at High Prairie and Grouard also hay. both during that though [illegible] them delivery of [illegible] reports [illegible] Athabaska and Smoky rivers are low and that steamer traffic is being held up for the [illegible]

Municipal Elections

THE time is now approaching when the Municipal Elections will occupy the attention of the ratepayers. Three Councillors and the Mayor retire from their offices and it will be up to the public to decide upon whom the choice shall fall for these vacancies. Already there has been whispering and talk as to probable candidates. The Standard would point out to the citizens the absolute necessity of their representatives upon the council board being the best men available, men of recognized business ability and acumen and men of initiative. We pointed this out just prior to the last election a year ago and whether the public's choice was the best is for them to determine. We have had important developments during the current year and the ensuing year will be the most important yet in our history. The need of careful selection for our municipal fathers is great.

Let The Best Serve

THAT all the successful candidates, mayor included, are elected for a two-year term is a fact that should be considered by the citizens when the choice of men is being determined upon. It is a new feature in the Towns Act applying to the mayoralty and is a point thought worthy to be included in the Act by the Legislature when framing the bill. Taking all things into consideration, the experience of the past, the present needs and intelligent looking forward to future development, require the services of the best heads in our town. The occasion is a critical time in our town's history. Will we prove equal to it?

Thirty-five Greeks Leave for Home

Thirty-five Greek reservists who have been residents of Edmonton for some time left the city Thursday night bound for New York, where they will ship for the front to take part in the war against Turkey.

The party left the South Side by the night train. At the depot there was an enthusiastic scene as the men left, their friends gathering around the train and joining in the singing of patriotic songs.

At the call of their country the Greeks cheerfully gave up their prospects here, despite the fact that for many of them it had meant years of hard saving to find the funds to enable them to immigrate and that since they have been here, some of them have built up good businesses.

A Greek, who kept a pool room on Namayo avenue, sold his place for only have what it is worth in order that he might get away as soon. Another man made a great sacrifice of a good butcher's business, while a cafe proprietor, hung up also his shingle to purchase, leaving his place over uncertain-ness to a peasant vendor.

Some of the Greeks, who were not in a position to pay their own fares to New York, were supplied with the price of tickets by their fellow countrymen.

Indefensible

The period during which cement can be imported at one-half the usual duty expires on October 31st. It is reported from Ottawa that the full duty will be collected after that date. It is to be hoped the report is in error, or that the ministers may change their minds. The half-duty surely affords all the protection any reasonable cement maker could ask, and the higher tax can be desired for only one purpose—to enable the "ring" to squeeze the Canadian consumer unduly and unfairly. The tax should not be followed to the ... of the higher rate is indefensible.—Bulletin.

Vain Regrets

Halifax Echo—Thirty-four brides who reached New York last week on the steamship Bermudian formed a "Never Nag Society" during the voyage. Among the things each bride agreed to do for her husband are the following: Get his breakfast every morning. Dress neatly for the morning meal. Kiss him when he comes home from work, and account for every penny she handles, and give him a "night off" every week. That's certainly going some. Talk about the "good old days."

Says That England and U. S. Must Intervene

Canon Henley Henson of West minster Abbey, London, England, who was in Edmonton a few days ago, said in speaking of the conditions under which the Indians work on the rubber plantations in Peru, that England and the United States will have to intervene to save the tribe from extermination. For thousand natives are engaged in the industry, he added, and they are beaten and maimed, imperfectly fed and clothed and subjected to all kinds of abuse. They are compelled to work when sick. Continuing, he said: "Both England and the United States must look into this matter without delay and endeavour to improve the conditions under which these people work. It is a deplorable condition and must be stopped. It is more, it is shocking and a blot on our boasted advance in civilization."

Swift Canadian Co. Acquires New Plant.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—The Swift Canadian company, known here as the branch of the American Meat Trust, has about completed negotiations for the acquirement of another big Canadian plant, the Gallaher Holman & Lafrance, at a cost of half a million. The Swift company acquired in the last few years plants in Winnipeg and Edmonton, and will soon run out the Western Canada market, the only two remaining plants being Gordon & Ironsides and Pat Burns.

The Motion to Quash Injunction Dismissed

Judgment was read by Mr. Justice Walsh in motion by G. P. Strong, on behalf of the license commissioners, to have set aside the injunction granted out by Mr. Justice Walsh on behalf of the liquor interests restraining the commission from taking action on the question of prohibition in the Lac ... District No. 3, covering about one-third of the settled area of the province.

His lordship dismissed the motion so the injunction must stand until the case comes up to trial. He states, however, that if the defendants put in their defence before October 25th the case must be set for trial by the plaintiff for the November sitting of the court. If he fails to set it down for the November sitting, the defense having been in by October 25th, the injunction is upon his dissolved without further order.

The question raised by the plaintiff is that the petition, which has 1,000 signatures on it, contains a large number of signatures that have not been properly verified by witnesses correctly sworn according to the recent act of the Alberta legislature

Justice Walsh asserts in his judgement that it was not incumbent upon him to decide the validity or invalidity of the signatures, but merely to decide if there was a sufficient question to require the injunction to go to court.

The question will go to court.

Perhaps Both Were

They are telling a hunting story which concerns a local man and a district game warden. The man was lurking around a field of wheat stooks with a gun when he met the stranger and the following conversation took place:

Getting any game?

No, haven't seen any today.

Ever get anything around here?

Oh, yes. I shot twenty chickens yesterday and several the day before.

The stranger went close to the hunter and asked: Do you know who I am?

No.

Well, said the stranger, I'm the game inspector.

That information was backed up by the showing of an inspector's badge.

The hunter laughed—a trifle uneasy—and asked: Do you know who I am?

No, said the inspector.

Well, was the answer. I'm the biggest liar in this part of the country.

Council Holds Informal M't'g

...illed over from last week:

An informal meeting of council was held last Monday evening to discuss with the municipal engineers, and the superintendent of the gas well drilling company the progress and cost of the situation as it is now affecting the development of the gas and water systems. Of the council, Messrs Emery and Hogan were absent. Mr. Bickwell, in charge of the Gas Drilling Co's contract here. Messrs Maxwell & MacKenzie, consulting engineers, and Mr. Armstrong, resident engineer in connection with Maxwell & MacKenzie's contracts in town were present.

Members of the council made it clearly understood to Mr. Bickel that the long delay in the arrival of his company's drilling plant for the new gas well had petitled the people and they were holding the council to blame for it and their position was taken by some that council had not sufficiently safeguarded the interests of the citizens so Mr. Bickel stated that he felt he understood the attitude of the ratepayers and their state of mind under the circumstances and that on the other hand his own position had been rendered exceedingly uneasy by the same delays in the arrival of the cars bearing machinery and supplies. He had had a lot of trouble in getting after the C.P.R. to hast their cars and hustle them through. His object in to Cast's made one week later than the one to Tofield arrived there on the same day as the latter arrived in Tofield. He assured council that he could not account for the delay and that it had not only been a source of trouble and annoyance to him but one of expense as he had rent a number of men on full salary waiting [illegible] complete shipment.

The [illegible] council made it clear that Mr. [illegible] may have been acting in good faith and had done all in their power to get started on this contract at the earliest possible moment. The Climax to the Royal Western Tour

THE versatility of the Duke of Connaught has become proverbial and his address before the Canadian Club at Toronto, after the conclusion of his western tour, put a clever finishing touch to a number of eloquent speeches which his royal highness delivered while on his trip.

The keynote of his Toronto speech was the fact that in the west people regard matters from a broader point of view than they do in the east. Not that there was any lack of enthusiasm manifested anywhere, for the governor-general found that the settlers from the United States were as loyal to British sovereignty as our own native citizens, and as ready to manifest it. To use the duke's own terms, he found all nationalities welded into Canadian citizenship.

And, just as this tour has evidenced to the governor-general these important facts, his presence, and that of his wife and daughter as men and women amongst men and women, has opened the eyes of the country to the fact that British royalty, after all, are but human, and that they can enter as heartily into the pleasures and the business of the people of the empire as the people themselves. They have proved everywhere that royalty is not hedged about by any of that exclusiveness so often associated with their rank by those who have not come into contact with them; and the impressions they have left everywhere are such that a return visit would be heralded with delight and welcomed with the extremest satisfaction.

There was not a single jarring feature throughout the ten thousand miles of tour to leave spot or blemish upon the memory of the visitors, or of those honored by the visit, and it is hoped that the trip will have resulted in further cementing together east and west in that one bond of brotherhood that makes the world kin.—Exchange.

Tentacles Chopped off Another Octopus

That the United States Shoe Machinery Co. is a combination in restraint of trade is the decision arrived at by the board appointed to deal with the first case of the kind brought under the Combines Act.

The matter has been under consideration for a long time the preliminary stages being delayed by the company challenging the the jurisdiction of the board.

Action was taken under the provisions of the act when Hon. Mackenzie King was minister of labor, and the enquiry has been steadily pressed since Hon. T. W. Crothers assumed charge of the department. The decision that the company constitutes a combine within the meaning of the act was made by a number of Quebec shoe manufacturers, who complained that the company which holds the patents on modern shoe machinery, had created an unlawful combination by refusing to sell its machinery, its policy being to lease it.

This inflicted great hardships upon Canadian shoe manufacturers, because they were unable to compete with United States made shoes without using machinery, and they were powerless to acquire machinery that was not controlled by this combine. In this way our trade was restricted, not only as to output but as to price, and the public of Canada were paying to keep this octopus in opulence, and thus assist in restraint of our own national output of shoes.

Will Help the Dairy Farmer

Woodland Dairy, Limited, of Edmonton, has been incorporated under the laws of the province of Alberta with an authorized capitalization of $100,000, of which $60,000 has been paid in, to subsidize local dairies to increase their herds and improve their farms, also to operate a pasteurizing plant with a capacity of 800 gallons of milk and apparatus to manufacture ice cream. The company will erect a 1,000 or more pounds of butter daily.

The company took over the Woodland Dairy and acquired the Hoff dairy, both of Edmonton, and has started work on a two storey factory and warehouse, 55 by 80 feet with full basement, to be ready for occupancy early next January The building will contain three cold storage rooms and the machinery required for the output mentioned in the foregoing. The company, now running 16 wagons, expects to increase this number to 30 next spring.

Arranging for Session

Hon. T. S. Sproule, speaker of the House, arrived in Ottawa last week for the purpose of giving instructions to the Hansard reporting staff in regard to sessional arrangements. Owing to the uncertainty as to whether there would be a November or January session the usual early start was made but from now on everything will be rushed to a conclusion. Owing to the interest growing out of the naval question and the big programme of interesting legislation a particularly brilliant opening is anticipated.

TEST THE COWS

To Pay A Cow Must Give 4,000 Pounds of Milk.

Before a cow can return a profit of cents on, per cent. of the feed she eats, she must give 4,000 pounds of milk per year, says C. F. Whitny of the Dairy Division, Ottawa. On receiving the records of cows now kept last year, Mr. Whitny found that 25 per cent. gave less than 4,000 lbs. that is, seven out of every twenty cows scattered over several provinces could be said to yield any profit above the cost of feed. A competition between two herds in Dundas district shows that some cows pay a profit and a cost of 42 cents per 100 pounds, while others under the same roof run up the cost to $1.50. There is everything to gain in taking up cow testing.

SHOT A COUGAR

An Exciting Incident Recently in a Vancouver Park.

A very unusual incident—the hunting and shooting of a cougar in a city park — took place recently, and in the world famed Stanley Park it happens some time has discovered a dead deer. Paleon tracks and traps were set, but the marauder escaped and the continual toll of dead animals, despite all night watching and vast, one other night climbed a dead one. At length a hunt on a large scale with dogs and experienced hunters took place. The animal was "treed" and one shot fired, with the result of wounding the animal. The cougar descended from the tree wounded one of the dogs to death and escaped up another tree. Four more shots were put in and the animal fell dead. —Rod and Gun.

FISH AT PRINCE RUPERT

A Huge Fish Freezing Plant Has Been Erected in That City

The waters surrounding Prince Rupert teem with halibut, king and silver coal, salmon, and herring, and a ready market for which is unlimited and with the completion of the railway the fish can be in transit to the Eastern markets on the same day as caught, thus insuring, with speedy transportation, their arrival in first-class condition at destination. The new cold storage plant of the Canadian Fish & Storage Company building is constructed of reinforced concrete throughout. The foundation is laid on the solid rock and is of sufficient strength to carry the building to the height of seven stories, but at present is six stories high, and can be extended as soon as trade permits. The daily fish freezing capacity will be sixty tons, and the storage capacity of frozen fish will be 2,000 tons. The ice-making plant is of 75 tons daily capacity, and space has been left for an additional 75 tons for future installation. Over 25 miles of piping was required for the refrigerating installation. Twenty-two miles of bands of cork were used in the building for the flooring and for the partitions between each room.

Displeased with Church "Stirings."

At a meeting of Inverbrushing Town Council a letter was read from Mr. Leland, a local resident in which he pointed out that he had been offered the position of organist in the Union Church which he understood, was occupied by Mr. Duncan Morrison, his wife, and three of a family. He failed to see where he could act sitings for three whole days out of seven. He did not want to be insulted in the same manner as he had been in the past year, and he would leave the Parish Church severely alone. (Laughter.)

Centenarian Dead.

George Hancock, a north dachsman, died at Penarth at the age of 101. He retired from active work at the age of eighty-five. He attributed his longevity to plenty of work as a lad, the regular life he led and to a great measure to the romantic way in which he took his holidays.

His "Dear" Girl

A Pittsburg banker has been fined $100 for sending kisses to a lady he did not know. He now calls her his "dear" girl.

May Startle Scientific World

EDMONTON, Oct 28—Statements concerning the ever changing climatic conditions, which, he frankly admits, may be startling to the scientific world as well as to the layman, were made in an interview in Edmonton some days ago by Dr. James Munroe, M. E., of Winnipeg, who has given the subject the study of a lifetime. He said:

"From information gathered from many sources, both from Europe and America, I am led to believe there is a far reaching cause which may account for the tremendous rains covering the whole of the north temperate zone; reaching across Canada, across the Atlantic ocean, covering England and Scotland and northern Europe and Asia. The continuous and universal rainfall this last summer extending over the portions of the earth named, following a year that was noted for its large rainfall, has caused me to endeavor to get at a basic principle or cause of this phenomena.

"Newton, by applying his theory of gravitation, combined with so-called centrifugal force to the earth, and assuming that an elliptical solid-mold or rotation is a form of equilibrium for a homogenous fluid rotating with uniform velocity, was one of the first to prove that the interior of the earth was a molten mass, and that the rotary motions of the earth, combined with the attraction of the other planets, together with the sun, kept the earth suspended and whirling through space.

"Now, the radiation of the earth's heat is causing a condensation of the surface of the planet, and this contraction at certain points tends to throw up the interior molten matter at points where the earth's shell is perhaps thinner. This has recently occured in the northern Pacific ocean, where large new islands have been thrown up.

"Reports show that the Japan current has changed its course, striking northern Canada and Alaska at a much higher point than formerly. The mild winds from this current flowing northeasterly are melting the snows and ice of the artic, and the winds from the north are carrying the moisture-laden clouds south and east, and depositing their moisture in rain and snow.

"This has been a cool, cloudy summer, and we have wondered where all the rain came from, as the cloudy atmosphere did not permit the sun to draw its moisture from ordinary lakes and rivers. Again, it is my belief that the accumulation ice at the South Pole coupled with the throwing off of the large number of enormous icebergs at the North Pole, has caused the earth to slightly change its centre of gravity, thus throwing the Artic zone further south, causing the sun to evaporate its snows and ices to a greater extent at the north than ever before. Note the great number of icebergs that have been reported in the Atlantic ocean the last few years. The Yukon country and Iceland too are experiencing greater heat this year than ever recorded

"Only the other day it was reported that a glacier more than a mile in length had broken from that fringe of Alaska, which cuts the Yukon from the Pacific coast. Nature is slowly unfolding her wondrous plan. With the melting of the northern snows and the warming of the waters of Hudson's Bay, she will give Canada access to new sources of wealth which for centuries lay latent and undeveloped."

Hon. F. L. Monk Has Resigned

OTTAWA, Oct. Oct. 22—Premier Borden drove to Rideau Hall at noon today and formally placed in the hands of the governor-general the resignation of Hon. A. B. Monk, the Minister of Public Works. The prime minister was in conference with the duke for an hour and explained the whole situation to him.

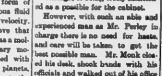
No announcements as to the successor of Mr. Monk was made this morning, and it is understood that none is likely to be made for a short time.

Following a conference with the premier, Hon. George Perley moved across to the west block and took charge of Mr. Monk's office, and in the meantime will be acting minister of Public Works.

Mr Perley was acting minister during the absence of Mr. Monk this summer and knows the department thoroughly. In addition he is a Quebec minister, and he may even be induced to remain in the portfolio permanently.

It is intimated that Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, to whom the portfolio was offered, cannot see his way clear to make the sacrifice which will be involved in accepting the position. He has one of the most lucrative law practices in Montreal and is making three or four times the amount of a cabinet minister's salary. In addition he is chairman of the International Waterways commission, a position where he is very much at home. In addition to L. T. Marechal, the name of Tonie Coderre, M. P. for Hochelaga, is being freely mentioned as a possible for the cabinet.

However, with such an able and experienced man as Mr. Perley in charge there is no need for haste, and care will be taken to get the best possible man. Mr. Monk closed his desk, shook hands with his officials and walked out of his office for good this morning. He cordially said farewell to the premier and assured him of the regret with which he took the present position, and also promised him support on every other question in the house. Mr. Monk leaves on the 3.30 train for Montreal and in a few days takes his departure for Atlanta City for a three days rest.



One of our old well-known and respected citizens, Johannes Johnson, commonly known as old man Johnson, has been called away from this life. The deceased who had reached the ripe old age of eighty years has been failing fast for some time both in body and mind. The end did not come unexpected. He passed quietly away on Saturday night, Oct. 26, at the home of his son Simon. The funeral took place Monday Oct. 28. The Rev. B. Andersen spoke at the house, and the funeral service in the church was conducted by the Rev. C.B. Jodon of Kingman. He was buried in the Elim Cemetery in the family lot of the Johnsons

Mr. Johnson came with his wife from Norway some ten years ago to make his home here where no one has six sons and three daughters had settled. One son went to California where he met his death in a railway wreck two years ago. The old gentleman's wife and two daughters Mrs John B. Anderson and Mrs. Martin Eide died here some years ago. Five sons, one daughter, a number of grandchildren and some great-grandchildren survive him and reside at Bardo and Kingman.

OBITUARY

John Anderson, aged 26, a son of Wm. Anderson, eight miles north, died of pneumonia at Athabasca Landing last Sunday night. Deceased, who was working for a transportation company about one hundred miles from the Landing was taken sick and brought to the Landing for treatment, his mother was wired for but did not reach there till Monday, the day after he died, the body was brought to Tofield, on Tuesday and the funeral which was largely attended was held from Bird's undertaking parlors at three o'clock on Wednesday to St. James the Apostle Church thence to the Tofield cemetery.

Guilty of Murder in First Degree

Charles Becker, the New York Police Lieutenant, who was charged for the instigation of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury at midnight on Thursday, Oct. 24 after being out 10 hours.

Justice Goff, speaking in the whisper-like tone of voice that he has used since the beginning of the trial, remanded Becker to the Tombs until October 30, for sentence.

Though Mrs. Becker, sitting just outside of the courtroom door, fainted when the words of the verdict reached her in the silence, the convicted man took it without a tremor. His step, when he walked after the jail warden up the isle of the court room and through the door leading to the Bridge of Sighs and on to the tombs was firm as it smote.

Becker's council, John F. McIntyre, announced immediately after the verdict was given that he would appeal the case.

2nd Ave. Sidewalk Shelved

The 2nd Ave sidewalk received a sudden set back when council found out that the construction could not be taken up this year as the cost could not be paid out of the funds of the current year. Council cannot legally incur a debt which has to be paid out of next year's current revenue. The only way to deal with the matter aside from submitting a money by-law to the people is to learn it over for next year's council, who can go ahead and put it in in January if they see fit.

The fire chief was instructed to visit all buildings in the town, inspect the same and report all infractions of the by-laws.

A draft building by-law was ordered to be drawn up regulating the class of buildings constructed in blocks 6, 7, 10, 11, 14 & 15 according to the provisions of the fire underwriters association.

Work to Commence on Edmonton-Dunvegan Ry.

French Capitalists, who recently acquired the the charter for the Peace River Great Western Railway, granted by the provincial legislature of Alberta in 1910, announced today through A. R. Macdonald, provincial secretary, with headquarters in Edmonton, that work on the line from Edmonton to Dunvegan, 300 miles, will begin at once. The route map will be filed with Premier Sifton, minister of Railways of Alberta, in a few days.

"The work of cutting the right-of-way will begin as soon as our route map is approved by the minister of railways," said Mr. Macdonald, "and we expect to press into service every competent man available. Grading will begin early next spring with a full complement of men and teams, and we hope to have some rails on ties before the close of 1913. The road will be in operation as soon as possible."

Mr. MacDonald said the route of the Peace River Great Western railway from Edmonton, is in a northwesterly direction to the west shore of Lesser Slave lake, thence northwesterly to Peace River crossing, thence westerly or southwesterly to Dunvegan. Three alternative routes are provided for entrance to Edmonton. The company has bought forty acres of land in a mile north of the city limits of Edmonton for its terminals yards and shops. Work will begin at once.

The original charter, which was granted to Robert A. Grant and Robert H. Percival of Winnipeg and their associates, who made a preliminary survey of the route, fixed the company's capitalization at $2,500,000 and gave bonding powers of $20,000 a mile.

The charter provides that construction work must begin before December 16, 1912, and the road completed within three years from that date.

Six other roads are projected to the Peace River country, as follows: Canadian Northern, Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia, under construction; Dunvegan and Bella Coola. Pine Pass Route, Grand Trunk Pacific and Yancouver, Fort George and Dunvegan. The Canadian Pacific also is figuring on a line from here to the north country.

The Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia company has secured orders for 12,000 tons of rails and 300,000 ties for immediate delivery. Tracklaying will begin the middle of this month, by which time 75 of grade will be ready for steel, and work will continue throughout the winter months. The company has sufficient material to complete 120 miles of road between now and spring.

J. W. Somers has just received a large consignment of Christmas Goods which he is busy unpacking and arranging for the Christmas trade. Somers Store will be Santa Claus special headquarters in Tofield this year.

Tofield's Exhibit at Lethbridge

Various Grains and Vegetables Grown in the District Were Nicely Displayed

The exhibit which was sent to Lethbridge for Dry Farming Congress held in that city Oct. 21 27, 1913, consisting of the various grains and vegetables grown in this district, were nicely displayed in one of the best locations. Fence with a double frontage was secured just to the left of the main entrance and was appropriately decorated with flags and bunting. Various photographs of our buildings, coal mines, farm and ranching scenes, were also displayed in this booth, calling attention to the enormous advantages which Tofield has to offer the manufacturer, the farmer, the citizen etc, was given a careful systematic distribution and the organizers to defend the constitution handed down to them by their fathers. Wilson's first public utterance after the result became known was,—

"A great cause has triumphed. Every Democrat, every true Progressive, of whatever alliance, must now bend his full force and enthusiasm to the fulfillment of the people's hope, the establishment of the people's right, so that justice and progress may go hand in hand."

Tofield Bakery Changes Hands

The public will be interested to learn that this week the Tofield bakery which has been under the proprietorship and management of J. R. Howe for over a year, has changed hands, the purchaser being Clive Richards, the energetic chap who has presided at the ovens ever since Mr. Howe started in business and to on whom THEY forgery the credit for the great success of the business under Mr. Howes management.

Mr Richards is very sanguine over the prospect of continuing the business to the great satisfaction of the public. He contemplates improvements which will be in the interests of the public and invites them to look for his special announcement which will appear in our next issue.

Burglars At Queens Hotel

Woodrow Wilson New President

Democrats Secure Great Victory in United States Elections Roosevelt Comes Second and Taft Third.

Woodrow Wilson, was the popular choice of the United States citizens in Tuesday's elections for president. The Democrats have secured a solid victory. Returns early on Wednesday give Wilson 413, Roosevelt 61 and Taft 2 votes in the electoral college. There are 531 votes in the electoral college and with the present returns as an indication of the ten total vote a tremendous Democratic majority is assured and conceded.

Late Tuesday evening Roosevelt wired his congratulations to President-elect Wilson. Taft has issued a warning to Republicans that they must stand together and organize to defend the constitution handed down to them by their fathers. Wilson's first public utterance after the result became known was,—

"A great cause has triumphed. Every Democrat, every true Progressive, of whatever alliance, must now bend his full force and enthusiasm to the fulfillment of the people's hope, the establishment of the people's right, so that justice and progress may go hand in hand

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1912.

Dangerous Crossings.

TOFIELD as a corporation may have to face actions for damages at any time if it does not look better after its crossings. The town has no license to maintain crossings in such a condition as to be a positive danger to pedestrians. Had we adequate street lights whereby people could notice the treacherous places and thus avoid accident, the condition might be somewhat ameliorated, although the municipality's responsibility is the matter would not be lessened one whit.

Probably one of the most dangerous places for pedestrians is at the south-east corner of Main Street and Second Avenue. Here really disgraceful conditions exist, the grading is not brought to the proper level with the crossings and the open drains below the walks expose pedestrians to nasty falls in the darkness. Similar conditions exist at other street corners. Only last Monday evening a lady suffered a fall and a severe shaking up at the corner of Main and Second owing to lack of proper grading. Forewarned may lead to being forearmed and as our population is daily growing more condensed, the number of strangers visiting us larger, the responsibility of the authorities is correspondingly growing. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

o o o o o

Room for Civic Improvement.

Apropos of the above, the subject matter of the article indicates only one of the many points of civic government which must be covered by improvements in the civic organization. While the municipality's affairs have no doubt been conducted during the year just passing with an improved management over previous years, there is still vast room for improvement We are getting out of the village status and cannot afford to continue meeting the problems to be dealt with in the off-hand manner which has largely characterized our attitude in the past Tofield's rapid development has caused large questions to loom up which require serious and heavy thinking and we cannot do better than to closely observe how other municipalities have solved their similar problems and to reap the benefit of avoiding their mistakes.

o o o o o

Cultivate the Dairy Industry.

It is to be hoped that the farmers of the district will take advantage of the opportunity given them by the opening up of a practically unlimited market at Edmonton during the months of winter for the sale of milk. This market is urgently calling upon them to meet its fast growing demands and it would be regretable if the farmers failed to take advantage of the chance to grip the source of a good steady and constantly increasing cash income. Tofield is an A 1 dairy country. A good dairy country is synonymous, so to speak with a prosperous class of people. The dairy industry spells profit and prosperity to all those who take it up.

o o o o o

End of War In Sight.

The despatches from the war indicate that the unspeakable Turk is being driven to the wall. Balkan allies having beaten him at every turn. While the end of actual warfare appears to be in sights there is evidence of an impending diplomatic struggle amongst the powers, and in which the Balkan allies will figure, as to the manner of settlement conditions for peace. Turkey is practically driven out of Europe and there will likely be a scramble over the division of the spoils of war. The world will look on with satisfaction in seeing one fruit of the short but terrible struggle,—the winning back of their independence by the Christian allies from Mohammedan Turkey.

o o o o o

Civic Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the electors of the town of Tofield falls on the last Monday of the current month. At this the mayor, secretary-treasurer, auditor and the chairmen of the various committees must attend and submit to the meeting their respective reports for the portion of the current year ending the 31st day of October, Sec. 98, Towns Act. This ruling should prove very interesting to the ratepayers owing to the great developments which have taken place during the year.

Car Problem in the West

More than 25 per cent of the grain crop of this portion of the prairie provinces served by the C. N. R. has been shipped, according to A. Wilcox, general superintendent, who was in Edmonton last week. The heaviest shipments have been from Saskatchewan. From Northern Alberta they have been very light to date. Mr. Wilcox states that the company have received more complaints as to car shortage, but that more grain has been moved than at a similar date last year and moved in a much shorter period. Anyone who imagines that harvest of such a system as is served by the C. N. R. can possibly be moved in two and a half months is absolutely without conception of the nature of the problem, he said.

Engineer Returns From The Jasper Park

After a summer spent in the south division of portions of the northern section of Jasper Park between Pocahontas and Fort George on the Grand Trunk Pacific main line Mr. G. a tirassie, Dominion Land Surveyor has returned to Edmonton in search of enemen for work on the survey. South of the G.T.P. this work has been completed and Mr. Grassie hopes that it will also be finished on the northern side during the coming winter The survey consists of the location of section lines, sometimes through exceedingly rough country but it is carried out only in the vicinity of the railroad track.

Was no Fool

An Irish farmer went into M. C. Hammond's shop to buy a gasoline engine. After serving him, Chris asked if he would buy a bicycle.

"What is that?" queried the Irishman.

"It is a machine to ride about the town on."

"And, sure, what might the price of it be?"

"Seventy-five dollars."

"I'd rather see $75.00 in a cow."

"But what a fool you would look riding round the town on the back of a cow?"

"Sure, now, replied the Irishman, "not half such a fool as I'd look trying to milk a bicycle."

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Slightly Injured

While descending the stairs at the Albany club at Toronto, last Friday, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, former prime minister of Canada, tripped and fell twelve steps to the landing below. He suffered an abrasion of the nose and superficial injuries on the chest. Sir Mackenzie had stopped at Toronto en route from the west. His accident is not of a serious nature.

WHAT TEDDY THINKS

I'm twice as great as Washington;
I'm twice as great as Grant;
Because third terms they didn't get,
They needn't think I can't.

I'm twice as great as I if seen
And Madison combined,
I'm twice as great as all the lot
Of presidents, I dine.

I'm greater than my country
And its colonies and its laws,
Its poor old constitution
And its presidential flaws.

I'm twice as great as any man,
Above or 'neath or by,
In fact I'm half inclined to think,
I'm twice as great as God.

A Prince Rupert dispatch received at Grand Trunk Pacific headquarters in Montreal states that steel on the main line east from the Pacific terminus is now five miles beyond New Hazelton and will very shortly reach Mud Cree.

There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy My children were all sick with the whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them, says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

Township not Open for Homesteading

The commissioner the department of the Interior at Ottawa has telegraphed A.Newman, Dominion Land agent at Edmonton to withdraw the advertisement now running that township 50 range 9, west of the 4th meridian is to be thrown open for homesteading on November 8. It is learned that the department has not been advised by the surveyor concerning squatters who have camps on quarter sections in the township. The officials of all these squatters are not yet in the hands on the department. Until they are, homestead entries cannot be filed with certainty. This is one of two Fort McMurry townships for which a big rush is expected on November 8.

City Planning Convention In Edmonton This Month

There is to be a City Planning convention held in Edmonton on 15th and 16th. Mayor George Armstrong, of Edmonton, is Vice-President of the City Planning and Housing Association of Canada and it is through his initiative that the convention has been called.

Every city and town in Alberta has been invited to send delegates to the convention and a large attendance is expected and particularly desired since the convention energies will be strongly directed toward securing legislation that will enable cities and towns to control the disposition of land and building in and about the several communities in such a manner as will lead itself to growth along good lines. Such legislation as as this has been adopted by Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and, to some extent by Ontario. A bill looking toward a like end is being prepared by the City Planning Commission of Winnipeg and the Edmonton convention will take up its work with all of this as a guide.

The proposition is an important one, particularly at a time when so many Alberta cities and towns are in a formative stage and when so much of future development along economical and thoroughly good lines depends upon what is done now

A number of prominent men have been invited to address the Edmonton convention, including Ex-Mayor W. Sanford Evans, of Winnipeg, President of the national association for city planning, Dr. A. J. Douglas, Medical Health Officer of Winnipeg, Mr. Clifford T. Jones of Calgary, and others who have made considerable inquiry into the theories and practices of city planning

Juvenile Bostonians

Welcome news comes in the announcement that the famous Juvenile Bostonian Opera Company, the novel musical comedy organization made up entirely of girls, is headed this way on its ninth annual tour and is scheduled to appear at The Variety Theatre here Thursday evening, Nov. 7th. Peter Henry, Dudie Cantfield Thom Helsen, Stubby Myling, Ethel Stoddard, Dixie white, Daisy Henry, Billie O'Neil, Fay Crawford and a lot of the other dainty little artists that helped roll up last season's great wave of popularity are again with the company this season. That clever Irish Musical Comedy, "The Rose of Blandeen," will be the bill

Passenger Traffic Increasing

A striking indication of western prosperity is to be found in the annually increasing volume of passenger traffic from the prairie provinces of Canada to Great Britain and Continental Europe. Officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific state that old country Bookings from the City of Edmonton alone via the G. T. P. have already broken all previous records. At the present time the total number is greater than that for the whole of 1911, and there does not appear to be any let up in the business.

Doing Good Work

Statistics obtained from the U.S. census Bureau indicate that in the cities now in the United States 15 to 20 farms impoverish, of these 1,427 129 were operated by resident owners, 58,104 were worked for the owners by managers 2,214,678 were occupied by renters.

Information from other sources indicates that the majority of these renters, particularly these throughout the Central west, are in fairly comfortable circumstances. They are well provided with necessary farm implements, and have the necessary equipment of live stock to successfully operate their farms but in most cases have little prospect of ever being able to own the high priced land they are on. Further more they are possessed of a valuable asset in the shape of a thorough knowledge of their calling and are necessarily engaged in diarrying and mixed farming, as under no other methods could they pay the high rents and make a living.

Suppose that only One Per Cent (1-100) of these renters could be persuaded to cease working for their landlords and being their experience and live stock, or the equivalent in cash, to Central Alberta, and buy and cultivate some of our rich lands at present lying unpeoplefree. What effect would this have on the prosperity and development of the community in general and on the business of the towns surrounded by land at present largely unused?

That is one of the things amongst many others, that the Central Alberta Development League is trying to do. During the one month of October 3506 letters have been written from this office and more than eleven thousand pieces of printed matter have been sent out. Some five thousand of these letters were sent to farmers throughout the Central Western States in which renters are most numerous and most prosperous. Since the beginning of September a very effective travelling exhibit has been maintained through Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Illinois, in charge of an able representative At the present time this exhibit is being shown at the great Dairy Show being held in the Live Stock Pavilion at Chicago, and will finish the present schedule at the great U. S. Land Show to be held in the Coliseum Building, Chicago, which will be attended by an average of something like forty thousand people a day for sixteen days, each paying fifty cents admission.

Dominion Cabinet Switched Around

The changes in the Dominion Cabinet caused by the retirement of Hon. F. D. Monk went into effect last Thursday when Hon. Louis Coderre began his duties as Secretary of State and Minister of Mines.

He also has the direction of the Printing Bureau; of the issuing of letters patent, of passports, and he is responsible for the great seal of Canada.

Dr. Roche took over the Dept. of Interior and now has custody of Dominion lands and admission of immigrants.

Hon. Robert Rogers took over the public works department and has supervising authority over the expenditure of $40,000,000 which parliament has voted for dredging, wharves and public buildings.

It is intimated, opposition is forthcoming in Hochelaga to Hon. Louis Coderre. the prime minister will probably take a hand in the contest and address meetings on behalf of his new colleague. In that event it is reasonable to anticipate some reference to the main questions which will be submitted to parliament, including the navy.

Now that the cabinet re-adjustment has been arranged, preparations are going on apace for the opening of parliament two weeks hence. The main estimates will be ready at the start, also the Bank act and the West Indian trade agreement, but having regard to the fact that the naval question was primarily responsible for the fall sitting it is very likely that it will come up as soon as possible after the address is disposed of. Whether a redistribution bill will be brought down this session is still an open question.

Barbs

T. A. Rowan was a visitor to Tofield last Monday.

Threshing is almost completed in this neighborood. The grain has all turned out of excellent quality. Oats averaged from 50 to 70 bushels per acre, barley from 30 to 40 and wheat from 25 to 30, with here and there instances of yields in excess of these maximums. The farmers in this section are all well satisfied with this year's harvest.

J. B. Anderson is completing the erection of his new residence.

Rev. Mr. Ronning returned the other day from his trip to the Peace River district. He was well pleased with what he saw out there

P. B. Anderson paid a business trip to Tofield on Monday.

A petition has been in circulation throughout the district which has received a large number of signatures. The petition is to the Postal Dept. of the Government and asks that the mail service to Barrb be changed back to the former system, viz: direct by stage from Tofield. The present service from Barrb siding on the Tofield-Calgary branch line of the G. T. P. is very dissatisfactor.y.

A very regrettable affair took place recently when a newcomer named O Forberg, became demented and had to be taken in charge by the R.N.W.M.P. and removed to Edmonton

Miss Robinson of Edmonton is now in charge of our school and reports state that splendid progress in being made under her capable supervision.

Better Service to Canada

Herr Ballin, director of the Hamburg Amerika line, is visiting Canada to discuss increasing the steamship service between Canada and Germany. An extension of the service at present is barred owing to agreements with other companies, which Herr Ballin will endeavor to remedy.

BEN MYLIUS

With the Bostonians, in Variety Theatre, Thursday, Nov. 7th

Dodie Canfield, Thom Hallen, Stubby Myling, Patsy Henry and all the other clever stage youngsters who scored such notable hits in the Juvenile Bostonians Opera Company engagement last season will visit Tofield this season. The Variety Theatre having booked the popular attraction for Thursday evening, Nov. 7th. Manager Bert Lang, of the company, has written E. S. Hopkins that he may expect the biggest and best production of the Juveniles' history this time, stating that everyone of last season's stellar favorites has been re-engaged, and that the company comes back with a largely increased organization, and with complete sets of new costumes and scenery "The Rose of Blandeen" will be the offering.

Will Go To Grand Prairie

Rev. H. N. Ronning of Barrb returned recently from a month's trip to Grand Prairie in the Peace River District. Seen by the Standard Mr. Ronning said that he was well pleased with what he saw up in that country. Where he is being sent by the Hauges Mission as a missionary is in the territory north of Bear and Saskatoon Lakes. There the country is much similar to the Tofield country with the exception that the growth of grass is not so luxurant, is being more a grain producing country than a cattle raising country. The winter he said, is much the same as Lere.

Accompanying Mr. Ronning on his trip were Mrs. Ronning, Olaf Horte, and Mr. John Johnson of Nobroka. All of these gentlemen have located in the north country. Mr. Ronning had two setups which he located there and in the "spring when he goes back he will take up a homestead and each of his boys thkwise.

In the district where Mr. Ronning is going there is quite a large wegian settlement and it was principally for missionary work that Mr. Ronning was sent there. Since he has been there, the chances of doing so was embraced. Their many friends in this country will wish them well.

Locks in Height Will Equal Those at Panama, Making Largest Canal in Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 11— Plans are nearing completion for the building of the New Welland canal providing for what will be the largest canal in Canada, the locks being practically the same height as those of Panama. This is what is known as the Ten mile Creek route. The whole canal will be twenty- five miles long. From Thorold to Fort Colborne the old channel will be used.

It is expected the work will take five years in completion and the cost will be somewhere roughly estimated at $30,000,000.

Fire at Blacksmith Shop

A blaze in Kirkpatrick & Fosters blacksmith shop was fortunately noticed in its incipient stage by passers-by in a motor car about 4.30 p. m. last Thursday night. The alarm was at once rung in and the brigade responded in wonderfully quick order considering the fact that the members are resident all about town. The blaze was caused apparently by a live coal of gas in the heating stove causing refuse on the northen floor to ignite It was extinguished without having to use the chemicals.

Sparrows In Stations

Travellers passing through the Grand Trunk's new Central Station at Ottawa have lately been interested to note the presence in the building of a flock of sparrows who have made their nests high up among the lofty pillars. These birds are without any fear and hop in and out among the passengers freely, some even making a raid on the dining room where substantial pickings are to be found. Sparrows perform a useful work in cleaning up the dust and other insects and it is under stood that no effort will will be made to dislodge them from the station at Ottawa.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY NOVEMBER 14, 1912.

A City With a Future.

It has been said repeatedly in these columns that Tofield will be a city. The Standard is of the opinion that every loyal Tofielder echoes this statement. What with the development of our natural resources, the installation of our gas system and, what is of paramount importance, our water system for fire protection, domestic and manufacturing purposes, a development which is fast forcing itself upon us, the co-incident attraction and location of industries with their attendant payrolls, the foundations are now being laid for a CITY WITH A FUTURE.

o o o o o

Municipal Elections Near at Hand.

WITH the vast development in store for us in the immediate future, with these big municipal propositions staring us in the face, with a municipal election approaching in which within the space of less than four weeks three new councillors and a mayor must be chosen to fill the positions which are automatically falling vacant, the ratepayers of this town have the responsibility placed upon them of selecting the strongest possible aggregation of men to direct the municipality's affairs during the coming year.

It cannot reasonably be assumed that there are many aspirants who hanker after the jobs to be imposed. Much time must be given and personal convenience sacrificed by those who accept the responsibilities of public office and with all the work and details regarding same in connection with the municipal undertakings which must arise and be thoroughly considered and carried into execution, it is scarcely possible that we can find the private individuals in town who can with justice to themselves and the community satisfactorily attend to all these details. Nor is it reasonable to load the responsibility wholly upon their shoulders. The time is coming swiftly when we must consider the advisability of engaging a public works commissioner with the qualifications of a civil engineer and who will attend to the putting into execution of the plans authorized by council. Such a move by the council is provided for by the Towns' Act and would be perfectly in accord with a policy which aims at efficient and economical government.

o o o o o

Abolish the Common Drinking Cup.

PASSENGERS on railway trains crossing the border between Canada and the United States must often have noticed the porter locking up the dirty, rusty drinking cups when Canada is left behind. The bringing to light once again of the same utensils when the Dominion is entered emphasizes what has been declared by medical men to be one of the most dangerous carriers of disease to-day. The United States government has just abolished the menace completely, forbidding railroads to carry common cups on their trains or to allow them in depots or waiting rooms. The railroads, undoubtedly afford one of the most dangerous areas for spreading disease, but they are not the only agencies of this character. It is a mark of improvement that in schools and other public buildings where many congregate, the old drinking cup is no longer tolerated. Its place being taken by the sparkling stream that admits no possibility of spreading contagion.

The abolition of the dirty drinking cup need cause no inconvenience. A piece of paper, as has been pointed out, can be rolled into a cone and used with perfect ease for the purpose. More and more travellers are carrying their own cup, which, folded up, slips into a pocket. The practice will grow when the common cup goes and forces more care in this respect. It is safe to say that the average person would never again use a common cup after watching its use in an ordinary railroad car for half an hour.

o o o o o

Diplomatic Relations Straining.

THE Bulgarians, Servians and Greeks are following up their advantage in their war with Turkey and are even now pounding on the gates of Constantinople. The Turks have determined to stay with the fight to the last ditch although they already acknowledge themselves beaten. Feeling amongst the powers is at a high tension over the settlement of the conditions for peace. Servia wants seaport territory in Albania but Austria is determined she shall not have it. Diplomatic relations will have to be well managed or a European embroglio may arise, the results of which no one can foretell.

o o o o o

Woman Suffrage in U. S.

WOMAN suffrage had its victories in the U. S elections last week. Two cause was won in two of the five states that voted on it. In two others the result is doubtful while in the fifth state, Wisconsin, the proposed amendment was defeated decisively. Kansas and Arizona have joined the procession of Western States who accord women equal suffrage with men In Oregon and Michigan the result is doubtful. The following states are now committed to woman suffrage:—California, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Washington, Arizona and Kansas.

Celebrate Their Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Anderson Celebrate Their 25th Anniversary of Married Life. Large Gathering of Friends. Present Show Mark of High Esteem in Which Couple Are Held.

All were young again and in the minds of all the wedding bells were ringing gaily, and in all their misery chimes. Wednesday afternoon and evening one of the largest gatherings held in the Bardo community had assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F.R. Anderson, full of glee, mirth and well wishes. It was the occasion of the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the wedding of the pair above in attendance. Mr. and Mrs Anderson are two of the most esteemed people in the Bardo settlement and indeed this good opinion is not by any means restricted to the Bardo section.

As a manifestation of this high regard there was an abundance of friends in the community who conspired to surprise the couple and during the afternoon vehicles loaded to capacity with friends came in twos and threes from every direction till the house was filled to overflowing. Merriment and jest reigned supreme and when the psychological moment had arrived and everybody had partaken of the well filled baskets which had been brought that none might go away fasting, the presentation of an elegant silver tea set and many other silver pieces was made to the honored couple. Speeches from many friends from near and distant point were made in which all testified to the high place in their affections in which the recipients of those tokens of esteem were held. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were much affected by the whole-hearted manner in which their host of friends showed their affection and a reply was made in feeling and appreciative terms. The one wish and hope of all was that both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson may long be spared to each other and the community in which they are taking a leading part.

NOTE.—The Standard takes pleasure in echoing the above sentiments and in wishing Mr and Mrs. Anderson a long, healthy, prosperous and happy life.

Last Meeting of Council Held. Election Officers Appointed

The council of L. I. D. 25-p-4 held its last meeting, prior to the dissolution of the district, at Wm. Thomson's residence on Tuesday afternoon. The pay sheets having been all duly attended to, the assets and liabilities were apportioned to each of the townships. This was an easy matter in L. I. D. 25-p-4 as township's belongings in the way of tools, plow-etc. have been kept separate from the other townships and no account kept of assets and liabilities for each division.

Says Hudson Bay Line Will be Ready in 1914

By the fall of 1914 J. D. McArthur expects that the government railway from Le Pas to Hudson Bay will be completed. Sixty miles is graded already and next season the contractor expects to see 200 miles of track laid. Whether the last runs to Port Nelson or Fort Churchill, which is still undecided Mr. Arthur says that the railway will prove a success on account of the saving to western grainmen in the short haul. Not much business will be done for a very long time in the country through which the line runs.

Every drop of National Light Oil gives you light and saves you money.

It saves your health because it does not emit poisonous gases; this saves doctor bills.

It does not smoke up the furnishings—another money saving feature.

It does not cloud the chimneys, char the wicks or leave a sooty residue in the lamp—a double saving of time and money.

It gives a brilliant, clear, steady light at all times, which is worth much every penny that it costs.

For over thirty years National Light Oil has been "burning on the derrick" in millions of homes. There is hardly a town or city in this whole country where this furnace oil is not sold and used.

There is no better oil for the oil lamp, for National Light Oil costs no more, as in the case when low grades are used. It saves the whole problem of "safe, sane and cool cooking," and makes cooking, baking and heating a pleasure.

It is the perfect oil for incubator use, producing a strong, even heat. Makes the chickens hatch lustrous, and being free from poisonous gases it does not kill chicks in the brooder.

National Light Oil is the best for every purpose. One trial will make you a steady customer for it.

Council

What the Town Fathers did on Tuesday Night

The plans and profile for the new industrial spur asked for by the town from the G.T.P. were present to council last Tuesday evening by Mr. Cross, the company's local representative. Those showed the spur to leave the main line on the north side a few hundred feet west of the railway crossing at the east end of the freight yards. The spur takes a north curve to a point 110 feet approximately, north of the centre of the main track from whence it goes easterly parallel with the main line and on the north edge of the street which is being opened by the town through Industrial Sites, immediately north of the G.T.P. right of way. This plan will necessitate another level crossing track over the road at the east end of the freight yards. The plans are submitted, with a slight modification so that the spur should not interfere with private property west of the road were approved by the council on motion of councillors Younie and Pugh.

The cost to the town of the above spur is that of the grading, the ties spikes and bolts, which is estimated at $2522.22. In addition it will have to pay the G.T.P. 5 per annum on the cost of the steel which is estimated to cost $1695.38.

Mr. Cross reported on request that the station grounds were almost completed and that owing to the very wet season just past, the work could not be finished. Gravel would be brought in and placed all over the area. Supt. Brown also stated that he wished to deal justly and fairly by the town in building it out on mutual boosting improvements.

On motion of Emery-Lee it was ordered that a draft by-law be drawn up providing for the closing by the railroad company of the government road allowance crossing the company's freight yards.

Dr. McQueen appeared on behalf of the Tofield Curling Club asking that the town grant the use of the curling section of the rink to the clubs on the same terms as the hockey club has secured. On motion of Bird-Younie this was granted

A letter from the International Secretary-Treasurer in connection with the position of a school site on the G. T. P. was referred to the School Board.

R. O. Bird, chairman of a special committee to meet a special committee of the Agricultural Society, reported that they had met and agreed upon a provisional agreement whereby the town might take over the Exhibition Grounds for an Exhibition Park. The conditions of the agreement were as follows—

Town to assume responsibility of the $1200 note owing to the Merchants Bank.

Town to assume responsibility of balance of purchase money outstanding upon the Grounds, $600.

Town to give the Tofield Agricultural Society $800

Town to give the Society 5 yrs lease for Society's purposes.

Town to erect further buildings when necessary for Exhibition purposes.

In consideration whereof the society is to sign over the agreement to purchase to the Town of Tofield.

The committee recommended that this agreement be entered into.

Council reserved the report and the secretary was instructed to write the G.T.P. to ascertain if the arrest placed by them upon the the grounds that they must be used for Exhibition purposes could be changed to read for exhibition and park purposes. The same special committee was continued.

The matter of the extension of the towns boundaries was then taken up. Council went into committee of the whole and pored over the map of the town and surroundings. It was generally agreed that the following areas be taken into the town: Industrial Sites, all of Tofield Heights, the Letourneau Farm, Richter Subdivision, Ezelet Park, all of south half of section 12-51-19, Hillcrest Subdivision, part N.E. 1-51-20-4 and all of west half of 35-50-19 including West Tofield Subdivision in all approximating 2½ quarter sections.

A "Financiers View Point" on Loans to Farmers

RECENTLY Sir Edmund Walker, President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, visited Winnipeg and was interviewed by a reporter representing The Grain Growers Guide with reference to some of the financial problems that are now engaging attention in Canada.

The views of such a man as Sir Edmund Walker, who is one of the most prominent in financial circles in Canada, are well worth consideration by those who have most to do with the solution of these problems.

The first question Sir Edmund was asked to discuss was that of agricultural credit. It was suggested "that the present banking system was not adequate to meet the needs of the agricultural industry, and that some provision ought to be made whereby farmers who are unable to market their grain in the fall would be able to raise money on the security of grain stored on the farm, and, further, that there was need of credit being extended to farmers to enable them to keep stock and practice mixed farming.

"Without admitting that our banking system is inadequate," Sir Edmund replied, "let me say at once, that I have the greatest sympathy with any effort to give the farmer all the financial assistance which it is necessary for him to have. We have always made a great point in the Bank of Commerce of loaning money to farmers. Indeed, I have often quoted to our managers the fact that the Bank of France loans to farmers as little as 50 francs, that is $10. Such small loans are probably not necessary in Canada, but our idea regarding the farmers' loans is that the size of the loan has nothing to do with it if the conditions are correct. There is no reason why a loan to a farmer of $100 should not have the same consideration as a loan to a manufacturer of $100,000 if the conditions are right.

"Sir Edmund was next asked how he regarded the proposal to "lend money to farmers on the security of grain stored in their own granaries when the lack of transportation facilities or the condition of the market made it impossible or undesirable to market it immediately." To this proposal Sir Edmund was decidedly favorable.

"It is desirable for many reasons that all the grain crop of the country should not be rushed on the market at one time. In the first place it is not reasonable to expect the railways to have facilities to handle the whole crop within a period of ten or twelve weeks. Then to rush all the grain on the market at one time would inevitably be to depress the price when the farmer was selling, and to raise it when he had none to dispose of. The farmer, however, must have money in the fall to meet his liabilities. The machine agent, the storekeeper and the thresherman all want their money at that time, and it is desirable that he should be able to pay them. Consequently, if the farmers ask for the privilege of having the right under the Bank Act to put their grain in some safe storage pledge it to the bank, I should hope the government would grant it and that the banks would do their best to provide the accomodation required. I can see no reason why such a plan should not prove practicable."

"Would you also be in favor of the banks having power to loan money to farmers for the purpose of enabling them to purchase cattle and go into mixed farming, the cattle themselves being given as security?" "Yes I would be in favor of that also," replied Sir Edmund. "If it is considered desirable for the benefit of the country generally that farmers should have loans on the security of their cattle I see no reason why Parliament should not legislate accordingly."

"Easy Money for Successful Farmers"

THE attention of our farmer readers is called to the article "Easy Money for Successful Farmers" appearing on page three of this issue. Here is a chance for many of our agriculturists to do their district and themselves a good turn besides possibly making a little money on the side. The best of advertising comes from those who have been and are directly interested in the development of our resources. Personal testimony, backed up by facts, do much towards attracting the right kind of new settlers. Organized forces are at work whose aim is the development of our untilled prairie lands. The farmers themselves can do much to assist if they choose. Let us hope Tofield district will be well represented in the list of prize winners in the competition referred to.

Which Would You Do?

IF you owned Tofield outright and had to select a manager for it, would you take the applicant you liked best or the man most competent to manage the business? The voter who throws his vote to another or any other such reason, but . . . more all whom he knows to be less competent than an up, onst, is not acting fairly towards the municipality.

White Pine Cuts Now In Demand

A peculiar feature of current lumber demand in the old white pine sections of the north is the extraordinary requirement for low grade stock. It is so persistant and devouring that it takes in cuts so rank that 20 or 30 years ago they would have been considered refuse fit only for the roughest kind of patching up of sheds; and when accumulation became too burdensome they were thrown into the burner or used to build wharves or roadways, or for firewood. Gradd ownward has come with the demand for low material, until "1.roo men boards," as they have been loosely called, are now graded as No. 3 or anything below that. The call for low-grade stuff has become so general and insistent that such stuff is more saleable than the medium and better qualities. This feature is true, not only of the lumber market of the Northern States, but pertains also to that of Canada. At Toronto the demand for the lower grades of pine is especially active and large, so that there is a very sizable shortage of mill cuts and what are called "deal" cuts, the latter term applying to lumber that has no sort of "pickings" in it. This condition with respect to the lumber market of Ontario shows how closely the lumber trade of that province is connected with that of this country, for some requirements for cull lumber namely, for the manufacture, prevailing in that province as in the northern part of the United States. The way in which the mill lumber of the Northern States and Canada is being used up almost to the last stave has more than ordinary significance. It means that anything in the shape of a tree or log is being utilized in the way of sawed product, and that timber that was once considered unsalable may as firewood is now being converted into lumber that actually sells quicker than good stock.—American Lumberman.

Livestock Means Success

On nearly every farm livestock raising is merely a side line when it should be the main thing. There is no place where the farmer can market his corn and roughage so profitable as feeding it to good livestock says the Kansas Farmer. The market is right at home in the feed lot and no long haul to town and necessary. In a farmer can feed his 40-cent corn to good hogs which will pay him 80 cents for it, does he not make an advance on the price of his corn and a profit in the facility returned to the soil, as well as a saving of expense in the hauling? Breeding pure-bred live stock is a business which should be entered gradually and retired from reluctantly. Improving the common stock a little each year will lead up to the pure-bred business. There can exist no permanent system of agriculture without livestock, and on high-priced land, pure-bred stock is the only kind to have.

Better than a Bond Issue

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 20—A proposal being advocated by Mr. R. B. Bennett, Calgary's popular representative at Ottawa, with a view to increasing the school funds of the West, is receiving much favorable comment. The idea is to require the Canadian Pacific railway to pay taxes on its millions of acres of unsold lands through the West, the resulting revenue to be applied to the school funds. That steps must be taken in any case to maintain a proportionate increase in the school funds corresponding to industrial and population growth is generally admitted.

227 L. I. Districts Wound up Affairs

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 20. Two hundred and twenty seven local improvement districts, comprising the settled areas of the province of Alberta, wound up their affairs on November 15, when the rural municipality act, passed by the last legislature, became operative. The change involves a complete revision of the map of Alberta in the government of the farming communities.

Fifty-six rural municipalities have been entrusted with wide powers of self government. In addition there will be 110 districts with the limited powers previously granted to smaller communities. Nominations for councillors of the rural municipalities will be made on December 2nd, the elections taking place a week later. Nominations and elections will take place in January in the district where the residents have not taken advantage of the act.

Meanwhile the department of municipal affairs for Alberta, headed by Hon. Chas Stewart minister and John Perry, deputy minister, will have charge of affairs. The department has two auditors at work supervising the work of winding up the affairs of the local improvement districts. Just what this means will be better understood when it is known that the province of Alberta is 50 per cent larger than the state of Texas and that the settled areas are more widely apart than the Lone Star State.

"The work is going ahead in a satisfactory way," Mr. Stewart said, "and I believe the people will be satisfied with it."

Canadian Drama To Be Produced

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 20—Native born sons and daughters of Canada, living in the United States, Canada and Europe, will be invited to participate in a Canadian drama, written by a Canadian author, staged by a Canadian manager and played by Canadian players, to be produced at the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific trans-continental system in 1913 or early in 1914, H. C. Bopd of Edmonton, who suggested the idea, plans to make a tour of the principal cities of Canada, after which the play will be seen in the smaller cities and towns throughout the dominion. The play will deal with the development of Canada as a whole, introducing historical characters and scenes. Mr Boyd is in correspondence with authors and players in various parts of the world and expects to make a definite announcement regarding his plans early.

$200,000 Addition to Alberta University

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 20—Governors of the University of Alberta have received a permit from the building inspector to erect a dormitory with a frontage of 400 feet, costing $200,000. This will provide accomodations for 150 students. Construction work is to begin early next spring. One hundred and fifty students are two dormitories, each having a frontage of 400 feet, but the present quarters are inadequate, as 257 students are enrolled this season. Every province in the dominion and numerous states in the Union are represented in the student body. It is officially announced that when the final plans have been completed there will be accomodation for fully 5,900 students.

Annual Meeting of Ratepayers

Held in Town Hall Last Monday Night Was Well Attended Jessie McMullen Praised

The annual meeting of the ratepayers held in the town hall last Monday night was well attended and, as far as its nature was concerned, was perhaps, as it was said by one of those present, much to be likened to a love feast. The mayor and all the councillors were present and each was called upon to give his report. These were remarkable in that they were pretty much all alike. The auditor's report, on hand early in it that official gave an outline of the Receipts and Expenditures for the year for that portion of the year ending Oct. 31st. In the report he also commended the manner in which the town's accounts have been kept since the last audit Jessie McMullen was engaged for this work almost immediately after the last audit, and recommended certain improvements in the manner of handling town vouchers.

Secretary-Treasurer McMeiken gave a report on the work of his office and spoke at greater length on what council should and should not do and what kind of men should be elected to fill the chairs at the council.

The school board report was read which showed its finances affairs to be on a sound basis. It was also intimated by Trustee Swift that a new school building would have to be built in the immediate future.

Engineer Armstrong gave a brief report on repairs as what had been done in the matter of securing a water supply.

A resolution of appreciation to council for its services for the general good during the year was passed on motion of Dr. Hammons and E. Ed King.

Nominations of candidates for Mayor and Councillors will be held next Monday, Dec 2.

To the Electors of the Town of Tofield

In response to some of the electors I have consented to stand for mayoralty honors at the coming elections.

Stated briefly, I stand for: '

Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities:

Development of our Natural Gas resources;

The securing of estimates for Waterworks and Sewerage systems and commencement of installation same;

The Electric Lighting of all our buildings, the current to be secured from the Gas Plant;

New sidewalks to be built of cement;

The appointment of a town magistrate, before all cases should be tried, the fees going to the town treasury;

The appointment of a Commissioner through whom the town would do all their purchasing, who would be competent to give grades and levels for all street works and to have supervision of same according to specifications given by the town's Consulting Engineer, and in part form such other duties as the council m.y. decide upon;

Using every endeavor to obtain manufacturies.

Securing the building of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. to Tofield and also the extension of the G.T.P. from Tofield north

Soliciting your vote and influence, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
A.J.H. McCAULEY

Letters to the Editor

NOTE. The Editor does not necessarily run out with the views of correspondents published under this head.

Editor Standard:

Sir—

Would you kindly give me a little space in your valued paper to correct an error that has got abroad?

At the citizens meeting on Monday I moved a vote of thanks to the council—They deserve our thanks for giving their time and thought to the town. But I did not seem to approve of all the councils works during the year For instance, the council must face the fact that gas well No. 1 has been grossly mismanaged. I, for one would be pleased to know in whose charge the mismanagement was be placed. But of this I am sure the council, as a body, are to be censured for the ruining of a $40,000 well.

Then did the council act wisely in letting the ditch contract to the lowest tender—much too low—and then to pay off at the figure of the highest tender? Was it business to spend the summer shovelling the dirt from the road at the railroad crossing shovelling the dirt out—putting it back on—then out again and back in again—all done by men at 35c per hour? It is business?

When gas well No. 2 was drilled and along the Industrial League gusher, and well No. 2 was commenced because of the Industrial League's efforts, and all this time the town were trying to sell debentures. It is recognized that ever we have a paying well our debentures will find a market. What do you think, of men who, when things go wrong, throw the blame on their hired assistants and still employ those assistants.

That the town finances are in a bad way is recognized by all, does this show that the council is composed of financiers?

Mr. Editor this is not written in a spirit of fault-finding but to draw the attention of the voters to need of great care in selecting this years council Tofield will win or lose during 1913. If the council lack in ability and foresight, the town will surely be swamped. It will require shrewd financiers to get straight the town financial system and to lay the foundation for one of Alberta's important cities. Therefore let us elect the town's best men, not because they are on a special ticket or members of a special clique but because of their special fitness for this work.

Thanking you, yours truly,

J. L. HAMMOND

To the Electors of the Town of Tofield:

I had not intended to come out again as a candidate for mayoralty honors but by being approached by many others and also being requested by the following requisition I have decided to accede to the request and announce that I am in the field. My record is before you, I have worked diligently for the advancement of Tofield and if again returned to office will continue to use every effort in this respect and to keep our town up to the times.

November, 26th. 1912

To J. O. Latourneau.

Having fulfilled the office of mayor to our satisfaction on the past we the undersigned ratepayers urge you to again offer yourself for that office at the coming election.

Many See Mixed Farming Special

The "Mixed Farming Special" train which the government is running over all the railway lines of the province for the farmers' interests arrived in Tofield last Thursday morning and was met by a large concourse of farmers, stockmen, dairymen and others many of them with their wives and daughters, all eager to see the exhibition of mixed farming products and to hear the lectures given.

A. Galbraith, a well known speaker from Ile Calle, Ill., spoke on the breeding of draft horses. Mr. Carlisle, dairy expert at Chester Hills, Ont., followed with a most interesting talk on dairy cattle. A. W. Foley, poultry expert gave an interesting talk on large and prize winning the pupils of Tofield Public School. Bryce de Winton addressed an appreciative audience Upbraiden and W. F. Stevens, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner, spoke on the selection and propper handling of hogs.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture accompanied the train and had personal charge of the arrangements. He called upon Hon. J. R. Boyle, Minister of Education, and Hon. Mr. McLean, Minister of Public Works, to give short talks. Both gentlemen expressed themselves in full sympathy with the Mixed Farming Special and were of the opinion, judging from the large crowd present and the interest shown that it was doing much good. Mr. Boyle expatiated on the policy of his department in introducing education in agricultural studies into rural schools while Mr. McLean stated that his department was determined to relieve—to-day by the news of the sale of six pairs of oxen from the C & les Dalton Ranching Co. to a Russian nobleman for $100,000, to be delivered in Russia next September by Dalton personally.

This year the price reached $10,000 per pair and has been steadily advancing. The fact that Russia is to start the breeding should give great impetus to the industry here

"ANYTHING that is produced in Canada from Canadian materials, by the application of Canadian brain and labor, will always have first call with me. And it's only good business on my part that it should.'

Enthusiasm

Without enthusiasm nothing great was ever achieved. The underlying principle of every wonderful accomplishment is enthusiasm.

Inventors, actors, authors, merchants, printers, editors all must enthuse to be successful.

If the weather is cold, enthuse over it, in a little while you wont mind it, in fact, you will enjoy it.

Enthusiasm is the life-blood of everything. It makes the cities grow. Be enthusiastic. It warms up the blood, it makes you wide-awake, it stirs up the community.

If everybody were enthusiastic there would be no drones.

Enthusiasm, backed by good sound business principles and liberality is what makes trade easy and everybody happy.

We believe in enthusiasm.

All Forms of Power Depend Upon it

WHEREVER be the field in which men are at work, they depend upon the press to carry forward their projects Science thereby records her discoveries; industrial pursuits find in this a treasury of knowledge and a guide to success. Without it, the school would languish and die. Political parties do their largest work through the printing page, putting their appeals before the eye of every voter from one end of the land to the other. Every interest of the race wields the press as an arm of power. We can scarcely conceive what we would do, had the printing press never come into being. All forms of power depend upon it, and every life is moulded through its agency. —Lewis Ransome Fiske in Progressive Papers.

Municipal System Still Unchanged

THE Bigger Independent has the following appropriate remarks to say anent the elements which go to make successful towns and cities;—

In every Province and in every district can be found towns that are continually forging ahead, while others in the same vicinity remain practically at a standstill and accomplished nothing in the way of improvements or advancement. In nearly every case the fault can be found to rest, not with the town, but with the people themselves.

The reason some towns grow is because they have men in them with push and energy, who are not afraid to spend their time, energy and money in anything that will boom and benefit the town. They have confidence enough in their town to erect substantial and modern buildings and residences and work for public improvements in the same order. They organize stock companies and establish factories, induce industrial enterprises to locate and use every means to further the best interests of the town. Their work is never considered finished and the accomplishment of one thing is only an incentive to another.

On the other hand the town that does not get ahead will be found dominated by a set of men who are perfectly satisfied with their surroundings or who are afraid that somebody else will benefit in the event something is started consequently no effort of any kind is made by this class for these two reasons. If some men, or set of men, endeavor to start something, they are met by opposition and discouragement, and it is uphill all the way and very often failure.

Every town, however, has a certain progressive element which hopes for a turn in the tide when it will go forward by leaps and bounds and occupy a position of importance along with other numerous advantages which go to make a good town in every sense the word implies. But this stage cannot be accomplished by mere wishes or suggestions. It can only come from harmony in purpose and action and the eternal vigilance of its citizens. The town with these things will continue to grow and improve, but the town without them can be expected to remain in a state of lethargy indefinitely, without affording its residents anything but a mere existance.

Seed Grain and Potatoes

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of ageing wheat (6lb) white oats (4lb), barley (3lb) and field peas (3lb). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes (in 3lb sample) will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the province of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms and some account of their experience with such kinds of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their conditions may be selected.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited farmers are advised to apply early; but the applications will not be necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received. Preference will always be given to the most thoughtful and explicit requests. Applications received after the end of January will probably be too late.

Applications for potatoes from farmers in any other province should be addressed (postage prepaid) to the Superintendent of the nearest Branch Experimental Farm in that Province.

"Chateau Macdonald"

While the new Grand Trunk Pacific hotel in Edmonton has been christened after Sir John A. Macdonald the Great Canadian Statesman it is also said to be a fact that the original settler in the Alberta Capital was a man named John Macdonald, who ran from Guelph at the close of the eighteenth century and established what is today a thriving city of 85,000 before the Hudson's Bay Co. erected it's fort and trading station on the banks of the Saskatchewan River. It is said that he crossed the plains with an ox team in the summer of 1789 and located on a farm over-looking the river, within a stone's throw of what is now the principle business thoroughfare. Thus the "Chateau Macdonald" will have double associations and a link with the history of the city in which it is situated as well as with the history of the entire Dominion.

Have All Doubtful Seeds Tested For Vitality

Owing to the fact that climatic conditions have again been unfavorable in certain districts to the satisfactory maturity of seed grain, we wish to draw the attention of every farmer to the advisability of having his seed tested for germination.

Oats are particularly subject to injury by frost, and in certain stages of their growth are rendered worthless for seed purposes even though they may look perfectly plump and sound outwardly. Others again, though undoubtedly frozen, are not seriously affected in vitality. As a germination test is the only sure indication of the grain condition in such cases, we would strongly advise having all doubtful oats tested.

Flax is also subject to injury by frost as well as moisture, and its vitality may be considerably lowered by these factors. Barley is affected likewise and often shows a low percentage of growth when sent after frost. Wheat on the other hand, is much less liable to injury and will usually germinate readily even when frosts quite severely. It may, however, be rendered unfit for seed by frost or through excessive moisture.

Timothy cut after frost should be tested, as it is often greatly reduced in vitality. We would also suggest having tested any other cereal or fodder seeds that may be suspected of not having up to the full standard of germination.

In sending in samples to be tested the following points should be remembered.

1 All samples are tested free of charges.

2 Seed bags suitable for sending samples may be had on application to the Dominion Seed Laboratory Calgary, Alta.

3 About half such a bag full (1000 grains) is ample for a germination test.

4 If possible samples should be cleaned before sending.

5 Postage should be prepaid at the rate of 2 cents for 4 ounces or 1 cent for each additional 4 ounces

6 It is unnecessary to enclose stamps for a reply.

7 The usual time necessary for a test is 10 days, but when a return is made a longer period is required.

8 All samples should be plainly marked with the name and address of the sender, together with an identification designation when more than one is sent.

9 All samples should be sent to the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Calgary, not to any individual member of the staff. In addition to the above, this Department when required, tests any kind of weed or fodder seeds for purity from noxious weeds. Samples sent in for such purposes should contain not less than one pound of the long or grains and two ounces of flax grasses and clovers.

License Cases to Go Over to January

Edmonton, Nov. 23—Owing to congestion of litigation in the supreme court, a further postponement of the hearing of the application of the residents of license districts 2 and 3, to prevent the chairman of the license commission from setting a date for a vote on local option in those districts on the strength of a petition circulated in the fall of last year. This morning the hearing was set over until January when the local option case will be the first on the list. Thus the holding of a plebiscite on local option during the present year is no longer a possibility.

Great Value of A Newspaper

The average weekly editor annually loses his all invested in his newspaper property. The investment generally represents from five to ten thousand dollars. But is worth more to a town than five times that amount invested in any other local enterprise. As a rule the newspaper represents to the outside world the town itself. Poor paper poor town is the usual verdict. It is therefore to the interest of every town to support a good newspaper. Not through local pride alone but from a practical business standpoint and reason. A newspaper is constantly doing two things as much for its town as it could ever hope to get pay for—more than it could charge for if it would. The more prosperous a paper is, the more it can do. Show us a good weekly paper, full of live local advertisements with a general circulation throughout the country and we will show you an up-to-date, progressive community. We will also show you a paper that is worth five times as much to that community every year as the editor manages to make for himself.

People should stop to think about these things. It is an important matter. It is the welfare and progress of their community therein of themselves individually.

Easy Money For Successful Farmers

The Central Alberta Development League wants to know the experience of Central Alberta farmers, the information to be used in exploiting the wonderful resources and the opportunities offered for various kinds of agriculture in the district. Cash prizes will be awarded to the writers of the 15 best letters, as follows:

1st, $25; 2nd, $20; 3rd, $15; 4th, $10; 5th, $7.50; 6th and 7th, $5; 8th and 9th, $4; 10th, 11th and 12th $3; 13th, 14th and 15th, $2.

The conditions of the competition are:

Letters must be short and to the point, preferably not more than about 200 words, written on one side of the paper, and be in the secretary's hands on or before December 12.

More consideration will be given to facts than to literary style.

Be accurate, only such statements should be made as will bear investigation.

Tell where you came from, the resources you had on arrival and the success achieved; or your experience and success regarding any branch of farming such as grain production, stock raising, and dairying, singly or combined, horse, hog, poultry and sheep raising; growing of grasses and root crops, fruit and gardening generally; and how efficient you have been in the form of labor you employed. The name a etter may submit letters on different subjects

The League also desires to hear from farmers' wives and daughters. Letters should be sent to the Secretary, Central Alberta Development League, Edmonton.

The judging committee to award prizes consists of Chas. S. Hotchkiss, chief publicity commissioner for Alberta, Angus Wolff, secretary Citizens League, Edmonton, and F. F. Fisher, secretary Central Alberta Development League, Edmonton.

Beaver Lake .....East.....

Our teacher Miss Kerr has gone to her home in the Ottawa valley, so the hum of our educational mill has ceased for the time being. Blackness in the old home caused her sudden departure. We expect her successor on or about Dec 1st, provided that he has not accepted some other school. You never can tell till they arrive whether or not you have got them.

The grain is not all threshed yet in this locality. The land mill is humming away and Mr. Moore is expected in this week to clean up the balance. Mr. Stewarts mill is laid up for repairs and not likely to do any more this season. The largest amount threshed so far is that for Mr. Stewart who had Joe McCallum's place in addition to his own under crop. He has over eleven thousand bushels chiefly oats.

Just before the last snowfall flocks were feeding by the thousands on the wheat-fields here. Many were killed and they made mighty good eating; being very fat.

The rural mail delivery which has been given some of us for years "free gratis for nothing" by the contractor is now to be run on a basis of "pay for what you get", so to speak. This is only fair and those who don't like it can ride a rayune to the office as of old.

We are awaiting the Strudard under the new contract patiently. It's not too bad as it is, but when the enlargement comes we hope to see it the size it was in the part of the province. Short outside insides are an abomination, but we expect something good with the Standard.

We are pleased to note a change for the better in your contemporary the Bulletin. It's editorials are at times very gentle, but there is a reasonable amount of sense in them. We like to read sensible articles on the "other side" as they are provocatious of thought, and certainly do good.

There are two editors high up in the profession who are "reverends." They are Sir Robertson Nicoll of the British weekly and J. A. Macdonald of the Toronto Globe. The former writes in such a way that you feel sure no matter what he says to the last dot. You may not agree with him, but you at least respect him. Not so with Macdonald. He is a partisan of partisans. He is clever in his way but we have no regard for him at all. We wouldn't go a mile to hear Macdonald, we would gladly walk twenty to listen to Robertson Nicoll.

We regret to report that our friends Mr. and Mrs. Watson have serious illness in their family. Maggie having the measles, and Lizzie pneumonia. Drs. Monkman and Reid of Vegreville have been in attendance. We are informed both are doing well.

Miss C. M. Stewart is attending business college in the city.—Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. J. R. Stoddart tended her entertainment of the William Jubilee Singers in Vegreville and were delighted with it.—Messrs J. S. McCallum and A. E. Milne of Mundare have joined the rod & club, so to speak. This makes four in the ambitious village.—The lake from over early in November.—Miss Jessie Steele is teaching near Kinsey.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Whiteaw have gone to B. C. to reside.

Presbyterian Concert Last Thursday

Much regret and disappointment was felt on account of the non-appearance of Mrs. Ed. McKenzie of Byley, whose engagement to take the leading part in the program, was of two months standing. Rev. A. M. McColl received a letter yesterday from that lady, an extract from which is given here. She says "I am so sorry about the concert, but of course I did not receive your letter till the day after, and I didn't receive the first one at all. Is it not strange, such a short distance, and the same thing happened with the concert at Holden. I never received their letter at all, I know you will forgive me under the circumstances."

No wonder Mr. McColl was indignant and disappointed.

To The Voters

Tofield, Nov. 25, 1912.

To the Voters:

Having been solicited by many of my friends, to enter the field as a candidate for councillor in the coming election, I beg leave to say that in my opinion the ticket this year should have the very best men possible, men that can spare the time and have the ability to attend to the many improvements for which you have already voted the necessary funds, and who will pay out the peoples money only to those honestly entitled to it and who will see that the town receives value for every dollar paid out.

Now let me say that I want no office whatever, and further more in judging the future by the past I see no reason for saying that if present conditions are to continue in the town government I would not have an office on any account. I do not like sectionalism and commercialism which to me is as loud as grab and shunned by any honest man. And also that I am getting along in years and the sun is low in the west for me. There are younger, energetic fellows among us who should come to the front and do their duty as citizens of this town, the town we all like so well, the town that we born lucky, lucky in location, lucky in its almost boundless resources and lucky in having such citizens as you are. We are all sure we have a splendid town and growing fast. Let us all turn to and make it still more rich and healthy by posting honest, energetic men in office, men that will run the town on strictly business principles, and back them up when they do it, and, if any should do otherwise, sit down on them so hard that there would be no kick coming.

As ever, your friend,
A. A. STORY

15,000 Men Wanted on Grand Trunk Pacific

Edmonton Alta., Nov. 20.—Collingwood Schreiber, supervising engineer for the dominion government, said in Edmonton today that 15,000 men would be required on construction work if the Grand Trunk Pacific railway is to be completed by 1914. Between 12,000 and 5,000 men are at work on the division between Edmonton and East British Columbia, he added, and there is little prospect this year of the number being materially increased. The war in the Balkan states, he said, has taken thousands of workmen out of the country, while on the western end of steel in British Columbia, the Industrial Workers of the World have tied up the work. Mr. Schreiber is strongly opposed to the admission of I. W. W. leaders into Canada.

The Nechaco River is Now Navigable

After two months steady work on the Nechaco River in British Columbia, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart, who are building the G. T. P. main line have made the river absolutely clear and safe for navigation from its mouth where it empties into the Fraser to Fraser Lake, a distance of more than 100 miles. Next Spring they will be in a position to load their fleet of transports at Tete Jaune Cache and run them straight down the Fraser and up the Nechaco, a clear waterway of 620 miles.

W. C. T. U.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held a very pleasant meeting at the parsonage on Thursday afternoon the 14 inst.

At this meeting the Union had the great pleasure of welcoming Rev. M. K. Wiggins as an honorary member. The Union has now the privilege of having two honorary members on their list, both of whom were present Tuesday. Rev. M. K. Wiggins and Rev. R. Whillans each gave a short address giving the ladies words of words of council and encouragement. At the close of the meeting as usual there was a short time for social chat and enjoyment of tea and cake provided by the hostess.

Next meeting to be held second Thursday in January at the residence of Mrs. Richardson.

Edmonton of G.T.P. To be Moved

Owing to the rapid growth of business in the city of Edmonton the freight offices of the Grand Trunk Pacific there have become inadequate necessitating the move which has just been accomplished to larger and more pretentious quarters. The old building will be leveled to the Grand Trunk Cartage and the various foremen for present.

Tofield Agricultural Society

Members of the Tofield Agricultural Society, are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the Society will be held in the Town Hall, Tofield, on Monday December 2nd, next and the officers for 1913 will be elected.

At this meeting the report for the current year will be presented and considered.

Defects in the prize list will come up for consideration.

You are particularly notified that a petition from the town of Tofield to take over the Exhibition grounds as an exhibition park reserving to the Society all the rights of use of the Grounds for Exhibition purposes and relieving the Society from further expenditure on capital account, will be brought up for your consideration. You are requested and expected to be present.

Royal Caledonian Curling Club

The Tofield branch of the above assembled at the semi annual meeting on Dec. 5th. A large number of old members being present. The chair was occupied by President A. J. H. McCauley. The balloting for officers for the season 1912 and '13, resulted as follows: President, Dr. McQueen; 1st Vice-President, C.E. Jamieson; 2nd Vice-President, J. Rogers; Secretary, Wm. Lee; Executive, Messrs A. J. H. McCauley, Wm. Herrick, C. Swift, Cress and Dr. Hammond.

The following were elected skips for the ensuing season. Wm. Lee, J. Lee, Dr. McQueen, J. R. McCauley, C. Swift, F. C. Leggo, C. E. Jamieson, and Dr. Hammond. It was decided to make the annual fee $10 as formerly and that this fee and arrears of fees, if any, must be paid before anyone may receive his membership card for this season. It was also agreed that under no pretext will any person be allowed to play at any time with out producing his membership card for inspection to the caretaker. The rinks will be arranged shortly at a meeting of the skips. As it will be necessary to immediately rend in a list of members of the 1912 and '13 club to the Alberta branch of the R.C.C.C., prospective members are expected to hand in their names at once to Wm Lee, sec. This will be found expedient for most her reason nagely that the membership has been curtailed to thirty-two whereas there were forty last year. The reason for this is lack of sufficient ice.

A Long Jump

Of all the natives of the Balkan States who have returned to their respective countries to take part in the present Turkish war, the long distance record must be easily conceded to a party of Montenegrins in the Cross who are covering the 4,500 miles that lie between Fairbanks, Alaska, and New York City to catch a homeward bound vessel. From Fairbanks the party proceeded to Seattle, which place they left for Chicago last night. From Chicago to New York they will travel over the Grand Trunk via the Suspension Bridge in a special car.

G.T.P. at Moose Jaw

A report just received from Regina states that steel-laying on the Grand Trunk Pacific from that city has now reached a point within half a mile of Moose Jaw and will be completed in a few days' time. Nine thousand yards of gravel must be moved before getting a service into the last named point and it is improbable that anything will be done to this and before spring. Ninety miles of the branch south from Regina have also been completed.

Letourneau Mayor For Another Term

New Blood on Council

The municipal elections last Monday resulted in the return all J. O. Letourneau by a majority of eighteen, as mayor. The councillors elected were J. D. Kennedy, Jas A. Story and R. F. Whitlam. Practically every resident voter polled his vote and a few outsiders who own property here and whose names appeared on the voter's list. Messrs Strong and Cress were elected school trustees by acclamation.

Wealthy Indians

The Indians of Fort George are feeling wealthy to the extent of $33,000.

The balance of the Grand Trunk Pacific reserve purchase money came through the Royal Bank last Monday, and Tuesday at 10, in the chief's house on the reserve, Indian Agent McAllen conducted the distribution. The first instalment of the purchase money, paid last winter, had much of the spectacular about it, for the first payment was made in money— one's two's and five-dollar bills—piled up high and counted on the chief's council table. The second was made by check, and not a few were the misgivings of the natives at this innovation. They looked upon the blue checks with considerable trepidation, fingering the perforation, turning them over as if to look for watermarks. After the relief band had set the pace, and touched the pen, the others followed, till it came the turn of one Williams, about 50 years old. When called up to the table he said "I don't want paper money; the other is good enough for me," returned to his place behind the store, and taking an enfeebled canvas door as his sign, he sat down. It taken some courage to receive a gratuitous $1000 cheque on the Royal, made by the Dominion Government. But the less said of why Williams would have none of it. He remained elaborate till the agent invited him to accompany him to the bank. This was the only incident of its kind, for all the others took their cheques with little ceremony. One young fellow, about 23, took his $205 dollar cheque and put it into his side coat pockets as though it was a discarded paper collar.

A full representation of Indians was not obtainable, owing to their absence down the river, up the river, some out hunting and others guests at the coal government house. In the case of absentees the money is placed to their credit in the bank.

Joe Qua appeared to do most of the talking. To calling out a name by the agent, and securing an response, it was usual to ask if anyone knew his whereabouts. In several instances Joe Qua responded then the man was in jail, and in the first case volunteered the advice "that the bigger the money the longer he'd be in jail." Six are under sentencement and they will have a nice Christmas present when released.

The proportion to each Indian, minor or adult, was $205. The heads of the families were given the family quota; and in no instance was the group beyond six.

Antoine Qua received $1230, while Joe Qua was given $820.

Following the distribution the Dominion beneficiaries invaded the Royal bank, drew most of their money, left a cross, their subscription, and bled themselves to the mart of the merchant to put their money into circulation.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Within 2 days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by All Dealers.

1913 Predictions Of Paris Seeress

Sees More Wars, Fires, New King, New Pope and "Great Turmoil"

Paris, Dec. 8.—It was Mme. de Thebes who last November predicted a war in the Balkans, an epidemic and other strange things. Many have come true. Raoul Aubry, of the Temps, has had a talk with the seeress in relation to her predictions for the coming year, to be soon published.

"In 1913," he says, Mme. de Thebes, referring to 1913, called it the Black Year. Now her visions help her to predict that 1913 will be what she terms the Aurora Year, or a year which will be a prelude to noble awakenings, leading to the highest ecstasies, but a year also of grave perils which only those of superhuman courage can go through successfully. For 1913 will be a year of blood and this Old World of ours will smoke, figuratively speaking, I suppose.

"Also the number 13 is often fatal. In this instance, 1913, also sees the birth of an extraordinary influence, woman bowling over the pretended. Even beyond the Pyrenees Paris has a special pregnancy moment. Events of the most tragic nature are predicted. The theatre and music will play an important part in civic life. There will be great tumults. Unprecedented theatrical spectacular will be witnessed. One man will give his entire fortune and colossal Paris thinking to astonish the world. There will be many fires. Aviators, aeronauts and sportsmen will suffer; in fact, Madame de Thebes sees Paris sublime and appalling. A foreign army will be on the frontier and the country in danger.

"Her picture of other countries is no better. She sees a new King in Italy and a new Pope. Certainly Germany will strike her ally, and she fears war.

"Finally she added with courage the people of all countries will pass through these ordeals and a glorious future is assure l."

Advice to Civic Authorities.

Civic authorities should confine local improvements to absolute necessities and with reasonable regard to future requirements. To proceed with municipal work merely to keep local labor in employment, must in time lead to financial inconvenience or disaster. The shouldering of burdens by comparatively small towns and cities, such as a municipal street railway ... ... is to be avoided. It is not fair to Canadian or municipal ... ... bondholders or to the ratepayers, to embark in such an enterprise simply to advertise the town. NORMAN DUNCAN
A Successful Canadian Writer.

One of the brilliant young writers of Canada who has won recognition by his splendid work, which [illegible] been still greater performances, is Norman Duncan, of whom the "London Spectator" when it usually chary of praise, said: "It is a pleasure to know that there is a writer in the world from whom we may hope for great things."

He was born in the City of Brantford, in 1871, and spent eight years at Mitchell, Ont., and from there went to the University of Toronto. He took almost the full course, but left before attaining a degree, as the scientific course did not seem congenial, and the further he went in literature the more he liked it.

His first work in journalism was at Auburn, N.Y., in 1893 and two years later he joined the staff of the New York Evening Post." In this literary atmosphere, which harmonized with his tastes and needs, he began to develop, and his first stories—tales of life in the Syrian quarter of New York—appeared serially, and were simple, natural, humorous, told with sympathy, parse lucidity and dramatic power, and had that rare quality of refinement and artistic finish that reveal the hand of the born writer. The material itself in print. When they appeared in book form as "The Soul of the Ghetto" they were instant favor with the discerning ones who appreciate individuality in literature.

Then he turned his attention to the fishermen of Newfoundland and spent a summer on the "French Shore," the northern section of the eastern coast of Britain's oldest colony. In this quaint, primitive locality where the primeval effect still turns blithely, where no discerning raindrop intrudes the solitude of nature or the seclusion of man, and where brave men fetch their babies in the [illegible] for a bath [illegible] [illegible] after day had departed [illegible] of [illegible]

Then came "Dr. [illegible]," another book in which the reader finds the charm, originality and power of his earlier efforts. "NO [illegible] raised abroad [illegible] let take the [illegible] for and our [illegible]"

What Does Christmas Mean?

TURKEY and plum pudding piled up stockings and presents evergreen trees and magic candles, children's shoutings, and songs and laughter handshakes and kisses parties and dinners, portholes covered, and lone hearts gladdened; generosity abundant and gentleness at work; kind words all around and good cheer everywhere; a myriad myriad songs and carols and ten thousand times thousand smiles. Yes! Yes! Yes! All this, of course, old Christmas means in this good Canada of ours. Merriment; generosity; home affection; these are the things that stand out as the salliant features of a Canadian Christmas.

But what, after all, does Christmas really mean?

It means, first of all, that the bisecting line of this old world's history was the birth of a little Baby Boy. We say that all before is just B. C., and every book and document, and proclamation with those little letters, A. D., at all time in its historic reckoning dates from the little child—because He was and is the First coming and the End, the Son of God and Lord of Life and the Lord of Glory.

But Outstanding Fact: the entrance King of Ages, the fulfilment of a thousand prophecy of a thousand histories.

Next, that gifts, and cards, and gladness and roll over this sad old world in ever-increasing volume all time shall be no longer. The excitement of joy greeted His birth was indescribable. But the keynote of the excitement of the first Christmas Day was joy and gladness. There was gladness in Heaven, and angels' songs. There was re-echoed gladness in the hearts of men. His Coming was the Glad Tidings, and the only key to happiness this sad old world has known and can know is the joy of Christ. There is no real joy in Christless lands. The people are happy who know the joyful sound. Christ brings happiness, and peace, and good will, and gentle peace wherever and whenever He comes. What meaneth this carolling and merriment and music of Christmas time, asks the amazed visitor from the Orient? It means that every heart is better and brighter and better because God's Son was born among us.

It means next, that all life may now be illuminated with the radiance of the divine. Motherhood has now new meaning; the sweetest, most precious most lovely of names, the name of mother is honored with a peculiar honor in all Christian lands. Childhood has now a new meaning. As the wise men and great men came to the Christ cradle with their gifts so the wisest and greatest of boyhood of thinkers and workers in Christ, are giving their best to the study and salvation to childhood. Lowliness and labor, poverty and obscurity have now new glory. Bethlehem the least, and the manger, the lowliest of places, are glorified, for it is not the size or the fame of the place but what happens in it that makes it glorious. When Christ enters a life, it is glorified, immortalized. When Christ is born in a heart, that heart is not only gladdened; it becomes a joyful singing heart. The shepherds, the manger the poor, the fathers, the weak and simple and ignoble, and helpless of the world these in Christ are the first subjects of Christ's kingdom.

It means last that God receives the glory due unto His name. Amidst the earthly let not the heavenly be buried. The highest note of all Christmas merriment is Glory to God in the highest. Let not that be forgotten. To often on Xmas men take all the happiness the gift of God has brought them, and forget all about the Giver and Gift.

Multiply your gifts, hold out glad hands of forgiveness and peace; pump up your gladness to the top, and shout with merrier laughter; gather home the home of want and cheer the sad and [illegible] remembering to those afar, and garland the seasons of misfortune and frolly, but oh, above all, let the Christ be into your home, into your heart, into your life, first of all and things it seems to me, the saddest of all must say to [illegible] A Xmas without Christ.

O come, let us adore Him
O come, let us adore Him
O come, let us adore Him
Christ, the Lord

Seed Grain and Potatoes

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (5lb) white oats (4lb), barley (5lb) and field peas (3lb). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes (in 3lb samples) will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the province of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms and some account of their experience with such kinds of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their conditions will be sent.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited farmers are advised to apply early, but able applications will not be necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received. Preference will always be given to the most thoughtful and explicit requests. Applications received after the end of January will probable be too late

All applications for grain, (and applications from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec for potatoes) should be addressed to the Dominion Cerealist Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Such applications require no postage. If otherwise addressed delay and disappointment may occur.

Applications for potatoes from growers in any other province should be addressed (postage prepaid) to the Superintendent of the nearest Branch Experimental Farm in that Province.

Newspaper Laws

1—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office and state the reason for not doing so. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers.

2 If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages or the publishers may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no discontinuance until payment is made.

3 Any person who takes a paper out of the post office whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for the pay

4 If a subscriber orders his paper stopped and the publishers continue to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the postoffice. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5—The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office or removing or leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud

Presentation to Mr. J. A. Younie

By Staff and Pupils upon the Eve of His Retirement from the Principalship of Tofield School

An event which will long be remembered in the history of Tofield Public School by the pupils of all grades took place last Friday afternoon, the day upon which school closed for the last term of 1912. The day marked the close of Mr. J. A. Younie's connection with the school as principal. Entirely and blissfully ignorant of the enthusiastically carried out plans of the teachers and pupils of all grades, the principal opened the last session of school and, with his usual care for effective work, during school hours, planned the work for the pupils for the afternoon, when by pre-arrangement his room became crowded with all the young people at a moment when he was called away temporarily and on his return, he found himself no longer master of the situation. Miss Lavella Latimer had the floor and proceeded to read an address on behalf of the staff and pupils in which general and heartfelt regret was expressed at the thought of the severance of his connection with the school. The address was accompanied with a presentation of a beautiful leather upholstered arm chair as a token of respect and esteem. Mr. Younie who has been principal of Tofield Public Schools for four years and who has won the warmest of regard from all the pupils, old and young, was scarcely able to reply, as sudden and so spontaneous was the expression of feeling from his big flock. In feeble but suitable terms he expressed himself as appreciating very much the manner in which his services had been appreciated and manifested. The address presented to him was as follows:—

JAMES YOUNIE, Esq., B. A.
TOFIELD, ALTA.

Dear Principal:—

We, the teachers and pupils of the Tofield Public School desire to take this opportunity of addressing you, to express our feeling of deep affection and regret, on the eve of parting with you, whom we have all learned to honor and to love.

We all felt a sense of pain and loss when it was announced that you had resigned your position as principal of our school.

For the last four years you have directed the work of our school so ably, impartially, and kindly, that both teachers and pupils will long and gratefully remember you as one who was always painstaking and earnest, faithful and sincere, genial and loveable.

As a small token of our esteem and regard for you and your work, and as a humble reminder of those years in the green pastures of Tofield, we would ask you to accept of this gift at our hands, given with all our hearts.

That you will wear it out in many happy hours of comfort and ease is the sincere wish of all your scholars and staff. It will be a joy to us, if while you use it, you will sometimes think of us, for we will ever remember you.

Geo. W. Davis who is connected with the Brooks Marble Works, Winnipeg, who have a large contract on the Legislature Buildings at Edmonton spent Christmas with his family on 4th Ave. W.

The St. Andrew's Sunday School held their annual Christmas Entertainment in the church on Monday evening. A splendid programme was given by the young people before a crowded house. The excellent manner in which it was rendered reflects credit upon Mrs. P. Lee who trained the young people.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by All Dealers.

A delightful luncheon was served by the ladies during the evening in the rooms adjoining.

1913 Will be Great Year In Tofield's History

Municipal and Industrial Development will Proceed Apace. Preparations being made for Early Activity. Tofield Foundry and Tofield Clay Products Company will be at Work Soon. Waterworks for Fire Protection Plant Almost Ready. Development in Natural Gas Situation. New Buildings going up with great Rapidity.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S passed off quietly in Tofield. The great event in Tofield's history in 1912 was the big natural gas strike in June last. Misfortune met with in this gas well by poor management in putting the well down without shutting off the water flows effectively as drilling progressed. Latterly steps have been taken which have resulted in considerable pressure of the gas being recovered and New Year's Eve was memorable in that this gas was utilized to furnish illumination for ushering the Old Year out and the New Year in. Experts are confident that this well will yet be utilized to furnish a considerable quantity of gas for municipal purposes. The contract for another gas well in block 25 G.T.P., will be let in a few days and it is expected that an abundant supply will have been attained within the next two months

The machinery for the Tofield Foundry and Machinery Company is expected to arrive during this month when it will be immediately installed and the company will shortly get off to a good start on a large year's business the orders for which have been piling up for some time past.

The Tofield Clay Products Company who have secured a location site on Industrial Sites expect to have their plant fully installed before April 1st and when frost is sufficiently to permit expeditious excavating will be hard at it making a top notch brick for which Tofield is going to become famous.

The first unit of Tofield's waterworks system, being that of the fire-fighting equipment, will be installed within a few days. The massive pumping plant has been put in place and the finishing touches only are required to set the wheels in motion to put the plant in ready condition for combatting an outbreak of fire.

1913 will be an important year in Tofield's history. Municipal buildings will have to be erected in connection with the proper handling of our public utilities and mains will be laid. A problem confronting the School Board is the erection of additional school accomodation. Whether this will take the form of an additition to the present school building or that of a new building has not yet been decided.

How Gas Mains Should be Laid

Correspondent in U. S. Writes The Calgary Herald in Regard to Their Numerous Gas Explosions

A correspondent in the States writes the Calgary Herald as follows:

"I noticed when in Calgary in September that the Gas company was laying gas lines. I think if you would have the company screw the main pipes together instead of clamping them you would eliminate the explosions. We in the States have them put together that way."

Tofield should see to it that what has occured in Calgary does not occur here.

A Successful Xmas Tree

The Methodist Sunday School banquet and entertainment given on the church last Friday night was an unqualified success. The banquet tables so properly arranged arranged left little to be desired either to the eye of the artist or the epicurean.

Parents, children and numerous friends did ample justice to the good things provided but the supply was quite equal to and beyond the demand.

The children's part of the programme all well sustained praise and admiration. Every selection rendered indicated careful and judicious training.

Rev. A. Barton delighted and edified all with his address "A trip to England." At this junction Santa appeared and after his visit all returned home happy and satisfied for Santa remembered all.

Wedding Bells

A quiet but interesting wedding took place Monday afternoon, Dec. 30 at the residence of the officiating clergyman Rev. R. Whillans, Tofield Mr. Albert McCallum and Miss Kate McCallum of Beaver Lake East were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. The bride was assisted by Miss Laughlin of Beaver Lake while the groom was supported by Thompson McCallum, brother of the bride. The latter was becomingly attired in a costume of white lace with bridal veil and a wreath of orange blossoms and the bridesmaid in white costume with white sequin trimmings.

After the wedding the young couple took the 7.30 train for Camrose enroute to the Pacific coast where the honeymoon will be spent visiting the coast cities. They will live on the groom's farm at Beaver Lake East.

The party came over from Beaver Lake East by motor car, of which Jack McAllister was the unselling and obliging chauffeur. Accompanying the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. Thos Daby and infant son and an interesting ceremony which took place immediately following the tying of the nuptial knot was that of the baptism of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Daby. The young fellow who promises to be a strong and healthy man like his dad now proudly bears the name of George Alexander. May he be a great man in his day.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1913.

ANOTHER YEAR has opened. In entering upon it Tofield will have much to expect and much to gain if but a portion of our expectations are realized. During the year just closed, as a municipality we have profited in and by a development which has caused Tofield to become widely known for its enterprise and as a field for active industrial endeavor. It was in the last week of June when we aroused every centre of population in the west by the discovery of natural gas as one of our very valuable resources. The effort successful though it was, in demonstrating that we are so fortunately situated as regarding this favorable asset and the following up the advantage, as far as it has been developed, has cost the little municipality much more than the conservative estimates made by council in the early part of the year.

Fortunately we are yet well within our credit even though the 1912 assessment was out and on its low basis of values before the memorable gas strike was made. Further developments may be expected early this year, with respect to more gas wells put down with due regard to the lessons learned in putting down the first ones.

The demonstration to the world at large that we are fortunately situated upon the gas belt has resulted in the creation of an Industrial League and the entering into of an active campaign to bring in industries. The year 1912 has been memorable in that industrial capital in the east has awakened to the fact that the manufacturers of the east must of necessity establish branches throughout the west in order to retain the western market to the Canadian manufacturer. Tofield by virtue of the fact that it possesses exceptional advantages occupies a leading place in the list of centres worthy of consideration.

This means much to our future. That we can become a prominent industrial and commercial point is assured if we hold together strongly, unite our forces, morally and financially, present a bold front in meeting problems to be mastered, consolidate our efforts to the interests of the most important common interest and as the result of our endeavor PRODUCE THE GLOBULES which will make Tofield the point of chief attraction to western coming industrial capital.

OOOOO

Looking Backward.

WITH THE PASSING of the twelfth year of the twentieth century one instinctively pauses to cast a farewell glance backwards and to briefly review the events of a twelvemonth fraught with unusual interest; and a twelvemonth which will be remembered and noted in chronology and history, at least on account of the Balkan war. That historic struggle was the major and most interesting feature of the year and it is to be regretted that a peaceful issue has not yet been attained. With this there are many other events, important in comparison, which attract our retrospect. Amongst these are:—

The visit of their Majesties to India, the ceremonial of coronation and the rendering of the homage of their vassal chiefs and princes.

The death of the Duke of Fife, His Majesty's brother-in-law.

The Coronation Gift of the Georges to the Empire presented to His Majesty.

The discovery of the South Pole by Capt. Amundsen of Christiana.

The appalling catastrophe of April 14-15 of the foundering of the White Star liner Titanic with the loss of 1,563 lives. Co-incident with this was the memorable feat of the saving of 703 lives of the crew and passengers by the Carpathia, made possible by the use of wireless. Conspicuous amongst the victims were C.M. Hays, president of the G.T.R. and G.T.P., and W.T. Stead the eminent journalist.

The progress made in aerial flight. Women fly across the English Channel.

The active endeavor on the part of extremists to sow the seeds of sedition, discord and ultimate strife between the British and German peoples. Trials and convictions of persons on both sides of the German sea in which the persons found convicted of espionage were sentenced to penal servitude.

The more or less ridiculous actions of the militant suffragists in England. Their desperate and successful attempts at destruction of property, their convictions and their "hunger strike."

The end and assassination of Premier Canalejas of Spain. The unsuccessful attempt of the Loyalists in Portugal to overcome the republican government by rebellion.

The attempt a few days ago to assassinate Lord Hardinge, viceroy of India.

The death on Dec. 23 in England of Whitelaw Reid, United States ambassador to Great Britain after a life of great usefulness.

On the American continent the memorable defeat of the Republican Party and the secession of the Democrats to power. The defeat of Taft and Roosevelt, leaders of the Republican and Progressive parties.

The introduction in the Canadian House of Commons by Hon. Mr. Borden of his Naval Bill.

Great railway expansion throughout the Canadian West. The completion of the Winnipeg Cordovan section of the National Transcontinental Railway.

The revelation of desperate conditions in New York police circles, the trials and convictions of guilty parties in connection therewith.

The trial and conviction of a large number of Union Labor officials in the U.S. in connection with the no-union dynamiting cases which has whitened the locks of the American statesman.

The war in the Balkan peninsula. The victorious advance after repeated engagements between the allies and the Turks, the driving of the Turks back to the lines before Constantinople and the subsequent peace conference at London which has as yet proved unsuccessful in arriving at mutually satisfactory terms of settlement.

Seed Grain and Potatoes

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (5lb.) white oats (4lb.) barley (5lb) and field peas (5lb) These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes (in 2lb samples) will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the province of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms and some account of their experience with such kinds of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their conditions will be sent.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited farmers are advised to apply early; but the applications will not be necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received. Preference will always be given to the most thoughtful and explicit requests. Applications received after the end of January will probably be too late

All applications for grain. (and applications from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec for potatoes) should be addressed to the Dominion Cerelist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Such applications require no postage. If otherwise addressed delay and disappointment may occur.

Applications for potatoes from farmers in any other province should be addressed (postage prepaid) to the Superintendent of the nearest Branch Experimental Farm in that Province.

Newspaper Laws

1—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office and state the reason for not doing so Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers.

2—If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages or the publishers may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no discontinuance until payment is made.

3—Any person who takes a paper out of the post-office whether directed to his name or not is responsible for the pay.

4—If a subscriber orders his paper stopped and the publisher continue to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the postoffice. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5—The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office or removing or leaving them unsalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Possibilities for Industrial Expansion in Western Canada

A special article in the annual financial number of the Globe, treats on the possibility of manufacturing in the West, showing that the Dominion census for 1911 will likely reveal a considerable development along industrial lines throughout the prairie provinces, particularly in Manitoba.

Industries in the West

The writer in the Globe said: "At least seven hundred separate industrial establishments will be shown to be under operation in the three prairie provinces, and nearly two-thirds of these seven hundred factories are, though it will be seen, now located in Manitoba. Winnipeg alone, has approximately two hundred and fifty successful operating plants. Saskatchewan, however, will justly have a hundred industries of importance, while Alberta will still contain the names of nearly one hundred and seventy-five manufacturing establishments.

"This means that manufacturing at any rate is gaining slowly in the West, and that the growth of the cities, which is so much in evidence, is not the consequence of centres for the mere distribution of goods from the east.

Abundance of Water Power

Continuing, the writer said: "Practically all are in the possession for war by the agricultural life of the West. The manufacturing possibilities of the Prairie Provinces are by no means limited. Manitoba though not possessing any considerable amount of developed water power, and, so far, there has been only 15,000 horse power turned to account, Saskatchewan is still richer in natural water power than Manitoba, having started up to her eleven hundred horse power, none of which has been developed, but a portion of which is now under way for the City of Saskatoon. Alberta is richest of all in water powers, as well as in fuels, having at her disposal 1,141,000 horse power, of which 15,000 is now developed and three supplied to any commercial need.

Rich in Raw Materials

In addition to the abundance of water power, all three provinces have now developed mineral grades. Alberta, for instance, has the greatest wealth of this sort, and the Edmonton district alone has coal measures in each particular, such as gypsum, iron, coal, and lumber in abundance; clay, lumber, and fine clays in Saskatchewan, and petroleum in Alberta. Manufacturing in it seeks now in the West is no longer so much on the raw material as based as on those materials taking them to be shipped to, or to other works, on transportation.

"Given these natural obstacles, however, to a natural and healthy industrial development in the West, the amazing switch is the inadequate freight rates now imposed and still applying on other elements are big factors in the manufacturing problem, and the obstructive legislation against the so-called 'combines' and corporations."

High Cost of Living

Dealing with the question of living conditions in the West, the Globe's contributor says: "A third great disadvantage which the manufacturer in the West will be subject to will be found in any great volume towards manufacturing in the West, is the high costs food supply. Expensive food is really at the bottom of the high return overall against the cost of living, which has of late pressed so severely on all sections against the country's social system. It seems strange that in certain country like Western Canada does not supply food sufficient to supply its own needs—that is if food is to have a greater variety than the one staple product, wheat. The question of the cost of living here in the West is that such articles as potatoes, milk and eggs should be so high in price. Here is a question of great possibility and probably, are already and strongly engaged in the minds of the people that a high standard is set, which has been reached in Western Canada and the increased cost of things that are necessary for every department of our economic life. Why should not the West, which is receiving the greatest number of settlers from the old land, in days produce the bulk of Canada's provisions? It is the section of the country, not the Industrial East, that is to be considered the consumer of food, and because it is not doing this the standard of living is high. Even in the West and being not yet fully developed, the cost of living is high, and the standard of wages is consequently high. In Western Canada, where wages will hardly suffice to buy meat and bread."

A WORD OF ADVICE

"At the present time Winnipeg is importing $14,000 worth of cream per week. The prairie farmer finds it easier to keep cows than crops of which the entire work can be done with a few months of summer. There is no need of argument, however, to show how desirable it is that all the daily products required in Western Canada should be produced in it, and that the farmers of His West ought to devote themselves more largely to dairying operations. In Ontario when the farmers were in the habit of raising and shipping it one of the country they found that the soil was losing its fertility and that dairying, owing to the production of cheese, they have found a profitable occupation."—Ex. Hon. Wm. White.

George Hanson, a resident since 1882 at Penarth at the age of 83 yrs. He retired from active work at the age of eighty five. He attributed his longevity to plenty of hard work and a good conscience. He was a native of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and in which he took his holidays.

Mildred:—"Congratulate me, dear Jack proposed to me the night before last, and I refused him."

Ethel:—"Congratulate me, dear Jack proposed to me the night before last, and I refused him."

READY TO EXPLAIN

"As the poet says," remarked Constable Corkhill, "what is a kiss among friends?"

"Well," said Mr. Dustin, "all we say that Gi don't strike on' it above par."

CHUMS NOT CHUMPS.

Then an absent-minded man, "In the report of the marriage of Miss Mary Smith to Mr. Charles Johnson we intended to say that the bride and bridegroom were chums from childhood. Our compositor made it read chumps from childhood."

However, it was not altogether a mistake, as Mr. Johnson's many friends will concur could easily be mistaken for a chump.

WHY HE SUIT.

Hal: "Have you stopped calling on the girl with the silk blouse?"

Yon: "Yes it'll all over in that direction."

"Why?"

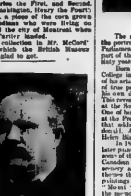
"Father object?"

"Hoes you, no! And I had nerve enough to dodge all but, there about popping the question also; but the last time I called she had the sign 'Do it now' stuck on the centre table. That floored me, and I've quit."

GLASS AND LASS.

Gladys: "Men are each connected head! Why, me may see them any time gazing at a looking-glass."

Tom (scornfully): "Yes; but it's always a good-looking lass."



HOT AFRAID OF WATER.

Mr. Duck—I must learn to swim but any ducks into the ark?

Mr. Dog—Don't run the risk!

THE 1911 MODEL.

"You have a fine lot of children Mrs. Gold and Rankine, as after a spin through the country they returned to the house for tea. "Are they many alike?"

"Heven," said Stella proudly.

"I've often wondered," said Mary Ann, "how you people with so many children have any invent-ce."

"Oh, no," returned Stella, bowing back, "that is to say, not intended; but of course we are more interested, in a 1911 model than in the earlier ones."

A CABBAGE HEAD.

A young man in the country wrote to his city cousin: "Do grown a cabbage head in your city flat?" cousin replied: "What is your letter?" wrote back the city cousin.

FOOLING THE BABY.

"My baby cries all night. I don't know what to do with it."

"I'll tell you what I did. As soon as our baby commenced to cry I used to turn on all the gas. Then I'd go like. He thought it was bread day and kept on quiet enough."

NO GENTLEMAN.

Mrs. Jones—"I understand that Mrs. Jobson that your doctor is no gentleman."

Mrs. Parkover "Yes, that's true, Oh, no! Tell me about it. What did he—"

"He's a lady doctor."

CALM, BUT COLLECTED.

Reporter: "Was Jones calm and collected when the boiler explosion occurred?"

Engineer: "Well, he was calm, all right; but they never did get him quite collected."

DRAIN THE ZUYDER ZEE

The Great Prospect is Again Before the People of Holland.

A great project is again before the eyes of Holland — the draining of the Zuyder Zee. The sea, which is at the north of Holland covers an area of 1,600 hectares, or "Hectare" the people Dutch italian wealthy, states—a hectare being equivalent to two acres and a half. Just half a century ago, a scheme to drain the northern portion of the sea was first mooted, and although it received universal support, the opposition was greater; but now an estimation has been formed and a fifth new contemporary states, will be in progress before the December. The promoters say that with an increased population means must be taken to reclaim the country, and this reclaimed from the sea. Preliminary surveys have already been made, the sea is measured, there are several towns which would be affected, but these could easily be moved to higher ground.

POPULATION OF PENITENTIARIES.

The average daily population of the Canadian penitentiaries for the past year, have been as follows: 1907, 1,635; 1908, 1,612; 1909, 1,625; 1910, 1,683; 1911, 1,682. Fifteen prisoners received a life sentence, 12 were pardoned and 16 died, during the year. Full particulars of the operations of the penitentiaries and individuals engaged in the government of same, with the following data, regarding the principal convicts from which the convicts have been received, is submitted by Inspector Biggar of the Dominion: Montreal, 329; Vancouver, 126; Winnipeg 122; Toronto, 107; Hamilton, 67; Fredericton, 47; Quebec, 41; Halifax, 33; Calgary, 27; Regina, 26; St. John, 25; Victoria, 23; Edmonton, 12; Ottawa, 11; Hull, 11; Westminster, 11

WOMEN FOR GERMAN ARMY

German women are discussing a project launched at Düsseldorf for the establishment of females conscription. The proposal is that women should be trained to do military service the same as men, particularly so as to make it possible for ladies to be conquisonist, transport and military hospital service of the army, both in peace and war. Such supervision would be obtained from well-known feminist leaders indicate only moderate enthusiasm for the scheme.

Bridge of Sighs

A plan has been agreed upon for erecting in a uniform behalf the park east of Dean Bridge, Edinburgh, as a memorial to Scotland's eminent suicide by throwing themselves into the valley below. Many models were made with the view of fixing upon one which would be unobtrusive, which would excite no suicidal suggestion in the minds of persons suffering from incipient mental disease, and which would prevent the view of the scenery in the ordinary pass ager. One morning a factory hand in Edinburgh, while proceeding along Miller Row, which crosses the bridge, saw the body of a man fall from above to the bed.

Just tatkey Something

The lady of the house had a maid who was suffering from rheumatism was only "taking something for it."

EVIDENCE FOR A HORSE

Mr. Arthur Dickerson's Flint Rock bay mare at the Dominion Handicap at Port Erie last summer, will be sent to Pretoria to lend his bearing and whitehaunt to Normandy Pi at Rick A son of the Two Thousand Derby and St. Leger winner Rock Sand. Fisher bore Mr. Belmont gold $ 25,000, and English breeders were very anxious for his return to that country to take the place of Isinglass.

The artist who was commissioned by [illegible] Government to paint the portraits of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Dominion Premier of Australia, and who was honored with sittings by Their Majesties in the early part of the present year, is John Colin Forbes who has a long list of successes in his native province.

Born in Toronto of Scotch-English parents, he was educated at Upper Canada College in his native city, and as early age showed the first faint dawnings of his artistic genius. He was entirely self-taught, following with the pure instinct of true power along the line of natural correspondence, and silently working out his own destiny until he produced his first real work at a result of his labor. Bardo

A largely attended Harvest service was held in Bardo church on Xmas day at which Rev. Reverend Andersen preached. The term applied to the gentleman by by means one of disrespect but one of general endearment as Mr. Anderson is a man his kind heartedness and is still wonderfully hale and hearty.

On the 26th Dec a second Xmas service was held in the church at which Rev. Mr Jeffers, pastor presided. As is the custom almost at the Lutherans at this time, second Christmas service, a special collection was taken up and presented to the minister. This on this occasion amounted to $28.

On Friday night, after Christmas the usual Xmas tree and entertainment was held. At this function all the children took prominent parts and in the staging were specially entertaining. We have some splendid singers among the young folk at Bardo

The annual meeting of Bardo church was held last Monday.

J. B. Anderson left last Monday morning on an extended trip to the U.S. He will be away for a period of about two months

Martin Pinsch is slowly recovering from his recent severe attack of pneumonia.

On January 17th a general conference of Lutherans, mission workers, will be held at Bardo. It is expected that the sessions will extend over two or three days.

Rev. Mr. Fortune, of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform held a meeting in this district a short time ago which was largely attended and which was of more than general interest. A collection of $30 was taken up for the Society

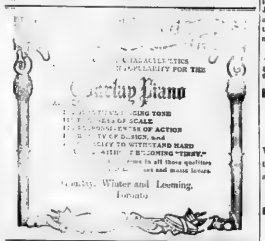
Mrs. Hans Jensen is in Wetaskiwin at the hospital having gone there to undergo a operation for appendicitis.

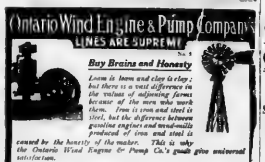
Mrs. Viken has returned from Wetaskiwin where she underwent an operation for appendicitis a short time ago.

The Christmas season was generally observed throughout the community, by a very enjoyable visitation amongst friends and neighbors.

Lars Johnson and the two Hanson boys are up in the Peace River country looking up prospects for a new settlement.

The farmers of this section are delighted with the springlike winter season which we have enjoyed up to the present. The roads were never better at any time of the year and the mild weather has been a great saving on the stores of winter feed which have been laid up for winter feed long.





Widow Wants Husband

Although Leap Year is past there is still hope for some of the several eligible bachelors throughout the Tofield district.

There will doubtless be gladness at the news that their case has the sympathy of a woman in the town of Hamilton, in the state of Ohio who has actually gone to the trouble of of writing to the Central Alberta Development League, Edmonton, to ask if they know of a deserving man to whom her hand and heart would be useful. The lady is a widow and her letter to the league is as follows:

I would like to buy some land in Central Alberta if you would find me a rich gentleman friend out there, for I am a widow and undersome farming or any other business, so if you can do as I wish kindly answer, for I have some property and I may sell out and come to Alberta."

When you want a reliable medicine for a cough or cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by All Dealers.

It cannot be said that very many people aside from the real operators enjoyed the cold snap which struck the country early this week The thermometer has hovered around the 50 degree below mark for a couple of days. There has been an added zest in patent-taxicam as a result and the sprightly girls in the stunt to perform these days. The more we get of it, the more we will like it.

Mrs. A. R. Talve, of Calder, Man. had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. The C.P.R. station at Ryley was destroyed by fire a week ago, and with its contents was a total loss. The fire originated from a gasoline barrel full of gasoline which had been unloaded on to the platform and, it is said, being on its side, was blown onto the trunk by the heavy wind. The locomotive of a passing freight struck the barrel and a blaze resulted which destroyed the building.

Council Hold First Meeting

Commissioners Struck for the Year

The new Council held their first regular meeting last Monday evening all being present with the exception of J. D. Kennedy who had been returned from his eastern trip.

Not much business was transacted at this meeting, the main business being the striking of commissioners for the year. A special committee of the Mayor and Councillors Younie and Lee were appointed to make out like draft and their report which was accepted and adopted was as follows:—

FINANCE
Younie,
Whitlam.

Lee.

PUBLIC WORKS
Story,
Lee,
Logan.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT

Kennedy,
Younie.

HEALTH AND RELIEF,

LICENSE AND POLICE

INDUSTRIAL AND CIVIC ADVANCEMENT.

Whitlam.

The Rowe claim re the ditch was referred to the Solicitor.

It was passed that all accounts must be strictly C. O. D'd by person authorized to contract the debt for which any statement is submitted, before being presented to the council.

Council agreed on various motions to allow the Council of Cornhill rural municipality the use of the council chamber for their meetings the Tofield Ladies' Orchestra the use of the hand drum. The Public relief and secretary were instructed to check off all goods immediately upon arrival. The fire, water and light committee were instructed to see after the moving of the boiler to the pumping plant, the engagement of an engineer and the erection of boiler and pump house. The co-operation requested by the Industrial League between the Council and that body was placed in the hands of Councillors Whitlam, Lee and Story to get information re same from the League and report. The regular meetings of council was unanimously agreed to take place on alternate Monday evening beginning with the first Monday in January.

T.J. Glenn 1st Reeve of Cornhill Rural Municipality.

R. J. Sinnett, Deputy Reeve. Prepare for First Year's Work in Providing Good Roads.

Cornhill Rural Municipality Council held its first and organization meeting last Monday afternoon all the members being present and Returning Officer Wm. Thomson acting as sec.-treas. After being sworn into office the councillors proceeded to elect a reeve and deputy reeve. T. J. Glenn was elected reeve for the year and R. J. Sinnett, deputy reeve for the first half of the year.

Upon taking his chair of office Reeve Glenn addressed the council thanking them for putting him in the position and said that he just wished to say that there was one thing that he desired and hoped would animate all the discussions and actions of the council, that was a spirit of cooperation, with such a strict all opinion could be agreeably settled agreeably and with despatch.

Several applications for the position of secretary-treasurer and assessor and for either position were considered and Wm. Thomson was appointed sec.-treas. at a salary of $250 a year and Angus Campbell assessor at $300 per year.

The bond to be furnished the sec.-treas. was set at $2500.

E. W. Knight appeared before council stating that he had been docked several hours time off his road work. Reeve Glenn stated that council would take this matter up.

Reeve Glenn remarked that "Council should figure out the main roads and lay out as much as you can upon them at the same time it is a man has a bad road on which to get out on to fix it up, no he can get out, this is estimating the expenditures of the year."

Hockey

Tofield played Camsos hockey team Tuesday afternoon on local ice in a side game the score being 12 to 1. The visitors were utterly outclassed but they played well up and with a creditable amount of clash. They have the makings of a good hockey team and will doubtless be heard from later.

This is Tofield's second win this and their third game. The second was a draw 3-3 played at Strathcona with the Maple Leafs in a slow game on New Year's Day.

Tofield plays the Acme-Bellshill Edmonton, aspirants in Tofield at 2.30 p.m. sharp on Saturday the 11th inst. The Acme-Bellshill team played the Deacons to a draw a short time ago and doubtless will give the Silver Seven a keen run for their money. The match should draw the biggest crowd of the season.

Newspaper Laws

1—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office and state the reason for not doing so. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers.

2 - If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages or the publishers may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no discontinuance until payment is made.

3 Any person who takes a paper out of the post-office whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for the pay

4 - If a person orders his paper stopped and the publisher continue to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes out of the post-office. This proves upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5—The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or getting officials from the post office or removing or leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Nineteen thirteen. Whoops this thirteen will prove as many others have done, that the superstition connected with the number is that and nothing more.

The hunters who went north some time since to try for a moose had the proverbial luck, but we put it to them as using losing by the luck route is couldn't stater in the Ryley Times There is a story current in Minburn that another hunter who bought home a fine bull moose and a blood curdling story of adventure, really shot the animal with his pocket knife.

We offer our congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCallum who are now away on their honeymoon to the coast. The ex-s extends to Mr. H Williams at Tofield, after a 21 cent spin in McAllister car.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1913.

Our 1912-1913 Winter.

WITH the slight snow fall last Tuesday night and the ... days on the succeeding day it might well be said ... we've only begun. The weather of that part of the season up to the present has been such as to please the most exacting. It has been ideal fall weather right up to the 8th of January. There have been no low temperatures such as have characterized weather conditions in the eastern provinces including Saskatchewan and Manitoba and the northern middle states. In fact, up to a few days ago no snow had fallen ... in Alberta. In all parts of the province stock and horses have pastured the range or enclosed pasture at will, the only inconvenience in many places being the absence of snow to provide a moisture supply. Cattlemen in the south of the province have lamented the lack of snow on this account. In Central Alberta the settlers have gone in more for mixed farming and feeding stock during the winter months and consequently they supply water for their stock from wells or running streams so that the lack of snow has not embarrassed them in any way but on the contrary has been a benefit in that the drained open winter stored fodder has not been as great as it otherwise would have been.

Government will Assist Grain Growers.

THE FARMERS of this province will be highly elated to learn that the provincial government is contemplating guaranteeing of the bonds of the Grain Grower's Grain Company to the extent of one million dollars for the purpose of providing a more perfect system for the handling of the grain in this province.

The company in return will build sixty elevators in the province during the year and will be in condition to handle a large proportion of the crop this year.

The above is the tenor of an Edmonton despatch published this week in the Albertan. For years the Alberta government has been pressed by the farmers of the province through the U. F. A. to enact legislation which has for its object the solution of the problem of dealing with the products of the farm so as to secure for the producer a larger return for his labor. It would seem from the nature of this announcement that success is attending the efforts of this organization on the farmers behalf. The Alberta Grain Growers have from the beginning been co-operating closely with the Grain Growers' Grain Company and many of them are shareholders in the company. It is to be earnestly hoped that the government's final decision in this matter will be determined at an early date.

o o o o o o

The Edmonton Journal characterizes the announcement of the above as a million dollar bribe from Premier Sifton to the farmer voters and says:

"Now that a provincial general election seems more imminent, the Sifton administration is hysterically endeavoring to get itself right with the farmers and voters at large in Alberta."

How foolish this extreme partizanism does seem to the independent elector. The party in power, no matter which it may be, is too often subjected to extremes of criticism from the opposition. This at Ottawa the Borden government is characterized as disloyal to the principles of true citizenship in its naval policy and the Sifton administration as bribers because it has seen a way at last to meet the farmers' demands in a sensible and half-way spirit.

o o o o o o

How Britain is Leading.

GREAT BRITAIN is maintaining her army and navy in a state of greater efficiency than ever before in her history she is building more warships than Germany, and paying for them out of current revenue while Germany is loading herself with debt to build ships out of borrowed money. Great Britain has done this for seven years, and at the same time has wiped $275,000,000 from her national debt. During the same seven years Germany has added $400,000,000 to her national debt. Great Britain has held her naval lead and at the same time has ended each year with her accounts for the year over $100,000,000 better off than Germany.

War to-day is won almost as much by money as by armaments. Japan realize I this when she had to accept surprising peace settlement after her victories from Russia, simply because her finances were strained almost to breaking point.

o o o o o

Thirty-one Days of December Sunshine.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS of fine weather and with the thermometer ... from zero only once during the whole of that time, the month of December was a grand refutation of the ideas of many that Alberta is a bleak, cold country, and that it is necessary to be to southern climes to spend the last month of the year in comfort.

CRAVATH WINS

A SERIES OF TEN STORIES BY JOHN T. McINTYRE

COPYRIGHT 1912 BY THE NORTH AMERICAN CO.

I.—The Adventure of the Pelican Club

THE first time I ever saw Cravath was at Harper's—you know the kind of place—full of palms, Turquoise Indians, spurious negro and Mexican waiters. And, as usual, we were overplayed. It was the autumn season, and the whole beach, for blocked roads and ladies' hair, at least that's what they called themselves, but I've heard them called other things, with quite a bit of emphasis.

When Cravath came in, his shoulders filled the doorway; a good looking chap, too, with a clear, humorous eye, and a skin as healthy as a baby's. The place was pretty well filled, and as I was alone at my table, he selected a chair and sat down.

"Some day," he said, "I might travel the streets up and down like you, but I might travel them and never get on record as a night of Arabian Nights."

The saying had a strange sound and I examined him carefully. But he seemed entirely rational, so I answered:

"It may be that your vision is defective."

He seemed pleased at this.

"I note," said he, "that you have the gift of repartee, which is a thing esteemed only in the east. Will you take a drink of something with me?"

"I will," said I, "if you'll tell me what it is."

"It will help me also, as a matter of fact," he replied the waiter, and after we had spoken our hearts to him, Cravath gave his attention to me once more.

"Something," said he, "is out of tune with you."

"You are not without perception," I replied. "I came here initially hating the room, and with the intention of marrying my capacity against Halsey's vicious egotistous mood."

He nodded me over with a rubbing air.

"I would like to help you," he said, "but don't let the heat fool this a quitter."

This stirred me a trifle, and I said, rather sharply, "To that again."

"I remarked," said Cravath, as pleasantly as you please, "that you don't look like a quitter. And the saying was apropos of the fact that my experience has shown me that only the quitter shows the inalterable tendency."

Here the waiter arrived with our glasses.

"Gentle spoke Cravath, as he settled with him, "but you are boiling as to where I'm perfectly respectable person may come by dinner?"

"Sir," replied George, distantly, "I never take during business hours."

And upon his frigid departure, I made an effort to set myself right.

"The rule may be as you say," said I. "An insurance agent may be the sign of a rather private life in his other rules. It has its limitations. What yield to a man's never deserve hope was a thing that would put brains your money if your nose clutched you—it and—and—and—

Cattle Feeding in Alberta

During the past three winters tests were carried on at the Experimental Station at Lacombe, Alta., to find out what amount of profit could be made from fed cattle steers in the open air on such feeds as are usually available in the district. During the winter of 1909-1910 sixteen bullocks were fed, the following winter twenty, and last winter nineteen. Of such breeding and type as any farmer would have or would be likely to purchase in an ordinary market. As roughage such foods as straw, oat sheaves and hay were used while the grain rations consisted of frosted wheat, barley and oats all ground and mixed in varying proportions according to the relative available supply of these grains. A corral house, part of which helped to form a feeding rack, was the only shelter afforded. Grain rations were fed on flat-top tables provided with an edging all round to prevent waste. Water was supplied in troughs in which were tank heaters to prevent ice forming.

For the benefit of those who are interested in this subject a pamphlet describing the methods followed and a summary of the results obtained in these tests has been issued by the direction of the Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, as Experimental Farms' Bulletin No. 12 of the Second Series. In this it is shown that the difference between the buying and selling price per head the first year, after one hundred and nine days feeding, was $26.85; the second year, after one hundred and fifty-five days feeding, $41.96; and the third year after one hundred and fifty-five days feeding, 66.81. After deducting the actual cost of feed and labor the net profits obtained were, for the first year $11.35; for the second year $28.80 and for the third year, $15.50 per head. As high as $1.28 per bushel was realized for frosted oats fed to the cattle.

This bulletin which contains a number of helpful illustrations is available to the farmers of the Western Provinces upon application to the Superintendent of the Experimental Station at Lacombe or Lethbridge, Alberta.

Eastern farmers interested in the methods of feeding found profitable on the Prairies may obtain a copy of this bulletin by applying to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Alberta's Railway Development

In Past Three Years Railroads in Province have Doubled Their Mileage, and Set New Records for Rail-construction.

Leading Western Canada insofar as railroad building is concerned, Alberta broke all records for 1912 according to official figures given out by the provincial department of railroads on the return of Premier Sifton from Great Britain. According to the official figures there were 3020 miles of railroad in operation in Alberta on December 30, 1912, and as steel is being laid by both the C.T.P. and C.N.R. at the rate of from four to six miles per day since then, the mileage is gradually increasing. The present standing of the three railroad companies in the province at the present time is as follows:—C.P.R. 1470 miles; C.N.R. 912 miles; G.T.P. 638 miles.

"The increase is a big one" said Premier Sifton in discussing the matter. "In 1905 Alberta had 940 miles of railroad all told. In 1909 a space of four years, this had only been increased to 1261 miles. In 1910 the 1000 mile mark was reached, and in 1911 the total mileage was 1986. Now, on December 30, 1912 we have 3020 miles at roads, and more steel is being laid every day."

Premier Sifton has just returned from England where he was successful in selling $9,000,000 worth of government bonds at a higher price than any other province or any city in the Dominion has been able to secure for months past. On his return he stated that the railroad policy of the government was to be continued until Alberta was networked with railroads, giving every farmer an opportunity to market his produce in the best markets, and at the same time building up and developing the whole province.

The premier also stated that immigration would receive the serious attention of the government during the year, and that a campaign to secure immigrants for Alberta would be started on a larger scale than ever.

"Alberta has the attention of financiers, tradesmen, businessmen and men in every walk of life in Great Britain," he said, "and now is the time to start an immigration campaign. We have plenty of room for immigrants and once the advantages of this province are put before intending settlers to Canada they will have no hesitation in coming this fall."

MACHINERY FOR TOFIELD FOUNDRY ON THE WAY

The machinery for the Tofield Foundry and Machine Co. of which J. Gordon Jobb is the chief local executive is now on the way to Tofield and will arrive shortly. The company expects to be in working shape early in the spring. In the meantime much is being done at the foundry in preparation for the installation of the plant.

We are pleased to announce that since the above paragraph was set up in type the first car containing a portion of the plant has arrived and preparations are being made for unloading. The car contains a large assortment of lathes, pulleys, shafting, belting and a host of other necessary fixtures in the make-up of a foundry and machine plant. The power for the plant is in readiness for immediate shipment.

Mr. Jobb upon being interviewed expressed great satisfaction in that the shipment had come through from the east with so little delay. Installation of the plant will immediately go ahead.

Alberta Legislature Opens February 11

What is probably the last session of the Alberta Legislature before a General Election in the province, opens on Feb 11th next.

Personal and Local Items

W. Sheppard shipped a car of hogs to Edmonton last Tuesday.

When you want a reliable medicine for a cough or cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by All Dealers.

Mr. Dunlop of Londonderry, N. S. who has been the guest of J. G. Jobb of the Tofield Foundry and Machine Co. left for the east this morning fully decided to return permanently to Tofield.

If your children are subject to attacks of croup, watch for the first symptom, hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be warded off. For sale by All Dealers.

Angus Campbell, assessor for Cornhill Rural Municipality No. 467, is busy making his rounds. He has also townships to cover, making a valuation on every quarter section. The council meets again on the 15th Monday in February.

Mrs. Crompton of north town died last Sunday morning at 11.30 after a short but severe illness. She left a widowed husband and three children of tender age, two daughters and one son. The funeral took place Tuesday to Bardo cemetery.

Manager Hanvey of the Royal Alexandra hotel is doing his best to rush the building to completion and fully expects that in a few weeks the house will be ready for occupation. He and his family are already living in the building, having moved in on Monday.

A runaway occured on Main St. Wednesday morning when Rev. Mr. Wiggins horse and cutter, in charge of W. Norberry, got away and tore up main st. on the west sidewalk and turned down 3rd ave east ending up by getting tangled in the netting at the tennis court, corner 4th ave and King St.

The town this week purchased a 6 h.p. steam engine to work the pump on the well at the fire department reservoir. This will be installed immediately upon arrival and will take the place of the gasoline engine which has hitherto been used but which has been found unacceptable.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Legge entertained a number of guests to a very enjoyable evening at whist and music at their pleasant home on 3rd St. North. The whist took the form of a drive in which Mr. Harry Rogers and Miss May Tofield were the winners of the gentlemen's and lady's first prizes and Miss Napier of the booby prize.

The town has received an offer for $18,000 debentures from an eastern firm which has been accepted.

Mr. Richards of Londonderry, N.S. who has been visiting Mr. Jobb on 3rd St. north left for the east Wednesday morning, well pleased with his trip so far west.

Those who have attended Variety Theatre during the past couple of weeks express themselves as more than satisfied with the excellent programmes that they have been receiving from the management.

Persons troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefitted by massaging the affected parts thoroughly when applying Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by All Dealers.

New and renewal subscribers to the Standard, may if they wish, obtain the Toronto Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer, one of the most readable national weeklies in Canada for one year for the sum of fifty cents half the regular annual rate.

The annual missionary anniversary services of the local Methodist church will be held next Sunday when Rev. T. C. Buchanan, Supt. of Missions will preach both morning and evening. The official Board meeting is called for Saturday evening. Rev. Mr. Buchanan would like to meet every member of the official board.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a world-wide reputation by its cures of this disease and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlains Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by All Dealers.

Mrs. S. A. Hall was the charming hostess at her first "At Home" in her attractive up-town residence last Thursday night when she entertained a large number of young people to a whist drive and dance afterward. Mr. Dawson Manners was the winner of the gentleman's first prize and Nina Wood of the ladies' first prize while Mr. Albert Somers enjoyed the distinction of capturing the booby.

A warm chinook swept over the Tofield district last Sunday, lasting several days and almost completely took away the eight inches of snow which fell last week. Sleighing lasted a couple of days only. The weather this week calls to memory the balmy January and February of 1912 when for weeks the atmospheric conditions were such as to render unnecessary the wearing of heavy overclothing.

Mrs. A. R. Taber, of Calder, Man. had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets she has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are especially intended. Try them get well and stay well. Sold by All Dealers.

Being Put in Shape

Fire Alarm System Out of Order

On Wednesday afternoon and evening the Tofield public were somewhat alarmed at first when the alarm gong at the Fire Hall repeatedly clanged forth its warning peals. The first thought was that a blaze had broken out but this fear was quickly dispelled when it was made known that the system had gone out of order and was being tested in the endeavor to again put it in shape. It was accidently learned last Sunday afternoon by the Fire, Light and Water Committee that the system was out of condition and had been for some weeks. The alarm box at the livery barns had failed to work properly on the occasion of the Kirkpatrick fire and had short-circuited the electric system and this not having been attended to at once by the Fire Dept. had caused the batteries to become played out. It seems that the firm who put the system in had not given any instructions to the Fire Dept as to how to meet such emergencies and the members were not to blame for the occurance. But why any member of the fire brigade who knew of the conditions did not cause the fact to become known to council has not been explained. Even the fire chief did not know of it.

TOFIELD ALBERTA THURSDAY JANUARY 30, 1913.

A Civic Banquet in the Wind

SPEAKING of the opening of the Royal Alexandra, which attractive hostelry will be the best on the line between Edmonton and Winnipeg, the suggestion has been made that a civic banquet, the first guests should be held in the Royal Alexandra as soon as possible after the opening. The function would be attractive and no doubt most enjoyable, generally speaking for the Royal Alexandra is a house modern in every respect and attentive to its appointments and in its management for this class of catering is fortunate in having the best. Besides, a good host to heart talk over the viands is a good thing for the citizens and the town in general. We all need it in our business, the business of boosting our little town, the town of TOFIELD.

o o o o o o

Western Farmers Not a Bad Lot.

THE FARMERS of Alberta through the recent annual convention of the U. F. A. at Calgary have gone on record formally as approving the total prohibition of the liquor traffic in Alberta and pledged themselves to, in the meantime, support all movements to establish local prohibition by the exercise of local option. The action of the farmers speaks more convincingly than their critic, a Toronto clergyman, who not long ago declared the Western farmers to be a drunken lot, who passed the winters in carousing on the proceeds of their summer's operations.

o o o o o o

Cumulative Benefits will Follow Persistent Campaign.

THAT JUDICIOUS advertising has a cumulative effect, and the business firm, the city or the state which consistently makes known what it has to offer, is conducting a campaign which must grow more effective with the passage of time, is the statement of the Edmonton Bulletin a few days ago in discussing the remark of Provincial Publicity Commissioner Hotchkiss to the effect that the present year will bring a larger number of new citizens to Alberta than did the last. The view is optimistic and yet the prophecy is one that will more than likely be fulfilled. Yearly the incoming tide is increasing. We see it in the TOFIELD district. Every year the number is growing greater. This is not the time to ease up on the advertising line or pushing of our Industrial Campaign. In the word of the songster, "Everybody is doing it," even town is getting after industry and capital. This is no time to let up. Let us keep at it harder than ever. Commissioner White is doing a good work. Let's all get behind him and push with him.

Square Deal Due the Farmers

THE STANDARD has heard it mentioned from several sources that there is a move on, on the part of the council of Cornhill Rural Municipality to act under the powers given it by sub-sec. 11 of sec. 196 of the Act and allow a rebate of twenty-five per cent of taxes on land which has been cropped during the past year. The Standard is in hopes that the council will do nothing of the kind. To do so would work an injustice upon a large majority of the ratepayers who live in a section of the country which is more adaptable to mixed farming and dairying in particular. Dairying and hog raising is becoming very profitable and the mixed farmer is a far greater credit to himself and the community than the farmer who adopts the easier and less profitable method of grain raising alone. We feel that the majority of the councillors will look at the matter in this way and oppose the rebate of taxes to the grain raiser. In this they will be supported by the big majority of the ratepayers.

o o o o o o

Abuse for the Farmers.

A FICTION onslaught on the Manitoba grain growers is made by the Mail and Empire. The name "Grain Growers' Association is said to be the name of a party organization. Our information is that the members of the association are really grain growers. The Mail appears to think that they are bankers, or lawyers, preachers and storekeepers pretending to be farmers, but for this assertion no evidence is forthcoming.

The association it is said has passed a lamentable resolution calling for the reference of the naval question to the electors. It is pretty hard on the farmers that they should be abused by a Conservative paper for upholding the policy of Mr. Borden and the Nationalists. In the very same issue of the Mail is a letter from Mr. Borden to Mr. Monk, declaring that the naval policy ought to be placed before the people for their consideration and approval.

Then the farmers are viciously attacked for proposing the removal of duties on food. Should we not rather commend the food producers for their willingness to abandon food taxes at a time when we are all trying to check the increase of in the cost of living? The west is being continually lectured by philosophers in the east on its gross materialism and its disregard for higher things. Yet when a community of farmers [illegible] have credit it is grossly [illegible] to unify the west and the east and create a common national sentiment! Toronto Star

Council of Rural Municipality Letting Out Activity for Good Roads

Farmers in Newer Territory will Benefit

That the council of Rural Municipality No 467 are taking hold of things with spirit and enthusiasm and determined to render every assistance to the farmers in all sections of the municipality is evident from the discussion which took place at council meeting last Monday afternoon in the opening up of roads and giving traffic highways to those parts of the municipality which need it very badly.

It was decided that the sum of $40,000 should be raised by the sale of municipal debentures. This money is to be repaid in twenty equal annual installments with interest at six per cent and is to be spent on cutting out new roads, scarifying the same where necessary and grading. Seventy-five per cent of it is to be apportioned out to the nine townships in proportion to the assessment of each and twenty-five per cent is to constitute a fund for the general use of the municipality. In this way the roads in every section of the country will be built this year, the intention being to do all that is necessary in road construction at once and for the next twenty years to pay off the initial cost without raising the taxes above the present average rate per quarter section. Council figures that half the present rate of taxes per year will pay off the debenture debt in 20 years and that the other half will maintain the existing roads. The proceedings of the meeting were as follows:—

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

A letter from Mr. McDonald asking payment for work done in township 51, Range 19 in 1912 was read.

The following accounts were passed:—

Western Municipal news for books etc. $42 08

Standard Press Limited. book for assessor 1 50

Express paid by Secretary on books 1 15

The secretary was instructed by council to write to the Minister of Municipal affairs asking if that part of Twp 51, R 18, west of Beaver Lake could be added to the Municipality.

A discussion at length took place on the advisability of borrowing on debenture an amount sufficient to build main roads throughout the municipality to cover a period of 20 years which resulted in the following motion by councillor Poole being carried:—

That the sum of $40,000 be raised by the issue and sale of Debentures of the municipality, the money to be expended in Rural Municipality No 467 as follows—75% to be expended in such proportion to the amount of assessment and 25% in form a general fund for the use of the whole municipality. The debentures to payable in 20 equal annual installments.

Mr. Thomson handed in his resignation same to take effect on March 1st. next.

Mr. Hinkfine offered to act as auditor to the council. The matter was laid over till next meet'ng.

The secretary was instructed to procure a corporation seal.

A by-law was passed authorizing the Reeve and Sec.-Treas. to sign notes at the Bank for the sum of $2,000 by way of a temporary loan. The sum to be divided amongst the townships forming the Municipality and to be expend ed on winter work in opening up new roads.

The next meeting will be held on the first Saturday in March March 1st.

MOVING PICTURES GOOD

Those who attended the moving picture show on Tuesday night were very much pleased especially with the film. "The Law of the West". The Tofield public have good reason to be pleased with the service given by the local management as the light is better than the average city light and films are the same as shown in the large cities on the continent.

Stock Still Hanging Around

What visit of the stork is not interesting? This time he was a call er at the home of Mr and Mrs Jake MacDonald, leaving there a bouncing boy of Alberta weight and quality, on Sunday morning February 4th. Now, the parents are happy as the day is long.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. Daily, of Aside creek on Jan. 30th., a daughter.

It appears that the activities of the above mage bird were not confined to Main Street alone on Monday night this week. Prior to visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald he called at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Loomis, Jed. Ave. and leaving another bouncy little boy to brighten the household. Congratulation all around.

Lodge About All In

A meeting of the G. T. P. Northern Alberta Hockey League officials and committee men officials was held last week in Holden and before the meeting adjourned a great change in the league was wrought.

The Wainwright club was given its walking ticket forever while the Viking club was suspended for the season, leaving only Holden and Ryley to complete the schedule.

It is more than likely that the cup and medals that were being competed for by the four teams of the league will remain in Holden until another winter, when perhaps the teams will not go contrary to the rules and regulations governing the competitors.

Ryley Times.

Personal and Local Items

The annual congregational meeting and social of St. James church, announced for Tuesday last, was postponed for about two weeks as the weather was bad and a very short notice had been given.

There is no better medicine for colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, aids expectoration, and restores the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

The many friends of Mrs. H. A. Hall will regret to learn that her little boy, Archie is ill with pneumonia. On Wednesday afternoon a trained nurse was called for from Edmonton.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and they have abundant reasons for it, as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the disease that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the ills or ailments. The safe way is to take Chamblain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as soon as possible This remedy is for sale by all dealers

Here is a message of hope and good cheer from Mrs. J. C. Martin, Boone Mill, Va., who is the mother of eighteen children. Mrs. Martin was sorely troubled with indigestion and constipation by Chamberlain's Tablets after five years of suffering and now recommends these tablets to the public. Sold by all dealers.

Who will not remember Miss Nannie Strachan, the sweet clear singer, who appeared with Calvin Spence a couple of years ago under the auspices of St. Andrews Ladies Aid. Miss Spence who appeared in Highland costume delighted her audience with her rendering of many of the songs of Scotland. Many will remark the droll humor of his anecdotes told by Calvin Spence on the occasion of his last concert appearance in Tofield. Mr. Spence will again more Tofieldera to tears of laughter when he appears with the Strachan-Spence Concert Co. at Variety Theatre, Monday, Feb. 17, under the auspices of the Tofield Oddfellows.

The annual Missionary Anniversary services of the Methodist church were held last Sunday. Rev. T. C. Buchanan, Supt. of Missions of Alberta occupied the pulpit both morning and evening giving two practical and forceful addresses. In the morning he took his text from the last chapter of Malachi the theme being "Tithe Giving." In the evening his subject was "The Art of Many." "She Hath Done What She Could." In the talk he showed that ample provisions should be made for the upholding of the ministry as bense and missionary effort abroad. The great purpose of life is to do what we can and do it well.

The Tofield public will welcome with pleasure the announcement that the Strachan-Spence Concert Co. has been secured to appear again. Those who had the pleasure of attending their appearance in St. Andrews church a couple of years ago will well remember the great delight with the rendering of every number and many who failed to attend were sorry afterward that they had not taken advantage of their opportunity. Both Mr. Spence and Miss Nannie appear in their Highland costumes and delight their audience with songs and sayings Mr. Strachan, who is well know in Tofield, is an expert with the flute and pipes. Mr. Switzer with the violin while Miss Margaret Strachan is an excellent accompanist. The whole program is a delight and is such that the most critical judge would appreciate. They appear Feb. 17 at Variety Theatre under the auspices of the Tofield Oddfellow's Lodge.

Silver Seven Defeat the Royal Bank

Playing a Ossibory Game Score Being 15 3

What was expected to be a fast and well contested game between the Royal Bank team of Edmonton, one of the commercial league teams of that city, and Tofield's Famous Silver Seven, turned out to be largely a fiasco. The first fifteen minutes of play was about the only part of the game commanding itself to the spectators, in this the visitors put up a persistent imitative but the perfect rain of goals upon their nets and the combination work of the home team apparently took all the stiffness out of them and the rest of the game was chiefly automatic.

Frank Silvers is of the Merchant's Bank staff here has been transferred to Vegreville branch.

J O Letourneau of the Merchants Bank staff went to the hospital at Edmonton last week to be treated for chronic appendicitis.

Mrs Hopgood is turned last week from Edmonton where she was in the hospital for a minor operation.

So called "heart-burn" is only a symptom of a stomach disorder. It is indigestion arising from too much acidity in the stomach. "Heart-burn" is a disease you should not allow to run on, also the entire system will become disordered and rheumatism and other chronic diseases will result. Heart-burn and indigestion are easily arrested if taken in hand in time.

Removal of Food Duties by U. S. Will Benefit Us

IN VIEW of the fact that the Ways and Means Committee at Washington considering the tariff schedule has practically decided to abolish the import duty on food stuffs, giving Canada free entry into the markets of the United States for grain and live stock but in competition with all other food exporting countries, the views of some prominent Edmonton Liberals and Conservatives, who spoke on opposite sides during the reciprocity campaign, should prove interesting

A characteristic opinion is given by the Hon. A. G. Mackay, who says:

"The removal by the United States of the tariff against foodstuffs will be of great benefit to this province. The value and market price of grain and live stock will immediately rise. Wider markets has long been the crying need of Western Canada. The grain producer and stock man will have the additional free market he has so long desired. The increased value and market price of cattle, hogs, etc., will give a tremendous impetus to mixed farming, to which this province is naturally so well adapted. The increased purchasing power of the farmer will benefit the business man in town. American settlers, now free to reach their accustomed higher markets, will flock in thousands to our western provinces. But, say, look for the crack in the foundations of the Empire.

Wilfred Gariepy, (President of the Edmonton Liberal Association)

"This removal of duty on foodstuffs by the United States shows that those, who, when arguing against reciprocity, said that America was an overgoing country and did not need our grain and beef, were misinformed. This step is perhaps the second best thing to reciprocity. It is, however, an unilateral contract from which the United States may depart at any time. Time, the reciprocity agreement could be undone, without any agreement, at the wish of either party; but there was a moral obligation on the part of both countries to give it time to ripen and show results.

A. F. Ewing, (Conservative candidate, provincial by election, 1912)

"The United States are treating this matter as one of internal policy and we can therefore have no objection to it. If the United States are willing, on their own account initiative, to do freely that for which they demanded quid pro quo a year ago, our position should be improved. We are freed from the entangling consequences of a pact and we have to make no confession. The economic advantages to Canada, are, in my opinion doubtful, and we cannot look for any great benefit."

W. A. Griesbach (Conservative candidate, Federal election, Sept. 19)

"Where you have a populous, large consuming country alongside a much less populous large producing country, there are all the elements of a good trade But (and in my judgment late reciprocity proposals did contain this objectionable feature) such trade must be carried on under such, and conditions, which greatly threaten the development of the smaller country. Now, when the United States have removed the tariff on foodstuffs, without demanding any concessions in return, surely Canada, the large producing but thinly populated country, must be benefited if any tariff arrangements can benefit her. When I spoke against reciprocity in the 1911 campaign I foretold that America, out of her own need, would give to Canada what we were asked to buy at cost of great risk to future progress of this part of the British Empire.

The A. & G. W. Decision.

THE DECISION given last week by the Privy Council in the A. & G. W. Ry. case is one which clears the air of all doubts as to the rights and wrongs of the claims of both the contending parties. The Lords of Justice have decided that the Province has no claim upon the monies lying in the banks nor have the railway promoters any right to its possession. It is the property of the bondholders. The province was within its rights in closing out the A. & G. W. company so far as the contract was concerned, but its rights are apparently end there. What will be done with the money is now the question. The solution of the problem will be regarded with considerable interest

A Good Roads Policy.

THE COUNCIL of Combin Rural Municipality No 487 seem to realize that good traffic conditions are what every farmer wants. They have very good reason to think so. For years the farmers in the outlying portions of the district have laboured under sad conditions in so far as the roads in their vicinity are concerned. The formation of the larger district will admirably more self governing powers and greater powers for raising money for the creation and establishment of good roads will undoubtedly prove a rich blessing. The move on the part of the council to raise money by debenture for building good roads where there are none will have the support of all right thinking farmers, no matter whether they be situated in the older parts of the settlement where there are well established graded roads or whether they be back on the unopened lines.

Cravath starts out with $100 in his pocket. He has no trouble in getting a job as a waiter in a restaurant, but is discharged for breaking a dish. He then gets a job as a waiter on a train, but is discharged for the same reason. He then gets a job as a waiter in a restaurant in Chicago, but is discharged for breaking a dish

U. F. A. Convention

The U F A convention held at Calgary last week was the largest and most successful in the history of the U F A organization. There were about 500 delegates present representing 11 counties and 60 farmers of the province. The report of the minutes of the original U F A was read by Secretary Bentley. Then followed the annual reading of the minutes of the last convention held in Edmonton. A large number of delegates however, did not take part in the discussion of the report, preferring to wait for the question and answer period at the close of the report.

The attempt of the Alberta Federation of Labor to capture the farmers organization came as a surprise to the majority of the delegates, who had no idea that such a movement was on foot.

Throughout the week the work of the convention moved along smoothly, however most of them were content to keep quiet during the discussions. The convention meets next year at Lethbridge.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year:

President Mr Tregillus, Calgary
1st vice-president, Mr. Quinsey, Acme
2nd vice president Mr Lee of Bow Island, 3rd. vice president Mr Sheppard, Strathcona.
Secretary-treasurer Mr Carswell, Calgary.

Board of Directors Victoria, P. Acme, Strathcona, J. R. Pointon, Edmonton, G. Bevington, Red Deer, D. Bedingham, Calgary, H. Seerman, Medicine Hat, J. Lenox, Wainwright, H. A. Rawlings.

Mr. Evans resigned the Secretaryship and a new secretary will be elected by the executive.

R. B. Hopkins spent Monday at his home in Edmonton.

Ed. Lapp of Edmonton was a Tofield visitor Sunday.

Frank Adams spent the last week at Edmonton on business.

Miss (Campbell) of Leduc is the guest of Mrs. Dr. J. L. Hammond Sen Ave.

Messrs Jake MacDonald, Uncle Haines and Roy Foster visited Ryley Tuesday afternoon on business.

Dr. Terwilleger of Edmonton was in town Tuesday partaking of the hospitality and sumptuous repast supplied by the management of the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

For a sprain you will find Chamberlain's liniment excellent. Rallaplain, remove soreness and soon restores the parts to a healthy condition, 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

V. W. Plant, a son of the British soil and a would-be printer, who worked a week in Tofield, suddenly decamped and left as a reminder, a hotel bill. A suit of grey clothes also disappeared at the same time. We print this merely as a warning to other print-shops.

Here is a message of hope and good cheer from Mrs. J. C. Martin Boone Mill, Va., who is the mother of eighteen children. Mrs. Martin was cured of stomach trouble and constipation by Chamberlain's Tablets after five years of suffering and now recommends them tablets to the public. Sold by all dealers.

Miss Mary Meiklejohn, of Victoria, B. C., was in town the first of the week visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Richards. She returned to Edmonton to spend a few days with her aunt there after which she will again return to Tofield where she will, no doubt, spend the summer behind the bakeshop counter.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and they have abundant reasons for it, as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers

Tracklaying on the Tofield-Calgary G. T. P. Branch line is proceeding daily. Yesterday the tracklayers were at mile 128. A single span bridge is to be put in at mile 131 and from there to the Bow river, four miles out of the northern city will be plain sailing. At this point a several span steel bridge has to be built, which will take some considerable time. There is every reason to hope that by mid-summer, if not by July 1st, trains will be running through Tofield to Calgary. In the spring the track will immediately be ballasted.

Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the minor ailments. The safe way is to take Chamblain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as, soon as possible. This remedy is for sale by all dealers

There is no better medicine for colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, aids expectoration, and restores the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

Last Wednesday evening the whole city was in a state of excitement when it was learned that the Dixons faithful team was running away. The last seen of them was when the bridleless ponies were retreating down the milky way with Shorty Osborne, who we are sorry to say was somewhat handicapped by the sidewalks being built too close to his body, and the ever smiling Geo. Dixon, with ? ? ? ? ? passing from his innocent lips, running last in lead, hair flying through the air, he going up the rear.

J. S. Johnson this week sold out his butcher shop to Meds & Meds of Leduc.

Charlie Keital says that they do not open a new hotel in Tofield every day. (Contributed)

William Thomson, President of the Tofield Agricultural Society, is in town today.

Wardle Somers was the only select man in town on Tuesday evening—he can't because he's married now.

Who will not remember Miss Nannie Strachan, the sweet Scotch singer, who appeared with Gavin Spence a couple of years ago under the auspices of St. Andrews Ladies Aid. Miss Spence who appeared in Highland costume delighted her audience with her rendering of many of the songs of Scotland. Many will remark the dauf humor of his numbers sold by Gavin Spence on the occasion of his last concert appearance in Tofield. Mr. Spence will again more Tofield-ward to-morrow night when he appears with the Strachan-Spence Concert Co. at Variety Theatre, Monday, Feb. 17, under the auspices of the Tofield Oddfellows.

Tofield Post Office Robbed

The Tofield Post Office was unceremoniously entered last Monday night between the hour of 8.35 and 9 p.m. Miss McMullen, post-mistress had completed her duties for the evening and had retired, prior to being left in the P. O. Dept. The robbery became known when Georges Easton came into the drug store at five minutes to nine without any mail matter which Miss McMullen identified as being one which she left in the till at 8.35 p. m. The matter was reported to the hands of the R. N. W. M. P. who obtained a warrant for yours, Chalkon's arrest and who later secured an admission from the latter that he himself had committed the offence besides having pilfered the till on two previous occasions. The case came up for preliminary hearing on Wednesday afternoon before J. N. Williams, J. P. who committed the defendant for trail.

Seed Fair Great Success

The Third Annual Seed Fair held under the auspices of the Tofield Agricultural Society last Saturday, February 8th, was a splendid success in all points with the exception of the quantity or number of exhibits. The quality of the grain exhibited was commented upon very favorably by the judges who said that in regard the the grain showed was well up in the average of the province. After judging was completed in the afternoon the officials each gave a long talk on subjects of close interest to the farmer. Mr. Lougheed of Bowden discussed very fully the benefits of following the practice of mixed farming, emphasing the importance of raising grain for fattening beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs and poultry. Mr. Johnson of Provost gave an interesting talk along the line of farm economics taking the view that all farmers should seek to produce on their farms such products for which profitable markets of a permanent nature can be readily secured. The prize winners were as follows:

Spring Wheat: 1st. I. H. Olson, Red Fife; 2nd, Geo. Cookson, Preston; 3rd, P. B. Anderson, Preston.

Short Oats: 1st, Geo. Cookson, Reg. Abundance; 2nd, J. McGinnis, Garton's Reg. Abundance; 3rd. F. O. Moller, Swedish Milling.

Tofield 4 Wainwright 2

Ladies of Sister Towns Try Conclusions at Hockey with Above Result.

Tuesday afternoon the Wainwright Ladies' Hockey team were the guests of the Tofield Ladies' Hockey team, a cordial welcome being given by the charming hostesses coupled with the freedom of the town, the local ladies taking it upon themselves to exercise the mayoral prerogative. In all but skill at hockey the local ladies yielded readily the honors of the day to their guests. The visitors with a large number of fans, male and female, arrived on the local and their expectant hostesses, noting that the G. T. P. in a very ambivalent manner marooned their guests down at the wye east of town while the train crew could cook their time to do a bit of shunting prior to pulling up the station, but the doughty Sherry Osborne with his dray down to meet the train. Osborne hailed the mission with delight and the pleasure he had in bringing the happy bunch into town will be remembered by him for many a long day.

The match at the rink, where the genial and obliging manager, N. S. Smith; had the ice in excellent condition, was a fine exhibition of the great national winter game. While the reward was not as great as it should have been, the play was splendid and excitement not the least lacking. Madame Mc-Phee in the visitors' goal was a problem for the Tofield Ladies, they being in amaze of wonder how they ever were going to get the rubber past her. Miss Nellis fatued at point put up some spectacular play, her skating and her handling of the puck showing her to be an adept at the game. Mrs Lerow at left wing had up her share in the day admirably, she being successful in placing the puck in the Tofield nets on both occasions with with well timed and skillful shots. All members of the Wainwright team not mentioned played a good game right through.

The Tofield Ladies' played an excellent game. Early they found that they were up against a strong aggregation and that it was up to them to do their best. Consequently they put out with all the vim, lush and skill at their command. At the end of the first 15 minutes the score stood 1-0 in their favor. At the end of the next 15 minutes each team had been successful in making a further score, 2-1 in favor of the locals. The last 15 minutes was stubbornly contested each team starting out with the firm intention of ending with a lead over the other. Tofield won out, however, by scoring to more while the visitors netted but one more, the tally at time standing 4-2 for the locals.

Carl Island of Wainwright acted the referee to perfection doing justice to both sides impartially. Wardle Somers gallantly acted as judge of play and the Tofield ladies think he is all right.

In the evening the visitors and their hostesses consorted convivially at the Royal Alexandra at the complimentary dinner which mine host Jim Hannan put up in his usually hospitable manner for his many guests at his grand opening which took place that evening, after which the evening was spent socially at the Variety.

The teams lined up as follows:

E. Tofield	goal	Mrs. McPhee
O. Emery	pt	N. Island
A. Morton	c. pt.	Miss Moffat
A. Spilsted	c.	Miss Sime
Mrs Mansfley	r. w.	W. Island
O. Letourneau	l.w	Mrs. Gerow
Miss Shell	r.w.	Miss Davis

Referee, Carl Island

Judge of play, Wardle Somers.

Jim Smith is being congratulated upon the excellent showing made at this match by the local Ladies team of which he is credited with being the gallant manager.

Civic Banquet Again

"GET TOGETHER DINNERS" are now the accepted thing ... The co-operative spirit amongst the different elements in a community, says the British Columbian of New Westminster, B.C., in a recent issue, "A fine note of optimism and enthusiasm is an essential factor run through all the speeches at the Board of Trade banquet" it goes on further to say.

Several citizens have spoken most heartily in favor of holding a civic banquet on each date at which the discussion might very probably follow along the lines of the policy of action in the problem of development of the agricultural and industrial advantages of both the town and district. So long as we have before us the objective point of the settler and his settlement, so long as we have before us the objective point of the town-man and his betterment, leading our aid in any way possible to things beyond our gates and bending every energy to united effort in development within our confines to the advantage of all whom we may induce to locate with us, so long will we be a benefit not only to ourselves but to the community at large.

IMPROVED FARM METHODS

Some Good New Year Resolutions

Prof S A Bedford, deputy minister of Agriculture at the Manitoba Agricultural Societies convention received quite an ovation when he rose to speak. His subject was "Improved Farm Methods for 1913." He said:

"As you all know, it is the practice of many individuals at the opening of the New Year to make good resolutions, to move or listen adhered to, usually less; but there are some resolutions I would recommend to some of the farmers of this province which all should be kept religiously. They cover a large number of subjects but I feel certain that one or more of these may be made to advantage to all farmers. And if at the close of our address some of these resolutions are taken up by the audience and discussed I shall be more than repaid for compiling them.

"We will assume that it is New Year's, that I am a farmer; here are my resolutions:

"I will see that my seed grain is made in good time, thus saving the time at the busy season for cleaning and treating the grain. I believe that the best seed is none too good and that the most suitable variety is the one for me.

"As soon as the spring opens I propose making the seed-bed for grain fine on the surface and solid below in order to encourage germination and conserve moisture.

"My prairie breaking shall be this and my backsetting a little deeper. This will also provide a suitable seed-bed. I am convinced that it does not pay to sow a crop on new breaking and for that reason I will not sow a crop on it until the following year, especially flax.

"I will arrange to have the land packer follow all spring plowing for it clogs all the large air spaces and conserve moisture.

"During the leisure time of winter I will arrange a regular rotation, suitable for my district, which will include both grasses and a legume as well as grain.

"In future I will try and keep better stock and more of it, selecting the kind of stock to which I am partial and which I understand the best, and I will arrange to grow abundant feed for the same, including some fodder corn. This will enable me to cultivate less land, produce more grain, keep a less number of men and employ them all the year round.

"I am persuaded that I am not alone in these resolutions and hope that others will follow in the same line."

Importance of having Seed Tested

Much Seed now used Looks Good but the Germ has been Destroyed

From the results of tests made upon samples of grain from all parts of the province there is now no longer any doubt that much of this is unfit for seed purposes, and that farmers are taking a serious risk it sowing it before they have had a test made for vitality. The refers to oats and Barley. As we have pointed out before, oats though perfectly plump and in all outward appearance sound, may be quite unfit for seed, due to the germ having been killed by frost injury. Few can tell whether such seed are capable of germinating without making a test. Our records show that practically all districts are affected, but while bad seed is general, good two seems in quantity, and we believe sufficient is available everywhere to meet the demand. It is, however, extremely important that every farmer should know just where this is to be procured and at the same time avoid everything doubtful. To gain this information a germination test is absolutely necessary and a certificate of vitality should be demanded purchasers. In considering of the loss incured last year through neglect in this respect and knowing the danger of this we are again strongly urging the necessity of having all oats and barley tested, as by this means and this only, can much unnecessary hardship and loss to the country be eliminated.

For the information of those not already aware of the fact, we may repeat that all samples are tested free of charge by the Seed Laboratory, Calgary, and sample bags supplied without cost, to all who apply for them. All that is necessary on the farmers part is to send in the seed (about 1000 grains) place a two cent stamp on each sample and his name and address in one corner, together with a distinguishing mark when more than one sample is forwarded. Such samples should be sent to the Dominion Seed Laboratory Calgary, where they will be tested and a report sent to the sender in about fourteen days.

The February meeting of the Women's Christian Union was held last Thursday 13th at the home of Mrs. A. A. Harriman. Ten members were present. A few items of business being disposed of the minutes were read some time in January, different suggestions about ways and means to prevent the growing evils of late entertainments in our town.

The union deeply deplores the fact which has been brought so noticeably before the public of late that the evils following the drinking of intoxicating liquors is running rampantly on the increase.

The union feel that something should be done if possible to try to counteract the evil and help the young people.

It was thought advisable to call a public meeting on Sunday evening after public service for further discussion by others.

Next meeting of Union to be held at Mrs. A. McCauley's on the second Thursday in March.

Following the suggestion of a public meeting for the purpose of discussing the above mentioned subject, announcement was made in the three local churches last Sunday that a union meeting would be held in the Methodist church after the evening service and a large number gathered. Excellent suggestions were given by Messrs, Rev. Mason, Rev. Wiggins Rev. Robertson and others. Other meetings are to follow when further plans will be formulated and put into executives.

In Northwestern Canada

Harrisville, Feb. 12—R. D Grimm an aged and respected resident of this village, left here last fall for an extended trip through Northwestern and northwestern part of Canada. His letters back home describe the country in lively terms, telling of the better business of some parts and the great fertility of others. It was quite an undertaking for Mr. Grimm, who is 72 years old, but the long trip has no terrors for one of his enthusiasm nature. At present he is in Tofield, Alberta, a new town of almost 1,500 population. M. R. Gordon Purchases Fine Belgium Stallion

Rev. M. R. Gordon has recently purchased a fine stallion for his R. O. ranch. It is a fine animal imported from Belgium last November. Its name and registered number are Perfection 22920 and is a smooth, lay without any white marks. This is the kind that is much looked for and seldom found upbroken, long arched neck, the right kind of flinty hard bone capable of standing any hardships, legs well placed under him. His sire, Hardiait de Beaugnieres, 31308 a blue roan in color won first prize at Belgium in 1904, 4th prize at Brussels 1905 1st at Ghistelles 1905, Province 1st prize in 1905 with 1280 and was put annually a prize winner of $100 from the Belgian government.

At the International show in Chicago 1911 the first and third prize in the two year old class Belgians were out of Hardiait de Longuiers. He is the oldest sire at the stud of C. Joye & Sons, d'Andion, Belgium, but one of the best getters of fine draft. His dame, Mirame de Sippe 33191, an aged mare, won several prizes, among them the 1st prize at Sluys, when 3 years old, She is a perfect spimal.

If all horses should be as well bred as Perfection, no poor products should be expected.

J. R. Steele and wife and Mrs. Malcolm McCallum were in the city last Week. While there J. R. took us the Conservative meeting which was addressed by Mclsaac, Hoadley and others

Most of the people on this side have had the grippe with varying severity during the past 6 weeks

Malcolm McCallum and others have been busy hauling coal from the Pioneer mine lately. A carload comparison leads us to believe that this coal is just as good as it's Edmonton rival. Some have thought not, but they're mistaken.

J. R. Steele has none Marquis wheat of excellent quality for sale at $1.25 per bushel. Marquis wheat is eight days earlier than red fife and is much stiffer in the straw. In every other way too it is at the top. It is going fast, so if you want some send your order at once.

The Liberals in the federal parliament decided wisely, for their own good when they gave up the idea of forcing an election on the Borden emergency grant of thirty five millions While on this topic we may quietly remark that Mr. F. A. and the tirnan Growers' convention resolutions don't represent opinions of all the farmers, do We went on the navy question. Not by a long chalk!

Mrs. A. W. McCallum and Miss Jessie Steele went around with a subscription list recently to raise a small sum to make up the deficit in the salary of Rev. W. J. Swank, Presbyterian missionary, in addition to the budget requirements. They were more than successful we are pleased to say.

In Northwestern Canada

Harrisville, Feb. 12—R. D Grimm an aged and respected resident of this village, left here last fall for an extended trip through Northwestern and northwestern part of Canada. His letters back home describe the country in lively terms, telling of the better business of some parts and the great fertility of others. It was quite an undertaking for Mr. Grimm, who is 72 years old, but the long trip has no terrors for one of his enthusiasm nature. At present he is in Tofield, Alberta, a new town of almost 1,500 population. The Dawson Cup Competition Next Winter

The Wainwright Star is sponsor for the statement that a meeting of the trustees of the Dawson cup held recently decided that owing to the lateness of season no competition will be opened this year for his cup, but that next winter a competition will be opened with in the season. Our brother sports of Wainwright will, no doubt, be pleased to know that the Tofield team will now win the chance for competing for the cup as they are ready to do business. It is to be hoped that the whole season may be T. P. cup of Edmonton to the boundaries will soon take him and much will result, to be revealed in the end.

Maple Leafs 7 Silver Seven 4

Tofield One-time Stars go down to Inglorious and Merited Defeat

It is pretty hard to have to say at our own team but Tofielders to our not and do not stand for the conduct of players which is no credit to the latter and which brings shame upon all well minded and right thinking townsmen. The sooner that methods are adopted to get a line up composed of at least reasonably temperate players the better. And, if certain of Tofields Silver Seven are allowed as some of the Maple Leafs and other teams who have visited Tofield stand by home, the days of hearty support in Tofield of what should be a clean and healthy sport are numbered.

It remind be said that Tuesday night's game with the Maple Leafs of South Edmonton was a crackajoke. The visiting team was in good condition and played a strong vigorous game. On the home team Herb Lee was inexperienced by a lame ankle although he put up a good game under the circumstances. Wardle Scores no mark but up a good game but he was assisted only by Bobby Dean who is not a player, being a young lad and a member of the juniors. Albert Sauvers as good did as well as could be expected. But as for Jains and Bobby Lee of whom better might have been expected, were the last that one has said about them, the better. It was a throughout six game and the visitors could not help but win out.

Why Not Give Youngsters a Chance

Headed with the following tith in display type: "46. T. P. LEAGUE ADJUT ALL IN and will Holden and Ryley to Finish It. And is in Night," the Wainwright Star has the following to say:

The T. P. Hockey League, in which Wainwright was originally included is "about all in," according to the Tofield Standard. Viking, it seems, has also been cut out of the league by being suspended for the season for playing against Tofield. Ryley and Holden are now left to compete for the Duplessis Trophy and the brand of hockey the teams have put up here would go to prove that the Standard is not far astray when it says that the league "is about all in."

It might be all right at this juncture to suggest to our esteemed contemporary that there need be no great feeling of regret. Tofield is likely finest of the keglets called the juniors. Viking has a similar conception of classy players. Wainwright can easily follow suit. Surely our teams of juniors would entertain the proposition of going up against the mighty champions of Ryley and Holden, just so that no latter might not be wholly segregated from the sporting world The Tofield Juniors would not hesitate a moment to rub shoulders with either of the teams mentioned. Incidently it might be remark, that the Ryley Times was the author of the piquit about the league being "all in". This in full confirm to our friend the "Times."

Comment

THE GOOD CITIZENS of Wainwright have for some time realized that the presence of the Buffalo Park in the vicinity of that ambitious young burg is, after all, not conducive to the best interests of what has been in the few years just past heralded with no small pride by its citizens as the "Buffs's Town". Just as much noise is now being made in the efforts to get rid of the handsome monarchs of the plains as was once made by the Buffalo Towners in letting the world know that the Buffalo Park was located at Wainwright as a consequence of successful efforts to that end. The Star of that illustrious hamlet throws the following illumination upon the latest proceedings to get rid of the alleged nuisance.

PETITION TO OUST BUFFALO

A printed petition is now being prepared, which it is hoped, will lend its assistance towards the ultimate removal of the buffalo park from Wainwright. The businessmen of the town will be approached first, after which farmers, who consider this reserve a common evil, will be asked to affix their names. Where the petition will be kept is unknown at this time. Announcement in this respect will be made through these columns at a later date.

Consolidated Rural Schools.

IN VIEW of the discussion regarding the introduction of consolidated rural schools in Alberta the statement of Professor M. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin is interesting. He says "Consolidation is the only way out of the trouble of ninety-five per cent of the rural schools of Wisconsin . . . . It is more or less idle to speculate on the blessings that would flow to the rural schools of this state from proper supervision unless the schools can be joined together so that the time and energy of supervisors can be economized." It would appear from the above that now is the time for those interested in the rural schools of Alberta to make a thorough study of the question of consolidation and thus avoid if possible the costly mistakes which have been made in other places.

Letters to the Editor

NOTE. The Editor does not necessarily endorse the views of correspondents who write us on the issues of the day—readers will please bear this in mind.

Ministik Lake, Alta.

To the Editor,
"Tofield Standard"

Dear Sir:

The correspondent who wrote the Ministik Lake news in your issue of January 23rd, reminds one of a frog croaking in a pond. When a correspondent writes to the public press, he should confine himself to facts, and not to a combination of misrepresentations slang, and braggadocio. In the first place we would beg to state that the chairman of the Min stik School Board is not Mr. M-Kerral as stated, but is and has been for a number of years, V. W. Cameron, J. P. The deliberations of the Ministik School Board would assuredly require less of the watch and ward society's scrutiny than your correspondent. The board has all along carried on the school business to the entire satisfaction of the ratepayers, the only complaint so far having come from the "Croaker." We consider that the statements made by your correspondent emanate from a person whose body has apparently grown at the expense of his mind. Furthermore his statement regards dancing and concerts in the Ministik schoolhouse are also a sample of his oratorical imagination, which delights at all times to magnify his opponents and to glorify himself. If the "Croaker" feels inclined for a concert and dance he only needs to apply to the "Three Great Ones" who will in no way debar him from indulging in the light fantastic. The old "Fossils" are also making hard for a though road to trouble but they do not want a real stick in the "croaker's" throat as they know from experience that it would not be very long before the "Croakers" are more likely to be buried in this road than the "Old Fossils," who intend to carefully avoid this road trap set for the unwary. The "Old Fossil" with the whiskers spends as much time on his own business as the "Croakers" do judging from all present appearances, and deserves great credit for the improvements he has made on his farm your correspondent the "Croaker" puts it almost impossible homestead. The "Old Fossil" sporting the longest whiskers tells us he feels greatly flattered at the amount of attention being paid to his hirsute appendages. He also recommends the "Croaker" to grow a beard in order to save his chin from the vast amount of hot air passing from his croaker. He also feels greatly satisfied that his opinions should be so much applauded amongst the "Croaker" and his friends, judging from the marked attention paid to him in public print. As to the statement that the few "Old Fossils" are being carefully buried (the wish is father to the thought.) We beg also to let your correspondent know that they are neither buried nor few in number, as he will ultimately know. Life is apparently not too short for your correspondent the "Croaker" to interfere with other people's affairs.

MINISTIK LAKE NEWS

Lloyd Grummett has purchased a gasoline engine. He also owns a saw and crushers. He intends to devote the winter to sawing wood and crushing grain throughout the neighborhood. Mr. Chas. Read one of our most energetic "Old Fossils," has sold all his oats at top prices from his almost impossible homestead.

Hockey At Wainwright

Tofield 12. Wainwright 4

The hockey match at Wainwright tonight resulted in a score of 12-4 in favor of Tofield. The news over the wire was to the effect that the Wainwright fans put up a strong protest against Tofield playing two men from Edmonton and who were above the class of either team. $700 was up on the game but as a result of Tofield playing these two protested men all bets were called off. Our Wainwright correspondent says that the game was won for Tofield by Charlesworth in goal who played a star game and that Matz and Goodridge of Edmonton put up some fine play for Tofield.

Ladies Lose At Wainwright

The Tofield ladies lost in a good game with the Wainwright ladies this afternoon. The score was 3-1.

Methodist and Presbyterian S. S. Play Tie Game

The hockey teams of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday Schools played a friendly match last night which resulted in a tie the score was 1-1.

Another Boost for Mixed Farming

RIGHT NOW, before he decides upon what crops he will put in this spring, is the time for the Alberta farmer to figure on what extent he will go into livestock feeding during the winter of 1913-14. Last year the out-turn of wheat from the province showed a decrease while oats production took a decided jump. This encouraging sign should be even more evident during the coming season. Western Canada's foremost livestock expert states that as an all 'round feed oats cannot be beaten and nowhere can better crops of oats be grown than in Alberta. Every Alberta farmer should consider oats his leading crop but he should not be satisfied with simply raising the grain; he should cut some green for fodder and utilize the balance of his crop for chop and feed every ounce of it right on his place.

THE ALBERTA FARMER should get no idea that livestock feeding operations require elaborate or expensive plants. There is not a single district in the province where stock cannot be wintered out-of-doors, in fact, those who have fed both inside and outside say that the animals do much better in the open. Cattle, hogs and sheep will well repay those fattening them during the winter even if the feeding stock has to be purchased. Agriculturists here may get many profitable lessons by studying the experiences of husbandmen in the older districts; our soil is probably the most fertile in the world but there is no use trying to fool ourselves into thinking that it will stand continuous cropping to grain and give paying crops forever without fertilization. In addition to this is the fact that mixed farming pays a continuous income. Those who practiced it in Alberta have found the system good.

FOR INSTANCE, a farmer writing to the Canadian Pacific Railway the other day, in the course of his letter said: "A mixed farmer always has something to sell if it is only a pig or some butter. It is surprising how handy the price of a good hog comes in when you go to pay your store bill, and again it is sometimes a $500 team of horses that makes the mixed farmer smile, because generally it is the straight grain grower who is the buyer." The same day came a letter to the same company from a farmer in Iowa who has bought a section here and is coming up in the spring. He said in part: "I want you to have six or eight high grade dairy cows and some brood sows ready to turn over to me when I arrive. I don't want to have to wait until I get a crop before my land starts to make money for me. I'm going to start right in to make money from the day I arrive." He is an experienced farmer and knows the right way to conduct his business.

The Cost of Distribution

Winnipeg Telegram Blames Middleman for Increasing Cost of Food Products

The Winnipeg Telegram blames the middleman for increasing the cost of food products in Winnipeg from 30 to 50 per cent. A recent investigation made by members of its staff, for the correctness of which it vouches, sheds some rather significant light on the rapid inflation of value in the food products after they have been taken from the railway. It says that butter which was bought in Regina sell at 26 cents a pound and on which freight equal to 1 cent a pound was paid, is sold in Winnipeg for 44 cents. The price advanced nearly 13 cents between the railway car and consumer in Winnipeg, or also at 50 per cent. Again, potatoes which were bought from Stonewall, Manitoba, farmers, for 20 cents a bushel, sold in Winnipeg warehouses at 65 cents. The freight was 12 cents, and the middleman's profit 33 cents, and the consumer paid 85 cents, or also at 50 per cent. Apples shipped from Ontario to Winnipeg and bought for 2 cents a pound, sold for 5 cents, and for eggs bought at 22½ cents per dozen, 35 cents per dozen was charged by the retailer. The value of such instances is that they help to establish what seems to be a fairly accurate ratio between the producers' selling price and the tax for distribution. The middleman handling perishable foodstuffs, taking large risks upon its condition in transportation and distribution, must justly be allowed a larger percentage of profit than a man who handles hardware, or other stable commodities. But the conclusion seems inevitable, that though individually the middleman may not obtain unreasonably large profits, after waste, losses through fluctuating markets and other factors are charged up, the distributing system may be most unnecessarily large and expensive. If a city has 10,000 retail stores, each competing sharply for business, where 5,000 could serve quite as well, the added competition is not a benefit to the community, in the sense that it must pay the heavy charges under which the superfluous 5,000 stores operate, and what profits there are inside. Direct dealing in food marketing is becoming more and more the solution for that part of the high cost of living which is the consequence of too elaborate and overdeveloped distributing system.

Western Cyclones Lose

he was comfortably lifting his left foot too high when the puck came to him barely ekkier on the ice. We think he had the spring ball or some other unpreventable disease in that member. He was also out on the fence for 20 minutes for balling down and knocking large dents in the ice.

The old men would of had an easy time if Tommy Whitmore had let a minute or cut off before he was going to shoot at goal not less than a dozen times and each time he got his stick tangled up in it. Tommy will make a hockey player alright if he cuts that mustache off and practices for about twenty years. One lively youngster saw how he was handicapped and tried to help him out but unfortunately for Tom, for just as he shot the puck that was aimed to separate him from his f wet he slipped and missed his aim but hit Tom on the ear cutting a nasty gash.

The rest of the old fellows not mentioned above played a good game but each spent as n or less time resting.

Baby Loan, Albert Somers, Ray Lattimer and Archie Prokkes were the stars on the Juniors. Jack Letourneau would also be classed among the stars, but the girls played upon his bashfulness and had him blushing half the time.

Jim Charlesworth refereed the game to the entire satisfaction of all although he had to suspend one time stooping dog fights that were quite numerous outside of the rink.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1913

A PROBLEM confronting Tofield which has been referred to by the Standard on a previous occasion is the housing question. The coming of the spring season this year is going to see a large demand for houses by the influx of population which is bound to come with the opening up of the Tofield Foundry and Machine Company and the Tofield Lumber Company. Other industrial concerns are likely to locate here and the consequent problem of providing sufficient accommodation for the housing of a suddenly increased population is one which should be considered before a crisis comes. In spite of the large number of new residences and rooming facilities which were provided last year every possession of this kind was taken advantage of by the end of the season and the present finds us in the same position.

The announcement that through the agency of our active industrial committee a textile industry has been secured to locate in Tofield during the present year which will within a few years cover one hundred hands is a significant emphasis of the truth of the statement in the above paragraph.

The opportunity is adequate to use their capital to good advantage, by providing a number of houses for rent is excellent and we trust will be taken advantage of early in the building season.

o o o o

Very much credit is due the [illegible] for the success that a gas flow estimated at 2,500,000 feet daily at a depth of 1360 feet has been struck. Further drilling is being prosecuted with in the hope of striking oil. It is understood that [illegible] is also said that at the strata being drilled through at [illegible] is a strong indication of oil. The announcement is [illegible] of Tofield as it is in strong substantiation of the theory held by Tofield for the past two years that the district is underlaid with a natural gas area of many square miles. The striking of natural gas at Vegreville will be but a further incentive to Tofielders to push the industry of development of our natural gas resources. It has been demonstrated to the world's satisfaction that we have a tremendous quantity of gas below the town. It is no fault of the town that our first venture resulted so disappointingly. It was the manner of putting down the well which resulted in the failure to capture the gas flow effectually. BUT THE FACT REMAINS THAT THE TREMENDOUS GAS FLOW WAS STRUCK AND THAT IT DEMONSTRATED ITSELF TO BE A FLOW OF BIG DIMENSIONS, and this satisfactorily to any and all who passed through Tofield during the time before the well was sealed with cement below.

Efforts will be made by the council as soon as the sale of our debentures is put through to have another gas well put down in such a manner that the mistakes made in the first hole will not be repeated. Tofield is confident that we will have gas before many months are over.

Importance of having Seed Tested

Much Seed now used Looks Good but the Germ has been Destroyed

From the [illegible] of tests made upon samples of grain from all parts of the province there is now [illegible] no longer any doubt that much of [illegible] is unfit for seed purposes, and that farmers [illegible] are running a serious risk if [illegible] before they have had the seed [illegible] a test made for vitality. This [illegible] refers to oats and barley. As we sample and address have pointed out before, such, although perfectly plump and in all outward appearance sound, may be quite unfit for seed, due to th germ having been killed by frost injury. For can tell whether such seed is capable [illegible] except by a germination test. [illegible] making a test [illegible] that provision [illegible] effected, however, [illegible] is generally [illegible] eral, good health [illegible] and we believe [illegible] able everywhere [illegible] mand. It is [illegible] important that [illegible] know positively [illegible] cured and that [illegible] everything [illegible] information [illegible] absolutely necessary and a certain Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made of ingredients [illegible] of purchase [illegible] of the best [illegible]

[illegible] the high neglect in this respect and knowing the danger of this, we are again strongly urging the necessity of having all oats and barley tested, as by this means much [illegible] this only, can much unnecessary hardship and loss to the country be eliminated.

For the information of those not already aware of the fact, we may repeat that all samples are tested free of charge by the Seed Laboratory, Calgary, and sample bags supplied without cost to all who apply for them. All that is necessary on the farmers part is to send the seed (about 1000 grains) and his name and address, in one corner, together with a distinguishing mark when more than one sample is forwarded. Such samples should be sent to the Dominion Seed Laboratory Calgary, where they will be tested and the report sent to the sender in [illegible] days.

Children are much more likely to contract the contagious diseases [illegible] when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles are diseases that [illegible] when the child is exposed. That is why all needed and all the [illegible] with extra precaution against colds [illegible] is the quick cure on earth for [illegible] and doing better than [illegible] Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made of ingredients [illegible] always be depended upon [illegible] and safe to take. A [illegible] of the best [illegible] sale by all dealers.

broken, and each one received never to play again, thus ended the first game of broom ball in Tofield.

It is not often that a bunch of men, who where get a bulleta perhaps 40 years ago, will get out and shaken to play a game like broom ball, and who will play hard and like good sports through the whole thing. It goes to show that Tofield is made off such stuff as long as our older men show a like spirit we need not worry, that any of our crack athletic teams will demonish her many seasons to come.

The teams lined up as follows:

Westsiders
Goal	Judge Midget Nolan
Point	Barker Pole Abbott
Cover Point	Papa McDonald
Centre	Doncher Kanor Tetley
Right Wing	Slim Stout
Rover	Fatty McMullen
Eastsiders
Goal	Rabbit-the-Face Hanson
Point	Eagle Eye Ferguson
Cover Point	Gunboat McConnell
Centre	Lightning Jarvis
Right Wing	Jeff Osborne
Rover	Let 'Er Trade Mahaffey

Smille Hanen refereed the game to the satisfaction of all but he didn't fall down as often as the players and those much biting in a match was done which he could n't see.

The ladies hockey team defeated the Edmonton store and the bank at a game played on the local rink on Wednesday evening. Illegible to 5.

THE STRUGGLE FOR THE EARTH

Books to Own the Earth Once from Tofield Drug Store

Tofield Drug Store

The script of town is crept in one city. We cannot tell whether we all agreeing from one church, or whether there were one or a hundred human beings created simultaneously. If the latter be the case it would be more than interesting to know the first thoughts of the first two open mouthed monkey that ever says "I Pity Monkey." We do not know what they were, nor are we even sure that we can make a correct guess. Though the thoughts of the first two probably these: "Gosh! something else have bubbled all like myself, is there? I thought the fourth belonged to me. Everything seems to have been made for my convenience, and here is someone just like me, who, of course, will want to be kind-hearted, or possibly wants that. He is to get up. I want the earth. I must tell him over the head forthwith."

Whatever, gentlemen, our other ideas regarding by no means how were for the first, there was a decided mistake. It did not take those good people long to realize the fact that there were a lot of others all roaming the earth, but this did not disturb them, nor has it disturbed out the centuries of the centuries. They continued to visit the earth; we continue to visit the earth; but the fact that we are strangers to each other, and sometimes fierce clash in our several natures, has taught us the absurdity of enacting the earth individually, so we now strive for it in bunches.

We have just received a full line of the finest fruits obtainable and will not your competition.

Tofield Preparing for Greatest Year in Its History

Personal and Local Items

Springtime days.

1913 is going to be a big year in Tofield's History.

Mrs. R. S. Cole spent Tuesday in Edmonton.

A series of interesting evangelistic services is being held in the Methodist church.

Mr. W. H. Cole and wife of Edmonton are visiting at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cole.

Albert Sinclair of the local G. T. P. telegraphic staff contemplates a trip east very shortly.

BORN—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Francis to Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hodges of Islay a son.

See the new stock of furniture and beds at Bruce's Hardware before buying elsewhere.

Clearing sale of wall paper at Jamieson's to make room for new stock. Big discount.

A number of people are now putting up ice for use during the summer.

Frank Mahaffey conducts an auction sale for C. O. Wilson, Ross Creek on Monday the 17th inst.

Mrs. J. W. Somers will receive for the first time since her marriage on Saturday March 15th.

Now is the time to use, Pratt's Animal Regulator to get your horses in good condition for spring work. For sale at Bruce's Hardware.

T. J. Rognoss of Kingman has assumed his new duties as secretary-treas of Cornhill Rural Municipality No. 487.

A Vermillion despatch states a land titles and registry district is to be established there instead of at Vegreville.

Ontario despatches tell interesting stories of how trains are snowed up in many parts of the western portion of that province.

Skating and curling seem to be past history for Tofield for the season. Never mind. We had lots of fun out of it this winter.

Rev. Alex. Stuart of Edmonton has been called to the pastorate of St. Andrews church, Tofield. He occupied the pulpit last Sunday. The induction of the new pastor takes place on the 18th inst.

A Lacombe despatch states that Rev. S. Nicholson late of Tofield has been engaged as assistant to the secretary of the board of trade there to write up advertising stuff for that district. He can do it.

There were some costumes at the Fancy Dress Carnival last Thursday night at the rink. Some for ingenuity. Some that were striking in their comic feature, and one for daring which did not receive the plaudits of the audience.

A. W. Yeager called at the Standard office last week and inquired whether much of Tofield could be purchased for a dusk, goose or a frog farm. He thought that some good money could be made at any of these lines. He was referred to Ted Story who is chairman of the Pub Wks. Committee.

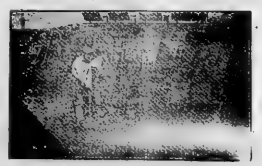
The Tofield Clay Products Co. Start Breaking Prairie to get at Clay

Mr. Douglas, Manager of the Tofield Clay Products Co., has been in town the last few days making arrangements for the commencement of making brick and other clay products just as soon as spring opens up sufficiently so that they can get at the clay. The contract has already been let for the breaking of the first five acres on their property in the Industrial site.

Tofield Foundry & Machine Co. Rushing Installation of Machinery

The Tofield Foundry & Machine Co. are rushing the work of installing their machinery and expect to have their plant turning out finished products within the next few weeks. The company has a contract to make 500 threshing machines to be completed by next August and as their plant at Medicine Hat is unable to turn all these out by that time many of them will have to be manufactured here. They look for a busy time the coming season.

May Start Making Brick and Mine only Sufficient Coal for Own Use



THE DOBELL COAL CO. OF TOFIELD

It has been rumored that the Dobell Coal Co. will discontinue the mining of coal here at present and devote their time to the manufacture of brick. The shale which composes the layer just above the coal is the best obtainable for this purpose and as brick is always scarce in this rapidly growing country Tofielders would be glad to learn that the rumor is true. The company's officials have spent some time here and it is thought that they came to this conclusion.

English Capitalists will Start Manufacturing Brick in Tofield

R. W. Plaskett informed the STANDARD this week that he has closed a deal with a number of English Capitalists in which they purchased ten acres of the Young estate between the depot and the coal mines. They will put in a large establishment for manufacturing brick tile etc. and contemplate starting work immediately. Mr. Robinson, manager of the concern, is expected here any time to make preparations for immediate action

All Business Men Preparing for Rush which always follows Industries

The business men of the city are looking for a big rush to this city the coming year and are preparing for it. With the opening of the foundry and machine shops, the commencing of the Tofield Clay Products Co. to manufacture brick, with the Dobell Co. manufacturing bricks, the starting of work on the brick plant which will be installed by English capital and the installing of the plant for the textile manufacturing concern which has signed to come here Tofield has in a fair way to double if not more than double in population in the next two years. A great number of people will be needed here to do the work required by these industries and an influx of immigration will follow rarely surpassed anywhere. These knocking Tofield may put away their little hammers for their knocking can do very little harm. Tofield is going to go ahead, not by a boom that will last for a short time only, then to fall down dead, but by a steady, healthy growth, which, only prospects such as we have can make.

A catastrophe happened a short time ago in Tofield. It was the failure of the management to have a moving picture film made of the daily lacrosse ball match reported in our last week's issue. Such a film would have had a nine weeks' run in every big and little city on the continent. And what an edition it would have been for Tofield too.

Mr. Benning of Bardo will sell all his household furniture and farm implements at J. Jessing's auction sale March 15th.

W. E. Powell and Mrs. Powell returned last Wednesday night from an extended visit to points in Iowa. Mr. Powell suffered a bad reverement during his visit to his paternal home in Delaware, Iowa for his father took ill suddenly with dropsy and paralysis and died in three days the date of his demise being February 9th last. The winter in Iowa was pleasant until recently when they had a bad blizzard. However, Tofield by far is good enough for Mr. Powell, he says, and he couldn't go back east again to live.

P. J. Kelly was in town the first part of the week.

Frank Adams of Edmonton was in town the first part of the week.

R. W. Williams was in Edmonton the first part of the week on municipal business.

Cottage Schools

A PRACTICE which has been followed in many places by school boards in providing for the accommodation of a steadily increasing number of pupils is that of erecting cottage schools where the accommodation of the permanent school building has become inadequate and the amount of ready money for the erection of a permanent building of such proportions as to prove to be years to come sufficiency of room for all grades is not available. By following this plan one or more cottage houses provide accommodation for the growing number of pupils and later when a permanent brick or stone school building is erected, these cottage schools are sold for the ceilings, they being constructed on the design that when their need as schools is past that they be changed into dwelling without great expense. Tofield school board is now building on third street as an annex to the permanent school building for over a year. Wainwright is now contemplating the erection of such an annex and a number of cities in the province this has been the practice for years. The local board is facing the proposition of providing still more increased accommodation and no doubt the practice followed by other centres when it is not considered advisable to go into the heavier expenditure of a large public school building will be of benefit when considering this important question.

Farmers Should Raise Stock

EVERY Alberta farmer should make up his mind that this year he is going to raise some stock; get some brood sows, dairy cows, feeder cattle or sheep and start in right now to figure on raising the feed for them. Those in the districts which have been proven successful should certainly go in for a good deal of alfalfa, those to the north can rely upon the native hay for part of the ration. Oats and barley, the former either green or ripe and latter for chop give big crops in all parts of the province. When Alberta farmers make up their minds to ship nothing from their farms except their wheat and feed everything else they will be in a position to laugh at frost or anything else that threatens their crops.

You will kindly not waste any time discussing this question further. It is settled."

Impressive scenes marked the inauguration ceremonies on the memorable 4th of March at Washington as Woodrow Wilson was sworn in as President of the United States. CRAVATH WINS

A SERIES OF TEN STORIES BY JOHN T McINTYRE

COPYRIGHT 1912 BY THE NORTH AMERICAN CO.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING STORIES

CRAVATH is an attorney young in years, of good family and fine appearance, who has come to the city of Ophir to practice his profession. He has a friend, Dr. Ellis, who is a physician and surgeon, and who has a large practice among the poor people of the city. Cravath has a friend, Dr. Ellis, who is a physician and surgeon, and who has a large practice among the poor people of the city. X—The Last Adventure

OF COURSE I was on to why a lady like Josephine, if I'm pretty good as that boat right. Then Cravath had never met a better fellow than Cravath, unless and his good fortune affected me perhaps more personally than any of my own. Besides, I had a hunch.

"A game boy," I said myself, as I sat in my room at the hotel. "A game boy with the makings. He'll get on."

To be sure, I could have done my hoard, there was precious little to do. But I had a hunch, and I let my thoughts absorb on what I was at the time to pay the fight had been, and was to be Saturday night, and the reward hitherto has been [illegible]

"With a quick snatch, I had the bag and found myself going into the smiling face of Cravath"

REV. F. J. JOHNSON, B. S., B. D., Evangelist.

The Evangelistic services under the direction of Evangelist Johnson are being continued each evening this week, with the exception of Saturday. Last week was given over mainly to workers, meetings. On Sunday the campaign was opened to the public. The Sunday evening meeting was reported as a strong presentation of a twentieth century gospel in both sermon and song. Mr. Harsfall had charge of the music, and demonstrated his ability as either a chorus leader or a soloist. The evangelist spoke from the text, "For the wages of sin is death." He showed forcibly the awful penalties men are paying right here in this world, for a wrong relationship with their God. The loss to the physical body to the intelectual and to the spiritual manhood were given special prominence. He dwelt upon and illustrated particularly the deterioration of character that comes through indulging the passions and desires of our lower natures, until said he, "we can no longer find any enjoyment in the higher possibilities of our beings." While he emphasized the hell that is possible on earth, he made clear his belief in a future state of eternal separation from God, if we choose such a condition for ourselves. Nor did he speak in vain for in response to his earnest appeal, three decided to follow Jesus Christ as Master while services thought characterized the expression of nearly everyone present. Each evening of this week he will deal with sin and the remedy provided. The evangelist will also have charge of both meetings next Sunday.

Regular Session of Town Fathers

Town Council for 1913 Meets Success with Every Effort Put Forward

TOFIELD'S WATCHWORD IS "SUCCESS." Success is attending every personal effort put forth by the council of 1913. Success in straightening out the financial tangles inherited from 1912, success in pushing forward our industrial effort and success in putting into practice a wise and progressive policy of development.

Council met in regular in session last Monday evening and confirmed the verbal agreement entered into by its industrial commissioner, W. G. White, with two proposed Tofield Textile Company, a group of Toronto capitalists and practical men who desire to locate a large manufacturing concern at Tofield. The solicitor was instructed to prepare the agreement and bring it in at next meeting of council.

Councillor Whillans as a special committee of one appointed at last meeting of council to go to the Capital and see to the passing of a Special Act validating the 1912 debentures by-laws reported excellent progress. The petition for the Act had been received and granted and the Act had been brought in and had been passed through its first reading and through its final stages, having to their non having been posted up by the then 20-opsa at the time of their being advertised prior to the voting thereon, they have been rendered invalid. Issue this notice of council to such their validation.)

Councillor Whillans, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Com. presented the report of that committee which recommended the installation of a fire pressure main on the loop in rear of lots facing on Main St. on the east side from 2nd Ave to Cookson Ave with a connecting main on 4th Ave to connect with the pumping plant and hydrants at 2nd, 3rd, 4th 5th, 6th and Cookson Avenues. This to be done as soon as possible after the sale of the debentures is completed This report was adopted. The report recommended that the appointments to office on the fire brigade, viz: M. W. Ferguson, chief N. S. Smith deputy-chief and J. W. McMullen sec.-treas., be approved of, and the brigade's request that the fire alarm system be fixed and the posts on which the alarm boxes be painted red, which recommendations were passed.

Commissioner White reported excellent progress resulting from his visit to Toronto for the purpose of seeking the purchase of Tofield debentures. In a field where $1,500,000 worth of municipal debentures were being offered for sale and only $100,000 in sight to meet the demand, Tofield has been fortunate in placing $50,000 of her bonds which drew six per cent. Tofield has come out of it with one-third of all that was in sight. This fact indicates in a striking manner the confidence which Capital feels in Tofield's municipal and industrial development and future.

It was decided that it would be wise to dispose with the bells now using as the pumping plant and in their stead a good second hand 100 125 h.p. boiler in first class condition will be advertised for in Edmonton and Calgary.

Routine business was passed and the salary of auditor raised by bylaw to $200 per year.

Council passed a resolution expressing satisfaction with the able manner in which Mr. White handled the town's financial problems on his visit to Toronto.

The copies of the Alberta Gazette part were order of control and also its publication in the Standard.

By amendments to existing bylaws dog licenses were increased to $2 per year for males and $5 for females and pool room licenses to $12 for first tables and $7 each for additionals.

Redistribution

Making an Increase of 15

The government's redistribution bill was brought down this week and was last on the table on Tuesday afternoon. It provides for an increase of 15 members thus bringing the house up to 56.

The Vegreville riding, the rearrangement of which is of particular interest to the majority of the readers of the STANDARD, has been changed in several respects but in so far as Tofield, Ryley and Holden districts are concerned remains the same. Vilking and Beaus districts are switched to Sedgewick, the constituency of Hon. Chas. Stewart Minister of Municipalities. One range of townships is taken from Vermilion, Hon. A. L. Sifton's riding and added to Vegreville and Township 51 and north to the Saskatchewan river in ranges 13, 14 and 15 are taken from Vegreville to form part of Whitford riding, a riding which will readily allow the election of a Ruthenian member. Wainwright is also a rich and industrial area in territory south and east of that town but also includes the territory west of the Battle river to the meridian between ranges 10 and 11 west of Jarrow and Irma and comprises township 43, 38 and 47 ranges 7 to 10, thus cutting off J. G. Clark's end of Sifton's constituency. (Clark had been nominated by the Conservatives at Vermilion to contest the election with the premier.)

Dobell Company to Increase Operations

Purpose Greatly Extending Coal Mining Operations. Also a Large and Up-to-date Brick Plant to be Installed

The STANDARD is in receipt of a communication from the managing director of the Dobell Coal Co. in say relative to an article which appeared in our last week's issue discussing the rumor with regard to that company's intent to establish a large brick manufacturing plant. Through some misunderstanding our reporter dozed out the statement that it was understood that the company intended to devote their whole attention to the manufacture of brick and only utilize their coal deposits in this connection. The company's communications entirely disproves this statement and emphasizes the fact that in spite of a bad winter, they have had a very profitable year and that they are preparing to largely increase their output and sales. The installing of a brick plant is still under consideration and active measures are being taken in this direction. The STANDARD takes the keenest pleasure in announcing the splendid development made by this company and regrets publication of any statement made in error regarding any alleged rumor to the effect that the company's intentions were in any wise other than above stated.

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.

One of the first surprises which greeted Sunday McDonald on his return last week from his trip to the subterranean south was the consplenous reminder", as he called it as to prices which adorn a prominent place upon the barber shop walls.

Why wait till the spring rush? Bring your plows in to be repaired and get your discs sharpened now. McHeffey & Foster, blacksmiths

Special Act Passed

The Special Act validating debenture bylaws 74, 75, 76, 77, and 79 of the Town of Tofield, 1912, received its third reading and was finally passed by the Alberta Legislature last night. Thus practically the validity of these debentures beyond question.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1913

G. T. P. Gets No Constituency

THE GOVERNMENT REDISTRIBUTION BILL has been introduced. It does not provide for a constituency along the G. T. P. from Cooking Lake to Kinsella. Tofield-Ryley and Holden sections are made the tail end of Vegreville constituency as rearranged. Viking and Bruce sections are switched to Sedgewick on the south to provide expected Liberal votes for the Minister of Agriculture while from that point on east to the boundry the G. T. P. has been given the Wainwright riding.

The Standard has all along held that, were the people along the G. T. P. to be given their rights they should be given the means whereby they should have a direct representative. There is no doubt but that the bill will go through the House much as it has been brought in. That the arrangement of the new Vegreville riding is unsatisfactory the majority of electors will assert in no uncertain manner. Their voice at the election which is now certain to follow at no distant future date will be an indictment to the powers that be that they will not be a party to hide bound partyism which over rules the peoples rights. The people have their chance. Will they use it?

The Late Malcolm McKenzie

THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA loses a clever administrator, a wise and aggressive legislator and worthy citizen in the death of Hon. Malcolm McKenzie. He has been a resident of Alberta since the early days, a member of the provincial legislature since the organization of the province, and a minister for less than a year. He did his best work as a legislator. He was the first legislator in Western Canada—and many had tried—to find the weak spot in the tax exemption armor of the C. P. R. and introduced legislation taxing the branch lines. That has already meant many thousands of dollars to the province. He placed much other very excellent legislation on the statute books, and was a good influence upon the legislature.

Mr. McKenzie was a very warm friend, but as might be expected of such an aggressive, fearless and not always most tactful public man, he had bitter enemies as well. He was harshly maligned, misrepresented and slandered. It is doubtful if another citizen of Alberta was ever so viciously persecuted both in and out of the press. It is gratifying to know that before his death he was able to disprove to the satisfaction of all that the harsh and cruel slanders were without foundation and that the people of Alberta were able to judge him at his real worth.

Though subject to ill health during the last few years he was very active during the recent session of the legislature. Mentally he was in his prime. He had gained the respect of his fellow members and was regarded as amongst the best, if not actually the ablest, legislators in the province of Alberta. The province loses much by his untimely death.

Edmonton Spring Show and Live Stock Sale

The Edmonton Spring show and sale of pure-bred live stock, to be held on the Exhibition ground under the auspicies of the Edmonton Exhibition Association on April 2 and 3, promises to be a big success. This is of course very gratifying to the Alberta Provincial Pure-bred Societies, under whose management, in conjunction with the Exhibition Association, the Show and Sale are being conducted. A large number of entries have already been received, including Holsteins, Ayrshires, beef and dairy Shorthorns. The show of horses will also be a magnificent feature of the Show. Edmonton has already made a name second to none in Western Canada for shows of livestock and this year promises to be better than ever.

The farmers of the province are fortunate in being able to secure pure-bred stock in this way. For many years to come, the demand for good stock will far exceed the local supply, and many far-sighted farmers have already signified their intention of taking advantage of this opportunity to secure foundation stock from which to build up herds.

Excursion rates on all railways, single fare return, good going April 1st, 2nd and 3rd and returning up to the fifth.

W. C. T. U.

A large gathering of the local union met on Thursday afternoon by the kind invitation of Mrs. McCauley, at her residence on King St. Three new members were added to the roll. The Union is certainly gaining ground in our town.

At the February meeting of the union Rev. M. Whillans gave an illustrated temperance address. Which was appreciated by the members and suggestions were made that it would be advisable to exhibit the same illustrations at the different Sunday schools, and it was decided to interview the superintendents regarding the matter. A long discussion took place with reference to different ways of making preparations for a medal contest in the near future. Some motions were passed and arrangements made with reference to same.

At close of meeting a very pleasant social time was spent by those present. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. R. S. Whillans second Thursday in April.

5000 Facts About Canada

The public will observe the 1913 Edition of "5,000 Facts About Canada," issued this year by the Trade Index Bureau, Ottawa, Canada, and the author of the book, Dr. Albert Charles Campbell, M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., has spared no pains to make it the most complete and authentic work ever published about Canada and the Empire, in short the world.

The Facts in this book is stuffed so full of information as a sausage is of meat, in the happy and true way an English Journal puts it, and the new issue which includes many new features and improvements, such as a colored map of the Dominion, presents a striking picture of the wonderful advance of Canada in a single year. We must talk in billions.

The book is issued at 25 cents a copy, by the Canadian Facts Pub. Co. 536 Huron Street, Toronto, and is sold by all leading newsdealers.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

For Town of Tofield

For the Year Ending December 31, 1912

February 14 1913

To the Mayor and Council,
Town of Tofield

Gentlemen:—

I beg leave to submit the following:—

Statement of Assets and Liabilities Current " " Capital
Revenue Account for the year 1912
Inventory of Town Property
" Real Estate

With the object of showing more clearly the financial standing of the town I have made separate statements of the "Current" and "Capital" Assets and Liabilities. In the Capital statement I show the Debenture liabilities (stating the present standing of the various issues) against which is shown the current assets (deducting the purposes of these debenture issues) as their present cost value as permanent improvements or public benefits. In the Current statement is shown the present standing of the Town's resources, showing the surplus produced by the acquisition of realizable real and personal property which I have specified and appraised at reasonable figures as set forth in the Inventories. In this connection I beg to draw your attention to the foot note I have made on the statement of Town Property.

The machinery, &c., which I refer to is all in connection with the Gas and Water Works and will be used up or rendered in these undertakings but after the undertakings are completed there will remain considerable which will have a tangible value some of which may be realizable if not required for other purposes of the town. If an inventory of these had been taken it would have shown some tangible value for the money already spent and have provided the means of checking up and controlling the future disposal of these known articles which are sometimes unaccountably lost sight of. I trust my suggestion for stock-taking now, before the resumption of active work, will be acted on.

The arrears of taxes outstanding at the close of 1912 is nearly double that of the previous year. It is to be hoped that the tax enforcement proceedings now being effected will remedy this.

It is regrettable that the unfortunate state of the money market has prevented the sale of your debentures but it is to be hoped that some favourable offer will be received before long. The by-laws authorizing the debenture issues have been approved and certified by the Department of Municipal Affairs which makes their validity unassailable, and the financial standing of the town affords good and sufficient security for prospective purchasers.

The realization of debenture money would free $21,686.54 spent from current funds and enable you to meet the bills payable and the School District Tax Claim and also to reduce the indebtedness to the bank to the sum within the limits of the tax arrears, against which you are authorized to borrow besides providing funds for carrying on the work. If this is effected I have no doubt your bankers will readily advance all money necessary for current purposes on the security of your present year's tax levy. Every effort should be made to place your finances on this basis at the earliest possible date.

In connection with the statement of real estate I beg to draw your attention to the foot-note in regard to land titles and to urge that immediate action be taken to secure the registration of titles and the acquisition of Certificates of Ownership of the properties.

I have found the accounts of your town in good order and all expenditures appear to be properly and sufficiently vouched for and legally authorized.

The Tax Roll for 1912 has been agreed and balanced and I have arranged to check over and verify to the "Tax Enforcement Return" which has been prepared by your Sec-Treasurer, so that application may be made for its confirmation by a Judge as provided for in the "Town Act" thus assuring absolutely the payment of all tax arrears, or the ultimate forfeiture of the land to the town in default such payment. These proceedings should be carried out on strict conformity to the "Town Act."

Respectfully Submitted
GEO. J. KINNAIRD
Auditor

Beaver Lake Last.....

D. P. McCallum west of Malcolm McCallum, is now putting used on the C. P. R. between Edmonton and Calgary. Miss M. B. McCallum has charge of the Beaver Lake School District school here.

Some New Yorkers and others advocate doing away with all titles of courtesy such as Miss, Mrs., Mr., etc. Isn't it a great pity we don't resort to savagery altogether? If these folks and the simplified spelling cranks were deported and landed on a desert island somewhere it would be a distinct benefit to the world at large. Mrs. Pankhurst and others of that ilk could be spared too to keep them company. Great Scott! wouldn't they have high old times!

Jas. A. Stewart, who had a very pleasant trip through B. C. says the prairies of Alberta and Beaver Lake Land especially, for him, beat there, unless something is done to curb the rapacity of the railways and middlemen, the fruit industry will die. A letter from a friend in the Okanagan Valley bears this out. He says, "We are terribly handicapped by the railway charges, packing companies, and the wholesale houses on the prairies. Under present conditions the prairies are a great deal better as a money-making proposition."

Children are much more likely to contract the contagious diseases when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and consumption are diseases that are often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities say beware of colds. For the quick cure of colds you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

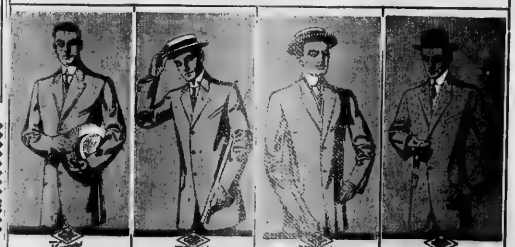
"Century" Brand Styles for Spring



THIS style is known as Model 28 in the 20th Century Brand line for '13. It's a three button style, with very smart lapels, fine shoulders and cleverly draped skirt. The dressy young man will appreciate its fine lines, and will also appreciate the fact that it is 20th Century Brand.

STYLE is quality that makes the clothes of distinction and sets them apart from the commonplace. Style, plus quality, plus fit, tell the story of 20th Century Brand superiority and 20th Century success. You are entitled to your money's worth.

20th Century Brand models for Spring and Summer, 1913, have all the grace, style and distinction that have given them a national reputation. The fabrics are the most attractive ever shown in this famous line, and the tailoring is of the highest standard inside and outside. See these new models before you place your Spring order.

THE two-button style with long lapels is exemplified in all its grace and sprightliness in the 20th Century Brand model here illustrated. It is distinctly the young man's favorite, and when tailored in the smart new Spring weaves it is the last word in modish attire for the good dresses.

Legislature Dissolved Late Tuesday Night

Announcement Comes Suddenly

Announcement Come Suddenly---Both Parties Prepared ---Election Fight On---Members Rush Home to take part in Fray

VEGREVILLE CONVENTION FRIDAY

The Legislature was dissolved last Tuesday night by proclamation of His Hon. Lieutenant Governor Bolyea. The general election will take place on Thursday, April 17 with the nominations on April 10 one week earlier.

The announcement of the election comes as no surprise to either party Both have been preparing for it for some months past and in many constituencies candidates for parties have been selected. The Liberal party claim to be in a strong position and are confident of coming back with a strong majority. The Conservative party on the other hand claims that they are sure that the people of Alberta will oust the Sifton administration and place the reins of power in their hands. The running officers for all the ridings have been appointed. The Liberal convention for the selection of a candidate for this constituency will be held at 2 p. m. on the Friday of this week in Vegreville.

Premier Sifton has received the unanimous nomination as Liberal candidate in two constituencies, Vermilion and Macleod He will run in both.

Strong in the running for the nomination for Vegreville are two candidates, J. H. Hobben and J. S. McCallum. The latter is putting up a strong bid for the nomination while the friends of the former are sticking to hold the honor for Vegreville. Several papers have been mentioning the names of A. J. H. McCauley and R. N. Whillans of Tofield as possible candidates but neither of these gentlemen have any aspirations as such.

J. D. Kennedy has been hazed from recently. He is now down in Maine and doubtless doing some strong boosting for Tofield.

Messrs Rubben and Jaggie have moved out onto the former's farm in the Woodlawn section where they will conduct a progressive stock farm.

J. R. Howe expects to shortly occupy the building on 3rd Ave E now occupied by Frank Ray. He intends to put in a stock of flour and other commodities.

"You can say goodbye to constipation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by all dealers."

The property owners on 2nd Ave E. are putting it strongly up to the Council to have a sidewalk built on both sides of that Ave E, early in the spring as possible

Miss Mabel Mahaffey has a quantity of wall paper which she wishes to dispose of. Those desiring wall paper can get it below cost for the next 30 days from her. 28-tf

Why wait till the spring rush? Bring your plows in to be repaired and get your discs sharpened now. McHeffey & Foster, blacksmiths

Mr. Jake MacDonald, of the Queen's Hotel has been confined to the house for the past few days with a very severe cold

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon Try it. Sold by all dealers.

O. W. Robertson of Vegreville, President of the Liberal Executive Association of the Vegreville constituency was in Tofield last Monday afternoon

The local bakery is enjoying a very successful business under the the management of J. C. Richards, having sold over one hundred dozen Hot Cross buns which were consumed on Good Friday.

P. W. Taylor has purchased the Latimer Cafe and confectionery store and purposes running it in a first-class and up-to-the-minute manner. He advertises in the back page.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do but by what he has done That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.

In police court last Saturday James W. Marr preferred a charge of assault against M. Dunlberger the case coming up before Justice Whillans. The evidence was such that the court dismissed the charge against the accused and imposed the costs of the case upon the complainant.

Charles O. Peterson, who on the 17th of Ireland met with a rather severe hot water treatment which necessitated skilled medical assistance and for which he went to the hospital at Edmonton returned last Tuesday being much improved.

"When a man swears he has bagged himself. He is ignorant, morally wrong, religiously stupid, socially cheap and generally low or ill-bred. Not able to reason, think, analyze, express, vocalize and articulate in a decent fashion—he swears. Heaven pity such!" Two thousand cards with the above printed on them have been circulated in the town of Berlin by an anti-swearer who is commencing a campaign. Such a campaign would not be amiss in Tofield for the amount of profanity which one hears on the streets and in all public places is astonishing. Some young fellows (not young men) have become so low minded as to have a total disregard for the sensibilities of girls and women. Perhaps if such cards as those circulated in Berlin were circulated in Tofield they would cause some of these young fellows to stop and think before expressing themselves in their ill-bred manner and cause them to have respect for others in their presence, particularly for the fair sex, if not for themselves.

Provincial Election in the Air

Primaries for Appointing Delegates to attend Conventions are being held by Liberal all over Province

Primaries for appointing delegates to attend conventions which will choose candidates to contest their various constituencies at the forthcoming provincial general election are being held all over the province by the Liberals this week.

Vegreville Liberal convention will be held on Friday of this week and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected that the contest for the candidature has simmered down to a running fight between J. H. Hobben, who has represented this constituency for the past eight years, and J. S. McCallum, general merchant of Mundare. Mr. McCallum is making a strong bid for the nomination. There will be upwards of 100 delegates at the convention, representing every corner of the riding.

Curling

Ladies Trophy won by Dr. Hammond's Rink

The Bonspiel for the Ladies' Trophy closed the other night, Dr. Hammond's rink being the winner by defeating A. J. H. McCauley's rink The series of games in this spiel was by far the most connected of any yet carried out and was characterized by more enthusiasm perhaps than formerly. This was no doubt due to the fact that the rinks of lesser fame curled very well on many occasions. Much credit is due to the ladies for getting up this Bonspiel and for providing the handsome cup which was to be awarded to the winner In this matter, Mrs. (Dr.) McQueen was the leading enthusiast, as it was she who pushed along the scheme to success. With her were associated Mesdames Whillans, Davison, Bird, (Dr.) Hammond, Lee, Brose, Rogers, Heath, Hall, McCosker, Nesbitt Logue, Emery, J. Lee, King, Cree, Morton, Johb, Kennedy, Hannan, W. Bowick, Newbigging, J. MacDonald, and Miss O. Mahaffey.

The cup which is a beautiful piece of silverware was purchased through Mr. Cartwright of Jackson Bros. and is splendid value for the $25 invested in it by the Ladies each of whom donated one dollar for its purchase. The condition of cosily won out in many instances. Best Proof in the World That Act is Along Correct Lines

BECAUSE the Alberta Government has passed the the Farm Machinery Act, which is legislation for and directly in the interests of the farmers of Alberta, the threat has been openly made that the machinery interests will put the government out of power at the next elections, failing which they threaten to withdraw from Western Canada altogether. However, inasmuch as the company that is making the biggest howl is reported to have been virtually kicked out of the United States because it has been adjudged to be a combine in restraint of trade, it is not likely they will voluntarily leave Alberta or Western Canada; if they did that they would have to move to either Mexico or China, either of which countries would be much better adapted to their unfair and unjust business methods.

The Act is one of the most advanced pieces of legislation yet placed on the statute books of this or any other province. One of the most important clauses provides that any contract for farm machinery made between a farmer and representatives of implement firms shall be subject to the decision of the courts as to its reasonableness and if, on the matter being taken into court, the presiding judge decides that the contract is unreasonable, the latter shall not be bound by it.

In the past many cases have been heard where the judge had to give a decision against the farmer solely on account of the written agreement or contract by which the machinery was purchased, although personally the judge was convinced that the agreement was unreasonable. Under the Act just passed in the face of serious opposition from the implement manufacturers and their representatives, the Alberta Government has changed all this, and the decision as to whether the contract is reasonable or not, and as to whether the farmer has to abide by it or not, is left with the judge.

The same Act also makes the implement firm responsible for all representations made by the agent when selling the machinery, whether the representations are contained in the written contract or not and also compels the implement people to live up to the guarantees under which they sell their goods.

In short, this Act simply ensures for the farmer a reasonable contract, protection against false representations by unscrupulous agents and compels the manufacturers to build their machines as good as they say they do. By their strenuous opposition to the Act the implement firms are simply admitting that they do not want the farmers to have set of reasonable contracts, or any of the other protection provided by this Act, and which is their right.

The executive of the United Farmers of Alberta has endorsed this move, and the farmers may rest assured that it is therefore very much in their interests to support both it and the Government which brought it into existence.

And the honest implement people lend about the passing of the Act, the surer is the farmer that their signature has guarded his interests in drawing up the new ones.—Pincher Creek Echo.

Provincial Elections Coming

THE people of Alberta may expect to hear within the next few days the announcement that the date for the coming provincial elections has been set. That it will be held within the next month seems to be the general opinion. Legislature is due to prorogue this week. Both parties are preparing in every constituency for the fight and both are out to win. While any one may not see eye to eye with his party the fact that the party system is the system to vogue should not deter him from interesting himself in the present issue of the day and in the campaign that is coming off and exercising his franchise. The great question of the day for the elector to decide is whether the principles of one party or those of the other are the best for the country.

Children are more likely to contract contagious diseases when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and consumption are diseases that often commence with a cold. Don't let a cold last a cold. The quicker you get rid of it the better. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will find nothing better than It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers

Is the original invention of Mr. Edison who still controls its manufacture and is constantly striving for its improvement.

It has a permanent reproducing point of sapphire which does not require changing. This point does away with the constant changing of needles incident to other type of machines. Council Approve New Sidewalks

Sidewalk Bylow to be further Amended—Properties benefitted to bear whole cost of local improvement exclusive of Crossings

Council met in regular session last Monday evening.

Messrs Smith & Keith of Edmonton had a letter before council asking its approval and endorsation of their subdivision plan of N.W. ¼ 2 51 19. Council dealt with it by passing the following resolution:

Petitions for sidewalks on 2nd. avenue E., 3rd avenue and 4th avenue, 2nd avenue W. and a temporary sidewalk on 8th avenue were received and laid on the table for consideration.

A number of tenders of stationery bylaws were received and were referred to engineer Armstrong for report and recommendation.

A delegation comprised of Messrs. Montagnet King, Hannon, Hay and Esty representing the property owners on 2nd avenue were present and urged upon Council the immediate construction of the sidewalks prayed for and circulated upon by Mr. Hay stated that if the sidewalks were built he would put in a stock of general goods and open up his store. He could not do this until these were built. Council declared its approval of assisting in the improvements asked for.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the meeting was adjourned to Tuesday night for the transaction of further business.

The adjourned meeting of Council was held on Tuesday night. Councillor Young gave notice of motion that he would at next meeting move for the introduction and passing of an amendment to bylaw No. 97 which would provide that the cost of sidewalk local improvements would be wholly borne by the properties abutting on the benefitted by the improvement, the town at large bearing that part of the cost represented by the street and alley crossings.

The petitions for sidewalks on both sides of 2nd Avenue and on the north side of 3rd Avenue from Main Street to King and the north side of 4th Avenue from Main to Dominion were considered and, on motion of Councillor Whillans council approved of the building of 6 foot walks on these streets as outlined. A 4 foot walk on 2nd Avenue north side from Main to A. McMullen's lot was also petitioned for and approved.

As soon as the assessment is completed a debenture bylaw will be submitted for the approval or otherwise by the ratepayers for building of these improvements.

J. W. Morton was present and called council's attention to the fact that there was urgent need for a day constable on the streets and instanced several cases where the dignity of the public was recently outraged. Council instructed Constable McMullen to go on day duty at once and to see that the town bylaws were strictly enforced, also to engage a night watchman for a month.

Miss Mabel Mahaffey has a quantity of wall paper which she wishes to dispose of. Those desiring wall paper can get it below cost for the next 30 days from her. 29-tf

Duncan Foster returned from Edmonton last Monday with his bride. They were married last Friday and have taken up house in Mr. Maxwell's house on 1st avenue.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

Bad vs. Good Real Estating

ALL SENSIBLE TOFIELDERS will undoubtedly approve the action of Council last Monday night in clearly defining its official position and the mind of Tofielders in general with respect to the approval of extension of the subdivided areas beyond the territory already subdivided and which extends even now some distance without the town boundaries.

Sometimes we are disposed to speak strongly concerning the indiscriminate latitude taken by many real estate operators in pursuit of their unnatural lust for gain. That the situation the West over is deplorable in this respect is but too true and that this regrettable condition of affairs reflects unjustifiably upon a large number of reliable and trustworthy real estate concerns who refuse to be parties to bouncing the unsuspecting public, is also only too true. The press has many times over called the attention of the public to the necessity of exercising care in making investments throughout the West. Regarding Tofield investments every prospective investor at a distance from Tofield might do well to do as many are doing, seek information regarding his intending purchase from resident property brokers before making final purchase. Tofield's realty operators, who are doing business in the town are men who have invested, have been making and who intend to make Tofield their permanent home and it is preferably from such men as these that intending investors should secure advice, rather than from some conscienceless operators, who seldom see Tofield but who are in a great way to make fortunes from handling subdivision properties, from blue prints which appear very attractive to the unsuspecting public.

What Tofielders would like to see is that in the majority of instances intending purchasers of property here should come to see their prospective investments before making the final plunge, or at least seek information from reliable sources.

Tofield has abundant opportunity for excellent investments in real property. Tofield has a golden future ahead of it. Tofield welcomes the booster and the investor and is pleased that he comes to reap a share in honest profits. But Tofield does not stand for any wild cutting and as Council in it a resolution passed last Monday night says, cannot at present approve of the further subdivision of property surrounding the town and at some distance from the existing town boundaries.

Drainage Nuisance

MANY CITIZENS have been complaining, and justly so, about the almost total lack of proper drainage facilities in various sections of town. It does not seem possible that ways and means might be discovered to relieve the Public Works department from its seeming helplessness. There is no just cause why private citizens should be financial losers on account of the town's carelessness or neglect. The fact is that the town is liable

The Elections

THE ENTIRE PROVINCE is now in the throes of mortal political combat. The fight is going to be the most bitter struggle between the parties in the history of the province. Both sides have been preparing for the election for months and both are enthusiastic and confident of victory. The A. & W. affair is being made largely a main issue in both camps. The Liberal party claims that the country is sold by the Sifton administration while the opposition claims that the government forces are on the run and April 17 is certain to see the end of what they call a conglomerate government which has mismanaged the province's affairs.

GOOD AND BAD TAXES

"It is terrible," said the Sheep of the Middle Ages to a Western negro as they sat in the fire and listened to the other one bleating with out, "to be taxed under which we abundant and growing no one is allowed for the luxurious of Canada by the customs and excise tariff."

The Modern Farmer

The two men were admirable examples of Eastern and Western farmers. The Sheep reminded the other of one of the street cars in the Reeve's own words a town as all by the simple but highly intelligent. A Middle man was the Reeve and given to speech only when he had brooded long over his subject. The negro was a long, lithe individual person, skeptical about the statements of others but enthusiastic in regard to his own, a good talker on a text and satisfied of his knowledge. Neither have any resemblance to that "Farmer" who is the delight of the cities. They never yield for long to their lives. Nor had any of their wits been dulled by the deadening influence of familiar characteristic of the cities, creating a fear actor's body, never sent. They could not resemble something which does and exist except in the variety stage.

"How standard" drawled the negro, "and too grazing."

The Great Tax

The Reeve paused before replying and altered his eyes to take in the group picture of his farm buildings, together with pleasures of field and age views of cereals, clover fields which had grown well on the light fallow farms in the country and pasture as it met the wife and children.

"I'd hate to see a direct tax put upon this land and those buildings to help replace the revenue raised by customs and excise. If some of the duties on British goods could be realized and a tax of 25 per cent. should be levied on all goods coming in from outside countries, I'm willing to bet a dollar to a doughnut that it is to be retained for seeding without taking any kinds of preservation, and every effort will be made to apply the Act to farmers as strictly as to seed merchants.

Paper packets of vegetables and flower seed cannot be marked, showing the year in which they are sold, and farmers and others purchasing such seed should see that all packages are marked before purchasing.

Seed grain, clover and grass seed will be tested at Vegetable Pathology Station, Agassiz, Manitoba, when samples may be sent in by farmers. The fee for testing is 25 cents per sample. Germination tests will be made at the Seed Laboratory, Calgary, Alberta.

A. D. CAMPBELL,
Inspector for Western and North Central Alberta.

FARM AND FIELD

DEADLY ORCHARD BLIGHT

Prompt and Firm Handling Would Stamp Out This Disease in a Few Years.

The most serious menace that fruit growers have to face, the efforts in the direction of which have extremely known as "pear blight," or "fire blight," is the subject of a bulletin just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture which contains much information of value to orchardists. The bulletin is by Dr. F. Wm. Hodgetts, Dominion Entomologist, and Mr. A. H. Gibson, Dominion Horticulturist, and is entitled "Bacterial Blight of Pear and Apple."

In many sections of the country this disease has become so destructive that it is impossible to grow pears with any degree of success. In the Niagara district, for instance, it is estimated that about fifty per cent. of the pear trees have been killed by this disease, and in some orchards the loss has been even greater than this. In the Georgian Bay district, also, the disease has done considerable damage, and in the Okanagan district it is now present in almost every orchard in which pears are grown. As soon as conditions are suitable, the disease becomes active and may spread with great rapidity. Under favorable conditions it may kill a tree in a few days. Experience has shown that the disease can be controlled by the prompt removal and burning of affected parts of apple trees, and the bulletin points out that if this method is followed out in a thorough manner the disease could be entirely eradicated from the country in a few years. The bulletin gives full directions for the treatment of the disease, and should be in the hands of every fruit grower.

FEWER CATTLE IN WESTERN CANADA

Decline of Live Stock Industry Bears Out Statement of Liverpool Expert.

Many farmers think that no horses or cattle should be sold this year because the comparatively small number now in existence. However, this is not found to be the case. Such a general statement is misleading. Conditions vary greatly in different districts. In some districts there is a large number of horses and cattle which are not needed on the farms in those districts. In many sections of the country there is an apple crop which will be a failure. Here the orchard farm will be compelled to sell. Further, there are many districts where the feed crop was poor. In all of these districts it is necessary to sell a large number of cattle. In other districts where the feed crop was good, there is no necessity to sell. In fact, in many districts it is necessary to purchase feed. Therefore, it is impossible to make a general statement that no horses or cattle should be sold this year. Each farmer must decide for himself whether he has any horses or cattle which he can sell to advantage. Many farmers have been compelled to sell their horses and cattle in the past few years because they were not in a position to feed them. Many of these animals would have been kept if the farmers had had the feed. Therefore, it is not necessary to sell any horses or cattle which can be kept on the farm. Edmonton Man Is Found Dead On G. T. Railway

Arthur Connely, of Penn. is struck by train West of Tofield

Arthur Connelly, a young man of about twenty years, hailing formerly from Braddock Pennsylvania, was killed, last Sunday on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific at a railway crossing west of Deville, some twenty miles west of Tofield and same distance east of Edmonton.

He had come down from Edmonton Sunday morning to Cooking Lake en route to the of farm W. A. Asher at Deville, for whom he worked. He was struck by an extra west going freight in the afternoon.

The engineer's story is to the effect that he saw what he thought to be a dog lying at the side of the track let up about a minute. Apparently he showed the object to be a valise, and immediately before it reached the body it was noticed it was beside the rail.

Owing to the short grade and the speed of the train from all efforts on the part of the engineer to stop it before striking the body. Every effort had the train was stopped and the engineer went to Tofield for a gang men who collected the body to be brought to Tofield.

The deceased is not known to have any relatives in this country. He worked in the car shops in Edmonton, being a member of the Industrial Labor Union.

Election Fight on in Full Swing

Speakers of both Parties working Overtime---Each Party confident of Victory with Big Majority--Hon. J. R. Boyle Opens Campaign here--Fred Morrison Speaks to Big Audience on the A. & G. W. Affair

Hon. J. R. Boyle at Tofield

Holds Attention of Large Audience while he outlines Legislation of Sifton Administration

John R. Boyle, Minister of Rds., were elevated pros and ... enterprise of the Sifton government he claimed to be ... the town hall. Although the meeting was advertised only a few hours the hall was filled to the doors with an interested throng anxious to hear the questions of the day discussed by one of the members of the government.

Mr Boyle made a lengthy speech going into many details of the legislature on the part of the government in its seven years of power. They claimed that the province was too deeply in debt but Mr. Boyle declared, both Calgary and Edmonton have paid ... debts in excess of the provincial debt and the credit of the province was far better than any municipality within its bounds. Mr. Boyle closed with a strong appeal to the electors to weigh the matter calmly and vote for a government which had at heart the interests of the people of the province.

Couldn,t Get Worse Govt.

So says Fred Morrison at Conservative Meeting Monday Night--Attacks Sifton Administration

"You could not get a worse government if you tried. By putting the Conservative party into power you will afford a much greater chance of securing an honest government than if you return the Sifton, Cross Marshall aggregation." The Conservative platform is before you. It was drafted in 1909 and the Liberals have stood on all three planks from it. But a few remain which they have not appropriated. It is the policy of the Conservative party to provide cheap money for the farmers. The good roads policy of the government was adopted from the Conservative platform. Mr. Morrison from the outset of his speech attacked the government on what he termed what was actually the issue of the day, the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway matter. Taking plenty of time the speaker reviewed the whole series of events in connection with the A. G. W. legislation and put to pieces the arguments of prop-f bonuses in dealing with it. Even now the government had no solution to offer. The question was evaded by them all

The Electoral Campaign

THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN goes merrily on. Another week and the end will be in sight. Both sides are working overtime to prevail upon the voters the merits of their particular party. Not since ... has such a ... been waged in ... as there is ... Tofield people are good ... to bring the discussion of ... to a higher ... and ... to ... ever ... being ... are sparing ... votes home. To the Independent is not without its humorous ... with all the fervor at its command avers ... as stated, while the other calls up on the gods to witness that the facts are not so, but are to the contrary. The people are again judge and jury. Their verdict will be rendered on week from to-day.

What that verdict will be, time alone will tell. Each party proclaims the utmost confidence of a handsome majority. The government professes to stand upon its record of constructive and progressive legislation. That there has much been done and passed for the benefit of Albertans of every class none will deny. That Albertans are today enjoying the benefits of utilities constructed by or backed by ... none will deny. That unprecedented ... is apparent to ... intelligent ... with the government will not be denied. That there has been room for improvement will not be gainsaid. That there is still room for improvement none will deny. The opposition claim that they should have a chance to try their skill. They claim that their skill is better than that of the Liberal party. The government party dispute this and claim that they will get word on even more progressive ... but they are not ashamed of their past record as they willing to stand or fall by it. Let every voter ... on next Thursday and poll his vote according to his best and conscientious convictions.

CONSTANTLY RECURRING ACCIDENTS as well as similarly frequent cases of illness requiring skilled surgical and medical treatment and care are growing in number in the Tofield district and the necessity of the, establishment of a hospital becoming ... The hospital movement has been pro... Now that the hospital debentures may be ... in the near future date and the offer of the Victorian Order of Nurses is still standing and the offer locally of a free site for the hospital is open for acceptance, there should be nothing to stand in the way of rapid progress being made to bring the plan for a Tofield Hospital to fruition. The importance of caring for the injured and the ill should impress itself upon all public minded citizens. There remains to help in bringing matters to a head the association of a number of citizens who will form themselves into a local organization and apply for a charter constituting themselves a body politic, etc., for the management of the hospital, subject to the approval, rules and regulations of the Victorian Order of Nurses, at least for the time being and similar to the movement so successfully put through by a number of public minded citizens recently at Islay. It is understood that W. C. Swift is secretary of the local committee and all citizens so minded may interview him and place with him their request for membership and annual fee of $5 to help the worthy cause along.

THROW UP WINDOWS

Dr. Nasmith Says This is Best Way to Ventilate Schools.

All the windows in school classrooms should be thrown wide open for at least half an hour before 9 o'clock, at noon, and after 4 o'clock and for as much as an hour, says Dr. G. G. Nasmith of the Toronto Medical Health Department.

Dr. Nasmith says that the windows let in purer, valuable theories of ventilation, and the classrooms should by this means be flushed frequently and thoroughly with fresh air. He also thinks that the sense of smell of a normal person is no accurate means of testing the air, and that the analysis of the air as a chemical or bacteriological analysis, the stuffiness or fresh sensation indicating a high or low carbonic acid gas count, and a large or small bacterial count.

These conclusions of Dr. Nasmith, from the standpoint of air in the school, with as many different systems of ventilation, are confirmed by reports of observations in other cities.

SKIRT MARKER

Pastens to Edge of Table and Marks Hem at Same Time.

There are a number of devices for marking the bottom part of a woman's skirt, but it remained for a North Carolina woman to patent an ingenious contrivance shown here for starching the skirt parts. The little tool is also designed to mark cut and jacket under is clamped to the edge of the dining-room table, or any table for the matter, and the marking point is held in the holder and braid, if it can be found any or down. To mark the upper portion of a skirt the wearer stands in the garment to be marked and then sits down and stands at the edge of the table. She also has the material in a circle the chalk point marks a circle on the skirt, or at the bottom of the coat or jacket, as the case may be. Unless the marker is stationary, as in this instance, it is impossible to describe such a circle that is the same distance from the ground at all points.

The King and Queen attended the races when they were in Calcutta. The race for the King's Cup provided a grand event, and resulted in a victory by a length and a half for Mr. J. C. After the race the King warmly congratulated the stewards on the excellence of the racing and the arrangements, and declared his intention of annually giving a cup worth 100 guineas for the race bearing his name.

SILENT AEROPLANES

The All British Machine Which Experts Have Been Demanding.

"People are afraid of aeronautics, but when the aeroplane is going frequently from town to town silence will become imperative." So says Alan Cuthbertson, superintendent of the army aeroplane factory at Pinsley-cough, who has turned out the first all-British "silent" aeroplane that the experts have been demanding.

"As a matter of fact," he says, "it's silence that is going to be the test of the aeroplane in the future. It is the only thing left to advance.

"As far as I know, I have built the absolutely silent aeroplane. There is little silence, that when the wind is blowing strongly from its tunnel you can hear it.

"A military aviator who was present at our trials remarked that three were other engines with which it could not be equalled which it would not have been safe to have gone up in. In the wind that was blowing. I see no reason why every aeroplane which is to be used for military purposes should not employ a rotary engine should not be silent. It is a very simple matter. The reason why it has been put in the background hitherto is because other matters have required more attention, but everyone knew that the maximum performance could seen arrive by the adoption on a large scale of the rotary.

"There is a certain loss of power in silencing, but there is no difficulty about it beyond just a careful study of the various principles. The effect will become very important when the ... engines will come to be used, and the 'shooters' have left aeronautics has arrived.

"You can imagine, for example, that a machine is lost, with a man's life, in the stead of taking a special train, to be carried along. That might be the case in quiet roads between Dover and Ostend. Or the case from the Continent and wants to go to Canada and no such a route as that where you'll have long business corporate.

The Housing Problem

THE HOUSING PROBLEM in Tofield is becoming more acute. The steady increase of population implies that any boom but by normal growth still even [illegible] ... Daily there are numerous enquiries for dwellings which little or not available. With the certain establishment of more and extensive industries in the coming summer months the demand for dwellings is bound to grow enormously. Tofield has a period of rapid expansion ahead whether Tofield secures a sufficient Quantity of natural gas for industrial purposes or not. Tofield's future does not depend upon whether we strike a commercial pressure or not. The sooner we get this fact indelibly impressed into our minds the better for all concerned. Let us get down to brass tacks and face the proposition as it stands.

AS TOFIELDERS we wish all who come to the town to like that they will stay and share the benefit of our healthy development. As citizens it is [illegible] ... to be well up to time and be ready for the expansion that certainly will come. Then as citizens let us each do our part [illegible] ... in that preparation. We may not all be financially able to construct buildings on our own account but the more some amongst us who are so fortunately placed. And if we get this idea out of our minds that the inevitable result of our natural development is going to be that we are going to be a city of no mean proportions as the result of our being strategically placed in so far as railway distribution is concerned and so far as our other natural resources are concerned, we will be being prepared for the natural growth which [illegible] ... to follow and which is even now taking place.

THAT THERE IS EVERY REASON to adopt this attitude is apparent almost from every standpoint which one who looks beyond and has the welfare of the town at heart and who confidently has the [illegible] ... to make a venture which he feels will result in his own personal benefit. [illegible] ... the case of the Douglas Clay Working Company. The [illegible] ... and they realize that they have a good chance to [illegible] ... Tofield along over the wire from Medicine Hat yesterday with our Industrial Commissioner, Mr. Douglas, [illegible] ... It can tell me that you will not have the gas to deliver and will name a figure for your coal, I am ready to ship a gas producing plant in addition to the other heavy oil machinery, that my engineers have worked out, at once, and it will be a few weeks only until you will be able to tell me whether or not you will be able to give us gas. I have thought that it will be best to wait, as, in the event of your getting gas, it would otherwise involve the unnecessary expending of several thousands of dollars for a gas producer plant [illegible] ... would not be needed.

HERE WE HAVE, a knowing and up to the minute business man who realizes just where he is at. We have the advantages in our natural resources about us for the [illegible] ... of a large and healthy commercial and [illegible] ... city. We have the certainty, and the Douglas boys can tell you of several who are hunting in TOFIELD that [illegible] ... is the great feature of our development. We are going to have a veritable industrial expansion in the very near future. This means a large increase in population both in skilled as well as in unskilled labor. It also means [illegible] ... to develop their available means for providing suitable housing to meet the demand, not only of the present, but that increased demand which is bound to follow.

Mr. Anderson of Montreal is the guest of her brother T. H. Henderson at the Tofield Coal Co.

Mrs. Hull is this week entertaining a welcome guest in the person of Miss Mann from Iowa.

Don't be surprised if you have an extra L. of electricity the young Jack rule the effetest [illegible] ... with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

T. H. Henderson of the Tofield Coal Co. returned last week from Montreal whither he had been called to attend the death bed illness of his father and whose decease took place during his brief visit to that city.

"My little son had a very severe cold. I was recommended to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and before a small bottle was finished he was as well as ever," writes Mrs. H. Hills, 29 Bowling Street, Sydney, Australia. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross had rather an exciting experience a week last Tuesday of their home. While burning rubbish in the back yard the wind arose and carried the fire shed where the confined space caused a regular furnace draft for the flames. It was with no little difficulty that it was extinguished and the building saved.

Make the Roads Passable

THE DEPLORABLE CONDITION of the country roads this spring should surely cause the Rural Municipality Council to take some action towards ameliorating the just grievances of the farmers. Main traffic roads, it will generally be admitted, should be first attended to and put into such shape that spring freshets and wet seasons will find them in good condition from end to end. It will be observed that in many cases the culverts which have been put in are rather small and that sufficient attention has not been paid to the matter of proper drainage. On many roads throughout the district these latter mentioned faults have been the direct cause of sections becoming almost impassable. As it is at present on the average road it is impossible for the farmer to get through to market with a heavy load of hogs or wheat.

The End of the Electoral Campaign

LAST THURSDAY SAW THE END of the short but strenuous electoral campaign in which, by the vote cast all over the province the final returns show most convincingly that the Sifton administration evidently possess the confidence of the electors. The fact, however, that in most of cases the majorities are very meagre is evident that the public is desirous of keeping the political house clean. True service to his country will make every honest and conscientious representative do full justice to his constituents as a whole, irrespective of party bunnings and it is to be trusted that the government, with its new lease of life, will spare no time and energy to get the A. & G. W. matter closed up satisfactorily to the province at large.

Agriculture Outlook for 1913 Good

THE FARMERS OF ALBERTA are looking forward to the season of 1913 with no small degree of optimism. The middle of April this year saw spring operations in full swing all over the province and in this respect the TOFIELD district took no second place. Great credit is due the farmer who manages things on his farm so that he has a comfortable acreage ready for fall for whom seeding early in spring. Tofield has a few of these and they have been busy during the past ten days with the result that in many cases wheat seeding is practically completed on many farms. It is this class of farmers who make Alberta what it is. The TOFIELD district is proud of its enterprising agriculturists. More power to them.

Ross Creek

Great excitement prevailed during the election campaign just over but a quietness as of old now prevails. Everybody seems satisfied with the results.

Mr. and Mrs. Billman, Sr., of Iowa, are visiting their son W. C. Billman and Mrs. Billman.

Elmer Halliday and Mrs. Halliday paid a business trip to Tofield last week.

Cropping is general in the district.

Geo. Rupp is now one of Dom Crook's feeding customers. He is having on his new farm which he purchased some months ago from P. Thee, who is now in the Nelson, B.C., district.

Oven Results From A Gurney-Oxford Range

The value of a stove to a woman is measured by the successful results it cooking obtained from the oven. With this primary object in view, stove experts have investigations of absolute control over the distribution of heat to every part of the range.

The Gurney-Oxford is constructed with a Divided Flue that runs the heat to the back of the stove through two different dividers. By this scientific arrangement the two back lids of the stove are given equal cooking value and the oven is thoroughly surrounded by a steady, even heat.

With a Gurney-Oxford, it is never necessary to open the oven door several times during the baking of a pan of biscuits to turn them around reat the last.

Biscuits, pastry, cake, or bread all bake evenly, rise evenly, and brown evenly without any attention whatever from the cook.

A simple device aptly called the Economizer regulates the exact temperature of the oven by means of a small lever around a series of six notches. A woman soon learns the important value of each notch, one of which immediately checks the hottest fire and keeps it low until she requires it again.

A wonderful cooking reputation is made and lived up to through a Gurney-Oxford range.

ENGLISH PHEASANTS

Not Many Killed During the Last Open Season.

St. Catharines hunters who had been keeping tab reported as during the last open season for English pheasants even fewer birds than in previous years were killed. The birds themselves appeared more adept to take care of themselves—to keep out of the way of the hunter's shotgun—and many a hunter failed to get as much as a pot shot at a bird. One man reports that he killed twenty-five, but this was on his own farm and nobody else was allowed to shoot there. The province has got only about half that number. One was allowed to shoot the male birds only, the killing of a hen pheasant making one liable to a heavy fine. It was feared that when the Government last year declared an open season there would be such a slaughter that all the birds would be killed off, but they have multiplied. It is said and are so hard to shoot that it looks as though the species would be preserved. Unfortunately too many of the pheasants die or cold a the winter and many a loose bird shot off from the mates is killed by fanished cocks who chase it out it drops and then make short work of it. The English pheasants around St. Catharines were introduced in 1892 by a gentleman living there who have done much to preserve the birds. The season of 1913 was the first open season.—Hod and Gun.

AMBER AND AMBERGRIS

A Writer Points Out the Difference Between the Substances

Amber, which is used in making pipe mouth pieces and a very different sort of thing from ambergris, and while valuable, of somewhat less than almost fabulous value is the more rarer substance. It is from the fossil gum of ancient coniferous trees and derive the name of our greatest modern writer, electricity, because amber, on being rubbed, exhibited the energy now known as electricity.

Ambergris is the product of the spermaceti whale, and is therefore an organic, while amber is a mineral. Produced in vast quantity it has never been found in a biliary product, others than in the sperm whale's intestines. Frank T. Bullen has stated dead to say about it in his writings. It is sometimes found floating on the ocean, and sometimes, as in the recent case at Nantucket, cast up on shore.

Its value depends upon its use as the basis for the most delicate and expensive perfume, and it is worth, of course, very much more than its weight in gold. Twenty thousand dollars is a heavy burden in gold, while the same in ambergris could not have weighed more than a few pounds.

Advertising Frauds.

At Glasgow Criminal Court, Thomas Mount, a young man of respectable appearance, pleaded guilty to the charge of defrauding four persons. It was stated that the accused had got a scheme for obtaining the money by pretending that he carried on a bicycle business under the name of the Northern Advertising Company, and that he wanted young men for permanent outside positions. He advertised to that effect, stipulating that moderate security was required. He was ordered to nine months' imprisonment.

GOOD EVIDENCE.

In a country police-court recently a man was charged with stealing a number of pigeons the property of a farmer. In giving his evidence the farmer who was no orator,that he seen the prisoner and the solicitor for the defence pounced to frighten him.

"Now," he roared, "have you purposed in ever an such that this man chase your pigeons?"

"I didn't say he did chase them," was the carefully worded reply. "I said I suspected him of doing it."

"Ah, now we are coming to it! What made you suspect that man?"

"Well, firstly I caught him on my land with a gun; secondly, I heard a gun go off, and saw some pigeons fall; thirdly I found four of my pigeons in his pocket, and I don't think the birds flew there and committed suicide."

THAWING TIME.

Prisoner: "But, my lord——"

Judge: "Not another word, sir, or I'll give you four years more."

DIDN'T UNDERSTAND.

A countryman was in a station. He put a shilling in a machine bearing the inscription, "Pull the handle with a jerk." After the machine was the sticker in the face of the person cooking all over the machine.

A police constable at the time said "Hallooi! Wot's it on-like work?"

"Why," said the countryman, "it says pull the handle with a jerk. But there's the jerk, and it won't!"

Learn's father: "Oh, no, I didn't!" Tableau.

ALL SICK ANYWAY.

Caesar: "There goes old Shimon, the lawyer. He draws up a great wills and has a great many patients."

WHETHER for a silo, a stable, house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use today.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the ease with which it may be moulded makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day. The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing.

The cost of concrete is being reduced.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only material you have to buy.

We have, by means of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have responded it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. The demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can do With Concrete." It is free.

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Brazil Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health depends largely upon the regularity of the bowels. Many people neglect nature, by taking a dose of salts or pills occasionally, thereby only aggravating the trouble, making it worse and more chronic.

Brazil Orderlies are not a cathartic, they act upon the nerves and muscles of the bowels and compel them to perform their duty.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Brazil Orderlies if you are not entirely satisfied with the results after using the entire contents of the box. Then you are under no obligation whatever to purchase. You alone shall be the judge.

Brazil Orderlies are not sold by druggists generally, but if your druggist does not keep them in stock, send us 50 cents, and we will mail you a box, postage prepaid.

Brazil Orderlies come in convenient tablet form, and are sold in boxes containing 24 tablets. Price, 50 cents.

STANDARD PRESS, Limited,

R. E. WHILLANS, - - Manager and Editor

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1913

To Edit a Newspaper

DR. TALMAGE, one of the greatest pulpit orators, in one of his sermons on the "Spirit of the Press" said: "To publish a newspaper requires the skill, the prevision, the boldness, the vigilance, the strategy of a commander-in-chief. To edit a newspaper requires that one be a statesman, an essayist, a geographer, a statistician, and, in addition, an encyclopedist. To man, to govern, to propel a newspaper mill it shall be a fixed institution, a national fact, demands more qualities than any other business on earth. If you feel like starting a newspaper, secular or religious, understand you are treated with softening of the brain or lunacy, and, throwing your pocket-book into your wife's lap, start for some insane asylum before you do something desperate.

"First of all, newspapers make knowledge democratic and for the multitude. The public library is a luxury so high up that few can reach it, while the newspapers throw down the forage to our feet. Public libraries are the reservoirs where the great floods are stored high up and away off. The newspaper is the tunnel that brings them down to the pitchers of all the people. The chief use of great libraries is to make newspapers out of. Great libraries make a few men and women very wise. Newspapers lift whole nations into the sunlight.

"You cannot find ten literary men in Christendom with strong minds and great hearts but are or have been somehow connected with the newspaper printing press. While the Book will always have its place the newspaper is more potent. Because the latter is multitudinous do not conclude it is necessarily superficial. If a man should from childhood to old age see only his Bible, Webster's Dictionary and his newspaper, he could be prepared for all the duties of this life and all the happiness of the next."

Let the farmers have good roads

THE STANDARD has previously called the attention of those in authority over the country roads in the district surrounding Tofield to the fact that they are in a deplorable condition. Surely it is up to each councillor to exercise to at least a small degree a watchful eye over the conditions which arise from time to time and are the causes of immediate repair of various sections of road. Complaints, bitter in their nature, are being made by farmers who have need to drive to town, some with light rigs and others with heavy vehicles to transport loads of lumber or other merchandise to their farms. One case might be here mentioned of a particularly bad spot on the road north from town some four or five miles. It is only a few feet wide and a few dollars would fix it. Horses get badly deep in the little chasm and wagon wheels plunge hub under the soft mud. How can farmers be expected to haul heavy loads of merchandise or lumber from town when these conditions are permitted to exist? Indeed it is a matter of fact that farmers from the more remote sections of the district are finding it necessary to drive to other towns to which they have longer but better roads upon which to haul their loads. This is not a necessary condition. If finances are low in the treasury, there is a way to overcome this temporary embarrassment. Let the farmers have good roads. That is what they are paying their taxes for.

Save One Ton of Coal in Every Six

The Economizer will do it.

While the cost of living has undoubtedly been growing greater, at the same time it is true there are sound inventions that will offset this increased cost of living, and the careful housewife takes advantage of these inventions.

On every Gurney-Oxford range there is an Economizer which controls not only the drafts but also the entire combustion or burning of fuel to create heat.

This Economizer will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would use with the ordinary range.

The Economizer is a simple device, absolute in its control. By merely moving the lever you can obtain any degree of even heat in the oven. This insures the satisfaction of always having light, delicately crusted bread and biscuits.

The kitchen fire ceases to be a worry if the Economizer is on your stove.

The Gurney-Oxford is the final result of experimental thought. Science has given it a Divided Flue, a new Special Grate, and a Broiler attachment.

THE QUEEN'S COLLECTION

Secured Modern Eastern Brica-brac and Embroideries in India

Queen Mary made a collection of beautiful modern Eastern brica-brac, embroideries and other handicrafts while in India. She is one of those who have a genuine admiration for good modern things, and is not afraid to say so. She has been known by a remark that in many instances she considers the luxury of antique things greatly exaggerated. It would therefore seem to some the numbers of pictures by modern painters—some of whose names are quite unknown—which adorn her private rooms in the various Palaces. Such things the Queen herself has selected in various parts of the Empire during the last few years, and very rightly so for the tremendous interest when Queen Mary has from time to time sold what is on hand of good modern things, as those of the antique variety. For Devonshire and Irish lovers she has a keen penchant in this respect differing very greatly from Queen Alexandra and Queen Amelie of Portugal, both of whom have seen collections of antique lores which are quite famous. Indeed the story goes that when Queen Amelie found she had to fly from Portugal her first thought was to pack her jewel-box, some of which were gifts to deposed Sultan of Turkey, whose private correspondence will soon be officially published by the Young Turk government in Constantinople. It will be known also as the first clear insight into his barbarous cruelties and atrocities.

BETTER THAN PICTURED

Game Hat Wings Were Taken From Turkeys and Pigeons.

A remarkable discovery has been made by some humane people who are endeavoring to induce the wearers of the hair not to dispense with the feathers. It is declared that only to dig in agony after wings have clipped. It is discovered that under all beautiful plumage there are hidden from sight beneath the feathers which are to adorn hats of various shape and proportions, are prepared in a manner that cannot be detected by the human eye. Turkey and pigeon wings are the favorites, and no remarkable results have been obtained from other birds, and, as they are to be had in large quantities, there is little fear of any complete extinction. Some of the best of these wings for the past two years have been imported from Canada.

A VALUABLE CRUCIFIX

One of the Finest Carvings of Leonardo da Vinci

A beautiful crucifix of ivory, recently, which was purchased for the sum of $522 (£104 10s), is valued at about twenty-five years ago. It is declared to be one of the finest carvings of Leonardo da Vinci. Ten years ago the purchaser of this crucifix, with her other possessions in her daughter, wife of the deputy, Robert Maguire. No great value had ever been attached to the object, except as a curiously quiet some weeks ago a friend of the family called at the house (Gosford Park) and

Mr. Maguire turned to part with it, and finally sold it for the sum of $522. A further offer of $1,000 in cash was refused, and it is understood that the friend and eventual purchaser of the crucifix is now said to have been received.

REMOVED HIS PIGTAIL

Herr Yuling, one of the Chinese Ambassadors at Vienna, awoke one morning to find himself the centre of much conversation in the Austrian capital. He knew Paris, London and Berlin, but the news that the Ambassador had cut off his pigtail and severed his connection with diplomatic customs. The journal published a leading article on the subject. In answer to inquiries at the Embassy it was stated that the Ambassador's pigtail was removed personal needs only.

BIG COMPETITIONS FOR THE AIRMEN

The Most Important Event in England Will be the Military Aeroplane Competition

In number and variety the flying contests arranged in England for this year will probably be believed to be the great tournaments held during 1911. So far as England is concerned the most important event will be the military aeroplane competition organised by the War Office. Since the publication of the conditions of the contest, English manufacturers and designers have begun in earnest to improve their machines, and it is safe to assume that, when the competitions open in July or August they will make a good fight for the £4,000 prize offered for the capture of the British Government. It has not yet been decided whether the contest is to take place at Eastchurch or on Salisbury Plain, but the probability is that the latter aerodrome, where the Air Battalion is quartered, will be finally selected. Other British fixtures include the Mortimer Singer Army and Navy contests and the new British Empire Michelin competitions. The Mortimer Singer prizes, of the total value of $5,000, is to be equally divided between an aeroplane and a Army and an aeroplanist in the Navy. The winner in each case is to be an officer who, accompanied by a passenger, shall fly the machine that is considered the best for military purposes in flight. The conditions for the first of the Michelin Cups will differ somewhat from what they have hitherto been. Aeroplanes and Naval Aeroplanes not yet issued the new rules, the competitors will not be considered as was the case the year, to flight abroad over the Channel, but will be compelled the distance of 150 miles. Furthermore, the prize will be adjudged to the flyer who remains the longest time in the air.

REVENGE ON COUNTESS

Captured by a Man Dressed as a Shepherd, Who Is Arrested

A desperate revenge has been taken by a belgian on the Countess de Caraman Chimay, whose husband is a wealthy landowner. The man, named Jules Lagrange, is a shepherd, who afterwards denounced his employer to the police.

The Countess was walking in the Arlonnaise woods surrounding her husband's estate at Orviete, when she was confronted by a man dressed as a shepherd, armed with a revolver.

He threatened to shoot her dead through the hedges and then under growth and began pursuing it valiantly and finally rendering her senseless.

When she did not return her house hold became alarmed and a search party organised. The countess was found late at night, bound and gagged in the pony carriage, and bleeding from a wound in the head, which was bandaged and round his father waiting for him at the station. He thought that he would naturally be quite proud of it, had paid $12,500 ransom.

The police are searching the woods for the shepherd. The Child nature of the undergrowth renders the search difficult.

FATHER OF THE GAME

Clergyman's Tribute to the Man Who Founded the Football League

A glowing tribute to the late Mr. William Mellergre was paid by the Rev. W. F. Percival at the Holloway Congregational Church, England, in the course of his sermon, for which he took as his text the exclamation, "O Good Man." William Mellergre, a man known to the sporting world as the founder of the football league, was the founder of the game. He introduced a game which was always pure and elevating, and he was a Christian man. Scotchman and not the scene of his many triumphs. He had been struck by William Mellergre's side during the progress of a league game, and also during the vigorous forty and intense excitement of a cup-tie and observed his enthralling enthusiasm in the game, and he was struck with such enthusiasm that his character stone at the feet. There was no place in that heart for anything injurious to the spirit of the game. His eyes were unswerving integrity and nothing honor, and he was the gentleman he was. He did everything he did with meekness, and he was more than Jesus could be said in appreciation of such a great life as that. He was a faithful friend, a partaker of sport in the exercise of it, a generous friend, and also a perfect inheritance, but he never encouraged that which was bad and evil in his high places in the field of ball, cricket, hockey, golf, and he was man wielding her tennis racquet could go from there things in the kitchen and better service which he brings home, so it was the most natural thing in life to find the game played.

DOG WAS A RAT

How a Lady With a Grass for Small Dogs Was Deceived

An amusing story is being told on the boulevards of Paris about a Grand personage of a famous academy who was so bitten by the craze for pet dogs that she must needs go abroad with a great lion in her arms. Some time a street lad, who had seen what looked like the smallest pet dog. When she took it home she ran to the outside where it was recovered by the servants. It turned out to be a rat served into a dog's skin.

There was no place in that heart for anything injurious to the spirit of the game. His eyes were unswerving integrity and nothing honor, and he was the gentleman he was. He did everything he did with meekness, and he was more than Jesus could be said in appreciation of such a great life as that. He was a faithful friend, a partaker of sport in the exercise of it, a generous friend, and also a perfect inheritance, but he never encouraged that which was bad and evil in his high places in the field of ball, cricket, hockey, golf, and he was man wielding her tennis racquet could go from there things in the kitchen and better service which he brings home, so it was the most natural thing in life to find the game played.

THERE'S only one quality of Canada Cement. It is the highest quality that can possibly be made with the best equipment, scientific methods and rigid inspection by expert chemists.

The Canada Cement you buy for a garden walk is the same cement that is used by the hundred for great dams, elevators and bridges. The engineers in charge of these great works have ample facilities for testing the quality of cement.

Canada Cement

comes up to their most rigid requirements.

The farmer knows he can choose Edelweiss among the quality of cement. He reads by a pencil upon which he can depend for a grade that is always of the same quantity and that there is no waste of cement to be looked for.

You can place absolute reliance upon the quality of Canada Cement.

It's always the same and always the best. The large output which enables us to keep the price down, enables us also to maintain the factory equipment and organization that keeps the quality up.

A Canada Cement label appears on every bag and barrel of genuine Canada Cement. See that it's on the bags and barrels of cement that you buy.

Parade to St. Andrews Church

The members of Tofield Lodge, No. 33, I.O.O.F., and a number of visiting brothers celebrated the 58th anniversary of Oddfellowship by parading to church in a body. Quite a large number turned out in spite of the coldness of the morning and the wind which was blowing. The members of Lakeview Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., met the brothers en route to church and fell in with the parade, all being dressed in the body of the church. Rev. Mr. Stuart, pastor, who also is an Odd-fellow, preached a strong sermon upon the principles of fellowship, and enjoined upon his hearers to shape their lives after the model of love exemplified by our Saviour.

Oddfellows banquet veterans

Present Veteran's Jewel to Bro. Robt. Sherlock, an Oddfellow of 25 year's standing

A unique function in the history of Oddfellowship in Tofield, and indeed in this part of the province, took place last Friday evening in the Variety Theatre, when the members of Tofield Lodge No. 33, I.O.O.F., together with visiting brothers of the Order and the members of Lakeview Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F. and visiting sisters and guests assembled to celebrate the happy occasion of the bestowal of a Veteran's Jewel by Tofield Lodge upon Robt. Sherlock, a Past Grand of this Lodge and a member of the Order in good standing for 25 years. The function took the form of a literal banquet, at which the ladies ravelled themselves in providing tempting viands in profusion for the delectation of the assemblage. Noble Grand Bro. A. McMullen presided and acted as toastmaster. Numerous brothers spoke in response to as many toasts, and Past Grand Bro. R. N. Whillans was called upon to make the presentation speech to the guest of the evening, while Bro. R. W. Pinnott made the presentation. Bro. Sherlock referred to the principles of the Order feelingly, and lauded them in no unmistakable terms. Oddfellows will hope that Bro. Sherlock and Sister Sherlock, his esteemed better half, will long be spared to enjoy the benefits of the glorious fraternity. A number of visiting brothers from Ryley Lodge were present, among them being Past Grand, Bro. Kavanagh and Vice-Grand, Bro. Karl Ferguson.

Wonderful Beavers

When the Grand Trunk Railway ran a line across a swamp in a game preserve in the Alberta Rockies there was a fine beaver dam holding the water back to flood the swamp.

The game warden ordered the engineers to disturb the beavers as little as possible. They could have blown out the dam with dynamite and killed most of the little animals, but that would have been cruel.

So they cut an opening in the dam. The mud of the dam was almost as hard as concrete, and it took the men three days to get the water to running out properly. Then they started work on the railroad through the swamp.

Soon the water began to rise and the work was stopped by water in a few hours. The engineers went down to the beaver dam and found the animals had repaired the cut and made it tight.

A new cut was made, but when the men were gone the beavers were busy and the damage repaired. Work on the railroad was stopped in a few hours.

Then a hole was made in the earth deep under the dam. That puzzled the beavers. They had never before seen water go down into the ground and come up far away. But they studied the problem, and work on the railroad was soon stopped by water and half the track covered.

Then followed a contest of cunning between the men and the beavers. But every time the men opposed a way for water to run the beavers found out how to stop it.

The road was finally built by working a few hours at a time, and the loss to the contractors was about $5000. The beavers lost their time.

Old Landmark Destroyed by Fire

First residence of Dr. Tofield but recently occupied by a family named East was completely destroyed. Thought that the fire was started by an incubator. Only two trunks were saved

One of Tofield's old landmarks, the former residence of Dr. Tofield, from whom the town gets its name, was totally destroyed by fire last Monday afternoon. It was located north-west of town, just outside the town limits, on the farm lately sold by the doctor some years ago.

The house was occupied up to now by a family named East who had just come in this spring from south of Viking. Mrs. East and her infant child were the only ones on the farm at the time of the fire. She was working in the garden and only a short time before the fire broke out had taken the little one inside after it having its afternoon nap. A few minutes subsequently she looked up from her work in the garden and noticed the flames bursting out through the eaves. She at once hastened to neighbors two acres to a mile to telephone Zeba causing home from school. The latter ran on into town to Dr. Fenna (Acting Mayor) and he at once sounded the alarm box at Klug and 4th Ave., and in less than two minutes the brigade was off with the chemicals to the fire. On arrival it was found that nothing could be done as the building and contents were a total loss.

Mr. East is not moving the furniture, having put the bulk of it into the barn, but only two trunks which contained valuable articles. Beyond these all the household effects were destroyed. It is thought that the fire was caused from an insulator in the main portion of the house. Mr. East was away working at W. H. Neal's farm, a couple of miles from town. Every article of clothing with the exception of those worn by the members of the family are gone. A large washing and many new articles of clothing had been taken from the clothes line into the house for the fire broke out. The family are known to be a steady and very industrious character and are desirable citizens. Much sympathy is due them in their late strain. An organ and several modern instruments were among the household effects destroyed.

Another Brick Concern for Tofield

Group of Toronto Manufacturers make Tofield the Centre of Their Operations and Locate Clay Working Industry

Tofield has still another brick manufacturing industry plainly in sight, in fact it is so much in sight that it is practically a present day reality. Messrs. T. Heathfield, D. Hammond and W. Thomas, all of Toronto, who have been conducting practical tests right on the ground and who yesterday opened the test kiln are so highly satisfied with the brick that they have ordered immediate shipment of all the necessary machinery with the required for a tunnel to be put on to follow it to its destination, in other words, to speak the expression of one of the proprietors, "Now that we are satisfied with Tofield's clays and shales we will not lose one minute in our efforts to get into the market with Tofield brick.

The company expects to be in operation within six weeks and hope to have brick on the market in about three months. Their first kiln will be used exclusively by them in effecting their own buildings.

Orders for grate bars, furnace doors and other necessary castings required by Clay workers, have been placed with Mr. Dobb, manager of the Tofield Foundry and Machine Shops.

A most satisfactory feature of Messrs Heathfield, Hammond and Thomas' project is that they are going into it with eyes fully open and are putting in a real burning plant and will only use natural gas if it is available in commercial quantities. They realize that they will always have coal in abundance and that it can be had at a figure which defies favorable comparison at other points. As regard the product, they are wholly satisfied as to color and quality. A permanent site for their factory will be arranged within the next week or two and in the meantime they are cutting logs, getting out posts and selecting lumber for the erection of their drying sheds and other buildings.

Messrs Heathfield, Hammond and Thomas are practical brick manufacturers from Toronto and are abundantly satisfied that in Tofield they have a good thing. Great credit is due them for the push, energy and progressiveness they have displayed in coming in, making a practical test and coming to a final decision in the very short space of time they have been on the ground. They have a fine business field before them and Tofielders wish them every success and prosperity.

His worst fears were dispelled and he continued his journey to Kingman.

Mr. Hollin performed his journey from his work pre-emption 30 miles north west of Grand Prairie and 250 miles from there to Edson, in the wonderfully short space of time of six days. Hollin left Grand Prairie last Wednesday, at noon and started out to walk on foot to Edson, some 250 miles there to catch the G.T.P. train for Tofield and south to Kingman, and so get to the bedside of a loved wife in hopes that he would not yet be too late. Such was the experience of Mr. Hollin, who got off the train here yesterday morning, and who immediately took train down the branch to Kingman. Great was his relief when at the depot, through the kindness of the STANDARD he found that his wife was indeed on the mend and well on the road to recovery. His worst fears were dispelled and he continued his journey to Kingman.

Why the Scarcity of Money?

SIR EDMUND WALKER, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been giving some advice in regard to the present monetary stringency. At the outset, he made the remark that "Every man planning to spend money at the present time should think a little oftener and be sure that he knows where the money is coming from before he commences to spend."

Sir Edmund then got away from the purely local aspect of the money market and dealt with world wide conditions. He claims that the curve of the world's expenditure and borrowings had crossed the curve of savings and had diverged from it. In other words, the world is borrowing more than it is saving, and the difference measures the extent to which the current capital is being impaired. Unless the increased rate of interest which is now being charged entails borrowings, the rate might still go higher. Continuing, Sir Edmund says—

"Canada is in a quite abnormal position. While there have been depressions in other countries, Canada has not had a depression since 1873and the following three or four years. The reason is immigration and the consequent building operations. I should say that a period of depression is years overdue. We have been saved by an immigration equalled by no other country in relation to its population. It will be hard to secure money on any satisfactory terms for the next year or two, but if we are able to get money to continue our programme of building, which I believe is warranted by the immigration, we can stave off a period of depression. The important question is, are we going to be able to borrow the $200,000,000 or so annually required to keep up our building programme?

"Completion of the transcontinental railway will mean that men now working as navvies will be put on the land. As a result the foodstuffs which they consumed will be released for export, and, in addition, these men will produce something in excess of their consumption. Too large a proportion of the immigrants to Canada has not been going on the land. The consumers of foodstuffs have increased at a more rapid rate than the producers of foodstuffs. Branch building will take a considerable number of navvies, but a great number will be released and be able to go on the land.

"Should the European situation become less threatening, borrowed money, using that expression in the widest sense, would relieve the situation to some extent. I cannot say just how far it would clear up the mass of issues over the market, but if the situation were more peaceful there would be new requirements. By some means or other it is necessary to check the building operations of the world as a whole, or trouble similar to that in 1908 is inevitable. It will not require a very sudden check to bring the diverging curves to a safer relation, but something must be done.

"The German cities are making enormous demands. We have the expenditures for armaments. Backward countries are demanding money. We are doing too much with borrowed money, and municipalities are the chief offenders. They undertake their improvements without first making sure that they may secure the necessary money.

Control Your Coal Expenditure

In the Gurney-Oxford range you will find more exclusive features, more essential improvements than a special study of family housewife that have ever been put into a stove or any one kitchen fixture.

But most important of all is the Economizer.

This clever device for regulating the drafts over the fire is the one thing that you would have in the Gurney-Oxford. It controls the coal consumption to the exact amount of heat required, and sends it up the chimney. You know what that means.

The Economizer enables you to absolutely control the heat—to heat your kitchen to a cosy temperature—to get perfect heat for cooking. It will actually pay for itself in your fire going while you are out of doors, or visiting your neighbor, and all that is necessary for you to do on your return is to press the small lever and you are assured of a hot fire in a very few moments.

A Gurney-Oxford stove is sanitary—no dirt can accumulate on its beautifully smooth surface.

It is economical—used which absorbs fuel-gases and heat that [illegible] blocking the stove.

VALUABLE TEAPOT

Worth More Than Ten Times Its Weight in Gold

A teapot which is worth more than ten times its weight in gold is one of the most remarkable pieces in the famous Campbell collection of British porcelain, which has been purchased by Mr. Albert Amor. This teapot, which is part of a service presented to Mr. Burke in commemoration of his second Burke's return to Parliament, weighs about sixteen ounces. Since the years ago, the teapot was valued at £5 an ounce, but it would now be worth more than ten times its weight in gold. The Campbell collection cost its late owner, Mr. Trapnell, about £75,000.

WONDERFUL HEROISM

Never Saw Such Heroism as in a Colliery Disaster

"Thomas Hooks, Sorts."

Simply that and no more. This pingle inscription scrawled on the back of a fuse shell containing the body of one of the four victims of the Universal Chase Colliery explosion, which was brought up from the old Hednesford pit, Mr. George Lowndes, manager of the Fast Cannock Colliery, said "I have never seen such heroism in my life. LOVE LETTERS FOR HIS CANE

What a Bird-fancier Did With all the Missives he Received in Courtship Days

The problem of what to do with one's love letters has been solved in a novel way by a British bird-fancier. He writes all his love letters where ever he goes, generally in his hands, but he can never read them again—he has had them made into a stick.

He has made a stout walking stick with a thousand love letters which he received from the young lady who is now his wife.

The latter who, in responsible for this novel idea, spoken herself as saying how happy he is in Leading Gentleman, and that the stick is highly cherished by Chatham. "I have only married fifteen months," Chaten said "and I had kept all the letters my wife sent me both before and after our marriage. They were the love emulation of about four years' acquaintance, and they numbered fully a thousand. Of course they took up a lot of space, and I decided to make a walking stick of them in my leisure moments. First of all I got a thin steel rod, about a quarter of an inch in diameter, and made a tube about 3 feet in length, so as to serve as a core. Then I had the letters cut into sections of about one inch square, put a hole in each one, and threaded a number of them at a time on the rod just as you see the receipts. I continued this process until the tube was a hand-spanner, and when they were sufficiently packed I decided to make and continued until the whole stick was filled. Before I began I treated all the letters in this fashion. I put them in a brown paper and dipped them in boiling water. I then ironed them with a hot flat iron, and then clipped the stick into shape. The stick is polished and has now obtained a perfectly smooth surface with an occasional plaque. I finished it off by varnishing the surface, put at the handle and a tip at the end, and there you have the stick complete. You will see that I have left the ends of about six letters on the rod. They represent letters written to me by my future wife on notepaper. The stick is certainly strong and formidable and looks very much like a malacca cane. It is now in its fourth summer and is as good as and tapers off gradually towards the [illegible]

BITTEN BY A DOG

The Bishop of Birmingham Injured by Mongrel on Flying Visit

The Bishop of Birmingham, Dr. Russell Wakefield, was badly bitten while trying to separate two dogs which had started a furious fight. The Lordship was walking in the neighborhood of his residence, Bishopscroft, Edgbaston, when he saw a large dog, which always accompanies him on his early morning walk, destroyed and fought with another dog. The Bishop caught hold of his own dog by the collar, when the animal furiously attacked him and bit him several times on the right hand, causing deep wounds. The Bishop returned home, and sent for a doctor, who cauterised and dressed the wounds.

In the afternoon the Bishop attended the pillar distribution at the Church of England College with his right arm in a sling and his hand bandaged. Sir Walter Fisher, the chairman of the meeting, announced that the Bishop's injuries were only by the doctor to be quite satisfactory.

A POWERFUL GUN

Messrs. Krupp Have Perfected a Fire-arm of Extraordinary Size

The German Navy now possesses what is believed to be the largest and most powerful gun in existence, the 16-inch gun recently perfected by Messrs. Krupp. The official description that Messrs. Krupp have perfected a gun of this extraordinary size is contained in the "Taschenbuch der Kriegsflotten," or Naval Year-book, for 1913 which has just made its appearance.

The heaviest gun hitherto made by Messrs. Krupp is the 14-inch weapon with which it is understood that the new ships of the German Dread Naught class are to be armed. The 16 inch gun has apparently been designed in preparation for the equipment of German battleships with a still more powerful armament.

THE FINAL WALTZ

The waltz, waltz, the Waltz—never waltz.

I think you know the tune from the tales."

This is the haunting refrain of the new waltz which has come to London and very certainly bears the hall-mark of Lew Fellz latest triumph—"The Eternal Waltz," which he made the audience sway to its tune during the Hippodrome production. The waltz has captured London. Everybody is in a waltz ball-room waltz the ruthless enemy and whistles it in the streets. Even the orchestras while the latest waltz carries it far into the interior and Hades alleys of the slums.

TRYING TO OUST LATIN

Oxford has been discussing the question of the compulsory Greek and for the fifth time Oxford has won the day in the University of Paris even Latin is now failing for its life. It is not yet quite dead, but it is certainly in a dangerous condition. It has already fallen from the proud position it held by periodic degree of science, but some University men who fully now are agitating to turn Latin out of the curriculum, even for literary degrees.

Changes Announced in the Canadian Tariff

The duty on cement is lowered from 12 1-2 to 10 cents per 100 pounds, or from 43 3-4 to 35 cents per barrel.

The British preferential rate is lowered from 8 to 7 cents and the intermediate from 11 to 10 cents per hundredweight.

Typesetting and typecasting machinery, upon which the general tariff is now 20 per cent, the intermediate 17 1-2 and the preferential 12 1-2, are placed on the free list.

Traction ditching machinery costing more than $3000, which has been entered under the 17 1-2 per cent duty has been placed on the free list.

Miners' safety appliance, glassware and scientific apparatus for use in hospitals, also apparatus for sterilizing, but not including laundry machinery, are placed on the free list.

Owing to the trade agreement with the West Indies, there is a change on the duty in raw and refined sugar. On refined sugar of 99 per cent standard, the old duty was—Preference, 82 cents per hundredweight; general tariff, $1 and 24 1-2 cents. The new rates will be—Preference, 80 cents; general rate $1 and 7 2-3 cents.

On raw sugar the old rates were 55 1-2 cents per cwt. under the preference and 83 1-2 cents under the general. The new tariff will be 40 2-3 cents under the preference and 57 1-2 cents under the general tariff. Under the new tariff there will be no intermediate rate.

For some time there has been no duty on cocoa beans and lime juice, but in order that the West Indies may get the full benefit of the recent agreement, these articles, when imported from other countries, will in future pay duty. Lines are made the subject of a ten per cent duty under the intermediate and general tariff, but are free under the preferential tariff.

Raw lime juice is dutiable at 5 cents a gallon on the intermediate and general tariff, but is free under the preferential tariff.

The duty on cocoa beans will be 7 1-2, 10 and 10. Up to this time the duty has been 10, 12 1-2 and 15 per cent under the preferential, intermediate and general tariff respectively.

Mr Rugg, late manager of the Vermilion Brick Works, paid Tofield a visit this week to look over Tofield's possibilities in the brick manufacturing line. He was agreeably surprised to find such an activity on the part of several companies who are preparing to install brick making plants at an early date. He looked over the coal mines here and as at emphatically stated that the coal here is excellent for use in the manufacture of brick

A. Bjerett recently returned from a few months trip to the British Isles and informed a Standard correspondent that the wealthy of conditions in those countries was not very favorable for settling at long to-day. In Ireland it was said worse than in England or Scotland in which places settling was well advanced in February. He also says that he seen very little seeding done in Ontario and the States when he passed through, in Manitoba and Saskatchewan there was very little done but in Alberta he found most of the spring wheat in and much of the land ploughed for oats. He is well contented to live in Alberta.

THE TABOO ON MODERATE DRINKING

The use of alcohol is receiving some hard knocks these days. A prominent railway system, not content with the general rule here-before in force on railways forbidding employees to drink while on duty, now forbid employees to indulge at all in drinking out of employment hours, so as any other employer which will insure their health or make them less alert and less capable while on duty.

The owner of one of the nation's pets—a prominent baseball team—announces that association in drinking is not sufficient; the player on his team must let alcohol entirely alone and obtain his stimulation elsewhere.

The justification for such rules may be found not only in the difficulty of being moderate in indulgence but also in the consultative and after effect of dissipation. Dr. Osler has called the habit of "personal liberty" at whatever cost of danger to the public at large seems to be losing its charm. The Journal of the Medical Association thinks that the time may come when employers, to whom the life and safety of others are entrusted may be required or even required to be a abstainers as well players and railway employees

Further Peace dars are now available regarding the newly discovered salt deposits on the G.T.P. 16, on the Grand Trunk Pacific main line east of Prince Rupert. The property consisting of 1,000 acres is situated within 200 feet of the railway and within 100 feet of the Skeena River. An up to date drilling plant has been installed as well as small testing plant consisting of steel separating pans. So far, 5 hole have been drilled at one schedule the ones apart, some more than a mile from the shore, and all have struck salt at depths varying from 70 to 250 feet. In all, only one hole has been scrapped from deposits up to the present time, which is known to be absolutely pure and of best quality by the most thorough tests. The owners and discoverers expect to have a plant in operation within a capacity of 50 tons per day within the course of six months. They have been in almost daily receipt of telegrams and letters from all parts of Canada and the United States asking for information. These are from firms and individuals already interested in salt production.

Men Who Never Advertise

A man who never advertises said to the writer the other day. The people of this town know my store well enough, and they know me. If they want to buy anything I have they will come around and see me."

It may be admitted that the people who have lived here right along know of the existence of the store, but do they all know about it? The people all know about the corporation, but they don't go there much, except when some friend is found. People don't care to bother much nowadays about stores unless they believe the owners thereof are enterprising men.

They want to know if there are any who seem wide awake enough to get good bargains and who have enough spirit of hustle to reach out for a large trade and thus reduce the costs of rent, clerk hire, taxes, and other overhead charges. The man who never solicits public patronage impresses people as impassive to both after their interests attentively.

ARE RUSHING BRICK PLANT

Following up the announcement made last week in these columns that Messrs Heathfield, Thomas and Hammond, late of Tofield, had decided to establish a brick manufacturing plant at Tofield at once, our readers will be pleased to learn that these gentlemen have secured a site on the Municipal Industrial Sites near the west side and just south of the Tofield-Calys Branch line and have already one of their building material on the ground. They are proceeding to erect their plant at once and are awaiting the arrival of their machinery from the east. It is their intention to be making brick at an average of 25,000 per day long before the summer is over.

The monthly meeting of Tofield Union was held on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. R. Wilkins. Seven members and one visitor were present. After the usual business was disposed of two delegates were appointed to attend the district convention in Edmonton on the 28th and 29th of this month.

A short time was then spent discussing the problem of ways and means of giving assistance to some cases lately brought before the notice of the Union. Owing to the smallness of their funds the Union regret that they are unable to do all the would wish to do in such cases. When a family lose their all it keeps us in the case the best way is by giving liberally proportion to the all it once and promptly not like a case with their assistance to the necessities, which is respectable for the support of those families who unfortunately are addicted to drink. But the best interests people of these families would be served in the end if the temperance people of them who do not belong to the Union would join the ranks and help in the good work.

Next meeting of the union will be held at the home of Mrs. Bill Hughes second Thursday in June.

Pedigrees and Pay

The time to pay for a pedigree is when it is delivered. While most breeders are honorable, many are not, and some are negligent and a few are downright dishonest.

In order to protect themselves against these evils, the Dominion Live Stock Branch has prepared forms of pure bred animals will do well when dealing with breeders of whose honesty they have not had subject with held a part of the purchase price until pedigree as requested or until the animal in the hands of the purchaser for registration. There is no other way of expressing actual confidence in any man and expect him to pay you.

As soon as the Live Stock Branch receives the pedigree the fee is collected and forwarded to the breeder. The system is free to the purchaser and breeder.

Any one who has pure-bred live stock and would like to join the Record of Performance Association should write to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, for information.

IS THIS A CASE OF "SOUR GRAPES"?

The editor of the Tofield Bugle tells us that a requires one who is a statesman, an orator, a good speaker, a statistician and an author, to be qualified to edit a newspaper which is not true. We are inclined to the above, yet we venture the assertion we edit a paper every darn bit as good as the Standard, if not a little better. Nor is the editor of the Standard anything more than an ordinary mortal, although he thinks he is. A geographer would know that the crossing of the G.T.P. and C.N.R. is at Ryley and not at Tofield. A statesman, in the real sense of the word, is never a narrow minded or at the man at the helm of the Standard."

Note. The writer of the above does not mean that he runs a newspaper, does he?

Loss of appetite or dizziness allge for alarm. Something must be done that should not be disregarded.

It is wonderful to find what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Dyspepsia Tablets will do this. They act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Nothing will have more lasting results. A dizziness or headache, a heavy tongue, coated stomach indicates a disordered condition of these organs.

Announcement

THE FINANCIAL CONDITIONS existing all over Western Canada, due in part, to too much speculation in real estate, and the consequent inability to meet their obligations, we having a widespread effect on credits—banks are curtailing loans, and mortgage loaners and wholesalers are calling down on the credit previously extended, to such an extent that the merchants all over the West are being compelled to put their business on a cash basis, if they are to continue the necessary stocks. Present indications do not point to an immediate contingency of the money stringency, and financial authorities state that not until the fall of 1914 will matters adjust themselves to ordinary conditions.

During the last three years we have carried book accounts amounting to over 25 thousand, the inevitable result of too much credit combined with the scarcity of money, is that we are compelled for our own protection, to discontinue giving any credit whatsoever.

We will show absolutely no discrimination, you and your neighbor will be point raising in the same scale—we will not insist on you paying cash and at the same time extend credit to your neighbor. Every article sold must be paid for before leaving the store. No goods allowed on approval without being paid for, but any article you wish to change we will be glad to change for you, and anytime you want your money back, we will be pleased to give it to you—and we don't ask questions. Please orders and all goods delivered to customers in town will be sent with, each or delivery."

After June 1, 1913 we will not charge anything to anyone, and we ask your co-operation in carrying out the cash system in such a way that we will speak of discussing financial conditions, still be able to carry the largest and best assorted stock in the Tofield District.

ROAD WILL BE GONE ON WITH

Council already expended all funds available this year for this road. Gov't will proceed with work

CONTROVESY SETTLED

Council of Cornhill Rural Municipality, No. 187, with the exception of Councillor Abernethy, voted in favor of a resolution placing itself on record as being decidedly of the opinion that the road from a point between Hastings and Cooking Lakes to Deville, started by it this spring, be gone on with and completed. Councillor Abernethy placed himself on record as opposing this resolution.

In explanation of the need for the above mentioned resolution, Reeve Olsen stated that at a meeting of the settlers of Deville and Cooking Lakes at Deville last Friday, R. H. Crawford, M.L.A. for the South Edmonton constituency, was present and discussed the needs of road improvements. The road leading into Deville from the south, as started by the Council this year, came up for discussion. Mr. Crawford stated that he had seen Mr. Stockdale, Deputy Minister of Public Works, regarding this road quite recently, and was informed that as there had been a diversity of opinion and even opposition by some, that as soon as the people, through the Council, decided to go on with this road, the Department would assist with an appropriation.

By-law No. 2 being a by-law to borrow by way of a temporary loan from the Merchants' Bank against the current revenue the sum of $12,000 for expenditure up as made throughout the municipality, was given its three readings and passed.

A petition, largely signed by settlers in township 51, range 20, and the west part of township 51, range 19, for the opening of a road from Deville east 6 miles and south to connect with the trunk road and telephone line to Tofield was allowed.

The secretary was instructed to place to the credit of the various school districts within the boundary, sufficient amounts to run them one month as soon as the funds are available.

Loses Life in Well

Ernest Ingram victim of poisonous gas fumes—A chapter of accidents—Johnny Lee lighting for life

Within the past week Tofield has been visited with a chapter of accidents and culminating in a gruesome tragedy which has struck the community almost dumb with fear and awe. The witness or born of an accident in which the victim was the sufferer of painful injuries is not enough, but to be a spectator of a happening in which men were killed and realizes that he is helpless to lend succor while a precious life is slowly being snuffed out, horrible. Such was the case on Tuesday afternoon when Ernest Ingram became the victim of the poisonous fumes of exploded dynamite gas and a cave in at the bottom of a well which he and others were boring on the lot on 3rd Avenue east occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carew, the latter of whom is a sister of the deceased.

Ingram and his associates were boring the well and in doing so at a depth of 57 feet encountered hard shales which they loosened with shots of dynamite. Shortly after shooting the well ingram was lowered into it sitting on a 2x4 tied to the end of the rope by which he was lowered. On his arrival at the bottom he called to be quickly hoisted out. But it was impossible attempted to do. When raised about ten feet from bottom he fainted and was landed to the bottom of the hole again. Almost simultaneously a cave in occured which almost completely buried his body. He was heard to moan a few times then all was still. Nick Swanton was the first volunteer to go down with a second rope, but he just managed to secure it to the left foot of the victim when the gas fumes became so strong that he had to be pulled out. Ingram was still living then.

The rope which Swanton had attached to Ingram's foot was then thrailed upon gently but firmly, but to everybody's horror it came up with only the long rubber hose worn by the victim when he went down.

After some time Swinton again went down, taking a lantern with him, but he found no sign of life at bottom when it went out. The time he tried to tie the rope on Ingram's foot, but was overcome before being able to do so. He was immediately pulled out, but was unconscious when he arrived at the top, and it was several hours before he was brought around.

The doctor who was on the scene then refused to allow another to go down until the gas had escaped, and it was over half an hour until it was found safe, and a gallant volunteer, Phillip Collins of Beaver Creek, went down with a second rope, which he firmly secured to the ankle of the victim. Such was traded through the hose sent down at the bottom. Being hoisted out safely the body of Ingram was seen in the ground through its covering of over clay and brought up but first to the surface. On hearing that it was found that there was still a faint flutter of the heart, and vigorous efforts at resuscitation were applied for over an hour with the best sign of success. But sadly the body of Ingram was laid to rest on Saturday afternoon in the cemetery.

Young Ingram was about 23 years of age, and was the youngest member of a family of eight, four of his sons and three daughters, all of whom have resided in the Tofield district for the past 15 years or more. Much sympathy is felt with the bereaved ones in the Valley. The funeral which took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment made in Tofield Cemetery.

Johnny Lee thrown from horse

Johnny Lee, 14 year old son of William Lee, was last Saturday afternoon severely injured by being violently thrown from the back of a horse he was riding. The horse was galloping fast and suddenly stopped, throwing the boy over his head and causing him to land heavily upon the ground. The accident occured within view of the boy's home. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home, where it was found after a physician's examination, that he had sustained serious internal injuries, and it was only by administration of anesthetic agents that he could be made to stand the agony. It was not until Monday that he was in condition sufficient to allow his being taken to the hospital at Edmonton. Since then he has had 44 hours and is said to be the best of rapid and nursing kid.

Miss Tofield thrown from horse

A similar incident took place on Ave. east of Main Street, on Saturday afternoon when Miss Tofield was thrown from the saddle of the horse she was riding, right in the middle of the road, on the ground on her head, and causing a disturbance of equilibrium of both body and mind and then refused to allow another to go a few more injuries.

Rev. M. E. Wiggins and family will leave on Friday for Medicine Hat to take the annual conference of the Methodist Church, which will be held in that city beginning on May 28.

The complaint artist of the STANDARD staff was out around various parts last Sunday with his camera. Interesting developments might be expected if the proofs were circulated. Needlessly, it might be said, the quest was apparently very good.

C. E. Jamieson, proprietor of the Post Office Drug Store, has just installed one of McLaughlin's Regnie Soda Fountains and is now ready to dispense all kinds of cool drinks and ice cream. Final Returns in Alberta Election

The official result of the polling in the Alberta Provincial Elections held April 17, shows that the Liberal party, while losing a number of seats, will still have a substantial majority in the legislature, the returns showing 37 Liberals and 17 Conservatives elected. It has been announced that Mayor Nolan Spencer was defeated by Mr. Mitchell and now, after the disputed ballots have been adjudicated upon and counted, Spencer has been found to be elected. The unofficial returns as sent out are as appeared, settled conditions in the far north west, where 11 Members Liberal, had to reduce A. W. TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MAY 22, 1913

Beware of the Land Shark!

INFORMATION has reached the STANDARD which alleges that surveyors are at work upon another subdivision of farm property in the not too close vicinity of Tofield. Now, the STANDARD thinks that it voices the opinion and sentiment of the great majority of Tofieldites, if not all of them, on this question of subdivisions. This thing has gone on long and far enough. True, there is no reason why any property owner, be he a hundred miles or more or less from town a town or city, cannot subdivide his property if he wants to. He cannot be denied this right. But, when it comes to harassing the public in the manner in which the far eastern and western public has only too frequently been harassed into buying worthless property, in so far as present values are concerned, or even prospective values, within the next few years, no bunch of citizens inhabiting a town upon whose credit the real estate operator is trading for this swindling of the unsuspecting public, who have any respect for themselves and a wholesome desire for the honest growth of their municipality, will allow themselves to be a willing or even silent partner to the scheme. We would appeal to the public of the country at large, and we trust that the press of the West will have the courage to echo this appeal, to beware of questionable real estate deals and as often as possible to see the property they are offered before buying, or, at least, obtain reliable information about the same before becoming, as many do, the victims of the wiles of the swindler.

Still that Need of the Hospital

WITH the greatly increasing population growing numbers of accidents and cases of illness throughout the district of which Tofield is the centre must surely strike the public with a sense of duty when one thinks that as yet we have no hospital here. A limited few of our citizens have been loyally endeavoring for a couple of years to interest the public generally in the hospital scheme with but varying success. It gives one a feeling of assurance, however, when the announcement is made that progress has so far been made that tenders are called for the erection of the building according to plans and specifications prepared by a competent architect. That the public will respond heartily when the scension arrives that their financial assistance will be required there is little reason to doubt.

o o o o o

Who is the Lesson not Learned?

THE distressing accidents of the past few days which which have occurred in our midst will bring to the minds of most of our readers the fact that we, as a whole, are most painfully negligent as to precautions for ordinary safety. While the deepest sympathy of the community prevails for the bereaved and anguished parents or relatives, the thought must surely strike home that we do not think of the thousands of accidents which have occurred in precisely the same manner and precisely under similar conditions as present day residents. Remarkable it is also that escapes are matters of common comment, and yet the carelessness goes on. In fact it is as flagrant in many instances that it verges almost upon criminal negligence.

When will we learn to profit by experience?

Equal Heat In Every Part of The Gurney-Oxford Oven

Every woman well knows the bad results from constantly opening the oven door to see how a cake is to another shelf or turn a pan of biscuits. Often the shaking or the cold air striking in proves utterly disastrous to her baking.

The Divided Flue on the Gurney-Oxford range equally distributes the heat to all parts of the oven which is regulated to the exact temperature required by means of the Economy Heat Indicator.

This wonderful time-labor-and-money-saving device controls the heat of the whole range.

It is worked by a small handle which moves around a series of tiny notches. The baker can soon learn that by moving the handle to No. 1 the fire has a very hot oven, to No. 3 a moderate oven, and that No. 5 gives the fire to go to bed, scarcely any coal while the goes out shopping. On her return she simply moves the handle to the number that gives the required heat and the oven is prompt.

Of inestimable value also is the Broiler Attachment and the Special Grate, a useful feature about the Gurney-Oxford is its constant bright and shining appearance.

It has a smooth polished top that never requires any hard coal and is thoroughly sanitary.

For years stove experts have been working out woman's problem in the kitchen and the Gurney-Oxford range is the solution.

DR. FRIEDMAN

Doctor Friedmann, the German tuberculosis specialist, stands about 5 feet 10 inches in height, of medium build, straight as an arrow, and one would imagine from his appearance that he is of a highly strung temperament, blue-grey eyes, which when he is in a contented reflect the expression of the ideas he is receiving by speech, sometimes sparkling in their brightness. Again at rest as the ideas passes away in speech. Often are the notes the faraway look of the man whose thoughts are away from his immediate surroundings, present only upon his great task of healing the stricken scourge, and then when he is called again to the surroundings in which he is at the moment, starts as if he is totally forgotten them. He has a blunt manner of speaking at times but whilst a blunt expression used his features which couldn't fail to warrant, and which is often lit up by a smile he he speaks. He is crammed full of nervous energy, his whole aim is the success of his work and nevertheless their is a set look on his features as if nature demanded a little rest from his exertions.

HOW TO FIGHT CONSUMPTION

The Grand Duchess of Hesse has hit upon a novel scheme for propagating the knowledge of how to fight consumption. On her recent visit to a hygiene exhibition at Darmstadt she saw some match boxes with printed instructions on the reverse side how to do and what not to do in order to avoid the spread of tuberculous contagion. The boxes were samples. Several billes had been made to the order of some South American government. The Grand Duchess has since succeeded in inducing all the match manufacturers of the Grand Duchy to place these instructions on the back of every box they sell, the price to remain the same.

PAID FOR HIS WIFE

Barter and Sale of a Woman in a London Court

A London cable says: The barter and sale of a woman for £7,500 was arranged in the courts here recently by the authority of a judge. The case was that of a divorce suit brought by Marcellus Raymond Worrall against his wife, Helena Wesley Worrall, both actors. J. A. Morrison, barrister of the Martinez, petitioner, was named as co-respondent. The suit was undefended, and counsel stated that it had been agreed that Morrison should pay Worrall £7,500 damages. Mr. Justice Pearson: "Is the petitioner here?" Counsel: "The parties have agreed as to damages. The co-respondent is prepared to pay the amount, and the petitioner is satisfied to receive the sum. If there were something behind the arrangement I should tell you not to listen to it, but in this case, as far as I can see, there is nothing objectionable. Capt. Morrison has practically bought this woman for £37,500.

NEW SPOONHOLDER

Will Not Upset and Contents Are Always in Neat Design

To the old-fashioned spoonholder several objections have been raised; none of them serious but they set a young jeweler to thinking and he designed a holder which overcomes them. One objection to the old type of receptacle was the ease with which it overturned and spilled its contents on the table. Another fault was the manner in which the spoons were thrust into disorder. The new holder is relatively long base and is quite stable. The interior is in the general shape of the bowl of a spoon and the latter fits smoothly into it, with the handle projecting through a slot. As each spoon is put into the holder it rests exactly upon the one below it and a neat pile is formed. Of course, the holder is made in different sizes for different size spoons.

NO "TARNISHED" SPOONS.

FOX FARMING

Prices Paid for Breeding Purposes Records Fair Values

A return of three hundred per cent on the capital invested in what silver foxes in the Maritime Provinces received, according to a report compiled by Dr. Hewitt, Dominion Biologist, a silver fox ranch from start to finish of about 15 years according to the figures of the pelts, but the prices paid to-day for breeding stock are so much higher than they were a few years ago that the net profit must be determined before any fair value and not for the pelts are being paid for breeders. It is possible, that, in the course of a few years the numerous ranches in process of formation and which are practically a demand for breeding stock will be rendered unprofitable for the market. The principal points at which the industry is carried on are around Alberton, Summerside, Charlottetown and Margaree in Prince Edward Island, Pictou city in Quebec, Port Elgin in New Brunswick, and Wyoming in Ontario.

Between 15 and 20 years, 31 minutes. 20 to 25 years, 51 minutes. 25 to 30 years, 1 hour 6 minutes. 30 to 35 years, 81 minutes. 35 to 40 years, 1 hour 16 minutes. 40 to 45 years, 1 hour 31 minutes. 45 to 50 years, 1 hour 46 minutes. Then he gained the information that the figures given time showed that woman spent 18, 241 days, or 50 years, by interest Tu which the answer is Let Le

OPENINGS FOR WOMEN

English Woman Who Spent 6 Months in Canada Gives Address

Miss Byles addressed the Royal Society of Arts concerning openings for educated women in Canada. Miss Byles had no machine to find out what openings existed that she spent six months in Canada as a working woman, took five temporary positions in succession, and had a very bewildering, but true. She was surprised to find how low the educated woman's market value. When she thought of living home to see the reality very different from what she had imagined it. The Canadian girl is a good housewife, and the art of keeping her home in good order is inherited with her. She had nothing to say against the Canadian husband, for several she had considered how that the poor old home help is unsuitable for educated English women, except perhaps on the Pacific slopes. Miss Byles discussed an unobtrusive English emigrants to consider becoming gentlewomen in large western hospitals, elementary school teachers, stenographers or dressmakers. Poultry farming was lucrative if women could do the work themselves. We are accustomed of value to claim the United Kingdom of all its capable women," concluded Miss Byles. "We replied that with one and a half million more women than men, a few less dread can well be spared. If England is no cushion to keep her daughters let her give them better shelter."

Kaufman's Epigrams

Mr. Herbert Kaufman, the American writer, is a master of the art of epigram. For example:

"Blessed is the man—dling your farm a 10-acred miner."

"Blessed is the man—dling a barber—the chronicles of civilization are not for him."

"A rule is to be only respected until it is found to be broken."

"Limbo do not exist except in conversation."

"There is enormously satisfying luxury in reality one forfeiters' widest generous."

"Failure isn't a disease of locality—it's a personal habit."

"Half of greatness is grit."

"Self-assertion is a good."

"There's plenty of room for a shy-reaping dispositions—most men are building shanty lives."

The Gold Pack

A cold pack is a hot, home substitute for a Turkish bath when such treatment is indicated. It is an ideal way to get up a good, healthful perspiration. Wring the bath towel out of cold water, and wrap the patient snugly in it. Cover the bath towel with a heavy blanket and tuck it well around the patient's body, so as to make it fit like a mummy's. Be sure that the patient's head is not covered. After you have taken care that the patient is not chilled, a good rub down and then a long sleep will finish the job.

Yorkshiremen From Florida Coast

The first party of men to settle on the land in the Peace River district from the United States arrived at Edmonton last week. They obtained on the Pacific coast in order to buy land in the Peace River district. The party consists of 30 men, all Yorkshiremen, and they have purchased 30,000 acres of land. In the party there are five glaziers, and there are 25 wood plates around the edges of the shed, known as "rats" or "noses." The biggest turtle does not furnish more than 10 pound of shell. Formerly the undershell was discarded as worthless, but now it is much sought after for the decoration of tortoise shell combs, and the tortoise-shell is made from the horns of cows.

Real Pearl Toilet Powder

Some of the most beautiful women of Europe use a face powder that is made from real pearl dust. This is, however, very expensive, and, consequently, is not a powder for the poor. But for those expensive than the so-called genuine pearl dust, which is merely mother-of-pearl crushed, and which is made and imported in the East. At a certain pearl merchant's place in the East, several pretty girls were employed to bore holes through the pearls for the purpose of stringing. Some of the girls noticed that a few of their companions were accumulating brilliant complexions. For some time they could not believe them to be real, but, as the complexions grew more and more beautiful, they began to suspect that the powder therefore became in great demand as a facial beautifier.

THE COAST INDIANS

Gradually Taking to Agriculture—Valuable Tree Grows Wild

Mr. Thomas Wilson, Dominion Inspector of Indian orchards and instructor for agriculture on the Skeena, after a tour among his charges in British Columbia, said that although the progress of the tribes in fruit and vegetable growing does not appear to be very marked from year to year, yet it is in fact advancing and in quite noticeable if a period of ten years of three months be taken for progress of comparison.

Among some of the tribes little attempt is to be made to establish agriculture or horticulture, because the Indians are making a good living in other ways. The Haidas of the Queen Charlotte Islands, for instance get as much as $60,000 a year from the canneries at Masset. They have also a large number of canneries and fight their fishing grounds against the Japanese. Tuberculosis and ophthalmia, however, are still making ravages among them and the Indians do not seem to be making much progress in learning how to combat these diseases.

Mr. Wilson recommended to the Provincial authorities that steps be taken to preserve the "pearlberry" tree, from the bark of which the drug cascara is obtained. It grows wild in parts of the Province but could easily be cultivated on the area would produce about four tons of cascara bark per year. The Japanese supply is becoming exhausted and Mr. Wilson thinks that timber lands now in British Columbia would do well to see that the bark of the tree is not destroyed when the land is logged over.

Of the possibilities of Queen Charlotte Islands, Mr. Wilson is very optimistic. The soil is rich and will be excellent for vegetable production when the markets demand and the routes have been tabulated. A land of wild cattle, he considers of none that arouse more pains are there pastured from a Hudson's Bay Company boat, now roam about in considerable numbers.

USEFUL WILD LIFE

Student of Creatures of the Woods Urges Against Their Extermination

In an address at Ottawa, Lieut.-Colonel Wood, a well-known traveller and hunting, spoke in stern resolute appeal for the preservation of wild life in Canada. Some species in Ontario and Newfoundland made him very familiar with the subject, which, indeed, he has studied all his life. Colonel Wood spoke of valuable "animal man," and said that he had always been friendly to the conservation of wild life in Canada.

There was a time when the war between man and wild animals had no limit, but that time had passed, and the very best of men in this country had to get ahead of wild animals. Man had had to take to himself the partnership with him the dog. He had been to the Canadian Arctic, and often at least which ten people went there settled. The only domestic animals there were dogs, and it was possible in the primitive state of such civilization to see the that debt man owed to the dog. Without the dog, the hostile winter of January in the winter they would be in their wild state and so here. He knew a case of nine dogs saving a family of five people.

After the stage of war came the stage of sport and he had nothing to say against sport but it was necessary to put a limit on sport upon the destruction of wild life.

The question of game should be a matter of sport, but it is a matter of necessity. And when a mistake to treat the game in any part of the country as if because there was a plentiful supply of wild life that it would never disappear. The bad laws and of the building and many animals in the Arctic regions, several girls were employed to bore holes through the pearls for the purpose of stringing. Some of the girls noticed that a few of their companions were accumulating brilliant complexions. For some time they could not believe them to be real, but, as the complexions grew more and more beautiful, they began to suspect that the powder therefore became in great demand as a facial beautifier.

BOYS FIGHT DUEL

German Youths Use Firearms to Set Affair of Honor at Rest at a Cost

Again the old cold resulting in "cold to be fatal" when boys and pool a and the peculiar ideas of honor and the duel held in this country, have resulted in a "schoolboy duel," in which one of the combatants received injuries which will probably cost him his life.

A boy of seventeen years was, said in a small wood he decimal an appointment with a friend. With a fellow wound in the right breast. He was found by a passer-by, and when he was found virtually dying.

It seems that the lad a review in the German higher grades and quarrelled with a schoolmate of his own age over a girl, every respect for themselves, and for whose in are more conscious. The study of wild life developed progress, and he showed how that one small part of the world would be left, and in which man would have "although the study of wild life an opportunity of preventing blunders."

AN IDEAL LANDLORD

A Good Name Better Than Riches—This Man Had Both

John Thurman, who died in Hamilton, Ont., was known as an ideal landlord, and was blessed by tenants who had been in his employ for years. He never raised the rents of his houses, while others were doing so, and when a tenant was in trouble he would help him. He refused to raise the rents. His estate is worth $100,000, but he made his profit out of the property, but out of the tenant. He was good-natured, charitable and free from greed. He lived in comfort, and died respected. Trouble Amongst Council Members

Rumors have been current for some time that trouble was brewing between certain members of the Cardinal Rural Municipality Council, and as the result of that several have already resigned. It is also rumored that the remainder of that council will follow their example. From what we can learn the trouble is caused by a personal feeling between a couple of councillors and has been brewing for some time. We understand that the matter has been brought before the Municipal Commissioner for investigation, and we hope that the matter will be settled in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

Is It Good Business?

THE report of the proceedings of the last meeting of the Council of Cardhill Rural Municipality No. 487, being the minutes of the meeting, constitute interesting reading this week for the ratepayers of the municipality. It will be seen that, by resolution carried by council, an almost unheard of and generally indefensible move was authorized, viz., that each councillor, separately and individually, be given the right to order supplies of lumber, metal, culverts and other materials as he deems fit. It is not that any improper actions by any of the councillors are hinted at, but the ratepayers who have any idea of business should be shocked when it is the custom of the public with which the business is being done would know that no business transactions involving the contracting of a public debt should be done without the full consent of council, and that the discussion of the matter, taking up to purchase should be public and subject to the full est publicity. As it is, if the motion carried by council is acted upon, the members of council may purchase what they like, when they like and from whom they please, and the public must pay the piper.

The action carried to purchase metal culvert material from all the companies asking for business is another which is not in the interests of the ratepayers. Doubtless, it is practically conceded that the quantity of material might total up to a car load. If the material were purchased from one company there would be a reduction of something like 80c. per foot. Distributed among several companies the quantity supplied by each will be less than carload lots, and will cost the municipality a much larger sum than if purchased from any one company. This the ratepayers will be able to pass an opinion upon as to whether it is good business.

Yet Room for United Action re Good Roads

THE battle of the aggressive campaign put up for good roads in the Tofield district by leaders of thought and action in Tofield itself, and throughout the municipality during the past few years have already been felt and acknowledged by both town and country people. The thousands of dollars expended by the government of last year and in progress upon the main trunk road from Edmonton to Lloydminster, the scheduled expenditure next year by Tofield, and the work to be finally completed in the near future, are undoubtedly the country people are well satisfied with. Industrial Man Says Tofield is Winner

Conditions are fave able to Getting Excellent Gas Well Soon

William G. White, who was formerly secretary of the Industrial Bureau of Medicine Hat, but is now his end in industrial committee of Tofield, Alta., arrived in the city Wednesday, attending to some personal business.

Mr. White, when asked as to conditions in Tofield, stated to the Call that things are going on in a substantial way in that town. The city working expenses are just getting underway and a third is preparing to do the same, although getting the wells from being the third gas well soon. It is situated on Street [illegible]. The town has already been placed within 2 miles of well No. 1, which was unfortunately a failure, owing to the inexperience of the men in charge of the drilling operations, who dumped concrete into the piping in an effort to shut off the water, which succeeded in shutting off the the major part of the gas and No. 2 well is now [illegible] and [illegible] having gone too far east. In the No. 1 well the gas and was tested at 2,000,000 cubic feet at the 1057 foot level. Machinery for the No. 3 well was started yesterday morning, and he believes that the resident of Tofield are justified in having every reason to believe that the third well will be a success.

The ratepayers according to Mr. White, have voted by a large majority to allow gas the natural gas, because of the extensive and almost unexhausted supply, through whose influence the town of Tofield itself. The town [illegible] account to the manufacture of gas, for as reported instead of being manufactured and sold as produced with the greatest economy.

Among the other industries that have decided to locate in Tofield, Mr. White states that one is a [illegible] company being [illegible] Toronto and Montreal capitalists. The foundry and machine shop has its buildings erected and part of the machinery installed, and will shortly be in operation, there being a large demand for a concern of that kind in the north part of the province.

Mr. White expects to be here on May 22, and states that he will most certainly vote for the street railway agreement, being a property holder here.—Calk Medicine Hat.

CANADA'S LUMBER KING

His First "Big Financial Stroke Was Purchase of Doubtful Railway

Canada's greatest lumberman is J. R. Booth of Ottawa. Among the friends of Booth there is a question whether he made his fortune in lumber or by railroading, but it is the general belief that his estate is about equally divided between the two sources of revenue.

Booth was born in Ottawa Canada, in 1841. His father was possessed of more than the average business head before his death, and invested when the present head of the family was a boy of 15 years. So lost all of his money and he compelled his son to depend upon himself.

This whetted the young dealer's appetite and he was ready for anything that offered. He moved to Aylmer, Que., and started in the lumber business early, he built up a large trade and then moved to Ottawa still on the Ottawa River. He did not capitalize but paid hard cash for all that he bought.

His first big stroke in the world of finance was when he bought the Canada Atlantic railroad as its different sort of railroads with few visible assets and lower income to Booth yet stood the task with the confidence and determination that have been his chief characteristics. The road extended from Montreal to Parry Sound, and covered a distance of about 450 miles

Booth had no associates in this coup Out of the lumber earnings which had become considerably large up to that time, he paid for the road, and he attached railroading to his other specialties. Sensing the situation with his peculiarly shrewd mind he put the railroad's earnings in a vault in the Ottawa banks. He was just big like the future when the Grand Trunk railroad then a struggling organization, would be compelled to buy him out. He kept the railroad stock in the bank and refused for five years when the Grand Trunk first made overtures for his purchase and it was finally handed him at a price of $3,000,000 had paid for it.

No one knows how much Booth made on the deal, but it is estimated that the sale netted him at least $2,000,000 additional wealth.

Water Works Installation To Be Proceeded with at Once

New Steam Boiler Ordered for Power House—Tofield to have A1 Fire Protection System

At a special meeting of Council held last Monday evening that body authorized the fire, water and light committee, of which Councillor Whitlam is chairman, to proceed with the installation of the initial section of what will be a part of the permanent water works system. That committee brought in a report asking that, now that the proceeds of the water works debentures are at hand, the committee be authorized to proceed with the work. The authority was then proved without any opposition. The work will then go on without any more undue delay.

On Wednesday Story, McMullen telephoned the municipal engineers Maxwell & McKenzie, that Council was now ready to go on and instructing them to proceed at once with their part of the work and received reply that they would be on the ground this week

The distribution system will be installed from the present power house to 4th Ave. West, thence along 4th Ave. crossing Main St. East to corner of Lane, parallel ing Main Street and in the rear of the lots facing Main Street, thence north to 2nd Ave. and north to Cookson Avenue, hydrants being placed at the corners of lanes and avenues. This will allow of the hose being stretched from the hydrants to all present built up portions of the town and give adequate water line protection to all buildings in case of fire.

The pipes for the mains have been laid along the centre for some time.

Another step in advance taken by the Fire, Water and Light Department is that of ordering a new 60 in. by 16 ft. steam boiler for the power plant. This was passed by council and ordered from Leonard & Sons of Calgary. It will cost delivered at Tofield the sum of $12,365 complete with double set of injectors. The boiler is rated at 100 horse power and is the first half of the power plant estimated upon to furnish power to operate the final and permanent water works system in which it is designed to procure a permanent water supply from Hastings Creek ravine some four miles from town. Until the final and permanent system is installed the present plant will be used to maintain an adequate fire protection system from the present reservoir.

General Election must Decide Naval Issue

Sir George Ross, Leader of Opposition in Senate, eloquently discusses views of majority of Upper House on Naval Bill—Says Country must decide question

OBEY CONSCIENCE ONLY

"We are not here," he said, "to suit any premier or leader of the opposition. We are here to do as we please according to our consciences."

He went on to say that Mr Borden had said in a Montreal speech that if this bill were opposed he would appeal to the people.

"I am not concerned whether he does, or not," said Sir George, "let I am concerned that legislation which comes to this house should be in harmony with public opinion. When a bill arrives in this house in regard to which public opinion is unsettled, then it is a safe principle to adopt that we shall take such action as will show what pub lic opinion is."

A portion of Sir George Ross his latest speech was as follows:

"What shall we do now? Find out what the will of the empire is and obey that mandate. The day of small things is past and gone. We are no longer walking timorously in the path of destiny, our navy is second only to that of Great Britain's estate, not by letting to the feeble voice of modesty, not by cloudbusters of patriotism will we be admitted into the family of nations. It is for the statement of the hour to speak with the references made by Premier Borden in his Toronto speech to the senate. Before the limelight which will fall in the senate was lost an echo of the views of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the commons.

Premier Reid is not hanging Navy Blue and such-ing anymore. He now sack-cloths in ashes to compel the development of the Empire-to-and Imperial federation. The Liberals led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier stand by principle and idea of an equal commonwealth of self-governing dominions and no subordination.

Premier Borden ideal of an entrenched Empire restricts itself to the autonomy of the states concerned and pays all it can to the support of the home fleet. Whatever they of course Mr Borden admits the new has now been plainly set by the Canadian people.

It is reported to the STANDARD that John C. Phillips who made a trip the other day to Edmonton alleges that he had his pocket picked while in the big city and that he was relieved of twenty dollars. John certainly couldn't, like being Sim Sanford like that He says he thought he was smart enough not to have one put over him like this one, but now has another think coming.

The Bishop of Calgary visited Tofield last Saturday, remaining until Monday, and conducting services at Trinity Church on Sunday In conversation with the STANDARD the Bishop expressed himself as very much pleased with Tofield in the general quietness that pervaded throughout the province at this time Tofield shows up favorably. The number of buildings in course of erection, the commercial and industrial development which is going on the clean and attractive appearance of the town, all speak well and indicate that, even in the period of a stringency in the money market, Tofield is still forging ahead.

Cement Block Makers Busy

An industry which has been carried on in Tofield for some time past and of which there has been nothing said, and, it might be said of it that practically nothing has been known of it outside of a limited few, is the cement block manufactured by R. E. L. Clark & Son, recently from Hammett, Idaho, and now located on the corner of Main and Lake Shore St. E. Clark & Son have been busy, too busy to talk, making cement blocks for their contract to put in a cement block full sized basement for the new 4 apartment building on 7th Ave. East. A representative of the STANDARD called around one day towards the end of last week and was agreeably surprised to find more than one half of the floor space covered with cement blocks in process of curing and Messrs. Clark & Son turning out more at a rapid pace. The blocks measure 8 in. by 8 in. by 16 in. and are provided with hollow parts for dead air spaces when placed in the walls. Mr. Clark is well pleased with the local lake sand for the manufacture of cement blocks. In addition to making cement blocks the Clarks are making a specialty of cement blocks for chimney flues These are made 16 in. square and are thick and are provided with an 8 in. by 8 in. opening in the centre for flue space. They are 8 inches thick and can be quickly laid when erecting a chimney. They should make quite a hit with builders of houses both in town and country.

CHINA MAY ATTRACT OUR WESTERN FLOUR

Another Reason Why Our Wheat Should be Milled in Canadian Mills

Men who have spent from ten to twenty-five years in the Orient are now saying that the long awaited awakening of China is at last at hand. The change that has taken place in the country and people since the revolution is regarded as the greatest that has ever occurred in any nation during no better a period. Wages are increasing, and if the projected foreign loans go through, there will be further improvement in this respect. The money will be used largely in the construction of railways, and a higher standard of living will follow.

This will mean a heavy increase in the Chinese consumption of flour, much of which must be supplied by Western Canada. The grain will be ground in this country and the by products fed to cattle here, there being comparatively little live stock in the Orient. It looks as if the development of Asiatic markets and the opening of the Panama Canal must immediately encourage agricultural and industrial expansion in the Western Canadian Provinces and furnish plenty of traffic for our railways, new and old, which link up the plains to the mountains with Vancouver, Prince Rupert and other Pacific coast ports.

"Softening" Glassware

Contract Let for Steam Heat

The board of public school trustees met last Monday evening and amongst other routine matters awarded the contract of installing a steam heating system in the old school building to M. C. Hamm at the figure of $450.00. Work will commence next week and is to be completed and placed upon the heating system by the 1st of August next.

Principal Newell reported to the board that a window in Miss Sharp's room had been accidentally broken and a bullet evidently fired from a rifle. The board gave its resolution authorizing the council to use that the bylaws governing offenses of this nature are thoroughly enforced.

The secretary was instructed to forward details of the estimates of expenditures of the board to council as requested.

An Room for the Drinking Man

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN defies all precedents and at a state dinner in Washington has no wine upon the table, and the public in the United States and elsewhere approve and applaude the man who is true to his principles.

The colony Roosevelt beings action and receives damages against a capitalistic editor who accused him of ingurning the wine cup. He declared that, while not a total abstainer, he was not a hard drinker or even what the public would describe as a moderate drinker.

The public has no use for a hard drinker. The time when the public man who had a fondness for the flowing bowl was looked upon with some consideration has long since passed. The voter does not care in cast his ballot for a man whose indulgence in liquor makes him incapacitated at any time. He does not care to be represented by a man who even tampers with liquor.

It is the same in the commercial world. Commercial life is too strenuous for the man who has a love for the bar or even much of a liking for liquor. The railways, the banking houses and most other enterprises require abstinence during business hours and give the preference to the abstainer every time. Competition is too keen now for any business enterprise to place dependence on a man who verbibuds.

Not so very long ago newspaper men had the well-earned reputation of conviviality of that kind. The temptations were very great, and it is not surprising that they yielded sometimes. But the day of the booze-fighting newspaper man is past, and the non-drinking newspaper man is in the vast majority.

There is no place in the world of commerce or trade or the even of politics for the man who drinks.—Morning Albertan, Calgary.

Made-in-Canada Train here June 25

THE people of Tofield and district should mark the date, June 25 in their minds as a day on which they must take a day off and go to see the Made-in-Canada Train with all its hundreds of exhibits and its other attractions. What one will see will be resumbon-exhaustive exhibit, he will learn of many branches of Canadian industry of which only too little is known. Public school teachers should choose their pupils to be on hand with their parents and may learn of the resources of their country and how they may be turned to the advantage of each manufacturer and consumer. At the G.T.P. Depot, Tofield June 25, 9 to 11.30 a.m.

Unlawful Use of Firearms

THE BALL that a bullet evidently lired from a rifle penetrated one of the windows at the Tofield public school quite recently is but another instance of the careless use of firearms which has been referred to on these columns on the recent past. There is need of legislation, and enough it may be, which will compel the calling in of all rifles, making it compulsory for any one to have a license to use them for any purpose. As it is, it is almost impossible to prevent the use of firearms of any description within the limits of towns and it is time that action were taken to make such legislation in this regard.

Does your Bread look and taste as good as your Neighbors?

Canada's Needs

(Canadian Forestry Association)

Canada's forest area is about MAKE THIS 1000 acres.

Canada possesses some six hundred billion board feet of merchantable timber, worth perhaps ten billion dollars.

Canadians are cutting off this timber at the rate of about 18[illegible] board feet per acre, or eight billion board feet a year.

The fire loss is estimated to be 1000 board feet per acre per annum.

We are allowing from fifty million to two hundred million dollars worth of this timber to burn up every year.

Worse than that, we are burning young growth forest later and will destroy on hundreds of thousands of acres. That means no timber in the future for our children and children's children. Forest fires continued make deserts.

With the trees and young growth on the roots and soil cover with their undoubted powers of holding water and soil together. Floods and torrents follow in districts where the trees have been removed.

Fifty per cent of Canada is capable of growing tree crops and nothing else.

Only a fraction of this absolute forest area is growing trees as it might. The rest is comparatively unproductive.

We cannot live without wood. Everything from the house we live in to the books we read is made of the product of the forest. We must have it.

To keep us in lumber, pulp, an equable water supply, fish and game, we must have trees.

On the prairie, shelter belts and wind-breaks are protecting crops, stock and homes from the extremes of climate, and are practically the farmers with fence posts and strangers.

The Dominion Government has supplied twenty five million seedlings to settlers.

Millions are being sent out annually by nursery companies.

There is a demand for millions more.

The experience of tree planters and far-seeing farmers indicates that there will be a demand for tens of millions more.

We must have trees in the forest, on the prairie, on sandy lands in towns and cities.

It takes years to grow trees—not hours or days.

If we want our trees protected we must care for them now. Today is fifty years "ago" from the year 1963—and that is not very far off.

All Canada's modern development,—Confederation, the great railways, the growth of the west, most great modelions—have come in the last fifty years.

The seedlings of that day are scarcely more than the tender

Fifty years is a very short time in the life of a forest. Most of the timber being cut in British Columbia today is over 200 years old—some of it over nine years old.

There is a crisis coming when the forests, which the early settlers men have thought inexhaustible, are going to be greatly depleted.

GENERAL DECREASE IN THE LAND VALUES

The Globe's Correspondent Interviewed What is Taxing Plans in Free Trade England

(Globe)

"Canada's forest area is about MAKE THIS 1000 acres.

"It is learned that among the farms ranging from 5,000 to 10,000 acres last year (1912) not one have shown an actual profit in the last ten years. One writer in The Daily Mail gives him details in regard to a Midland farm of 5,160 acres, valued at £19,772 under the Finance Act, but which ten years ago could have been sold for three times that amount. The receipts from this farm amounted in 1912 to £1,333 7s 10d, and the expenditure to £22 5s 6d, plus that amount.

Owing to the general fall in the value of land the landlord has lost a large capital sum since he came into possession. It is calculated that in England the capital value of land fell by over £100,000,000 or $500,000,000 within a generation, and his due proportion of the national loss has taken on it is landlord. If put into the open market, the estate would probably not fetch nearly £30,000, but if it sold at half this price the landlord would be richer than he now is by several hundreds of pounds a year.

"One need not go into his reasons for holding, but it is clear that at present he acts as a sort of agricultural banker to his tenants. What ever requires capital to be done he does. When the farmers were in a bad way he reduced the rents to a minimum. In the case of such heroes and laborers, schoolmaster and parson, who complete the population, he is regarded as the pivot of the organization. Without his capital there would be chaos, and without his personality much less confidence, which is the moral side of credit."

Just Being Discovered

Writing in Industrial Canada Mr. Norman Lambert says "Sufficient has been shown now to prove that the prairie provinces, besides admitting of cultivation in places which at one time were regarded as indomitable, have revealed great opportunities to the manufacturer. The development of the past two years shows also that the West is just being discovered, and that discovery will not be complete until more factories, and more mixed farms, and more centres of transportation are established, making the vast prairie territory the self-support ing country it should be."

In the Highest Degree Profitable

Some men figure that as the mercury climbs up scales will fall down. And figuring that way, fate is kind and does not disappoint them.

So there has grown up a commercial superstition that Summer is a dull season.

No greater fallacy has ever gone so long unchallenged

Summer is a dull season for many lines—but there is no fundamental reason why it should be.

For instance take a typical case—that of the Canadian wall-paper manufacturers.

They wished to secure their pitching orders from the retailers before the early fall—when American lines are offered. Through education by advertising they advanced the season to start the middle of June instead of the end of August, and they now beat their foreign competitors to the market by nearly three months.

Perhaps you face a selling problem that education by advertising will solve. Perhaps your summer business needs the tonic of summer advertising.

As the mercury climbs up to its highest degree, increase rather than slacken, your advertising efforts. You will find it profitable —in the highest degree.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 103 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

Gasoline in Mines

Gasoline locomotives are made in England that can be used safely in mines, their ignition taking place within tight boxes, while they exhaust through water.

New Rubber Plant

A species of tree of unlimited growth in Natal, has been regarded as worthless commercially, has been found to yield a latex that contains rubber in large quantities.

French Scientists

French scientists have devised an X-ray method of determining the relative values of various kinds of coal. Systematic exercises, according to tests in a German university, can be made to increase a man's lung capacity 25 per cent.

Why Man Has Hair

A kitchen sink which folds into a full, a combined friction cooker and gas stove and an ironing board with a sleeve pressing attachment have invented by one man in England.

To Keep Trees Watered

For keeping the roots of trees moist there has been invented a reservoir to be sunk in the ground, which permits water to flow from an opening the size of which can be regulated.

Egg Membranes for Sore

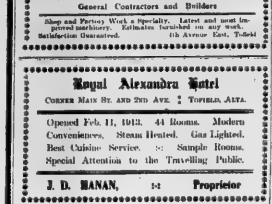
For a long time doctors looked for a good substitute for human skin for grafting. The possibility was lately demonstrated by taking the membrane from the inside of an egg shell and placing it on a wound. The result in getting it grew as human skin. The instrument of the process was a child, it had previously been burned and in breaking away from which he dislred the child formed a flap dropped part of the membrane for accident upon the burn and bandaged the wound. Later on it was discovered that the accidental peeling of the egg membrane over the burn caused cells to augment in number and grade ally to extend over the wound until at the end of some weeks, the surface was completely covered with the new cells. The treatment was called to the attention of physicians, and it is now being used to cure scalds.

English Grocers and Tobacco

Grocers in England no longer sell tobacco, but for many years after the "sweetnights herbs" reached England chairs were the only shops where it could be obtained. Tea came in under the commonwealth, and from that time the list of commodities sold by the grocers began to extend considerably. It was the first half of the seventeenth century," writes Mr Andrew Boorde, "when new lands were opening up on all hands, that adventurers set out in quest of spices and other valuable products to all parts of the then known globe. The spirit of adventure and enterprise was abroad, and in no case of traders was it more pronounced than among the grocers. "Monopolies have been split over thrice than over dynasties." says Thorold Rogers.

A notorious gun for killing horses or other animals at short range has been invented in England.

Power for a new fire proof machine for rerunding motion picture films is provided by a clay electric motor.



Why You Should Buy A Gurney-Oxford Range

Because the Gurney Economizer saves 1 ton of coal at every 6 burned in other ranges.

Because the Economizer gives you absolute control of your stove and the fuel consumption.

Because the range is air tight and consequently does not waste the heat.

Because its new Special Grate is another fuel saver and the stove is shaken with one operation.

Because its Divided Flue makes every hole a cooking hole.

Because of its sanitary artistic design.

Because of its Broiler equipment.

Because of its polished top which requires no stove polish.

Because of its roomy over-size oven which results in perfect baking of any article of food.

The Gurney-Oxford range will do everything that a stove is intended to do and infinitely more in that it has four scientific fuel-and-labor-saving devices that are exclusive to the Economizer, the Divided Flue, the Special Grate, and the Broiler.

A Gurney-Oxford will prove of incalculable worth in your kitchen. It will save your time, it will never aggravate your temper, it will end your trials.

OUR WATERWAYS

Their Development of Great Interest to all Parts of Canada.

The development of Canada's inland waterways should be pushed with all possible energy and speed. The Welland Canal deals each year dropped part of the tonnage that is produced in a comparatively small area, making transportation [illegible] the wonder Labor is [illegible] and material and economic [illegible] the people today. Transportation by water on a frozen highway is not only cheaper than by [illegible] much quicker. According to United States Interstate Commission, the average cost of moving freight by rail in a recent year was 7.6 mills per ton per mile. For the same year the cost of moving freight by the Great Lake [illegible] route was .84 of one mill per ton per mile, or one-tenth of the average rate. The average cost of moving freight by the same water route of the United States is one-sixth of what it is by the railways. An immense amount on the improvement of American waterways has returned to the people of the United States hundredfold or ten to [illegible] per cent. annually in reduced freight rates.

From Lake Superior Westward in European countries where the people own and operate the railways, the most is made of water routes for transportation for the benefit of trade and the general public. In our case, however, where railways are owned chiefly by private corporations, natural waterways are more likely to be neglected. The result of the neglect in Canada is to be seen not only in the inadequate development of water connection from Montreal to the Upper Lakes. It is quite as much evident in the failure to provide water transportation from Lake Superior to the Western Provinces via the Lake-of-the-Woods, Lake Winnipeg and other river routes. When this route developed, not only would it provide for an enormously increased volume of traffic, especially of grain and coal, but it would result in a great lowering of the freight charges by the railways.

Through the Provinces

As to the feasibility of water transportation across the Canadian continent, Sir Robert W. Perks, of London, England, writes "I believe I have been out West I have been struck with the fact that no organized and effective effort has hitherto been made to use those magnificent waterways. I do not know whether you have ever been down the Dalube as I have been and watched the logs that have been carrying very often 3,000 tons, half a dozen of them in tow of a small tug and all laden with grain. The cost of carrying grain by this method is infinitesimal, and save a waterway of the sort adopted in the West to-day to the vast grain growing Prairie Provinces would be incalculable." Professor A. B. Wilmot believes that a barge canal may easily be built at small expense from Edmonton to Winnipeg, and adds that the whole waterway from Winnipeg to the head of Lake Superior would at moderate at reasonable cost, facilitating both freight charges.

REVIVE FARMING

The Need of Getting in Touch With the Most Progressive Farmers

New Service on G. T. P. Main Line Inaugurated

Double Service between Edmonton and East on this Road in Operation

Connects at Peg with Great Lake Expresses

Other New Trains Start Yesterday Giving Better Service East and West

Shortening the journey to Eastern Canada by one day the new Grand Trunk train, the "Prairie Express," was successfully inaugurated last Sunday when for the first time in the history of the city two regular Grand Trunk passenger trains left Edmonton for Winnipeg in the same day. The new train leaves Edmonton at 5.30 every afternoon, passing through Tofield at 6.36, arriving in Winnipeg at 10.15 the next day.

The train carries two sleepers and diner, and electrically lighted cars of the latest type will be put on as soon as the new shipment, which is somewhat overdue, arrives in the course of the next week or two.

ONE DAY TO WINNIPEG

The journey to Winnipeg now takes practically one day only. A business man can do a full day's work in Tofield and leave the same day, arriving in Winnipeg the next evening in time to get a good bed in his hotel. For those who are travelling to Saskatoon the new train is very convenient. It arrives at Saskatoon at 6.45 a.m., but there is no need to turn out at that early hour, as one of the two sleepers carried is put off at Saskatoon and can be occupied until 8 a.m.

Through electrically - lighted sleepers are run from Edmonton to Fort William on this train on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, which give connection with the Northern Navigation Company's boats touching at points on the Great Lakes.

The train also connects with the "Great Lakes Express," leaving Winnipeg tri weekly at 10.30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, these being practically no wait. The new train thus puts Tofield into direct communication with all points in the east.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

The "Daily Limited" leaves Edmonton at 4.30 and arrives in Winnipeg the next day at 1.00 p.m.

The Easter local service has been put on to Cooking Lake, Tofield, Camrose and Mirror, leaving Edmonton at 4.30 p.m., arriving at Tofield at 6.30 p.m., leaving for south at 7.05 p.m.

The Yellowhead Express leaves Edmonton for Tete Jaune Cache at 9.30 p.m.

A strong gas flow is reported at Wetaskiwin, depth 4,187 ft.

Ladies Aid hold Annual Picnic

Amish Creek Ladies entertain large number in A. E. Moen's grove—Weather Ideal

It was a bright just right, day that the Amish Creek Ladies Aid chose for their annual picnic and sports. And how right it was shown that they must have some mystic understanding with the weather man for Tuesday afternoon was graced by him with the best possible kind of weather for a festive and sport-evening. The function was held in the delightful grove of A. E. Moen's and was attended by a congregation representative of the entire district. Mr. Morrisey who presides in the pedagogical chair at the Amish Creek school filled the position as master of ceremonies with distinction while Mrs. Mr. Lar. Anderson performed the duties of the lunch counter of the many articles manufactured by the deft fingers of the ladies with great success and in his own inimitable manner. The genial doctor, Mr. Pherson, of Ryley, assisted the master of ceremonies as auctioneer of stunts in which he was ably supported by the portly Somers from Tofield. A bountiful supper was provided by the ladies and laid upon tables in the grove and to which Messrs Rose, Somers and Jos. Rogers of Tofield did exceptional justice, each viewing with the other to see which could get the most worth for their money. The editor of the Standard was there and tried to keep up with Somers and Rogers but had to give up half time. It was a delightful time and the coffee was delicious and the cream, well, ask Mr. Rose about that.

During the afternoon a program of sports was run off luring which Johnson of Ryley, Emer Moen and Johnny Fleming proved themselves the athletic heroes of the day.

After supper the Ryley and Amish Creek football teams played a match of two twenty minute periods in which neither team came out victorious, each making a score. It was an inspiring and perspiring time for the players on both sides and particularly for Messrs Somers and Rose of Tofield who valiantly stood, ran and kicked for the Cricketers as half and full backs respectively. Somers being the full one and Rose the half.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Rogers motored out from Tofield to the picnic Messrs Somers and Wollam drove out Mrs Hopgood went out by train to Sinsula. A number of others from Tofield, Hawks and Ryley were present. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Moody of East Beaver Lake were also present.

At 4th Avenue the main will be carried to Main Street and from thence it will be laid to the corner of Main and 2nd Avenue and north to Cookson Avenue. It is expected that it will take at least six weeks to complete the work. A gang of from 30 to 40 men will be required. Hydrants will be installed at the main street corner.

Comment

THE Edson town councillors evidently think that the work of looking after the municipal business is worth some consideration. At a recent meeting of that good body it was decided to include an item of $1000 in the estimates to provide remuneration for the members of the council. In these days of hard times or stringency in the money market, a windfall like this to Tofield's town councillors would look pretty good.

LAST Friday night a bullet penetrated the east window of the new residence of J. C. Chapman, south of the Exhibition Grounds. The inference is explicit. It is possible that a more or less serious accident will happen one of these days if a stern example is not made of one or more of these offenders.

THE VIKING NEWS is authority for the statement that the C.P.R. cut-off from Carnation to Edmonton, via Sedgewick, will pass through Viking district 12 miles south of that town. If this were to prove true and we have no reason to doubt Johnson's word, it would mean that Tofield is probably an objective point for the C.P.R. in its projected line from Carnation to the capital. There is no doubt but that the C.P.R. realize that Tofield will within a very short time become the originating point of a large tonnage traffic, a fact that railways are quick to perceive and quick to take advantage of.

Returned To Find Wife Dead, Children Asleep On Her Grave

Terrible Experience of Canadian Missionary who has just arrived from Interior of Brazil

Buffalo, N.Y., June 4.—Rev. Myron C. Maxwell, Oneida, secretary of the Congregational Church stationed at Bahia, Brazil, and United States Consul at Ellis Island to-day had the unusual privilege was granted him on account of ill-health to the United States with his family. Two months ago he received a cablegram telling him of the serious illness of his wife and two children. He immediately left on the next steamer for home, but arrived only to find that his wife had died. Her MacEwen died of her death by native and found all his money in a quick trip to Bahia. When he reached the home station he found two of the older children, a boy of five and a girl of eight, asleep on his wife's grave, a path had been worn from the house to the grave, Mr. MacEwen stricken with grief and broken down with his loss buried wife at Bahia and embarked in the steamer on the next Tuesday for the South American Line. On the trip to New York the cabin passengers took up a collection of $250 to help him. When he land at Ellis Island he was held by the health officials because two of the five children were sick. Special transit privileges were to all, granted for the first time in two years by the Washington office and the minister and his child were allowed to start for Maine.

C.P.R. to Build to the South of Viking this Year

A report was received this week to the effect that the C.P.R. line of Carnation to Edmonton via Sedgewick will be constructed this year. The line will probably run about 12 miles south of Viking and will affect several of our citizens who have land to the west along in the vicinity of Viking News.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met on Thursday afternoon, 10th, at the home of Mrs. Billington. Eleven members and several visitors were present. The Union had the pleasure of welcoming a new member.

The delegates who attended the district convention at Edmonton gave a very full report of the proceedings of convention. The report was very interesting and fully appreciated by the Union.

It was decided to postpone the preparations for a medal contest for a month or two.

At the close of the meeting the ladies enjoyed a social chat and the hostesses, Mrs. Mahaffey and Mrs. Billington, served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jacobs second Thursday in July.

The following lines are copied from "White Ribbon Bulletin":—

WEAR IT!

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
It, wear it always!
You cannot tell how its whiteness
May speak for the Lord.
Somebody's eye will be caught,
Someone will ponder its thought
In view of purity bought—
It is no trouble!

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
It, wear it always!
Its pledge is sacredly borne home,
Unbidden it speaks for you plain,
It does that drop in to-day,
Gain impressions away,
Though you may not know.

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
It, never forget
Actual opposition but, you
Will some day regret.
Are you dismayed in the fight?
The little emblem of white,
So daily kept in your sight,
Will cheer your heart yet.

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
And earnestly pray
In who is Lord of all being
May use it each day.
Pray that its snowdrop wood,
Where there is most need may be found;
Pray that the seed which is all red
May have grace to obey

Making a Flat World Round

When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round. Wise men held it that it was flat—that Columbus was mad—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs. But Columbus' belief found him a continent and made him blessed of memory.

The Business World is flat to some men. Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers knew. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them confines which they may not pass.

For instance, they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with awful cliff edge gaping into space.

They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade. June, July and August are never-never land.

Surely this conception of Summer as a "dull" season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying lemonade articles. Furthermore, they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall.

The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from old established lanes, many have made their energies and their Advertising an all-year-round proposition.

Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the summer months themselves.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 903 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

LIVING CONDITIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Distress in Town and Country—Not Enough Work to go Around Under Free Trade

An Englishman writes as follows regarding urban and rural conditions in Great Britain:

I have had twenty years' experience working and engaging workmen by the hundreds not only in London, but in the great industrial centres on the Tyne in Lancashire and the Midlands.

The plain fact is, there is not enough work to go round continuously. During long times of good trade as at present this is not so apparent, but even here there are thousands lasting in order to find work.

And why is there not enough work for willing workers?

1. The chief industry of the country is agriculture, employing more men than any other.

This has been sadly neglected by the Government.

Why, for instance, does England buy beet sugar from Germany when it can be made quite well in England and the dollars now sent to Germany would remain in England? Because the Government has given no assistance. And yet this industry would find employment for thousands of extra men continuously throughout the year. Other things equally full of millions of dollars a year abroad for eggs, butter and fruit when they can be produced at home.

Anyone May Enter England

England allows anyone to come into the country. She is the dumping ground for all the trash from Europe. An Alien Act was passed some years ago but under the present administration it is made of no effect.

These men, to a great extent cause the crowding in the East End of London.

Fetish of Free Trade

2. But the greatest of all reasons why there is not enough work to go round in the British Isles is that the people still adhere to the old fetish of what is called "Free Trade." Free does for the foreigner in the British market; restrictions for the Britisher in all foreign markets!

The British Isles import some $700,000,000 worth of manufactured goods a year, practically all of which could be made there. Let us assume that under a tariff two-thirds of these goods to be well on the safe side, could be made there, viz., $500,000,000 worth; $250,000,000 extra would be spent in wages. The average wage may be taken at $750 per year. Over $250,000 extra men would be employed. And allowing 20 per cent. import duty on the remaining $250,000,000 the country would have $50,000,000 extra revenue.

Who is this to our means all the manufacturers would have a continual market and be willing to expend millions of dollars on additional plants. They would not mind investing the workmen, machine goods cheaper and make more profit at home, as it is better position to compete in the world's markets.

More Chances of Work

There would be continuity of employment, as the home market would be guaranteed, goods could be made on the chance of selling in a foreign market.

Now the German manufacturers, as they have admitted to me personally, cater for their home market, and when that is filled they send the surplus to England.

They admit "we could not get on without the English trade." Again, protection would place the Britisher in position to negotiate good commercial treaties; now he has nothing to offer and therefore cannot negotiate. I have a man who went to Norway to try and secure an order. He pointed out that England took most of Norway's products. "Yes," said the Norwegian, "you take 85 per cent. and Germany 15 per cent., but if we do not counter the German tariff we get no trade at all with you in tariff." At length afterwards the Norwegian said, "What have you now. If your government had the power to put on a tariff, you on our best customers, would have to pay increased duty."

Good Workers Walk Streets

If we consider the humanitarian point of view we find the same thing. I have myself seen thousands of fresh-faced British workmen walking the streets (not counting the idle or broad but work), while the line would be a large station in the district was crowded from Belgium and the wages they desired had been upset there. Did not Bismarck in 1879 say "I can set my own people out of work and make they can make imported." Since then the Germans have had protection or tariff reform, call it which you like and have they not prospered?

The Robin Hood Mills have their oatmeal mill at Moose Jaw in full operation and turning out 1,000 barrels daily. Their flour mills turn out 3,000 barrels per day.

CANADIAN INDUSTRY SHOULD PRODUCE

Much More Butter For Home Market And Cheese For Export

Canada is an importer of butter. Such is a startling feature of the latest report of the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa. The following table shows that, while Denmark was the worldwide exporter to the United Kingdom of 177,840,136 pounds for the year ending November 30, 1912, Canada's meagre contribution was 4,386 pounds. This contribution was merely incidental, as this country's imports of butter during the same period amounted to nearly 7,000,000 pounds. The bulk of it came from New Zealand.

This would seem to indicate that the better industry of this country is on the decline. But such is not the case. We produce more, but are consuming a great deal more. It is estimated that Canadians are using in one way or another about 340,000,000 more a year of dairy products than they were a decade ago. In 1902 the Prairie Provinces produced about 30,000,000 pounds of creamery butter, and last year 4,000,000 pounds. Their requirements in 1902 were 40,000 pounds against 30,000,000 last year. That is requirements have been multiplied about 40 times. Altogether Canada now consumes close to $150,000,000 worth of milk and its products, in the course of a year. The increased needs are due chiefly to the rapid increase in population, but in large measure to the increased use of sweet cream and ice cream. It is estimated that the ice cream manufactured in 1912 was equivalent to 1,200,000 pounds of butter, and the sweet cream used to 8,000,000 pounds. The Prairie Provinces are developing the dairy industry in a scientific manner. In the past farmers are quickening their efforts. If, however, Canada is to maintain her export trade in cheese, in competition with other growing commercial countries, if she is to meet her own needs in butter the industry must surely be established indefinitely all over the Dominion.

It was a wise man who defined a grapefruit as "a lemon which had a chance and took it." Most so-called chances are no good unless they are taken, and usually they have to be well nursed after taking. There's a fine future for the town—or the man—which everlastingly digs after success and puts grins and guns on when in the natural course of things a decision to quit might be expected.

Mackenzie Farm Sold

A deal of more than usual interest was put through last week by Pugh & Co., whereby the well known Mackenzie Farm, several miles south of town was sold to Anton Hoiber, of Walhgton, North Dakota. This excellent farm is on the west side of Block Lake and commands a fine view of the whole Beaver Lake district. Mr. Hoiber will move from Walhgton, to Tofield during next fall and proposes at once to go into producing on his newly acquired property. He is a well to do German American and after looking over Central Alberta thoroughly, decided that the Tofield district was the best suited for the contemplated making great improvements on the property and expects to have an [illegible] farm.

Laying Foundations of a City

VISITORS to Tofield are agreeably surprised to find every evidence of healthy municipal activity. Few in the travels these days throughout the west, and in this period of momentary quiescence, look for great evidences of municipal activity, but, they find at Tofield. Main and other streets torn up, a large gang of men at work, and the laying of the last unit of the permanent water system proceeding apace. The bare fact that we are having a system of water works installed, in itself, is going to be a tremendous factor in advertising Tofield as a place that is worth while going to and living in. We have, as one of the principal officials of the Made-in-Canada train put it the other day, Tofield apparently has all the resources to make it a great Industrial and Agricultural centre. They saw the town and had a general view of the surrounding district and were well pleased. They saw the present stage of our industrial development and were pleased. They also took a look at our tremendous coal deposits as shown to the eye at our mines and were so struck not only by the evidences of the quantity but with the apparent ease with which it is gotten out and shipped.

It is not up to us as private citizens to be too restive in the marking out process of our municipal development. To field is making good. Some people and even some of our others to be sensible citizens seem to think that our future depends upon coal. Nothing is further from the truth. We have coal here with which we can produce gas for commercial use at much less than the average price at which natural gas is sold, and this coal anyway is the most dependable fuel for any purpose for which fuel is required. this will be all right even if we do not see any more of it.

Reciprocal Demurrage

FEW PEOPLE will be inclined to question the equity of penalizing railways for unreasonable delay in delivering cars as the shippers are men penalized for holding cars beyond a reasonable time. The railroads of Canada have secured immense privileges, in return for which they have too frequently treated the public in an unfair and prejudicial way. At great inconvenience and positive loss, shippers may be compelled to wait for the delivery of cars and there is no way by which they can secure redress. In addition, however, they are detained beyond a certain number of hours they are compelled to pay demurrage. The effort that is being made to have the railroads treated as they have been in the habit of treating their customers will receive hearty endorsation from every quarter. The principal once adopted would mean a more prompt and better service.—Exchange.

Money Stringency Universal

THE FACT of the failure of the new imperial and Prussian loans is significant of the monetary crisis through which the world is passing. It is much more important than the recent failure of the Brazilian and other loans, and the inability of the Belgian government to raise money in the London market. A German government loan, owing to the financial organization of that country, is practically assured in such a fashion as to be subscribed at not end times over.

Miss Jessie E. Steele is also at home after all with the measles trouble. She is suffering a good deal. Dr. Reid of Vegreville has charge of the case.

The recent rain has done a world of good to the crops, including the hay. If it keeps up this week till the middle of July a bumper crop will be assured.

Smith, the great fruit grower and impersonator of Winona, Ont., Where stock is reputed which is perfectly horrible to withstand the most variable climate, is only slightly removed and the Bay on a Apple, prepared by Prof. Saunders, of the central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. This tallies with our own experience. Some of this stock needs protection inches in diameter.

The Observer says it hasn't been guilty of backwardness in the matter for political reasons in the Beaver Lake East correspondent of the Standard. Here's hoping for a good healthy "send!" Busy with it, old bug! Sick 'em Tomas!

The Standard acted very fairly during the recent election, giving both sides of the story. As it gave Sir George Ross speech on the naval bill, we think it should also give Senator Sifton's reply. We think he is the only one who did the thing up right. In one of Kipling's South African stories he tells of a certain scout who was brought before the Commanding Officer. The "Tommy" who had been on duty at the C. O.'s tent was asked afterwards what the said C. O. had done to the scout. "What did he do to 'im" said he, "Why 'e just blew 'is nose in 'im and throwed 'im away." That's about what P. Ross didn't Ross and he deserved it. Here was a man who in his young days was a great temperance orator, was G. W. P. at each of the Sons of Temperance, and made the school houses of Middle ex Ring with his denunciations of the liquor traffic, and what he would do to it if he got the chance. The chance came to him alright and he did nothing to it. He frothed at the mouth, while in opposition, over the carrying out of the conservation and later a paragraph of Ontario's, passed the coldest government Canada ever saw. He went around stirring up Canadian feeling in favor of the absolute imperial von Borden stand, for, and then when he got a chance to give it a boost, he gave it a black eye. That a Ross for you

CIRCUS COMING TO TOWN SOON

Haag Railroad Shows to Be Here Next July 7th. Where They Will Show

In the little town of Marquette, Louisiana, lived the family of Elias Haag, and about thirty years ago they came to grow the family tree, and this bag was named Ernest Haag and as soon as he could even play with toy pet playthings were the toy animals his parents and neighbor had given him. When he grew older, his play days were spent playing circus and show, and when he was fortunate enough to see one of those circuses that used box cars, he would elaborate on it in his own way, and so it went on until he was 19 years old. He then secured a position with one of the large circuses in an executive capacity, returning home at the finish of the season with one thought, to have a show of his own that would be recognized by the Great King, a Southern title for Southern people. The following spring he bought a flat boat and organized a small show, floating down the Red River on the flat boat, playing the small towns on the river front. He next bought a few wagons, and started an overland show, every year enlarging and getting new features and with ever that one idea and ambition, to give his friends, the public, the best money could procure, successful management suggest and brainy device. Every year Mr Haag en-

When Summer Stops the Swing

Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion momentum.

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a canoe, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre."

Winning trade follows the same natural laws.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these momentary impulses swings indifference" to the buying point.

If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum.

The moral of which is:

Don't stop the business swing in Summer

Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

WHY CHINESE ARE HARDY

Red Sanitary Conditions Thery Causes Only Fittest to Survive

Peculiar power to resist disease is a characteristic of the Chinese, according to Professor E. A. Ross. "For instance, out of ten children born in western homes three, normally the weakest three, will fail to grow up, out of ten children born in Chine about eight are doomed to die in infancy. The difference is due to the hardships that infant life meets with among the Chinese, and with each rigorous selection there results a stock displaying a peculiar hardiness. Living in the superstratum, most school land, profoundly ignorant of the laws of hygiene, the masses have developed an immunity to numerous diseases that within the wonder and envy of the foreigner. "They are not affected by the mosquito bite that will raise a fiery lump on the lately come foreigner," says Professor Ross. "They can use contaminated water from canals without incurring dysentery. There is very little typhoid, and what there is is so attenuated it was long doubted to be typhoid. The physicians agree that among the Chinese small pox is a mild disease. The chief of the scourges of the past, one that during the autumn massacres the soldiers used to dread to spread with a little ruse under them without any ill effects.

"Canton, after two hours of bombarding at a dog that will shove themselves full of hot rice, with scarcely any sanitation, and bury on for another two hours. A white man would be sick with indigestion. The Chinese seem also to sleep in any position, on a bench, on the ground, on piles of bricks or stones, or poles, with a block of wood for a pillow and with the hot sun shining full in their face. They stand unwrapped pouring rain for hours, and can keep on longer at monotonous toil unrelieved by change or break."

AN ENGLISH COMPANY TO SUPPLY TRACTORS

Factory to be Established in Canada With a View to Securing the Trade

Two more English manufacturing companies are establishing important branches in Canada. Henry Hope and Sons, Limited, of Birmingham, makers of steel window sashes, etc., and Marshall, Sons and Company, Limited, of Gainsborough, engineers and boilermakers. These are two additions to a small list of English houses with branches here, as compared with hundreds of United States companies with sales offices, warehouses, or factories in the Dominion. Both firms are incorporating Canadian companies to handle their business in this country. Messrs. Henry Hope and Sons, of Canada, Limited, with capital of $200,000 and head office in Toronto, has been incorporated with a limited charter. Messrs. Marshall, Sons and Company are obtaining a Canadian charter, and will establish a branch in Saskatchewan. The capital of this subsidiary company will be about $500,000. This company will seat in brother. Messrs. may from Leeds, and Scotland are getting ready to join the Canadian bands. In every case as being better situated for cheap and more convenient access for performance of their duties.

In order to see how the Canadian public would profit these moves, a writer on a Montreal financial paper asked high executive officers of several banks about the results of the policy of getting men from Portland and Scotland. At three different banks he was told that they were much better than the Englishmen or Scotchmen obtained, could write and talk good English, had a rule that printed good consecutions clerks on the books, but that many of them did not develop the qualities required in the higher offices. Quite a number of them did everything "by the book" and did not venture to use their own judgement or to depart a hair's breadth from the rules and regulations.

About the Canadians it was said that they were fairly flexible and used their judgment more in dealing with the public. But it was a matter of complaint at each of the three banks that many of the Canadian applicants for positions were backward in spelling, public school or high school education.

BANK CLERKS FROM OLD LAND

Some Interesting Views as to Their Adaptibility and Qualifications

The London Financial Magazine published an article on the subject by the advantages and disadvantages from the English bank clerks point of view, as experienced in Canada. In a Canadian bank [illegible] all the circumstances and conditions, the editor was disposed to think the young countrymen would in many cases remain their interests just as well by remaining at home as by going to Canada. He advised in the course of his article that attention should be paid to the backward-drawn attention to the better cost of living in Canada. He also warned against the hardships under which bank clerks must work in new towns and villages. One passage of the article read as follows: "To many in England it must often have been a matter for surprise that the Canadian banks should be unable to staff their branches with Canadians, but the fact is that the Canadian does not relish dance-ruffle to banking. He is more happy-go-lucky and rather than be [illegible] brother. Hence may from Leeds, and Scotland are getting ready to join the Canadian bands. In every case as being better situated for cheap and more convenient access for performance of their duties.

IN SOME PAPERS an notice more or less publicity to the subject of "knockers." Did it ever occur to you to examine into the subject yourself to ascertain just what class of people "knockers" generally are. True, in Tofield we do not have much opportunity to find many examples of this mush-sizzle class of citizen, but from observation have learned that is not the man who has pinned his faith to a community and who has his future at stake who goes about knocking that community in which and from which he makes his bread and butter. Even the grouchy grocer usually does not belong to this class. It is the person who is not a permanent fixture anywhere who is the knocker and the grumbler. He is the man who is here today and would be gone tomorrow if he could make his little clean up. The knocker is of all foolish people the most foolish. He is such a fool that he cannot see that every degrecatory remark he makes about his community has a reactionary effect and damages his own personal interest or interests in proportion to its generally damaging character. Thank Heaven that such fools are limited in number in Tofield.

Will Proportional Representation ever come

THE SUBJECT of proportional representation has been a theme of discussion at various times during the past few years. But comparatively little of this great question has as yet dominated the attention of the public mind, yet, the subject is beginning to loom large. The unreasonableness of the present system of representation is appealing to a la... number of our best thinkers. In a recent issue of the Nineteenth Century, Earl Grey, late Governor General of Canada, makes a strong plea for Proportional Representation. He says, in part, as follows:

"The present practice of giving the whole representation to local majorities and of ignoring minorities, even though they number one fourth or one third of the total electorate, and are entitled on any principle of equity to one-fourth or one third of the representation, is responsible for the present practice of the steam roller legislation, in place of legislation by general consent.

Comment

BRUSHING ASIDE all the temporary issues which might tend to create alarm in the business and financial world, one solid fact is left for an anchor. Nothing can permanently stop the material progress of this country.

IT IS WISE to be optimistic and there could be no greater folly than to be otherwise. He great as they may appear during any panicky season, pace, and their effects have invariably been speedily tripod away by the good times which are sure to come.

CHAIRMAN DRAYTON of the Railway Commission Board has denied the request of the government counsil for further postponement of the sittings in the western freight rates case beyond the September hearing This is as it should be. It is a good sign that the Commission stand upon the principle that the Board shall not be subservient to the dictates of party politicians. The public applaud.

CANADIAN LABOR MUST BE PROTECTED

Otherwise It Cannot Survive the Cheap Products of Colored and Oriental Labor

The Toronto Globe quotes an authority on the Orient to show that the revolution in China has a serious aspect for neighboring white races. The real Yellow Peril lies in the pressure that the millions of thrifty Chinese toilers, trained to great privations, must sooner or later exert upon economic and industrial conditions in the Western world. Their wonderful adaptability, uncomplaining patience, untiring industry, great skill as craftsmen, and remarkable capacity for passive resistance have never been equalled, by any race, unless it be the persecuted Hebrew. This economic pressure has already led Australia to guard against the menace of a puller immigration. Its effects are apparent also in the Straits Settlements, the Dutch Indies, the treaty ports of China, and the Russian railway towns of Manchuria. In these centres the white workman has been hopelessly beaten in the stern economic struggle of life. Where the two live side by side the balance of economic power passes into the hands of the Asiatic. Within the memory of the present generation the wealth of the Straits Settlements and of Hong Kong has been transferred to the Chinese. At Harbin and Tsitsihar, in Chinese territory, Russian railway porters may be seen carrying the luggage of Russian Chinese passengers. This is the real yellow peril—the unceasing struggle for existence of three hundred million Asiatics, who are ready to work for wages on which white men would starve. The sentiment of China, therefore, is of serious concern to the white nations. How would Canadian workmen survive without tariff protection against the cheap products of colored men that thrive on a pittance which would not keep white men alive?

INDUSTRIAL CENTRES RAISE FARM VALUES

The Highest Prices of Land in the United States Are in Manufacturing Districts

The Farmers' Sun of Toronto observes:

The average value of farm lands in the United States in 1910, according to the United States census, was $23.69 an against $16.17 ten years before. The highest values are mostly in some of the New England States. In the Middle West and California, some of the Nineteenth Century, Earl Grey, late Governor General of Canada, makes a strong plea for Proportional Representation. He says, in part, as follows:

"The present practice of giving the whole representation to local majorities and of ignoring minorities, even though they number one fourth or one third of the total electorate, and are entitled on any principle of equity to one-fourth or one third of the representation, is responsible for the present practice of the steam roller legislation, in place of legislation by general consent.

The highest values are recorded in the industrial centres—in the New England States, in the rich Middle West, and California. In Texas, great over largely to ranching, with few noteworthy home markets, farm land values are scarcely more than one third of those claimed for Illinois Iowa and other States in the "Grand basket" of the Republic—a section that points triumphantly to its exhibit of sources of manufacturing centres.

The lesson for the Canadian purchaser is obvious. The multiplication of industrial centres brings a corresponding rise in farm values. Eastern and western Canada are already bearing this from their own experience.

FLIGHT FROM FREE TRADE

The Toronto News observes editorially:

"With the approach of spring the flight from Free Trade England has begun again. Nowhere in the modern world is there so much of poverty and of misery as in the Mother Country. Great Britain alone serves to fight a protectionist world. It is a vain battle against the gods.

"Cheap labor flows in from other countries. With this comes also cheap goods from other countries. Each person rob British workmen of employment and lower the conditions of living for great multitudes.

"What has come to pass in England under free trade some people would introduce into Canada. In value however, be the not spread in sight of the mile"

The Co-operative Laundry Co., are erecting a brick plant costing $30,000 in Watrous, Sask.

A paper factory costing $75,000 will be erected in Calgary, Alta. Coarse grades of paper and cardboard will be manufactured at once.

The Emerson-Brantingham Mfg. Co., Rockford, Ill. will establish an agricultural implement factory in Brandon, Man.

A warehouse is being erected in Chamcook, N.B., for the Canadian Sardine Company.

Peapers' Bodies for Dissection

By thirty-two votes to six a motion by Mr. Thos Lawlor, declaring against the sending of bodies of the destitute to schools of anatomy, and seeking to have the practice discontinued by resolution about two dozen times, was rejected by the South Dublin Guardians. On Mr Lawlor asking a lady guardian whether she would give her body "to be hacked for research work," Mrs. Greene said she would, and the chairman said he would give his body without.

WORKERS SUPPORT CUSTOMS TARIFF

In Australia and Elsewhere—It Produces Revenue and Protects Industry

Wherever the manufacturers control, free trade is dead. Australia is having a general election and both parties engaging in the fight are committed to moderate protection. For years the Federal Administration has been in the hands of the Labor party, which has maintained Customs duties against foreign imports as a means not only of raising a revenue, but also of assuring steady employment and living wages to Australian workingmen. The Labor Premier and his colleagues have been active in obtaining out American trusts and in advancing the interests of the toilers.

The Liberal party, as the Australian Opposition is called, is composed partly of people who would be known as Liberals in a party of men who would be known as Conservatives in Canada. Sir Joseph Cook, who would become Prime Minister if the Opposition should carry the country, was once the leader of the old free trade element in the country. He now stands for the maintenance of the tariff erected by the Labor Government re garding which the great body of wage earners throughout the country. Who of all people interest to Canada is that the parties have profitable trade relations with other parts of the Empire, and it is reported that Hon. Geo. E. Foster will bring back a satisfactory trade agreement from Australia.

All parts of the Empire except Great Britain are strongly committed to moderate protection for domestic industries with special Customs favor, for other parts of the Empire.

Keep out the Weeds

Weeds unchecked will ruin the crop.

It isn't sufficent to plough and sow well in Spring and Fall and leave the rest to nature.

There are weeds to fight.

There are weeds in Business, too—weeds of competition and opposition—of public indifference from without, and of lack of enterprise from within—weeds that unchecked seriously retard business growth.

Cultivation is the only effective weed-killer. Keep cultivating and the weeds never get a chance to thrive.

There is a combination plough and harrow, fertilizer and spray, for every business—an effective weed-killer that will keep out the weeds.

It is Advertising

It is not enough to plow and sow well with advertisements in Spring and Fall and leave the rest to human nature.

Human nature and the respect your customers bear you are not proof against the Summer weeds that can thrive on rest and apathy.

You must keep busy in the hot weather—you must keep cultivating.

Turn summer dullness into activity by Summer Advertising. Plan Summer attractions and plant for a crop of Summer profits, and the Advertising cultivation will keep out the weed.

Keep Cultivating
Keep Advertising
KEEP OUT THE WEEDS

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 502 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

HELPS FARM PRODUCE

The strides that Ontario has made in the automobile industry in the past eight years were remarkable in evidence at the Motor Show recently, held in Toronto. When the first motor show was held in 1905 there was scarcely a town outside of Toronto that had an automobile industry of any sort, either for the manufacture of cars or accessories. Now, in the eighth year, there are large manufacturies in Brantford, Orillia, Brockville, Oshawa, Windsor, St. Catharines, Berlin, Amherstburg, Petrolea, London, Ottawa, Bowmanville, Ingersoll, Guelph, Galt, Walkerville and Kingston. Every one of these industrial centres provides a healthy market for the farm produce of the contiguous country.

ROPE MEASURER
Lengths Are Indicated as Rope Passes Over Wheel

A world's rule has received a device for measuring rope that might well be call "Automatic Measure," as the rope is measured as it passes over a wheel and the length, instantly registered. This wheel is pivoted [illegible] and has [illegible] a number of [illegible] In the [illegible] pattern the casing is a spring arm that presses the rope against the wheel with just enough force to make it engage the rope and turn the wheel, but not forcibly enough to impede the movement of the rope. This wheel is connected with a registering mechanism, and as it revolves registers by so many inches, or feet, as the case may be. As the rope passes, therefore, the length is recorded at the same time. Such a device would be useful in a hardware store or other places where rope is sold.

A lot of July celebration, largely of a social nature was held at Mr Rapson's. The Norwegian people of the neighborhood gathered, bringing dinner with them which was served free on the grounds. An innocents program consisting of songs and speeches was given in the afternoon, this in turn was followed by sports of various kinds. The day passed pleasantly and everyone reports having had a very good time.

The pupils and teacher of Grand Forks school held a school entertainment on the eve of the 25th for the object of raising money for a school flag. A goodly crowd was present and listened attentively to the songs and recitations delivered by the pupils. Collection amounting to four dollars was taken afterwards.

THE CALL OF CANADA

Canada is as large as 30 United Kingdoms and 18 Germanies, yet the call to come Britons prefers to remain where he is, presumably content to fritter his humble life away either in the social surroundings of some Big Smoke village, or else in the country and serving at a miserable stipend help to deepen the market all the time. Yet Canada is calling aloud for Englishmen of every station and calling to take advantage of the great opportunities she offers and bidding them to participate in the Dominion's untold wealth and in the greatness of the wonderful land which will one day rival the glories of its mighty Motherland. Read "Canada Calls" by Arthur Beckles Willson. Emerson Hall.

Black Diptheria East Side Lake

Family of A. B. Moody stricken with disease. One little fellow dead,

Black diptheria has broken out east of Beaver Lake at the home of A.B. Moody, some ten or twelve miles north of Ryley and one little by of four years has succumbed to the disease. Of the family of ten, six has fallen victims. During the first stages it was thought that the ailment was just a common sore throat and but little attention was paid to it. Finally the symptoms became more aggravated in form and a doctor was called in and he pronounced it black diptheria The little four-old boy was the greatest sufferer. The physician administered anti-toxin but the little fellow died within two hours. The family was immediately quarantined and the best of medical care is being exercised. The oldest member of the family, a girl of fourteen, has recovered from an attack of the disease while others are very low. Just as the Standard goes to press Mr Moody phones us that all are out of danger with the exception of the second youngest boy.

BYE-ELECTION PROBABLE

Coun. Kennedy to Resign

Councillor J. D. Kennedy returned to Tofield last week end after several weeks absence in the Capital where he has been conducting a profitable business in dealing in building lots. He has informed the STANDARD that it is then intended to remain in Tofield that he intends placing his resignation of his seat in council in the hands of council immediately on the next speech taken up. A by-election will naturally result on the election of which will be known in the near future. Mr. Kennedy has been a member of council for a number of years and has been instrumental in bringing about many important improvements. For Water and Light, Auto fund and Civic Auditorium and Public Works. In his absence the work of the council will be done by a committee of which Councillor Mc Leod is chairman. Councillor Mc Leod is a member of each committee of these members of council, and it is thought the two only. The inspector of the ages to Mr. Kennedy, no doubt, knows, partly his seasoned decision to retire.

Already interest has arisen in the probability of an early by-election and in possible candidates. Mr. Kennedy has given public assurance of criticism as these usually to of the manner in which the municipal business is being carried on, there should be no dearth of candidates. However, there are some good citizens from which to choose a committee. Several have been mentioned, among them being J. W. Somers, H. H. Rose, W. C. Swift, Jos. Rogers, J. G. Lidh, R. S. Hodd and others. But at present the writer knows of a class of business men who are not represented in the council. It, methinks would be a good thing to have a business man from these sitting on the council board.

TOWN COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council held, Court of Revision. Many appeals heard. Outlying sections reduced 40 per cent.

Council met in regular session last Monday evening, all members present except Coun. Kennedy. As the date was that of the Court of Revision by motion no other business of a public nature was entered and the council appeals taken up. A large number of appeals were in from owners of farming land, in the Beaverhill and the town ward, mostly. It was found that while the general appearance of assessments the outlying sections of the school district to those in the immediate vicinity of the town and the suburban districts were rather high as a general proposition and the assessment of all farm land fairly good. The reduction upon which no appeal to all appeals and most appellants while

Hillcrest subdivision was passed as a figure which while it may be in keeping with the land at a valuation of $450 per acre Rosehill Park was reduced to $350 per lot in Block 1 and 2 subdivision and $25 per lot for the balance of the Sage-Appleton interest in the subdivision

C. H. Cross appeals against his assessment on four lots in block 11 and was reduced from $250 per lot to $200 per lot. Other appeals on properties were reduced accordingly.

Lots 2 and 3 block 24, G. T. P. were reduced on one third.

Lots 12 and 13, block 28 G.T.P. were reduced $25 each.

The following lots were reduced $50 each:

Lots 14 and 20, block 9, G. T. P.
Lot 11, block 41, G. T. P.
Lots 23, block 8, G. T. P.
Lots 2 and 3, block 50, 41, T. P.

All appeals were heard and disposed of and all others not on the above were closed and stood as assessed.

As it was then midnight council adjourned until Tuesday night to take up regular business

On Tuesday evening the council met and took up. A number of communications were read and disposed of by the various departments to which the letters for consideration

Current account to date were passed and ordered paid.

Reports No. 2 and 11 of the Finance Committee were read by the chairman and received and adopted.

Report No. 3 of the Public Works Committee was read by Chairman Story and adopted.

Report No. 4 of the Fire, Water and Industrial Committee was read by Chairman Story and adopted.

Report No. 5 of Fire Water and Light Committee was read and adopted

Mayor Jefferson reported that he had been in with Dr. Chase in relation to the advisability of the purchase of a steam roller. Dr. Chase was not in favor of purchasing the roller at present as he thought the money could be more profitably spent in other ways. The mayor thought that the roller would be a good investment and that the money could be saved in the purchase of gravel. Mr. Story moved that due diligence and care be exercised in the purchase of the roller and that the clerk write to the agents for the roller in relation to the matter. Carried.

A lengthy discussion then arose in regard to the matter which was finally settled by the mayor writing to the agents for the roller in relation to the matter. Carried.

Mr. Story moved that the report of the Fire Water and Light Committee in regard to the purchase of the roller be laid on the table

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JULY 10 1913

For Better or for Worse

MANY NEWSPAPERS in discussing the ruling of Chairman Drayton of the Railway Commission, by which he denied the request of the government council for further postponement of the hearings in the matter of western freight rates case beyond the September hearing, have alluded to this ruling as one action of the board favorably empty to any independence of political interference. The STANDARD can feel helpful on this point in our first issue.

While the public will undoubtedly applaud any fund which the board may take which will clearly define its position as a politician body, wholly separate from Parliament and absolutely free from any political influence, the public must prepare it self for the decision about to be given as well as in favor. It must be that in such a case as the pre ent freight rates case a government council which is perhaps connected, may be forced to the position of practically being sure at a stand on this realization is manage for further time. A condition such as this cannot go on indefinitely, and if this is the status of the present case the country the public knows of it the better. Chairman Drayton has shown the proper attitude of the board in the interest of even handed justice.

Lower Express Rates

A REDUCTION of 20 per cent. in the express rate schedule throughout Western Canada became effective on July 1st. From all points west from Sudbury, Ont., to the Pacific coast the new tariff will apply. The express monne value of this change to the prairie provinces can scarcely be estimated. That the cost of living will be materially reduced is certain. The rates on eggs, butter, milk, and other food products that enter into the consumption of every family mean much to city populations especially. The new rate is based upon cost of transportation and follows the decision of the railway commission of April 30. Even more important to the west is the principle recognized in this decision, that express tariffs must be based upon cost of service. The will save the express companies the benefit of the claim for an increased rate in the west over the east but forces tremendous reduction in the rates generally. The rate for what are known as the graduated scale "K" and "N," and the special tariff for single shipments of five hundred pounds or over, will not go into effect until July 15 Longer time was given on account of enormous tables and schedule, which had to be printed.

Comment

ALL CANADIANS will be gratified to learn that H R H the Duke of Connaught has seen fit to accept another term a governor general of the Dominion. His tenure of office has been successful in every way, and it will be hoped that the duchess will be able to return to Ottawa with him at an early date.

ANYBODY CAN get compliments, but when a wealthy man looks at the month and mumps is a clue as to how to look back at you, then you may congratulate yourself that you have done something toward stirring things up a bit.

No matter how meek and well dressed you are, somebody is going to give you a poke.

You may not make friends, for that is a long and hard business but you can make enemies just by walking down the street.

Personally, one can love a sound cursing. When people profane you they may not mean it, but when a man curses you it is rather certain that he is genuinely sincere. He speaks from the heart.

The you learn a lot from the curser—many things about your self, and sometimes about your ancestry, that you did not know, or had overlooked.

Cheer up, therefore. Strive ever onward and upward, for the onwarder and upwarder you get the more haters you will find anxious to get a shot at you.

Never mind the cursers and knockers are the best press agents in the world.

The man who does not advertise because somebody said it did not pay, ought not to believe that the world is round because the ancients said it was flat.

POLLUTION OF WATER SHOULD BE STOPPED

The Ontario Fish and Game Warden Would Guarantee the Dumb Dealing Practice

The Ontario Fish and Game warden has this to say "Some of our waters the authorities allege it is a bad practice to discharge the death dealer pollution of our lakes, rivers and streams The health and standing of the inhabitants is absolutely necessary in our country to ensure their life and prosperity. What is necessary it cannot be denied that to get rid of all that is taken from the surface of the and should be returned to it. This is the of Nature's law, and when we have a contrary rule to our dwellings we find ourselves face with our own health and prosperity. The sewage should be treated by an intermediate interception works before it is allowed to the water should be kept clear of all the sewage and refuse matter in cases of production. Many towns have been practically ruined by the pollution of their waters and with the introduction of sewage works the water has been restored to its former purity. Many towns have at their command what better sewage works, the factors of dwellings who secure their stakes and who are the employees in their mills or spinning etc though the results of no doubt towards those that occurred in a old age near Manchester, England, a few years ago, when many of the inhabitants died from typhoid fever, resulting from the use of milk from cows having access to water polluted with sewage. The total abolition of the disposal of public waters can be not be permanently only by making it too expensive for those who continue to pollute the public waters The required sewage has already destroyed many of the best spawning grounds in the Great Lakes and rivers With increased population the evil will be an increased demand for fish. Then everything possible will be done to put a decided stop to anything having a tendency to decrease the supply of this most valuable food commodity."

MAKES MOUSE TRAPS

A London Woman's Big But Peculiar Business

Mrs. Mary Ann Eaton, London, is probably the most picturesque personality among those engaged in the paper trades of Canada. Into the Mail Mary Ann, as she is familiarly known in Edmonton, has attached the axe of a life history that reads like a novel. Mrs Eaton does the heavy work in the shop and leaves the lighter trades to her employees. Under the "shop" she means a frame building of wood with corrugated iron sides and roof. Within is a huge engine which is used to operate the machinery which is used to manufacture the articles sold by the firm. Mrs Eaton does the bookkeeping besides the big ironclad letters from her customers. Looked after "shop" The "shop" are large enough chain of wood with iron sides and the little rakes with its teeth to scrape the ice from the streets. Mrs Eaton would to impossible to estimate the number of mice that have been fitted to their doom by this shop's device. The traps are sold at the rate of $25 for their making it on a large scale. They are very easy for the user to understand, and the back of the little bottle tells you how to operate them. Mrs Eaton is enthusiastic and believes that the mouse trap is best invention since the days of Noah's Ark. She said: "I have been making them for about two years, and I would be glad

AT THE GAS WELL

At the week the contractors at the well had drilled down past 1,200 feet level. The diameter of the hole to this point is such that the 12-inch casing was let down with as much ease as the first length that was put into the well. In comparing the well with No. 2 in the latter the 12 inch casing was put into the well to a depth of only 62 feet as against the 500 feet which have been put into this well. Mr. Peat expects to be able to put in the full length of 1,200 feet of 12 inch casing or as nearly such as a good footing near that depth will allow. Drilling is now proceeding at an average of about 20 feet per day.

Council

Just a bare quorum attended at council last Monday evening but enough to transact routine business. Bylaw No 191 providing for the removal of caveats upon properties of indebted owners on the Indian Head sites upon the completion of the terms of their agreements was passed and passed its three readings. Bylaw No 192 providing for the levying of rates for current taxes was also passed through its three readings and a resolution of council authorizing a discount of 5 per cent on all taxes paid on or before Sept 15 and 3 per cent on or before Oct 10 was passed.

COOK PORK WELL

Cases of illness sometimes occur from eating unsmoked or insufficiently cooked pork which is infested with a microscopic parasite commonly known as trichina or flesh-worm. Fresh pork should be cooked until it becomes white and is no longer red in color in all portions of the flesh, and the same rule should govern the fatter. Dryasdt pork, pickled pork and smoked pork prepared with or packed, provided the curing is thorough are practically safe so far as trichinosis is concerned, but as the thoroughness of the curing is not always certain, such meats should always be cooked before eaten.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE POPULAR IN INDIA

Rev. J. R. Bidwell who has for thirty years been under the auspices of Canadian Foreign Mission Board has started his mission that the English language is the coming tongue of India. He is to take out Edmonton next stems as being adopted in many parts. After the student graduates from what is our high school they can address each other in English language in a creditable manner. This visitor also declares that the mission, which was so ardent some time back, is gradually decreasing. The majority of the pupils in are thoroughly content with the English regime, and all have perfect confidence in the administration of justice. They all seem confident if they can take their troubles to the Englishman at the head of affairs they will have fair play.

Alberta Livery Changed Hands

Patrons of the Alberta Livery will be interested to learn of the change of management in the Alberta livery only when H.C. Ireland, an experienced up-to-the-minute livery and horse man took over the business from Miller and Ingram. Mr. Ireland brings him with him a number of horses which will be a valuable addition to the establishment and that the public appreciate his manner of doing business is demonstrated by the fact that the patronage extended to him has been such as to more than exceed his expectations. See his advt. in this issue.

When a man loses his cent's worth of meat he gets a half cent of nourishment. When he buys five cent's worth of beer he gets a half cent of alcohol and an amount of nourishment too small to compute. At five cents a glass the beer drinker gets $25.20 for a barrel of beer. Of this barrel of beer 83 is stale water, and more than half of what is left is alcohol, which is a poison, and only 2 per cent. of the whole is proteids, and a real kind of food at that. Now the brewery hand is not a bad, but he is not the man who drinks a dozen of these bits of beer per day, for swallowing a gallon and a half of alcohol poison. The very little food in beer is further spoiled by being mixed with this poison.

In the summer months milk is a most important food for young children should watch for any nutritional losses of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious troubles may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic Remedy. Sold by all dealers

What a Difference

WHY HAS Canada failed to follow the example of sister Dominions and make some provision for cheaper loans for our farmers? Senator Dennis, Cons., says in the Halifax Herald that he fails to understand it. He goes on to say that Australia and New Zealand have a system of government loans to farmers at cheap rates of interest, and it has proved a most qualified success, immensely helping the farmers and also bringing in a tidy profit to the government.

It is reported that from 1894 to 1912 New Zealand loaned $60,000,000 in this way, with only 33 foreclosures out of 42,000 loans. Its profit for 1911-1912 was 300,000. The adjacent loans of Western Australia, South Australia, Victoria, Tasmania, New South Wales and Queensland are $75,000,000 and the foreclosures are limited to half a dozen with large annual profits accruing.

In discussing this, the TRIBUNE, Winnipeg, says and properly says, that Brother Dennis has not far to look for the trouble in Canada. It is "too much party politics." Had the Borden Government felt that it would make more votes for it by loaning $25,000,000 to the farmers than in giving a percent of nearly that amount to Mackenzie and Mann, it would have legislated along the lines inferentially suggested by our Senator friend. But there seems to be a very close connection between subsidies and elections, and for one I hought even to wise legislation, the average cabinet minister will give a hundred to his job or the maintenance of his party in power.

According to the figures of our sister Dominions, $25,000,000 wisely loaned would have greatly promoted the interests of Canada during this shortage-of-money period However, Premier Borden preferred the scandal of giving away the people's cash as a gift to two men, instead of helping hundreds of thousands of farmers over the stile.

Proper Intelligence Produces Satisfactory Results

This is one of the years when proper intelligence on the farm is demonstrated to be of value. We are not having a rainfall this year like what we had last year. What are called the farming methods, but what should truthfully be termed the horse farming methods, are always demonstrated at their true worth when the amount of rainfall is less than in other years. Many observers in travelling over the country are shocked at the looseness of the methods of some farmers. Things seem as if the grain is thrown ruthlessly upon the ground, barely covered, and the soil surface scarce if ever tilled after being plowed. An extra few hours with the disc and harrows or either one, spent upon the field in the spring before seeding is a wonderful help towards a fine seed-bed up in the fall. Nothing on the farm is more pleasing to a practical man than to see a field evenly dressed with the harrows at the time of seeding. Nothing is more conducive to uniform growth and heavy yield than a properly packed seed bed and nothing is more saving on the life of harvesting machinery than a grain field from which all stone, hard lumps and roots are removed, especially from around the cut-kirts which are too often left neglected. Too often the farmer himself is to blame if his crop yield is low owing to lack of moisture for the plant roots because of his failure in the spring. Of course neglective methods in any business produce similar results and the same principle applies.

Abolition of the Senate

Time and again this question has come up. Recently it has occupied the attention of the public and government leaders have publicly emphsized the statement that something must be done. Some of the legal minds in the Dominion are giving attention to this subject and it is the concensus of opinion that the senate cannot be changed without the unanimous consent of all the provinces. So long as one province objects the imperial parliament cannot sanction the change. Abolishing the senate is not going to be an easy matter.

OFFICIAL BOOKS DRY BUT HEAVY

Building to House John Bull's Private Library—Blue Books on Every Subject

John Bull's blue-books factory is going to move into more modern and spacious quarters. John Bull's blue-books, publishing blue-books—which is the name given to all government reports in Britain, though some of them are bound neatly enough—are not blue this year now, and in that time he has issued nearly 600,000 of them. The complete collection overlies more than a mile, so it was stated by the blue book master in charge, and if you put this weight was far too heavy—a law case for the walls and floors of the rubber factory and sightseers century building where the blue-book making industry flourished for just short of 8 century.

This building, which is known of details as his Majesty's stationery of fice is in Princes Street, Westminster near the famous Abbey. The new one is to be in Kingsway, Holborn.

It costs John Bull over £6 000 a year to print his blue-books, which are probably the dullest reading on earth. There are exceptions, of course, a lot of stories of real life or fiction are hereafter over laymand having first been told between the covers of these sober reports or rather a branches of the British Government.

Diverse Subjects

The one blue-book in a thousand that makes good reading is the report of some British commander in Africa on the results of a punitive or other expedition into an unknown or savage region, the annual report of one of the colonies, or the commercial relations of the empire with picturesque accounts of the manners and of the ways of the inhabitants, or that of one of the consuls in so out-of-the-way part of the Empire.

The subjects these government reports cover range from foreign railroads to flies (these latter in their capacity as disease-carriers). There are blue-books on boiler explosions on the diseases of the silkworm, on the cheese industry. Of course, can be bought by anybody, and the publisher has to see to it that he does not give away the lowest price for a single book being one cent. The most expensive blue-book ever issued will cost you $665 if you care to invest in it. It gives a complete account of the round-the-world voyage of H. M. S. Challenger which began in 1872 and ended in 1876. A lot of leading men of the world of science were engaged in the scientific deep and the business and complicated work submitted by them to careful editing. The cost of the voyage was over half of sixteen of many sailors were asked to write on the results of the expedition and their articles are included in the big post of all blue-books, which is not limited to 50 parts. Finely illustrated with colored prints. The price of it probably will remain a record.

Way They Are Published

On an average 1,500 blue-books are published every year, most of them having been asked for by members of Parliament. That is the usual genesis of a blue-book. When one of the members of the House of Commons or Lords has been to know what some particular department of His Majesty's Government is doing, he asks to have a report of its activities laid on the table of the House. Then it is the business of the chief of the said department to prepare a report which, after the House has dismissed it, generally is supposed to be printed. When it is in print it is called a blue-book and is sold at the rate customary in such cases. Where one of the members of Parliament, either a waite paper or a blue-book, a series of parliament are published in blue-book form. Certain govern ent departments, like the admiralty and the war office, issue their reports as blue-books automatically, and a lot of records, such as the reports of mili tary operations are "presented" in book dresses by command of the Sovereign.

AN INCH OF RAIN

How It Is Measured by a Simple Little Instrument

Few people really understand how rain is measured. We often read in the newspapers that so many inches of rain have fallen, but it is certain that not many people realize what an inch of it actually means. There are several methods of measuring rain by what are known as "gauges." The most skilful is a contrivance with a funnel at the top, through which the water passes into a cup-receiver. The weight of the water in the receiver works a pencil. This marks a sheet of paper wound round a cylinder, and when it has started in last fashion two inches of an inch, the cup tilts over, and lets the contents flow out, the pencil returning to its former position, and the same little device is repeated incessantly until the rain ceases to fall, whilst the pencil continues to register on the paper attached.

African Drum Signals

For centuries before Marconi wireless telegraph was known the mystery of rapid communication existed in the heart of Northern regions. In the heart of Africa the missionary discovered the method of following a large drum, which was the only thing that could. It was stretched the skin of a bird, hand and that as parchment. Beaten with a padded drumstick this instrument gives a sound which can be heard eight miles away. Every village contains the expert who can ring the message and send it on.

The Corn Industry

The best corn comes from trees in Spain and Portugal that are always in bearing, no matter how old before the bark is cut away. It can be removed only every eight or ten years.

Fall of a Meteorite

A meteorite weighing 37 pounds is the subject of discussion in chemical circles in Johannesburg. The stone fell in Sunland's few months ago, and was not only noticed by an eye-witness some 15 miles away, but fell within a few feet of a native woman, who gave information which led to its discovery. The meteorite cannot be broken. It is known, however, to contain platinum.

Jogging Laziness into Activity

The merchant whose business lags in the summer has himself to thank.

To slacken the selling pace in the hot season—to lessen Advertising activity—indicates a resignation which has no place in modern business.

If we think we cannot keep our business booming in summer time, we surely will not.

What a jolt it must have been to the fur trade, when the first mid-summer fur advertisement was run in a daily paper! Now many fur stores are following the example of that progressive fur man who dared to believe that fur sales need not go down as the mercury goes up.

Energy, linked with Advertising, has turned the month of January into the biggest selling season for white goods. Advertisements of a high stimulative power, combined with a disregard "seasons," have opened up automobile selling two months earlier than was once thought possible. Advertising has started Christmas shopping early in October instead of the middle of December.

Advertising rises superior to seasons and thermometers. The right kind of Advertising strikes a responsive cord in human nature—and human nature is the same in August as in December.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available though not recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

WILL CONVERT STRAW INTO USEFUL FUEL

A Regina Man Claims to Have Discovered a Process for the Manufacture of Briquettes

Professor Andrews, of Regina, Sask. fair to go down to posterity as one of the most practical and far-reach ng benefactors of the Western Country in Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba millions of dollars worth of straw is annually burned out of the way in the same manner and for the same reason that in the primeval days of the eastern provinces hill loads of dollars' worth of magnificent timber were destroyed for want of a market.

If Professor Andrews' invention for turning this straw into little fuel briquettes proves to be what he claims it is, a process which has routed the soul of the Western farmer for many years has been satisfactorily solved, and vrains has been turned into gold in the most remarkably beneficial manner.

The first briquette, Professor Andrews has produced, is very small—not much bigger than a crown piece—it is black, and as far as appearances goes might be a piece of coal or peat. The farmer if he has power can by this form can make the briquettes himself. It can drive his plough during the day and make briquettes at the same time.

The Doctor claims that the cost is small, and that the equivalent of eighty tons of coal is obtained by the use of four hundredweight tons of straw. Calculating from an average crop of straw grown on a half section of 320 acres, 320 tons of this would worth the farmer's house, for a year, which is quite apart from trouble and expense of hauling it from the fields. For the purpose of the briquettes would be available for sale in the towns, which also would get cheap fuel instead of dear fuel as now.

If Professor Andrews' briquette is what he claims it is, he has added many millions annually to the wealth of the prairie provinces, and no patents go in this commercial age, he should undoubtedly make a few millions for himself. The discovery is one of the biggest things and natural one of the most beneficial.

WHEAT QUOTATIONS AND WHEAT CROPS

Prices Higher in Canada Than in States—Huge American Harvest is Forecasted

Ever since 1911 the farms have connived to disprove the theory that prosperity with the United States would have surprised the Canadian wheat grower. For all but a few days of the crop year now drawing to a close, wheat prices have ruled higher at Winnipeg than at Minneapolis and Duluth. The spread between the Canadian and American quotations on the same grades of grain has varied from day to day, but nearly all the time since September 1st, 1912, the Western Canadian farmer has had the advantage over the Western American farmer.

In 1913 the friends of the trade agreement with Washington took the ground that the United States as a producer of wheat had passed its best days and could no longer feed itself and that this country would have to supply the deficiency. The response of the American farmer was the production in 1912 of the greatest wheat crop in the country's history, and the consequent piling up of huge surpluses which must find an export. According to the latest Chicago figures, issued on June 1st, 1913, the United States has exported one and a half times as much wheat as supply the deficiency. The exports of the United States exports, 121,000,000 bushels; Canadian exports, 68,000,000 bushels. The United States still has about 140,000,000 bushels from last year's crop, which is also more than perhaps 80,000,000 bushels to meet the Canadian crop.

Crop of 1,000,000,000 Bushels

The Washington Government crop report forecasts a harvest of 1,000,000,000 wheat harvest of 813,571,000 bushels of winter wheat and 186,429,000 bushels of spring wheat. The winter wheat area has been planted under favorable conditions and is making rapid growth. The oldest winter wheat states will break all records. In short, it is clear to the country that the largest grain boom in Canada's history is on. Canada is producing a hard American when it comes to wheat. Between the years 1901-1905 inclusive the average crop was 55,000,000 bushels. In 1910, 231,000,000 bushels; in 1911, 224,000,000 bushels; in 1912, 231,000,000 bushels; in 1913, 231

THE UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

What may safely be said to be the pleasantest event of the season was the union Sunday School picnic which took place on Thursday of last week. The weather was absolutely fine. Old Sol gave the youngsters an extra large share of his warm rays making them fit and for the ice cream lemonade etc which had been prepared by kind hands for them. A good lunch was served as 3 o'clock when the "hog" came also exercised mirth by doing justice to the good things provided.

Sports were indulged in freely, as many as 30 prizes were given for the different races etc. The race and spoon, sack and three legged races were very good, but perhaps the last and most exciting was the spike race, the prizes being carried off by Mrs Morton and Mrs Wood.

The Viking Brass Band added greatly to the enjoyment of the day. Various selections being played from time to time.

Altogether a very good time was spent, every one doing his and her best to make every one else happy. Such an event speaks well for the cause of church union, which should bend us as one in worship as well as pleasure.

So far great success thanks are due to Mr. Rogers who instigated the scheme. The members of the Viking Band, Sunday School Superintendents, Mr. Ma Wood who kindly gave ice cream, Mr. Jamieson and others who gave prizes and other articles and last but not least the kind, smiling, indefatigable ladies, who served at the tables, many of whom worked hard cast and long, cutting and dainty smoothing the appetites of all. Mr. and Mrs. Somers served ice cream and nuts.

OBITUARY

It is with sorrow that we this week are called upon to chronicle the death of one of Beaver Lake District's young and most promising young people. The Grim reaper last Thursday entered the home of Mr and Mrs. J. B. Steele, east side of the lake, and took away Jessie, who, after suffering from a severe illness only a few weeks at Vegreville, passed beyond. The general belief is good strickes as any thing to be would be on young the bright light of a beloved elder daughter, just merging into beautiful womanhood. Miss Steele was just 21 years and 8 months at the time of her demise. She had advanced well in her educational career and had been teaching school for a time. The funeral took place from the home of her bereaved parents on Sunday. The family has the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends all over the Beaver Lake district in which the Steeles are amongst the oldest of the old timers. The STANDARD joins with Lacagne in just a halting medium when it comes to expressing that fellow feeling when the loss of a loved one comes upon our friends.

M.C. Hammond, tinsmith and plumber, has come into the metallic ation of a steam heating plant at the school in the place of the hot air plant which was removed W. H. Webb has completed for Mr Hammond the installation of a hot air heating plant at the new school building. Mr. Webb also put in a hot air furnace at the residence of Mr. E. S. Cole.

King George Wishes Success to Throng Leaving for Canada

Sinn's at Salute While Passengers Embarking for Dominion Cheer Him Heartily for His Kindly Thoughtfulness on Their Departure

LONDON, July 28 - At the Royal Agricultural Show, Bristol, King George inspected a house of kind seen on the ready made farms in Western Canada. He evinced ... interest in the internal arrangement and put a number of questions as to the type and number of men who were taking up these farms.

On Friday, July 11, during his review of shipping in the River Mersey he saw, probably for the first time the population of a small town leaving for Canada. When the King learned that there was a Canadian Liner sailing on that day for the Dominion he made a slight change in the plan, namely, that the Ualaton, on which he was, should sail close to and slowly past the C.P.R. Rate Empress of Ireland.

None of the kindly acts of the King during the royal program through Lancashire war more spontaneous and sympathetic, and none were more appreciated. Of all the enthusiasm of that wonderfully enthusiastic day, none touched so high a point as that of the passengers on the Canadian boat, most of them leaving their home country to seek fortune in Canada.

This thoughtful act was an appeal to the imagination, and doubtless the passengers will long remember the extra consideration of the King to those who were leaving the country, so they will remember him with his wife-gloved hand at the salute wishing them, as it were, success in Canada.

ALBERTA COALS ARE RICHEST YET FOUND IN WEST

Joseph Hudson Says Tests Show Fuel to be Excellent Quality Especially in this true in connection with the Coals from the Tofield District

Joseph Hudson, connected with the Department of mines at Ottawa ... in the city today with reference to the explosive act of the Dominion government. His business here is to seek the aid of the provincial government in connection with the co-operation of the act in Alberta.

Mr. Hudson is well known in the west, having visited here on many previous occasions. Since this morning, he stated that in regard to some of the provisions of the act the consent of the provincial government would be necessary to enforce the act in the various provinces.

When in Alberta last year Mr. Hudson collected samples of coal from the many mines throughout the province for the purpose of having the quality tested. The tests are now being made by the fuel testing dept. and directly they are completed they will be published and distributed in report form.

From the tests already made, Mr. Hudson reports the Alberta coal to be of exceptionally good quality especially in this true in connection with the coals from the Tofield district.

In Alberta some of the largest coal properties are to be found, and the dept. of mines is closely following the rapid development of this territory. One of the largest mines is that located northwest of Edmonton, owned and being operated by a syndicate of which Dr. Hogue is the head. It comprises some 80,000 acres, and has a supply sufficient to supply the whole Dominion with fuel. Other large mines are also being opened in various parts of the province. Edmonton Journal

While driving home from town his horse suddenly shied and in a getaway smashed the shafts and throwing Mr. Neal out of the buggy Fortunately Mr. Neal was not injured. It is extremely likely that we shall see Mr. McLeod here as a permanent resident and business man before long.

COUNCILLOR KENNEDY RESIGNS

Bye-election to be Held Shortly

Pincott Mentioned as a Likely Candidate

The resignation of J.D. Kennedy, ... from his seat in the council was ... read in the hamts of the Mayor last Monday. In his communication Mr. Kennedy states owing to his business being away from Tofield he cannot tend to his duties here as councillor. He further says that he has appreciated the years he has spent in Tofield and will always be interested in its progress and welfare.

The placing of Mr. Kennedy resignation in the hands of council creates a vacancy on that board which is usual be filled without any undue delay. Council at its next meeting will have to appoint a returning officer and set the date of nomination and elections.

The STANDARD in a recent issue forecasted the resignation of Councillor Kennedy and published a portion of what is in the public mind as to the names of possible candidates for the seat to be now vacant. Some of the citizens mentioned declined that they will not consider for a moment their nomination. Others ... consent in no emergency.

A likely candidate, and one who appears to be quite popular, not because he is a good fellow but because of his keen desire to see Tofield go ahead, and one who is doing much to further the development of the town and district, has appeared in the person of R.W. Pincott who for a large portion of the past year has been associated with A.J.H. McCauley in the real estate and insurance business. Mr Pincott also is severing his connection with Mr. McCauley and is going into business on his own account as an accountant, etc., and is building an office on 3rd Ave east of Main St. Since his becoming a Tofielder he appears to have proved himself an enthusiastic and constant booster for the town and district of his adoption, and has taken an active interest in all matters pertaining to its development, agriculturally, commercially and industrially.

Of course, there there are others. When the time comes for the moment ... there should be no dearth of aspirants. No council has a finer ... council in its ranks at present ...

Our Rising Trade With The United States

STATISTICS have been published which show that the trade and trade with the United States is still tremendous.

It is on the increase so far as Canada is concerned, and Canadians are yearly and monthly putting more and more towards the increasing the revenue of the Dominion, and the cause of protection, in the duties collected upon the increasing imports from the other side of the line. Trade returns for the year ending April 30, 1913 show this. They show that during that period Canada imported the immense sum of $444,735,801 worth of dutiable goods, of which $272,309,949 worth came from the United States, and $10,561,594 worth came from the United Kingdom, the one value, of course, coming from various other countries. On good, imported free the total for the same period was $229,145,177 of which $158,206,241 came from the United States and only $31,214,005 from the United Kingdom. Analysis of the imports shows that Canadian have preference for United States goods over British goods in the following lines: livestock, books and periodical, hats, the and manufactured clays, carriages and cars, cement, coke and coal, cotton goods, drugs and chemicals, electrical apparatus fruits, leather goods, rubber good, metals, minerals, musical instruments, watches, tobacco and a host of other articles.

One outstanding fact is significant. In spite of the defeat of the reciprocity measure of 1911, in spite of all the desperate flag waving of that time, our trade with the United States is growing by leaps and bounds, and we are none the less, Canadian or British.

The Election In Athabasca

THE election of Hon A. C. McKay in Athabasca seems to be conceded. The completion was signed with fervor by both sides. While defeat of the Government usually go by the government the selection of an opposition candidate in the popular mind of the land ing against the liberal stranger candidate angered against the latter. The election of MacKay is undoubtedly a significant victory for the Liberal party and goes to show that in spite of many criticisms levelled at the Sifton administration over the financial questions it still has the confidence of the majority of Albertans.

THE NEAR WEST & THE FAR WEST

Country Beyond Great Lakes Divided into Two Parts by Panama Canal

According to Mr. Norman Lambert in the Toronto Globe, Western Canada is being divided economically into two parts. The "West" as people have described that portion of the Dominion for many years is rapidly becoming, in the language of the day, either "the far West" or "the near West."

This is of course is taking more definite form and these terms are becoming more popular as preparations are made to take advantage of the new trade route which will cross in Canada with the opening of the Panama Canal in 1915.

Necessitates the Term

It is the industrial development which has taken place in the far West in 1912 that has necessitated more strongly than ever the complementary term "the near West."

While so far as manufacturing is concerned Ontario has expanded more extensively than any other part of Canada in 1912, having secured 102 charters for purely industrial companies since last January, the most interesting and significant feature in the economic growth of the country has been the remarkable industrial activity in "the far West," which literally speaking comprises the territory west of Moose Jaw.

Undoubtedly the most important phase of this development has been the introduction of the first industry in the Mackenzie Basin, bringing that city to the extraordinary position of being the first mining centre in the British Empire.

Cyphian, the Maple Leaf Milling Company, and the Manitoba and Ontario Flour Mill Company entered Medicine Hat in 1912, and the increased capacity of the Medicine Hat Milling Company, which has operated in a small way for some time, will before the end of 1913 be turning out three barrels of flour every day.

Move Milling Plants

It is also said that the Lake of the Woods and Ogilvie Flour Mill Milling Companies have practically arranged to establish plants in Medicine Hat, although contracts have not at the date of writing been signed.

In addition to these mills the following industries have taken sites and signed contracts with the municipality of Medicine Hat:

	Men employed	Capital invested
Parmal Brick Company, 100 H.P.	50	$ 60,000
Alberta Glass and Bottling Works	50	60,000
Med. Hat Porcelain Co...	45	75,000

Alberta Steel Products Co.	35	25,000
Medicine Hat Pump and Blast Works	25	5,000
Alberta and Saskatchewan Paper and Fruitland Products Company	75	150,000

Industries at Redcliffe

Redcliffe has 1200 population and is situated about six miles west of Medicine Hat. During 1912 it secured two glass factories (one from Toronto and the other from Montreal), an automatic iron works, a motor works, a milling mills and belt works, and a pressed brick company. The amount of capital invested is $250,000, and the skilled number of men to be employed is 600.

In dealing with Calgary, the big industrial acquisition has been the C.P.R. shops. These shops cost $600,000, and will give employment to 1,000 men. But the following record of other plants that are being erected will give one a further explanation of the phenomenal expenditure of $12,850,000 in buildings in Calgary during 1912

Plants Building	Men to be employed	Amount invested per plant

Fall of a Meteorite

A meteorite weighing 37 pounds is the subject of discussion in chemical circles in Johannesburg. The stone fell in Zululand a few months ago, and was not only noticed by an eyewitness some 15 miles away, but fell within a few feet of a native woman who gave information which led to the discovery. The meteorite cannot be broken. It is known, however, to contain platinum.

Beaver Lake East

With regard deeper than words of mine can convey, I report the death, at the R.B. Hospital, Vegreville, on Friday morning the 25th, at the age of 21 years and 8 months, of Jessie Steele, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steele of this locality, beloved also of every resident of this place and of all who knew her, far and near.

For untold years past she has been long school and carrying out her duties unsparingly though her health had been failing for some time. A few weeks since she returned home in a very exhausted condition, suffering from acute rheumatism and she was ink on a few days after with pneumonia and weakness of the heart. Removed to the hospital, she received the best of care at the hands of Dr. Head of Vegreville and Dr. Nichol of Edmonton and a special nurse, but in spite of all that could be done, and although the sorrowing relay for a couple of weeks her constitution was unable to stand the strain

The funeral ceremony was held at the Beaver Lake Presbyterian cemetery on Sunday 27th in the presence of a large and profoundly affected gathering. Rev. W. Gould conducted the service and his address, spoken from the heart of a friend and free from the platitudes of conventional phrase heard on these occasions, made a deep impression on his hearers.

The greatest and most unreserved sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Steele and the whole family in their bereavement, and it is safe to say that they themselves who have reared and who share in the sorrow even though they cannot fully see it. Jessie Steele will be universally lamented, not only at Beaver Lake where she was best known and appreciated, but in every place where she has resided and whose her previous gifts of mind, heart and character appealed irresistibly to all who approached her. Her memory will be cherished in many a home. It will not pass away in our time.

KRUGER'S AMBITION

Hoped to be Napoleon of Twentieth Century, Says a Relative

Mr. Mark Kruger, of Pretoria, South Africa, nephew of the redoubtable "Oom" Paul, who was the guest of Mr. Kruger, remarked in that district recently at the beginning of the campaign that Kruger's ambition was to be Napoleon of the twentieth century. He believed that all he needed was a good pretext for the success which he had in the Transvaal. Kruger's ambition was to be a great British statesman and military genius."

"In my opinion," continued the Kruger's nephew, "it was this overwhelming ambition that proved to be Paul Kruger's worst enemy. His dream of driving Britain from Africa and then consolidating the whole country into a vast continental into a great Dutch republic which he would rule as the Napoleon of it. With this foundation upon which to build Oom Paul planned foreign expansion. He had his eye on India. And even in the crown of Britain, to which country he was an invetegate enemy."

Jogging Laziness into Activity

The merchant whose business lags in the summer has himself to thank.

To slacken the selling pace in the hot season—to lessen Advertising activity—indicates a resignation which has no place in modern business.

If we think we cannot keep our business booming in summer time, we surely will not.

What a jolt it must have been to the fur trade, when the first mid-summer fur advertisement was run in daily paper! Now many fur stores are following the example of that progressive fur man who dared to believe that fur sales need not go down as the mercury goes up.

Energy, linked with Advertising, has turned the month of January into the biggest selling season for white goods. Advertisements of a high stimulative power, combined with a disregard "seasons," have opened up automobile selling two months earlier than was once thought possible. Advertising has started Christmas shopping early in October instead of the middle of December.

Advertising rises superior to seasons and thermometers. The right kind of Advertising strikes a responsive cord in human nature—and human nature is the same in August as in December.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 308 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

CANADIAN IN CONGRESS

Former Ontario School Teacher Addresses Business Men's Session

From a teacher's desk in a country schoolroom to Moose Jawmain, Province of Saskatchewan, Canada, is a short jump, as Mr. Thomas Clark, of Moose Jaw, Canada, proved when he addressed the Rotary Club of Moose Jaw, Canada, on the subject of "Canada and Canadians." Mr. Clark was formerly principal of the Moose Jaw Collegiate Institute, and is now a prominent business man in that city. He is also a member of the Moose Jaw Board of Trade, and is well known throughout the province of Saskatchewan and Alberta as an educationalist and a public speaker. He has been in the province of Saskatchewan for twenty years, and has been actively identified with the growth of the province during that time. He is a native of Canada, and was born in Ontario. He received his education in the public schools of Ontario, and graduated from the Ontario Normal College, Hamilton, Ontario.

Mr. Clark's address was a most interesting one, and was listened to with the closest attention by the members of the Rotary Club present. He dealt with the growth of the province during the past twenty years, and with the opportunities which it offers to the young man who is willing to work. He also dealt with the question of immigration, and the class of immigrants which Canada requires. He pointed out that Canada does not want the class of immigrants who are willing to work for low wages, but that she requires the class of immigrants who are willing to work for high wages, and who are willing to become citizens of the country. He also dealt with the question of the cost of living, and showed that the cost of living in Canada is not as high as it is generally supposed to be in the United States. ANIMALS AS DOCTORS

Both Wife and Domestic Creatures Know How to Treat Illness

It is interesting to observe the simple remedies by which animals of nature endeavor to cure themselves of their ailments and that they are successful in so doing is evidenced by the fact that they are not subject to many of the diseases which afflict man. Sheep and cattle, for instance, are very fond of certain herbs. An animal suffering from rheumatism will instinctively forage out such herbs and eat them in preference to anything else. The same is true of a dog which has eaten something poisonous. Immediately he will hunt out a certain kind of grass and eat it. Cats are very fond of catnip, and when they have a stomach ache they will eat it. Sheep and cattle have an instinct which leads them to the proper remedies for their ailments.

Many of the wild animals of the forest are also known to have a knowledge of the curative properties of herbs. The bear, for instance, when suffering from a wound will search out a certain herb and eat it. Also when he has been in a fight with another bear he will eat it. The bear is also known to eat it when he has been in a fight with another bear. The bear is also known to eat it when he has been in a fight with another bear.

TWENTY MILLIONS IN THIRTY YEARS

An Estimate of the Future Population of Saskatchewan and Alberta Provinces

A Canadian correspondent of an English newspaper predicts that in thirty years from the present time the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta will have a population of from twenty to twenty five millions, as an actual agricultural wealth of 2,500,000 acres and an output of manufactured products of 2,000,000,000 or more, one city of over two million population, two cities with populations between four hundred thousand and seven hundred thousand, three cities of from one hundred thousand to three hundred thousand and nine cities between fifty thousand and one hundred thousand, and in addition several dozens of large towns. He bases his calculations on the growth of the Middle West of the United States within the past fifty years.

Immigration

At present Western Canada has an annual immigration of three hundred thousand, while the average number of people who entered the Middle West United States from 1860 up to the period of the boom was only two hundred thousand per year; yet the Middle West of the United States is now greater than that of the two Canadian provinces, have now a population of twenty millions. Before 1920 there will be a development in the industry, and even after that there will be room for settlement and an investment which will yield to the Canadian provinces. For the development of the West Canada has the advantage of three transcontinental railways, besides two others having already obtained thirty years ago when the United States was being developed. Besides this the markets of the world are open for the profitable disposal of everything that Canada possibly raises a factor which cannot be overlooked in any consideration of Canada's growth.

Splendid Opportunities

Commenting upon this glowing estimate Mr. Traveller Rainer says: "On its face this calculation may appear exaggerated, but a little reflection will convince one that it is not so. It must be remembered that the picture is not overdrawn. Immigration is increasing year by year, and increasing at an astonishing rate. It is not too much to expect that within seven or eight years it will be double what it is to-day. And this, of course, will not be taken by Saskatchewan and Alberta, but the greater part will go to the West, and a simple arithmetical calculation will show that an estimate of twenty millions of people for the territory from Manitoba to the Pacific Coast is thirty years' time is to reality a modest one.

"The West affords splendid opportunities for the Canadian manufacturer in the same position as the east in regard to most suppliers of the United States manufacturers. Receipts of cattle have fallen off considerably in the last five years, while prices have shown more than a corresponding advance for the commodity. Receipts of sheep and lambs have, on the other hand steadily increased, and the prices paid, considerably above those of 1911 were below those of 1912 and 1913. The run of hogs was well above that of 1911 and 1912. The following table brings out these facts.—

Ta. cattle receipts	303,004	362,736	390,847
Av. pr. per cwt.	$6.65	$6.66	$6.00
Tot. val.	$7,699,000	$8,500,000	$3,500,000
Ta. sheep receipts	66,641	48,616	36,776
Av. pr. pd.	$5.40	$4.89	$4.31
Tot. val.	$357,000	$237,000	$158,000
Total hog receipts	130,781	88,177	91,626
Av. pr. pd.	$7.65	$7.71	$6.60
To. val.	$1,256,000	$1,200,000	.....

Calgary's Story of Great Progress

According to the Calgary ... over 4,000 new residences were built on by the Calgary electric light ... during 1912 in the twelve months the consumption of current increased from 2,864,751 kilowatts to 5,756,477.25, not withstanding reductions in price. Bank clearings increased from $216,481,481 to 295,402,947, transit revenue from $478,497, to $1,027,613, and city assessment from $121 000,000 to something over $220,000,000. During the year the city laid 52 miles of streets as against 33 miles in 1911; 46 miles of water mains as against 30 miles in 1911; and 8 miles of pavement as against 13 miles in 1911. Twenty eight miles of curb and gutter and 40 miles of cement sidewalk were laid in 1912, and 2,677 houses were connected with the city waterworks system. The outlook for 1913 is even more encouraging. A number of industries which have been refused locations in the building figures are not yet complete, of labor in any great extent, but will be before the year is over. General Superintendent Price, of the C.P.R. stated on the 1st inst. that the said year, that 1,500 men would be employed in the company's shops within a few months. The Riverside Lumber Co. are building a large wood working factory which will increase their pay-roll to and industry to Calgary, to over 1,000 men. The Trefiler Clay Product Co., is another large industrial concern which is just getting slowly under way. The Pioneer Tractor Co. reports to be employing 500 men, before mid-summer The C.N.R. and G.T.P. will both be to some extent employers of labor in Calgary this year. In addition to these outstanding concerns, practically every firm in the city large or small, is adding to its staff. Calgary's story of progress is that of scores of western towns in greater or lesser degree.

The Herald Store Co. will erect a plant, costing $100,000, in Regina.

A Bad System

APROPOS of the week's discussed question of huge railway and other valuable obtained from government of other parts and more particularly millions that have been lavished by the people's government in large railway enterprises, the Edmonton Bulletin says: In the case of Alberta alone the interest charges on the railway debt are a heavy burden, and the question for the municipalities to decide is how much longer can they continue to pay such heavy charges from the revenues of the country.

Here is a question which confronts municipal councils in every part of the province. Year after year the people's money is spent on the building of railways, and year after year the municipalities find it more difficult to meet the interest charges on the railway debt. Every year the people's representatives in the legislature are compelled to provide more money for railway construction, and every year the municipalities find it more difficult to meet the interest charges on the railway debt. It is taken for granted that railways are necessary in order to provide money and they are carried on in the interests of the whole people.

Then there are the questions which upset the calculations of those who are in control of legislation. The whole people are taxed in order to build railways, and the railways are owned by the people, but they are compelled to contribute to public revenue.

In the first place, the taxes in Canada spoils from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 annually, and at the next election it is evident that the Liberals are going to find that the people themselves are not in favor of such a system of taxation.

Green Freight Rates

CHAIRMAN DRAYTON of the railway commission has gone to Ottawa to confer with the government and the railway companies regarding the control of certain freight rates on the North American Continent which are to be put into effect on January 1st next. The new rates are said to be lower than the present rates and will be in force for a period of three years. The new rates are said to be lower than the present rates and will be in force for a period of three years. BRITISH OFFICER IN GERMAN PRISON

Lieutenant Brandon Was Permitted to Keep Cat For Companion

—Held 19 Months

Lieut. Wilfrid Brandon of the British Navy told an interesting story to a London correspondent of his two and a half years' imprisonment in a German fortress for espionage. He exhibited a beautiful tortoiseshell cat named Josephs, which shared the last five months of his detention and the animal is now his constant companion.

"She was of good service to me," the young officer said, looking at his pet. "An unobtrusive companion, helpful now to avoid brooding over my position. And she shared my meals with me—little pieces of fish and meat and portions of milk that I saved for her. When I looked at Josephs, plaid and peaceful on my table, my discontent was softened, and I became resigned to my lot."

Lieut. Brandon, in company with Captain Trench, was convicted of espionage in Germany, and was sent to the fortress of Wesel.

"The citadel of Wesel," he said, "is enclosed by grass-grown ramparts which rise out far beyond view of the country beyond with the exception of three church steeples which protrude above the sky above. There was a special building set apart for military offenders undergoing detention, in which I was allotted a room of fair proportions. The number of other men detained varied from five to fifteen, and were Germans as a rule, mostly confined for duelling. With these men I was permitted intercourse within limits, taking my meals in their company and remaining with them a short while at the conclusion of the meal. But after the escape of Captain Lax, the French officer confined in a cell, the regulations were increased. No intercourse was permitted, and other exercise my door was locked.

"I was at seven o'clock each morning laid breakfast at eight-thirty dinner from ten till seven-thirty had my exercise each within the company, accompanied by a non-commissioned officer. Then at noon I had dinner and took another walk at an hour and a half in the afternoon, had supper at seven and was in bed by eleven.

"In the intervals I read German authors, like Goethe and Schiller, my object being to improve my knowledge of the German language, with which I was only slightly acquainted at the commencement of my detention. But I made progress until I was able to attempt translations, and I always wrote my letters in German.

"After about eighteen months I was removed to Konigstein in Saxony. My room there was built like a cell as well, and life was somewhat different from that in Wesel. The opportunities for exercise were more prescribed, being limited to a small walled-in court-yard. As at Wesel a sentry supplied with ball cartridge kept surveillance at my window during the night. Animals can only be kept by permission of the fortress commandant, but as soon as I was installed I asked the officer of Kessigtion for permission to bring Josephs there. He acceded at once and he further suggested that I should occupy myself by gardening. Tools were obtained for me and I raised a promising crop of flowers, and I was especially proud of my radish bed. My health generally was excellent, the second fortress suiting me better, because the air was more bracing."

Lieut. Brandon was quite unprepared for his release, which came about as an act of courtesy on the part of the Kaiser when King George visited Berlin. Before he quitted the fortress he was compelled to sign an order empowering him from Sandow, but it was not intimated that the signature applied to Germany, and his assumption is that he may return there if he desires.

A Suffragette Story

Major-General Sothaba tells an amusing suffragette story. A suffragette, so runs the story, one day went down to the brook and chose five smooth stones, and then went to the house of a Cabinet Minister. She took one of the stones and hurled it at the Cabinet Minister's window, but failed to hit it, and so with three other stones. At this point a country maid's petted at her, "Hi, per can't throw stones for nuts!" Whereupon the enraged suffragette turned round and hurled the remaining stone at him —and smashed the window!

Criminals Cured Through Eyes

Dr Archer Leslie Hood, an English oculist, who made a long study of the human eye as an index to character, discovered what he believes to be the origin of many forms of criminality and neurosis. If you have been led astray by a friend, whatever instead of hanging your head and looking ashamed, you should look him straight in the eye and tell him what you think of him. Perhaps it will be the last time you ever see him. You may not be cured of your bad habit, but you will have relieved your mind, and that is something. Dr. Hood says that the condition would be remedied in early life.

FROM RAW MATERIAL TO FINISHED PRODUCT

Competing Americans to Spend Money in Canada Instead of Taking It Out

The United States Steel Corporation will establish $25,000,000 plant in Sandwich, Ont. The Canadian Customs Tariff is forcing the corporation to spend money in Canada instead of taking it out.

If Free Trade prevails Canada and the United States united, the Steel Company would build its $20,000,000 plant in the United States, would attract her raw material and workmen to that plant, would transform the raw material into finished products, which would be shipped into Canada, and would retain all the profits connected with the various processes of manufacturing.

Forced across the line by the duty, the Company will spend $20,000,000 in Canada, will bring to Canada many skilled workmen with their families, will give employment to hundreds of Canadians, will change Sandwich from a village to a city, will create a market for the produce of the surrounding farmers, and will sell "Made in Canada" goods to Canadian consumers.

During the seven months ending with October, 1912, Canada imported for consumption iron and steel manufactures to the value of $28,648,242, of which $20,604,283 worth came from the United States. This was an increase of $12,263,042 over the seven months ending with October, 1911. Instead of advocating a reduction of the duties on steel and iron manufactures Free Traders should endeavor to persuade foreign companies to establish more branches in Canada.

Sweet milk, skim milk, sour skim milk, and buttermilk says an authority are of practically equal value when fed to hogs in the proportion of 100 pounds of milk to one pound of corn meal or one pound of shelled corn. With corn produced an average of 11.5 pounds of pork, but when fed with 344 pounds of milk, the average weight of pork produced in the same length of time was 117 pounds. So many factories the matter of economy may have been found in the discovery and application of some method of turning farmers' waste into a profitable by-product. The same principle can be well applied in the farm, and farmers should not be slow in making use of any extra milk.

Department to Adopt Strenuous Measures

[illegible] for asylum and dependent
The circumstances surrounding the cases of desertion which have come to the attention of this department during the last few months as a general rule are in reputable. Men who have even married ostensible habits in good times find it not always possible to stop these habits and have you oldly run into debt and finally skip the country because they have become afraid of the consequences. If a man is honest and has there is no reason why he should not go to his creditors with a fair statement of his condition and have the matter properly adjusted.

While the Attorney General's Department is more than willing to assume any responsibilities in cases of actual need and child neglect they are determined that the matter of family desertion must stop and examples be made of those who are playing the part of the coward and trying to suffer the consequences of their own [illegible] of suffering greatly deserved, write Lindsay Scott, of Temple Ind. Give The Young Floppers A Chance

DUCK shooting season opens on Saturday of next week, the 23rd inst. Doubtless, many of our sportsmen are anxious to get out to the sport. But, the STANDARD is glad to see that there is a substantial number amongst the sporting element who look at the game from a true sportsman's view point and that the fact if a wholesale slaughter takes place on opening day and this day immediately following, there will be a great loss. They hold that there are a great number of floppers this year. In fact there are thousands of young ducks not yet able to fly. If gunners wantonly destroy that which is useless for food, the young flopper, no good results, but much harm. Many hold that it is not necessary nor desirable that a civic holiday should be proclaimed this year on account of duck season opening particularly as so many of the ducks are too young and too small to be of any use, and also on account of the fact that Labor Day which is a public holiday falls a week from the following Monday. This will give the floppers a chance which is coming to them and to those who love the sport for sport's sake as well as who have a desire to give protection where protection is necessary. Give the young floppers a chance. There will be plenty of time for big bags after Labor Day.

Justice Where Justice Is Due

THE lack of a sidewalk of any kind on Second Avenue, south side, east from Main St, to at least as far as Hay's store has been the subject of considerable adverse comment during the past few weeks. The council was approached early in the year by citizens interested on 2nd Ave. relative to the building of a sidewalk there and council declared itself favorable. That this matter should be so apparently neglected does not look well. Justice demands that something should be done and done quickly. There are devious methods authorized by the Town Act providing for the carrying on of Local Improvements. Under those provisions council has no legitimate excuse to offer for its delinquency in this matter. Then there is also another point from which to view the situation. While the citizens directly interested on 2nd Ave need this sidewalk and want it, there are also quite a number of citizens in general who need it and who want it. That it is an absolute necessity none will deny. Then, if there is no means whereby council can go forward with this much wanted local improvement and if council does not do so, it is derelict in its duty and unworthy of the trust imposed in it by the citizens at large. It is to be hoped that action will be taken at the forthcoming meeting of that body so that justice may be rendered where justice is due

A Popular Choice

CONSIDERABLE satisfaction will doubtless be felt amongst the ratepayers over the election of R. W. Pincott to the seat on the council made vacant by the resignation of F. D. Kennedy. Mr Pincott's qualifications as a councillor were discussed in our columns some time ago and it is with a large degree of satisfaction that we note that there was not the slightest opposition anywhere throughout the municipality to Mr Pincott's candidature. The ratepayers by their action have declared their confidence in his ability to make good. Mr Pincott will certainly enter into his new duties as a public servant with that vim and energy which is characteristic of him

CITIES OF WEST STAND WELL UP

Amongst Manufacturing Centres of Canada Three Days—Some Figures

Three Western cities have a place amongst the fourteen leading manufacturing centres in the Dominion. Montreal leads, with a production valued at $178,000,000, in round figures, showing an increase of one hundred and sixty-eight per cent in twenty years. Toronto comes second with a production of $144,000,000, an increase of two hundred and thirty four per cent in twenty years. Hamilton takes third place with a production of $64,000,000. Winnipeg is fourth with a production of $32,000,000. Ottawa is fifth, $23,000,000, Quebec sixth, $17,000,000, London seventh, $16,000,000, Brantford eighth, $15,000,000, Vancouver ninth, $12,000,000; Halifax tenth $12,000,000, St. John eleventh, $10,000,000, Sydney twelfth, $9,000,000, Calgary fourteenth, $7,000,000.

In a recent speech in Parliament Mr Cochrane said of Edmonton: "In regard to the city from which I come, which had a population of 24,000, a factory employment at 7,000 and a total production of $18,000,000, it proposes $18,000,000 between 7,000 workmen you will find that on the average they are receiving $1,000 per annum. That I think is a very respectable amount for the contingency to take place and will compare favorably with the work of men in any other calling in life.

"I have not before me the average wage paid in some of the cities I was speaking in round figures, I should say that it is a day or more than a dollar sterling. In about the same proportion are the average wages in the other cities. Many of them obtain $1.50 and $1.75. I think the lowest wage paid for labor in the city of Edmonton is $1.75. The wages obtained by the employes of the railways of Canada ought to be said to be typical of the average wage paid in the factories of this country. The Canadian railways employ 160,000 men, who are paid an annual wage of $146,000,000, or $912 per man. Add 500 by 111,456, you will get an average of $912 per man, or a trifle over a dollar, $1.75 a day for every man employed by the railways of Canada. I think that will bear out what I asserted, that the lot of the workingman in Canada is fairly satisfactory, and that the average wage paid in this country will compare favorably with that paid in any other country in the world.

"No country in the world has had more industrial unrest within the past two years than has the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. I was in London last year and during three periods of unrest was in process of organization that was almost thrown out with a famine and that time because the workingmen were refusing to unload ships in the docks at London. The coal men and the railway men were on strike, and labor combined in a free trade country are not at all comparable with what they are in a country which has such moderate protection as we have in Canada."

AT MEDICINE HAT

Marked Industrial Progress Under Way in Western Town

Medicine Hat citizens some time ago voted in favor of four industrial and also municipal works by-laws. The industrial by laws represent an outlay of nearly 1,000 workmen when the plants and equipment are completed. They will entail an expenditure of over $2,000,000 on capital account.

The Great West Iron, Wood and Chemical Company represented by Fetis Frank D B Hanna, Honorable F H Phipps, K.C., M C Grant, and Hector McInnis agrees to spend at a approximately $1,000,000 in the erection and equipment of a plant for the manufacture of car wheels, steel under frames hot rods flat cars and also in glassetting necessaries, and promises to become one of the most important industries in Alberta. This industry will employ about 350 hands at the start.

L. Carey Wright, of Sault Coupe Minnesota, will establish a red shoe manufacturing concern to be known as the Medicine Hat Radiator Company. This capital will also be interested in this concern and an investment of $100,000 will be made employing about 50 hands at the outset.

The Saskatchewan Bridge & Iron Company will be erected on the west industrial site and will install an initial investment of $150,000 and employ about 150 hands

The Canada Cement plant which will manufacture best barrie of cement daily is to be completed by the Hunt Engineering Company This plant will be an industry of very importance to Medicine Hat as it will employ an army of workers, not only in the construction work but in the operation of the plant itself.

TRADE WITH ORIENT

Object of New Western Fleet Said —Panama Canal a Factor

A policy of extending for future business rather than for immediate profits was characterized by Hon. D. C. Cameron, President of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, at the annual meeting of shareholders the other day. Mr. Cameron stated that particular care was being paid to establish the company's product of flour "in foreign markets, and to see the time when they are going to be able to put more attention to foreign trade than to domestic.

Mr. Hedley Shaw, General Manager of the company said, in part:—

"As intimated in my last report the directors considered it advisable to increase the capacity at Port Colborne. A start was made with the Algoma Steel Co., for the erection of the grain elevator, and the work is being pushed with great vigor and the development of the terminal facilities at Nelson are being driven ahead so that that the resources of the new port will assist materially in finishing the Northern portion of the railway.

On July 23, the contractors had reached Cormorant Lake Narrows, at Mile 40, with the steel and it is hoped to reach mile sixty by Aug. 1st 25. It looks as if 150 miles of grading will be completed this fall. There are 1,200 men on the work and the only difficulty at present is the sheet supply of ties.

On July 28, the contractors set out on his journey over the route to Hudson Bay, he let the contract for the second section sixty-eight miles from Thicket Portage to Split Lake Junction, the amount let of cost was $1,300,000. More recently the final section of 162 miles has been let for $3,700,000. The time for the completion of these two latter sections is December 1 1914

The sum working at the terminals now exceeds 1200 and it is expected that by autumn 2500 will be employed.

Five elevators were chartered this summer to carry in supplies and the following fleet has been bought for delivery this season: Steaming tugs, $17,247; steamboat Kathleen, $10,000, one-third low barge, and two steel sectional scows, $18,500, dredging same livery, $30,000.

The Polson Iron Company, Limited, of Toronto, is finishing a $500, 000 steel car dredge one of the most complete ever built in Canada. The same Company is also at work on a $22,000 stern wheel tug.

Hudson's Bay Railway to be Finished By Dec., 1914

Work Is Being Pushed On Road and Terminal Facilities at Nelson as Well

Ottawa, Ont., Aug 7.—The expectation now entertained is that the Hudson Bay Railway will be completed by December 1914. Save One Ton of Coal in Every Six

The Economizer will do it.

While the cost of living has undoubtedly been growing greater, at the same time it is true there are some investiners that will offset this increased cost of living, and the careful housewife takes advantage of these inventions.

On every Gurney-Oxford range there is an Economizer which controls not only the drafts but also the entire combustion or burning of fuel to create heat.

This Economizer will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would use with the ordinary range.

The Economizer is a simple device, absolute in its control. By merely moving the lever you can obtain any degree of even heat in the oven. This insures the satisfaction of always having light, delicately crusted bread and biscuits.

The kitchen are ceases to be a worry if the Economizer is on your range.

The Gurney-Oxford is the final result of experimental thought. Science has given it a Divided Flue, a new Special Grate, and a Broiler attachment.

This Gurney Oxford range is primarily a saver of money, time, and energy.

Jogging Laziness into Activity

The merchant whose business lags in the summer has himself to thank.

To slacken the selling pace in the hot season—to lessen Advertising activity—indicates a resignation which has no place in modern business.

If we think we cannot keep our business booming in summer time, we surely will not.

What a jolt it must have been to the fur trade, when the first mid-summer fur advertisement was run in a daily paper!

Now many fur stores are following the example of that progressive fur man who dared to believe that fur sales need not go down as the mercury goes up.

Energy, linked with Advertising, has turned the month of January into the biggest selling season for white goods. Advertisements of a high stimulative power, combined with a disregard "seasons," have opened up automobile selling two months earlier than was once thought possible. Advertising has started Christmas shopping early in October instead of the middle of December.

Advertising rises superior to seasons and thenon eters. The right kind of Advertising strikes a responsive cord in human nature—and human nature is the same in August as in December.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available though any recognized Canadian advertising agency or the secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 203 Imperial Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

EXPENSIVE NEWSPAPERS

Century Ago Fifteen Cents Per Copy Not Uncommon Price

The history of the London "Times" which now sells at 3 cents per copy, provides a remarkable illustration of the fluctuations in prices of newspapers during the last hundred years. The cost of the "Times" to the first buyer in 1785 was 6 cents, but shortly after it was raised to 8 cents. Then it was raised to 15 cents. Two years later another increase was added to the price, while in 1815 it rose to 18 cents. This was during the time of the fact that during the reign of George III. the Press was subjected to several heavy imposts. At the beginning of the reign the tax on newspapers was 1½ cents a copy. In 1766 it was raised to 3 cents, other increases following till in 1810 it had reached 8 cents per copy. This caused a general rise in the price of newspapers to 16 cents a copy. A rebellion of things naturally lasted until 1836, when the duty was reduced, the tax being entirely abolished in 1855, when the price of the "Times" was 5 cents. It was reduced to 3 cents, six years later and remained at that price for half a century.

It is generally thought that the "Times" is the oldest London daily, but the "Morning Post" was in existence in 1772. The oldest Sunday newspaper, the "Observer," was established in 1791. It was sold at 24 cents a copy a price which was also charged for the "Weekly Dispatch."

The result of these prices was that the average person could not afford to buy a newspaper, but used to pay for the hire of one

INDIANS' "HIDDEN RIVER"

Region About Source of Mayflower Disaster Is Very Picturesque

The scenic beauty of country through which the Hidden River, scene of the recent Mayflower disaster, flows before entering Lake Temagami, Ontario. From the above the banks of the river rise higher and higher in greater part of the way.

The Temagami country proves along the route are sandy while in others the banks are of rock. The soil of the whole country is sparsely settled and the chief industry is lumbering, there being a few mines in the district. Only about one-quarter of it is suitable for cultivation, the remainder being for the small, irregular fields which line the river and lake and which provide tiny patches in the forest. Blueberry picking is one of the chief occupations of the banks in which the Mayflower's passengers were found. Many gallons of berries are treated in the sight of the tourists who line the boat rails.

The native dis is a mixture of Ojibway and Cree, with a slight admixture of white blood. The latter are employed by the lumbermen and by the Temagami Company, which had the head office at the mouth of the river. Another part of the small about thirty miles from the mouth of the river is reserved for its own standing from Canadian Pacific.

Temagami Lumbermen eastward the banks of the Lake are also settled and every other greater part or for so While Lake Temagami is reached because the valley through which it runs is so deep.

DESTRUCTIVE SAWFLY

Dr. Hewitt on Experiments to Prevent Yellowish Outrages

The almost total destruction of the turnip crop of larch, which took place throughout Western Canada almost thirty years ago, was caused by an insect the larch sawfly. It appeared in spread westward to the Pacific coast. Other insects in the forest do considerable damage to timber. To all who are interested in timber the following description of a little book by the Dominion entomologist, Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, will be of interest.

Dr. Hewitt studied the life-history and means of control of the injurious species. He found that the natural enemies of the sawfly are numerous and effective. The destructive spread of the sawfly in the prairie provinces was due to the comparative absence of the natural enemies of the several insect species. The devastating spread of the sawfly in the prairie provinces was due to the comparative absence of the natural enemies of the several insect species. The destructive new to Canada parasites which were discovered in England and which appear to control the pest there.

CAN'T SLEEP ON THIS

One-legged Stool Prevents Occupant From Taking Snooze

For people are looking for things to keep them awake rather than to put them to sleep when a man has a job as watchman at a suspected factory for example he is willing to stay awake until he knows the instant he has his chief at his telephone to keep his eye on the factory door and see that the latter does not get high enough to send him off into a sleep from which he would never awake. However, sometimes nature is too strong for us and some provision must be made that the watchman cannot snooze, even against his own will. He is therefore provided with a one-legged stool upon which to sit. If he should happen to fall into a doze he would promptly lose his balance and if the resultant crash in the floor does not wake him, his fellow workmen marrying above and further.

SAWDUST UTILIZED IN DOZENS OF WAYS

Former Waste Product Valuable as Mercantile Commodity Now or Manufactured

Sawdust, when moderately dry, has the same heat value as the best grade of coal, and is frequently specified. It is used in a furnace which provides a proper distribution of air.

Abroad, says a writer in The Canadian Lumberman, experiments have been made to turn this dust into briquettes but the large lumber concerns on this side of the Atlantic considered it more profitable not to bother with such a process, claiming that these briquettes can be used only on a small extent and could not compete with other fuels in which this material is so rich More interest in the matter was shown by the small factories, where the loss of such valuable waste was a serious consideration. Many peasants took up the proposal, but dropped it when they carried the cost of sacs on their briquetting plants.

Related to the briquetting of saw dust is the manufacture of artificial wood. This material is of great honesty and strength, does not decay nor is less susceptible to the action of the atmosphere than is natural wood All the attributes of wood can be reproduced and cut, but not split. Decorations of any description within this can be manufactured from mixture. The Chinese ornaments rival carved wood. Cornices, mouldings, panels, replacing those made of zinc, papier mache and artificial stone, are among the uses to which this material part of a stone-like material used for flooring. Sawdust and glue for making buckets. These paving blocks are said to be more durable than those of wood blocks.

Sawdust is pasteurized and used in steed of sand. In this state it can b ed cement, perhaps the best used for that purpose, such as for sachet bags as the like.

It is not so long ago that fine sawdust was used in rubber mixed with sand and bonters. Its pozzolith used and bituminous mixtures for road and substructure are well known. Sawdust has been

Much Dissent n Among Great Powers — Much Anxiety in Well-Informed Quarters Of Trouble In Europe — A Dark Cloud Hangs Over Alliance

London Aug 12 Sir Edward Grey makes an important statement exactly how the Balkans today to the effect that the understanding of the Lond ngress has not violated by Turkey must be complied with.

Both Austria and Russia are anxious that Bulgaria shall not be unduly weakened by her victorious enemies, and it is understood that they have reserved the right to review the peace treaty.

Germany and Russia are opposed to any reason and it is said the peace now can boiled from its terms.

Germany's attitude is plainly indicated by King Charles' telegram to the Kaiser. Thanks to you, it remains a distinct peace.

The Vienna press denounces boldly the Kaiser's interference.

Russia on her side hails fault with France for taking her stand with Germany against Austria. The new Vienna says France in pursuit of chimeras is sacrificing her alliance with Russia.

The discussions among the great powers are all to the advantage of Turkey, who declares that she will not evacuate Adrianople, despite statement in various quarters that the concert of Europe will make the treaty of London a success.

The Daily Chronicle's Vienna correspondent wires under yesterday's date, A dark cloud has been hanging for some time over the triple alliance and anxiety is shown in well informed quarters about the development of the three reason that that have arisen between Austria and Germany, and to some extent Italy. The origin of the rumors is characterized by an utterance of the German emperor, who is alleged to have said I don't like Austria to rattle with my sword.

Whether there is true or not; the fact is that the recent course of Austria's policy has evidently her compassion for the revision of the Bucharest treaty, is taken with out agreement with Germany, and even with Germany's disapproval.

The Kaiser's congratulatory telegram to King Charles, his decoration of Premier Tsanoff and his making King Constantine a field marshal in the German army, are visible expressions of the new direction in which the German policy is going in Balkan affairs.

All this is causing a great unease in Vienna. Count Berchtold's policy finds little appreciation in Berlin, and his position is becoming precarious.

Pay Your Taxes and Get the Discount

Ratepayers of Tofield both local and at a distance will do well to take advantage of the opportunity of saving the discount of five per cent on their taxes. ATTACK ON CANADA IN WALL STREET

American Financial Papers Co-operate to Discredit Country's Economic Position

There has been no change in Canadian industrial conditions to warrant the unprecedented slump in Canadian Pacific Railway shares. The stock may have been too high when it got up towards 300, but there appears to be a great deal in the contention that a certain Wall Street crowd have made it the chief object of attack during the last few weeks. The operators in question are said to be the same men who for two or three years past have boomed all things Canadian, and boosted "C.P.R." as high as it would go. Having thus made a lot of money on the bull side they now in world market conditions see immediate opportunity to do the same thing on the bear side.

So the story is that they inspired the adverse articles regarding Canadian, and especially Canadian Pacific Railway prospects that have appeared in certain American newspapers. Accompanying this publicity movement there has been a series of persistent bear raids on the issue. Unsettled market conditions abroad have facilitated the campaign, but we may rest assured that when the operators have made all the money they can on the bear side they will turn around and "pull" the stock and things Canadian will have a better surface when they are worth, and then obtain more profits on the rise.

One thing is certain. If the stock of any company is put up to where near 300 it is not dear around 200. The security has behind it the well established resources of valuable property in the world. The company's land holdings are very valuable, and it has abundant cash reserves. The main highway across a rapidly-developing continent, and the chief route between Europe and Asia the road is bound to increase in business enormously in the next few years. Canadian investors should see more emphasize the significance of what is happening. Not a purely manipulated decline in the country's general security and chief advertisement.

Money has been tight all over the world but the process of resumption is well under way. For months banks in Europe and the United States, as well as in Canada, have compelled their customers to get along with less accommodation than they thought they needed, and as a result are now in a growing accumulation of capital that will in the long run be reported from its hiding places by perhaps somewhat higher rates of interest. A few months more may be required to restore the equilibrium, but there is no reason for counsels of gloom. Especially is this so in a new and wealthy country like Canada, which is receiving hundreds of thousands of immigrants every year an rapidly extending its development that means wealth from inexhaustible natural resources

Were all weeks here as mentioned as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly diminished, write Lindsay Scott, of Temple Isle. For sale by all dealers.

Europe Quiet But Watchful

Turkey and Other Eastern Combatants Must Behave to Save Themselves

London, Aug. 14. The concert of Europe is on solid tone according to Sir Edward Grey, who here stated in the House of Commons that it was possible one of the great powers might interpose in Turkey if provoked.

The British Foreign Secretary said: We have acted a stage at which the concert of Europe is so firmly established that the adjournment of the Ambassadorial Conference can now be made regarding the health and well being of the concert We have reached an agreement on the subject of Albania and the Islands in the Aegean Sea.

Opportunities on Greece

An International Commission of Control, Sir Edward Grey explained will step an intermediate distance between the Turkish and Greek governments, and will be selected by the European powers, some of the steps out of this difficulty, while regarding the Aegean Islands, the powers including Italy have adopted the self denying ordinance that none of the islands shall be retained by them Their ultimate destinacy he said is to be settled by the concert of Europe when Turkey carries out her treaty with Italy and the Islands now in the hands of Italy are all available for distribution

Dealing with the situation in Macedonia and Thrace, Sir Edward Grey avowed that every state connected with the Balkan war, had, during the past two weeks, disregarded treaties and agreements and tried to take advantage of the situation. The only satisfactory feature, he said in the occasion of hostilities and the fact that demobilization had commenced.

Our War on Another

With regard to Thrace and the bottom of Adrianople, Sir Edward Grey blandly stated that if Turkey did not accept the advice of the powers that action would be taken sooner or later, either by means of pressure, distress or armed intervention. Saying her he doesn't, for he does not believe that Turkey is entitled and can be selected by the European powers, some of the strong out of this deliberation by saying that European powers would require some time to examine the situation before deciding on the final steps. The Foreign Secretary concluded:

"I do not think that both Turkey and the Balkan armies do not count on the belief that the abstinence of the powers from forcible intervention during the last few months one me that under all circumstances any one of the great powers will not intervene if sufficient provocation be given.

Shooting Fatality

Alexander Snyder, Junior, Instantly Killed

Alexander Snyder, junior age fifteen years and ten months, was accidentally shot and instantly killed Friday afternoon at his home south of Hastings Lake, some ten miles east of Tofield while he and his brother Jack were fooling with the gun. The fatal shot entered the heart of the victim just above the left nipple, death resulting almost at Tofield's outfitted and was Saturday noon and to the scene of the accident an inquest was held by Coroner Tuttle, R.N.W.M.P., conducted an inquiry. The testimony of both the boys who were present at the time of the fatality was taken and the jury after viewing the body of the victim, Alexander Snyder and the locality, returned a verdict in accordance with the facts as they appeared. The jury retired that on Friday afternoon, Aug 15, he and his brother Jack were fooling around in the Hudson's Bay section adjoining the house and the gun got into the hands of the boys. After bumping the butt on the ground and pulling the trigger several times to see if it was empty, Jack pointed the gun at his brother and said "I'll shoot you." He then took his father's gun and placed the barrel against his left breast. After which he pulled the trigger. The gun was loaded with a 22 rifle cartridge and the ball went through the heart and was found lodged in the left shoulder. He turned to see if it was loaded. He then picked up the 22 and made believe that he was going to shoot Jack but he grabbed it and put the gun to his breast and snapped it. He took the 22 Alex got Bert's shot gun which was standing up against the wall between the first and second outing at the head of the bed. He opened it

A Town With a Future

IF TOFIELD does not go ahead, what in the world will become of all the other small towns throughout the West? So said H. Morris of the Canada West Tobacco Company, who came in yesterday morning from Winnipeg, and who has been observing conditions throughout the West generally. Tofield will with all its various resources, industrial progress and expansion, all of which are reflected in the municipal and general development stand amazed at the leaders in municipal affairs throughout the west and with all these resources behind, it is bound to progress. The tremendous tonnage for railway transportation arising from the development of the coal mines lying up close to the town limits, from the product of industrial concerns now in existance, a factor which will build up Tofield fast and naturally at a more rapid rate than other centres more fortunately situated. Mr. Morris's statement or query is passed all, unanswerable. Such a situation as a town, split one way and valuable resources pressing on it and unthinkable. There may come quiet periods, but as for stagnation, never

That Awful Carelessness With Firearms.

WHEN will people learn to keep firearms unloaded when in the house or when carrying them about where there is every element of danger by not so doing? When will people learn to handle the deadly weapons with that caution, that keen watching for legitimate purposes? The remarks are not intended as a censure upon those who have learned the awful and bitter lesson of having made the sufferer from their negligence of this nature, but are designed as a warning to only many too who display such carelessness in observing the rules of common sense.

Tofield district has in years past, been the scene of almost tragic occurrences in connection with careless use of gun handling. The lamentable fatality of last Friday in the western section of this community should be a lesson of lasting benefit to all. This tragedy has been followed by another at Edmonton in which a devoted wife while in the embrace of an affectionate husband had her life thrown to an untimely neglect on his part. It is awful, awful.

In these instances our sympathy and the sympathy of the community goes out to those bereaved and who suffer through the occurrence, but the fact is that the terrible lesson seems to go unlearned until brought by force of circumstance to our own door, or it may be into our own family circle. When will we not learn to be careful?

No Loaded Firearms to be Carried in Town

CARRYING guns of any description loaded with any explosive substance whatever is absolutely prohibited by by law within the limits of the town of Tofield. This may be of interest to our readers within the municipality. Councillor Mundy called attention to the chief of police to see that this regulation is carried out to the letter, reserving however, the application of the by-law from the Tofield Gun Club in the use of guns for trap shooting only at their traps.

Complaints were numerous a few months ago in regards to the wanton shooting of firearms particularly on the east side of town. The intention of the legislation is to prevent this and the instructions to the chief of police being important, and money, will be well advised if they set about them effectively accordingly.

One feature in connection with the above is that duck will be safe from the ravages of the sportsman on the little sloughs east and west of the town which happen to lie in it. town limits. The east of the by-law means that no license will be allowed at the e place.

AN AMAZING DIVORCE

French Courtesies legally Separated Without Knowing Anything About it

A remarkable divorce case, which surely has no parallel in fiction or fact among civil attitudes, in Paris. A lady resident at the Carlsbad de B., aged twenty-seven, and living apparently very happily with her husband, was deserted by him without her having anything about it. The count one night left the house and the woman in the without letting her know of it and did not leave a direct with his own to a number of friends at the opera, where the dinner was prolonged by the count.

Perhaps because it was further to her own residence or because he left with the count, the countess returned to many hours after the usual wealth and had the hall [illegible] before the servants became aware of it. The servants did not notice anything. A letter was left by the count on the table in the dining room, and inquiries what the plan had to do. She was puzzled and could hardly be persuaded that the man had even the papers in the case determined to leave the truth, she went to the town where her marriage had taken place. There she found her divorce issued at the registry. Returning to Paris she found the banns published of the forthcoming marriage of the count. She immediately acted [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Inquest On Death Of Mrs. Fred W. Cox

Mrs. Frederick William Cox of Thomas St. Walter Isle, Strathcona was a celebrity shot by her husband on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Cox was formally arrested after the tragic occurrence by Detective Meehan, and taken to the south side station, but after the coroner and Chief Constable had heard the facts of the case, he was released on his own recognizance, and ordered to appear at the inquest to give evidence.

The matter was reported to the south side station at 1.15 and Detective Meehan and Constable McCormick, who happened to be in the station at the time, immediately left for the deceased's residence, being followed shortly afterwards by Coroner Craig and Dr. Hutchison. The officers found Mrs. Cox lying on the floor of the dining room, fully dressed and quite dead.

Mr. Cox was in a state bordering on serious distraction, and for a time was unable to speak, but he was later able to give a fairly connected account of what occurred. It seems that he was sitting on a chair, cleaning a 22-calibre Savage automatic revolver. It was loaded with eight shells, and was set to shoot. His wife was going out for a drive with her sister, Nurse Lawford, who was in the kitchen at the time. Mrs. Cox for the purpose of bidding him good bye, came into the room and put her arms round his neck, and he is supposed in so embracing her. The gun was in his right hand, and just as he was in the act of kissing her, his hand rested on her shoulder, the weapon went off, the charge entering the base of her skull towards the left ear.

She dropped to the floor and expired instantly, while Mr. Cox, horror stricken for the moment, and then distracted with grief, frantically threw himself down beside the body, as if he would give anything in all the world to bring her back to life. A neighbor, who heard the shot, rushed in and at once telephoned for the police.

A post mortem examination of the body will be held.

Mr. Cox is well known and highly respected in the city. He has been secretary treasurer of the John Walter Lumber Company, Limited, for a number of years. Some years ago he severed the Methodist pulpits in this district as a student missionary. He also is well known and highly respected here.

A Welcome to All

Did You Know That

The result of an impartial test by the London newspaper has shown that for actual talkativeness the typical Welshman holds the last next in order come Irishmen, then Scots, and last of all the Englishman.

Unobtrusively made by a number of well known London restaurants, clubs, and public places, the test is variably gave the same result. By means of a test watch the following table was compiled Welshman—Very talkative and genial in manner, and speaking at an average rate of 200 words a minute.

Irishman—Very talkative, but less so marked in manner, average rate of speed 185 words.

Scotsman—Far less talkative and deliberate in manner, average rate of 200 words.

Englishman—Almost silent merely the kind to speak, dogmatic and deliberate in manner speaking 160 to 170 words a minute.

The comparative silence of men, in its striking contrast to the vivacious chatter of the women folk, was an unanticipated. A curious detail was that dark men were always the loquacitiers.

A BEAUTIFUL GARDEN.

A beautiful garden is a pleasure not only to the deserving owner, but to pleased neighbors. Would that Tofielers would adopt more strenuously the hoger principle of making their premises more attractive in this manner. There are a number of citizens in town who are doing much to make their places pleasant and the town attractive. In this respect Dr. Tofield is deserving of much commendation as he who is doing much to demonstrate what can be done with a little care and generous rains. His garden, particularly the flower section is a delight to look upon.

WEST HAS IT OVER THE EAST

Nature More Responsive to Methods of Cultivation

Rich Graham Returns From East. Note Many Marks of Progress and Development

Rich. Graham returned to Tofield Friday last from Barrie Ont. where he has been spending the last five months at his home. Saturday he went out to his farm at Ross Creek. Crops were good last night in Simcoe County though not was he prepared down there before he left for the west, oats run about 75 to 80 bushels, barley from 60 to 80 and fall wheat around 40, to the acre. The summer was dry and June rains helped out the crops considerably.

Ontario farmers realizing the tremendous lure of the west, which has robbed them of many of their sons during the past year making attractive inducements to them to remain in good old Ontario, to encourage the young people to refrain from forsaking the home farms, hundreds of which are now being worked only by the old folks. The movement westwards from several parts of Ontario consequently is not so brisk as it was formerly. Mr. Graham says, however, that the stringency in the money market has had much to do with this temporary abeyance of the western movement of Ontario's youth.

As for Mr. Graham himself, he is an ardent booster of the west. Many a worthy but friendly argument has he had with his old Ontario friends anent the respective advantages of the west vs east. He always got them on the big wide idea that while crops were up a well worked farm in the east were frequently as good as western yields, the difference in value between yield is produced at less cost and effort than in the east. In the west the virgin soil is an invitation that of itself is produces immense crops while in the east they have to feed their soil with plenty of various fertilizers to make it productive.

Mr. Graham was immensely pleased to note the marks of progress agriculturally and industrially since he left last March to spend the major part of the summer in the east. The brisk part of the Dominion Brick Company, which is in operation, The Tofield Foundry and Machine Company with its thousands of dollars worth of machinery and contracts to keep it busy all winter, with a good force of employees, the municipal gas well which is a 60 to 1 shot, and passing completion, the tremendous crops all speak of the great future that is in store for Tofield and district and the west in general. Mr. Graham regrets one thing very apparent in the west. It is the last of the great waste or rather non-use of facilities for producing great wealth in stock raising and he feels it a pity that it is not taken many advantage of. Great profits could be made, he says, by shipping out good grades of cattle to run on western ranges, fattening preliminarily without cost for a profitable and ready market.

Tofield Foundry In Full Operation

Manufacturing Grey Iron Castings From Pounds To Tons Weight

First Cast Today. Mayor Pours First Mould

To-day will be long remembered by many Tofielders who attended the official opening of the Tofield Foundry and Machine Company's shops and foundry. While the company has been busy for a couple of weeks putting the final touches to the arrangement of the plant, the first cast took place to day and by invitation of the management, the Mayor and Council, together with a large number of citizens, were present to witness the first actual casting work performed. Great interest was taken in the various stages of the work. From the depositing of the old iron in the melting furnace to the uncovering of the finished article, the operation was watched with close attention. Everything worked to satisfaction and the first cast was a great success. In this were a large number of furnace doors, frames for the arches, and grate bars for the Dominion Brick Co.'s kiln, which will be ready for burning in a few days. Here already we have one established Tofield industry manufacturing material for the use of another established Tofield industry. In addition to the above, there were cast a quantity of grates, rods and other necessaries in the fitting up of various parts of the company's own plant. On Saturday the company starts in on a large order of mail weights for delivery in Edmonton. The Standard is informed that the company will not have an idle moment this winter as they have contracts on hand which will keep them busy for months.

By special invitation Mayor Letourneau poured the first official mould, while members of the municipal council and a large concourse of citizens watched the proceedings closely and a cheer went up as it was realized that the efforts of the town, through its council and Industrial League to establish this industry had found fruition in fact.

The opening of this factory marks another epoch in Tofield's history. Filled with an abounding faith in Tofield and its resources, Tofielders have united in a strong effort to make the town, and the development of its resources, a success. While the progress may have seemed to have been slow, it is certainly taking form, shape and effect. Industrially commercially and agriculturally, Tofield is steadily forging forward and looming up in the forefront of Western Canada's leading centres of trade and commerce.

Presbytery Meeting

The quarterly meeting of Vermilion Presbytery was held in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Tofield, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2nd and 3rd. The session opened on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. A. Stewart, pastor of Tofield church, was elected moderator. Rev. W. F. Gold, clerk of Presbytery since its organization, felt compelled to resign his office owing to his engagement in the Temperance and Moral Reform Work. His resignation was accepted with regret and Dr. Archer, of Vegreville, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

There were present at the meeting Mr. A. Stewart, of Tofield, Dr. Archer, of Vegreville, Mr. Simons, Superintendent of Missions, Mr. Russell, of Wainwright, Mr. Allan, of Vermilion, Mr. Weir, of Holden, Mr. McRae, of Lamont, Mr. Mann, of Islay, Mr. Zalinski, of Vegreville and Rev. S. Whiljans, as ministers. A few missionaries were also present.—Mr. Crumb, of Ryley, Mr. MacGregor, of Viking, and Mr. Hartmann, of Lake Shore fields.

A delegation from Ryley church was heard and their petition for help considered. After adjournment at 6 p. m. on Tuesday, the ladies of St. Andrews church served lunch to the visiting clergymen in front of the church building.

On Tuesday evening the meeting was thrown open to the public. The main topic of the evening was Home Mission. Rev. Mr. Simons, Superintendent of Missions in this district, gave a very interesting address on the aims, difficulties and accomplishments of the Home Mission Committee. He sounded a very optimistic note for the future of the work, commencing on the excellent work being done this year in all parts of his district and expressing a hope for even better things next year. Addresses were made by Mr. Crumb, of Ryley, Mr. Hartman, of Lake Shore field, Mr. Mann, of Islay, giving their experiences on the mission fields and their impressions of the work. Mr. Mann, who has recently arrived from Scotland, gave a glowing account of his work, commenting especially on the great and grand country to which he has been privileged to come. Mr. Zalinski told of his efforts to preach the gospel to the Ruthenians in and around Vegreville. He is doing a good work there and deserves the prayers and support of all Christian people. Mr. Gold told about some of the work of the Temperance and Moral Reform Leagues with which he is connected. Then after the ordered programme had been completed, Presbytery sat until 10.45 p. m. to transact business so that they might get away on the morning train.

The clergymen came together again at 8.30 on Wednesday morning and finished their work. In absence of Rev. G. R. Lang who was granted a leave of absence on account of illness, the report of the Home Mission convener was read by Rev. W. Simons. Grants for home missions amounting to $3973 were asked for. Mr. Simons commented on the fact that, in spite of the money stringency, fewer special grants were required this year than before.

The courtesies of the court were extended to Mr. Mason, the Angelican minister at Tofield, and also to Mr. Wiggins, the Methodist minister.

Tickled With Pleasant Surprise

Agricultural Conditions Such As He Never Experienced Or Dreamed Of.

T. N. Carlisle of Penn, Nebraska, is visiting his uncle W. H. Neal. It is about 22 years since he had seen him and he scarcely knew him much his arrival. Mr. Carlisle is greatly pleased with Alberta. This is his first visit and the splendid growing crops plentifully supplied with moisture, he says, is a great difference to the dried up regions from which he came. Gardens here are simply wonderful. The gardens here are without doubt the best he ever saw. His own some samples of grain which were raised here last year, he said that if these were really samples of what this country could and did produce, that they greatly eclipsed anything of the kind produced in his state.

Speaking about the crops throughout the west, Mr. Carlisle said that all through the three western provinces the crops were good. Around Winnipeg they were a little later than is usual due to a cold wet spring. Around Portage they were excellent. A long the line were several places where hail had damaged growing grain but how the crops were a mong the best he ever saw. He does not think his home people will believe him when he returns and tells his experiences.

HARVEST IN FULL SWING

Farmers Busy With Bigger and Better Crops

Delightedly Optimistic

The farmers in the Tofield District are busy in the thick of harvesting the biggest and best crop ever raised in the west. In every section the binders have been going for the past ten days and in another week the bulk of the 1913 crop will be in the stack. No frosts have occurred which might damage the grain, nor have there been any losses from hail. Stacking is in progress at some points and threshing is scheduled to begin within ten days.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1913

Amendments Asked For, Undesirable.

THE RESOLUTION passed by the convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities at High River last week, which favors and asks for, an amendment to the Towns Act, providing for an assessment of a grander than cash value, and failing to get such amendment, to secure an amendment to Clause 294 of the Act, providing for the elimination of the provision in the said clause, which sets the maximum rate for general purposes to be charged by any town council at twenty mills on the dollar (exclusive of debenture rates, school rates and local improvement rates), will not meet with the approval of the ratepayers of many town municipalities.

Councillor Whillans, who represented Tofield at the convention, voted against the above resolution, as did also Representative Scott, of Olds, both stating that they wished to go on record as being unalterably opposed to any such amendments to the Towns Act.

It is to be hoped that the Legislature will give scant encouragement to such proposals as the allowing of general assessments at a greater than cash valuation or the elimination of the twenty mills rate for general purposes. The Act is wide enough in its present scope and the giving of the power to councils to increase the assessment, at a libitum, or levy a general rate exceeding twenty mills to suit possible extravagancies in municipal expenditures, would open the way to many municipalities to so steep themselves in debt to be paid out of current revenue that living within town municipalities might well be an impossibility. It is much better that the Act remain as it is and a reasonably tight rein be held by the Legislature over the financial liberties of aspiring and restive municipalities.

With careful financing there does not seem to be any valid reason why any municipality should not be able to get along with their current expenditures, even at the maximum of such, well within the 20 mill rate on a cash valuation. Of course, where there have been in the past a series of financial extravagancies on the part of several municipalities and they have, under the old rule, been assessing everything in sight upon which to levy toll, the taxing of land only, under the new rule, may curtail their revenue, and work a seeming hardship, but that hardship is of their own making. The Act is not responsible. The Act as it is at present will protect people, wantonly inclined, against themselves. It is better as it is.

Disfranchise The Riding.

ACCORDING to a despatch published in an evening paper, there are further complications in connection with the Clearwater provincial election case, and now the returning officer cannot be found. The election in this pocket borough seems to have been one irregularity after another. The riding should never have been created Not one hundred votes were polled, and it seems that most of these were irregular. The election campaign was vicious, and all parties seem to have been equally gross in their methods of getting votes. The events after the election are surely not above suspicion. In fact, if one tenth of the reports that have been circulated are correct, there has been nothing at all regular or right from the beginning.

The question will be before the members of the provincial legislature. It is possible that as both parties seem to be equally guilty in their election methods, in this riding that neither party will be very anxious to do much with the unsightly affair.

The legislature should disfranchise the riding. Then it should make a careful and thorough investigation into the whole election, and punish with no uncertainty all who are mixed up in any irregularities. This would be a wholesome lesson to politicians throughout Alberta.—Calgary Albertan.

Reason for Cheer in Industrial Situations Despite Tightness of Money All Over the World

Money may be tight owing to world conditions, the stock market may be stagnating, town lots may not be as saleable as the boys were, but Canadian factories are busy, labor is fully employed, and in an article elsewhere based, thousands of Eastern Canadian workers "are getting overtime cheques in their pay envelopes."

As president of the Dominion Steel Corporation, Mr. J. H. Plummer speaks of trade conditions quite optimistically. A British steel manufacturing firm is to establish a plant at Longueuil, and a writer for Industrial Canada, who recently made a tour of investigation throughout Western Ontario, tells of a satisfactory state of affairs in all the important manufacturing towns and cities of that part of the Province. "Everything is growth, development, confidence in the future."

In each of the places visited "the skeleton timbers of factories and additions were rising rapidly. Factories, long established and prosperous, were installing new machinery. The signs "Help Wanted" were numerous. Procession of hooded freight cars were moving out of each factory. Superintendents told us that they could not keep up to their orders and were behind in so far as labor was where. No strikes were encountered. Manufacturing suburbs full of workmen's homes were appearing in places where the hay fields resulted a few years ago. Good homes they were, too, and, walking among them, one was forced to wonder if there were any poor."

In Hamilton, the third manufacturing centre in the Province, thirteen factories are being extended and six new factories erected. In Galt, "like little Birmingham of Canada," the capacity of almost if the largest existing plants is being enlarged at considerable expense to keep up with the demand from a growing market. A new cotton mill and a new steel plant are under construction at Waterloo, and a furnace company is to spend $150,000 on a plant at Port Colborne which will employ two hundred men. Thorold and Port Robinson are receiving a share of this prosperity, while important industrial expansion is reported from Niagara Falls and St. Catharines.

Brantford a great deal of money is going into new plants and enlargements of old ones, and similar developments are forward at Sarnia, St. Thomas, Stratford, Guelph, Berlin, Preston and Barrie. Windsor Walkerville and Sandwich are getting new industries from the United States and a considerable portion of the City of Detroit is said to be "moving across into Canada" in the wake of motor car and other manufactured industries. Altogether the review of industrial conditions throughout Western Ontario is very cheering to those who are inclined to be pessimistic over the stringency in the money market and the set-up crops thereon, so long as the population continues to grow as rapidly as at present, and so long as the National Policy is maintained unscarred (they is no such thing as this factories or time's parody is in) country.

AN INCORRIGIBLE BOY

Diminutive Delinquent Told Judge He Smoked a Pipe

As Judge Chaquet was interrogating a youngster in the Juvenile Court at Montreal, prior to sending him to the reformatory for three years, at the request of the lad's father, the question was put to the prisoner: "Do you smoke cigarettes?"

"No, a pipe," chirped the wee delinquent, and the audience struggled to repress a smile, for, while he came within the juvenile court age limit, he looked much younger than his years would indicate.

"Do you smoking cigarettes and argued him with pipe and tobacco for let him smoke in the house," said the father, "on condition that he quit the cigarettes."

"I have tried everything but he won't work nor come home until late at night. Two days ago I was buying his little brother, and told him to stay in the house until I came back, and then to come with me to the country, but he ran out, and this is the first time I have seen him since. It is my wish that he go to the reformatory. I can do nothing with him."

Concrete is the best building material

A BROAD statement—Yet literally true. The aim of man from the beginning has been to make his building materials as nearly like nature's stones as possible. The great labor required to quarry stone led him to seek various manufactured substitutes. The only reason he ever used wood was that it was easiest to get and most convenient to use. Wood is no longer easy to get. Lake most building material, its cost is increasing at an alarming rate.

The cost of concrete is decreasing. So, from the standpoint of either service or economy, Concrete is the best building material.

Canada's furnaces are using more concrete, in proportion to their numbers, than the furnaces of any other country. Why?

Because they are being supplied with a cement of the highest possible quality, which insures the success of their concrete work.

The secret of concrete's popularity in Canada lies in the fact that while we have been advertising the use of concrete, we have also been producing, by scientific methods, a cement so uniformly high in quality that the concrete made with it gives the complete satisfaction our advertisements promised.

Concrete would not have been in such universal use in Canada to-day if Canada Cement had not been depended upon during Canada's growth. Insist upon the success of thoroughly satisfactory results from concrete work. There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

Write for our free 48-page book "What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete" —the farmer's guide to concrete work.

The Gurney-Oxford Attracts Madam To The Kitchen

THE GURNEY-OXFORD has a large following of fashionable cooks who dip into the culinary art simply for the pleasure they derive from trying dainty recipes previously not attempted. They are all most enthusiastic supporters of the Gurney-Oxford because it contains many exclusive devices that make a perfect cooking equipment.

Its oven is evenly heated in every corner to insure deliciously dainty cakes, golden brown biscuits, and light flaky pastry. A special Divided Flue carries the heat to every hole on the range. The top is perfectly smooth and clean, requiring no black lead polish.

But most important is the Economizer. It is a small lever that moves around a series of six notches giving the exact degree of heat required for any particular dish. The heat of the range can be shut off and the kitchen kept cool between meals by turning the lever to a certain number.

The fire is held at a low ebb on a special Reversible Grate until a baking oven is required. Then the necessary heat can be obtained quickly by simply turning the economizer lever to another notch.

Such control as this enables many smart women to invent some very tempting dishes which they set triumphantly before their friends. It will pay you to investigate the Gurney-Oxford.

PUTTING CLASS AGAINST CLASS

Attempts to Make Western Farmers Regard Canadian Manufacturer as an Enemy

The Vancouver, B.C. News-Advertiser editorially

Out in Saskatoon the editor of The Grain Growers' Guide has been telling the organized Grain Growers how the farmers of the west are robbed by the railways, the banks, the manufacturers, the city workers and most other interests. He wanted a boy to himself a manufacturer of newspapers and not a farmer, had been diligently trying to persuade the Western grain growers that they were the most injured men on earth. Writers and speakers who address a wage-earning audience have a great way these days. No people live who cannot be made to believe that they do not get their share of the world's gains and the man who goes about telling a class that they are oppressed and robbed can always get a hearing.

The Western farmer is than you stantly taught to regard the Canadian manufacturer as an enemy. It is an easy lesson because there are few factories in the prairie country. Nor are there many people who, out of their savings, buy a few bonds of railway or industrial stocks. The Western man is not satisfied with the modest return that the Eastern farmer obtains from his savings. He buys land and makes much larger profits on the unearned increment. His first homestead cost him only $10, but his subsequent land purchases he has made large gains, whether he tilled the soil or not. The Manufacturers of Eastern Canada have not made nearly such large returns on their investments as the class of Western farmers which the Grain Growers' Guide represents. The stockholders in the Steel and the railways have not received so many bonus in the shape of profits from unearned increment. The manufacturer and the shareholder are on the average as fast and honest as the prairie farmer who is neither better nor worse than other people. It is no more work to work a factory than to build one, to buy a quarter section for profit than to purchase a workshop.

This special business of stirring up the hatred and jealousy of a worthy class of citizens against all other classes and of the people in one part of Canada against those of other provinces has had disastrous results in the United States. It has led to class legislation, to the passing of laws which have been declared unconstitutional, to the election to high offices of demagogues and charlatans. It has led to the enactment of laws which have done more harm than good to the class in whose interests they were passed. It has led

Folly of Adding Acre to Acre.

EACH FARM must have its pig sty, but it need not be all pig sty. The fundamental fact of the farm is the home, not the barnyard. Herein lies the one great fault of American farming. The unlimited pioneer. Having his way the rich tide wide-ness and craving a home site in its depth, has been so busy with feed yard and piggery and sheep fold that he has fairly overlooked the home spot. The convenience and refinement of the home and the ornamentation of its grounds have too often been left for the last and never reached in the lifetime of the founder of the homestead. We have farmed to raise more corn to feed to our hogs to buy more land to raise more corn to feed more hogs to buy more land. It is not the be all and end all, however much we have made it seem so. The development of the American family is the fundamental object of farming. Ross may be tacked in a weed patch, but they cannot appreciate the glory of the American Beauty in the rose garden. Environment means much. It is an essential of education. It is not enough that the farmer's stock should be sheltered. His family should be housed comfortably, and a setting that will lend ideas of the beautiful. Breeders' Gazette.

The Abundant Harvest.

IN THE TOFIELD District as in every portion of the Province the farmers have been the busiest class of people during the past two weeks. A richer and more plentiful harvest has never before been taken off the grain fields. Never before has the West had in better or more promising barley, both as to quantity or uniform quality. Never before has the Canadian West demonstrated to better satisfaction that it is the Granary of the Empire. The harvesting season of 1913 is demonstrating that the universal truth in the West, in its great agricultural development, is an open book of great municipal and industrial expansion, and a key to lasting and sound basis. The successful harvest of 1913 will do much to restore the general financial markets to a normal basis.

For a Quick Crop Movement.

PLEASING information is contained in the announcement by Prof. Magill, chairman of the Grain Commission, that the arrangements for handling the crop this year have never been as good as they are this year. The elevator capacity at the head of the lakes will be 60,000,000 bushels, an increase of 12,000,000, and large additions have been made to the grain elevator accommodation at Vancouver. The inspection force under the Grain Commission has been augmented, and the railways are in an exceptionally good position in respect of rolling stock and added terminal facilities. With the National Transcontinental preparing to take grain traffic after the close of navigation, and the Canadian Northern from Port Arthur to Toronto to be ready by the end of the year, the security against congestion invites complete confidence. The much talked of the canals are at the easterly transshipping ports, where the elevator facilities are yearly becoming inadequate to handle the grain en route to the seaboard.

The rail and facilities for a quick movement of the new grain be as wide this year is important because of the expectation in the West of a tender arrival following the marketing of the first part of the crop. The quantity to grain to be handled by the close of navigation this year will break the record, but the issue of confidence in the ability of the Canadian people to move it somewhat in contrast to the fears expressed in the United States and Minnesota about a repetition of the congestion they suffered last autumn.

THE VATICAN BUDGET

Immense Treasure But Comparatively Small Current Revenue

The receipts and expenditures of the Vatican system about $7,000,000 each, with the running off of certain balances of this sum, the 1913 budget balances evenly.

The revenue is derived from the patrimony of St. Peter, including the invested capital of the church, the interest on funds left to the Holy See for securities by former Popes, the rent of buildings owned by the church, fees for the services of clergy performed by the various congregations and departments and Peters Pence. The yearly expenditure is nearly equally as follows: Salaries and pensions of Cardinals and diplomatic representatives, $1,000,000; salaries for the maintenance of the Vatican, including the papal army, $600,000; pontifical alms, charities and schools, $1,400,000; gifts to charities, $400,000, and miscellaneous, $200,000.

The treasures of the Vatican, pictures, galleries and museums, the collections of library furniture, tapestries and jewels are estimated to be worth $125 [illegible]. No private fortune is available as to the value of church property, but the income from its vested capital and rents of buildings is estimated roughly at $1,000,000.

AN AUSTRALIAN ROMANCE

Scotchman Got Rise of New Capital For His Two Boats

The district in which the new Australian Capital city is being built is throughout associated with an Argyllshire family named Campbell. Robert Campbell was a Calcutta merchant, who went to Australia in 1798 to make enquiries with regard to a ship which had been sent to the base ditrict and apparently was so pleased with Byd ney that he remained in that city to be also known as "Markham" Campbell. In the early years of last century, Byd ney suffered from a severe drought and the Governor desired to send ships to India for food supplies. The only vessels in Port Jackson suitable for such a purpose were two which Mr. Robert Campbell had in the harbor hauled with sealskins. The authorities commandeered these ships and sent them away for grain, the only remuneration which Mr. Campbell received being two blocks of land, three and four acres respectively, and two acres. The land which he received is now part of the site for the Federal capital.

Treasure that has been discovered may be made bright by boiling it in a solution of boiled water.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1913

A. & B. C. Press Association Delightfully Feted.

AS A CONTEMPORARY has put it, even the life of a newspaper man has its compensations. On last Thursday and Friday, the printers and publishers of Alberta and Eastern B. C. convened at Edmonton in their tenth annual convention. While much strenuous business was transacted at the sessions, there was much fun in store for the visitors. The Edmonton newspaper men, Ad Club and the Ladies Press Club of the capital, fairly out did themselves in providing entertainment for their guests. A trip up the Saskatchewan to Laurier park, where a barbecue was held, was much enjoyed. Arrived at the park it was found that Sec. Van Pelt, of the Edmonton Printers' Board of Trade, had the fatted calf, roasted whole, ready and a host of other good things prepared and laid out for the delectation of the 150 guests. Motor trips around the city for the ladies and later for the men, pink teas and matinee parties for the ladies and visits to Government House and Legislative Buildings, civic banquet and finally a glorious trip, partly by the Grand Trunk Pacific west over its lines through the Yellowhead to Tete Juan, with stop overs at Tete Juan, Jasper and Pocahontas on the return trip, with side tours at Jasper to Lake Patricia and Pyramid Lake and to the Punch Bowl Falls at Pocahontas, filled the measure of entertainment to overflowing. The trip over the G. T. P. was delightful. Service and scenery were unsurpassed. We were surfeited with good things from every point of view. And as contributors in no small degree to the entertainment of the crowd, the efforts of Superintendent of Dominion Parks, Mr. Harvey, and Superintendent of Jasper Park, Col. S. May Rogers, were appreciated to the full. The occasion will long be remembered.

The New Tariff.

THE DESPATCH from Washington referring to the effect of the new tariff bill on products from Canada is explicit. A substantial duty will prevail against products from Canada, but there is this important provision, that when Canada is ready for a large measure of honorable free trade in natural products the U. S. is ready for a cessation of the tariff war. President Wilson, in effect, stands by the terms of the Reciprocity Agreement. If the Canadian people desire an entry into the great American market, they may have it on reasonable, honorable terms. That the American market would be valuable to Canadian farmers there is no question of doubt.

Yesterday flax was quoted in Duluth at 149 1-4 and in Winnipeg at 131 5-8

Barley in Minneapolis was quoted at 58 to 72 and in Winnipeg at 43 to 49.

Oats in Minneapolis were quoted at 36 1-2 to 40 1-4, and in Winnipeg at 32 1-2 to 36.

Wheat quotations were also higher in Minneapolis than in Winnipeg.

No one believes, now that the foolish feeling has passed off, that President Wilson, by his friendly trade overtures, has any designs on Canadian territory. He is a reasonable, sane man, and his wise counsel is fortunately prevailing in many matters pertaining to the tariff.

It is quite true, as stated by a speaker at Calgary, that Canada is losing millions of dollars by the continuance of her anti trade extension policy.—Winnipeg Tribune, Sept. 12th.

LIFE SAVING RULES FOR WATER LOVERS

A Few Hints by a Noted Swimmer Means of Rescue in Drowning Accidents

A person has to learn to swim by getting into the water and striking out. At the same time he must think that the average man would not. Many teach themselves even if the great mass of his sporty time is spent in the water. An instructor is often still not teach a man to swim, but they will teach a man how to save a life and how to take him to the water and how to teach him to save his own life in case of accident. Many men intending to be life savers in the church of humanity be in attempting to rescue.

Both strength will not break the desperate grip that a terrified drowning man will employ, who has taken within his reach and the fact that both the victim and the would be rescuer will both be drowned has no doubt deterred many a competent swimmer from attempting a rescue. It is a most unpleasant thing to know how to swim properly but to be unable to do so. Any boy can learn to swim. Mr. Handley says, is the most important thing for a beginner to remember is the fact that a few seconds lost is not important. Men have been rescued after having been under water and apparently drowned for a half hour. He also emphasizes the necessity for the rescuer to remove the outer clothing.

Take Time to Think

While this is the case, the rescuer should do his thinking, so that at the time he strikes the water he knows exactly what he is going to do. If the accident occurs in mid-stream and the drowning person is carried along by a rapid current, he must not be started before the spot where he has disappeared in the belief that the body has drifted down. Start above the spot and let the current do the work, moving every stroke.

In locating the drowning man by the hair or by the clothing at the back of the neck, the rescuer has the best and proper position to the turbine with downward strokes of the hands, using the head. Do not run the risk of pushing the drowning person under by unduly vary of a footing, for many swimmers have been drowned by sticking in the mud or by becoming entangled in the weeds. Before the rescuer it requires little extra effort to tow an unconscious person to shore. The victim should be turned face up-ward as soon as possible.

Co-operation Helps

If the person to be rescued retains his self-control it is a simple matter to take him ashore, and he is recommended to let the exhausted one to place one or both hands on the shoulders of the swimmer, who will secure a good hold in this manner and strike out with one arm the conjoined swimmer can easily make his way ashore.

Choking May Be Necessary

Mr. Handley advises seizing a struggling person by the throat and shaking off his air if he has obtained a grip on his rescuer. This will probably make him loose his hold. It is also recommended that the victim be struck on the jaw by the rescuer in order to let the water run out of his mouth. This practice would probably run to result in death or lasting injury.

GETTING MILLS

Plans Crossing From the Pacific to Canada

Mr. James A. Peterkin, president of the United States Steel Corporation is testifying as to the corporation's export trade in the United States Government suit, referred to the Canadian business in the following:—

"Through Montreal we sell about 60,000 tons of wire product a year, sheet iron, nails, rods, and sometimes standard rails, when they cannot be supplied by Canadian mills. We are now supplying the Canadian Northern Railway with 20,000 tons of rails shipped by boat from Chicago and thence by rail to Calgary, where they cost $47.10 delivered. At Vancouver we supply much material, but the freight rate from Pittsburgh alone is $13 a ton."

If all these iron and steel products were made in Canada their manufacture would provide profitable employment for hundreds of Canadian workmen. Solely because of the Canadian tariff the United States Steel Corporation is to establish a Canadian plant at Sault Ste. Marie.

The initial outlay is to be $10 000 000 and the transfer of the mills will mean the erection of a new Canadian city of prosperous workmen, who will require the services of merchants and professional men and who will buy and pay a new local market for the farmers of the country roundabout. It is this same sort of development that will make the West great.

FUTURE ASSURED

Many Industrial Advertisements in One Western City Are Good Indication

The Edmonton Bulletin now prints a "special-Edmonton" page of advertisements. Amongst the twenty three industrial enterprises which use this medium of publicity are three metal works companies, a foundry and machine company, an axle log company, two furniture companies, a glass works, a concrete company, a sash and door factory, a manufacturing jewelry, a chemical company, a shoe manufacturer, an electric plating plant, a lumber firm, a dairy company, a rug company, a lumber company, a tent maker, a bus company and two motor boat companies.

On this page appears an article by the Edmonton Industrial Commissioner calling attention to the fact that Western Canada is rapidly becoming one of the greatest manufacturing districts in the world. The country is filling up rapidly with prosperous people who demand the best goods and are willing to pay for them. Eastern Canadian, American and British manufacturers are establishing branch factories on the ground, and amongst the many who are actively ready to locate in the Edmonton district are cut, furniture, artificial stone, clay for brick and pottery purposes, gypsum, sandstone, coal, natural gas, petroleum, and timber on navigable waters convenient to the city. The commissioner advertises that Western Canadian industrial field is limited by a rapid agricultural growth destined to be the speedy development of Edmonton into a great city on the rise of many other industrial communities of much importance. This is true from every part of the West where the prosperity of farm settlers effect on the town and city by their and purchasing power. Edmonton, he adds, but that which can be put through the existing tariff at present time. WILD HORSES OF WEST

Descendants of Animals Abandoned During Caribou Gold Rush

More than three thousand wild horses, in bands of from 20 to 100, are roaming over the hills and valleys in the interior of British Columbia, according to a report brought to Edmonton by James Bradley, after an extended exploration tour of the coast province.

"Indians and white prospectors and pack train freighters value these thousand animals more than the big ranchers," said Mr. Bradley. "They are the progeny of horses turned loose on the hills by packers during the gold rush days, during the famous days of the Cariboo country. Thousands of the turned 'broncos' succumbed to the new fields in the early '90's. Most of them were incompetent, and, in fact, utterly helpless in that wild country, and the horses either broke away or were abandoned when the horse-hunters gave up the long trail.

"The horses made their feeding grounds in the vicinity of Barkerville for several years afterward and their offspring wandered northward as the gold lessened. They make trails on the mountains and timbered country much after the fashion of buffalo in the early days and deer at present. The Indians and freighters, working in the Cariboo district, easily round up the animals and break them to the lure. In most cases the animals are easily broken and they are favorites for the rough country than high grade horses on account of their standing and surefootedness of foot on the mountain trails. We lost horses from our outfit from time to time and replaced them with wild animals."

DIAMONDS FROM THE SKY

Theory That Many Precious Stones Are Not of Volcanic Origin

Scientific authorities are inclining to the belief that all diamonds found on the earth in meteoric showers. The theory is the diamond fell to the earth as meteoric particles at a late period of the earth's formation. Localities where diamonds are found contain masses which have penetrated the earth's formation. Localities where meteoric stones are found contain masses which have penetrated the earth more or less deeply.

Late discoveries in the western states, especially in Arizona, seem to indicate further the heavenly origin of the most brilliant stone, for over one broad plains for area of miles in diameter several thousand meteoric metallic iron have been scattered over the surface undoubtedly from the same source.

Not long ago an enthusiastic miner visiting one of these areas, ran into a section and found that the iron was layered by something larger than metallic iron. He examined the specimens chemically and soon announced that the Meteorite contained black and transparent diamonds.

Again, it is claimed, that it is possible that the so-called "volcanic pipes" of the Kimberley diamond fields and elsewhere are not volcanic, but were formed below the surface of the earth, by the monstrous meteors, the impact of which would be sufficient to cause the molten matter, containing the diamond, to be distributed diamonds.

MEASURING HAY IN STACK

For obtaining the number of tons of hay in a stack, the rule is to take the length, breadth and height in feet, and then what is known as the "contriver, that is, place a tape on the c... the bottom of the stack on one side ov... divide this measure into eighths, and then measure from stitch to stitch the length by the breadth and height, the end-like of the stack, and then you run the contrivance over the top of stack. Of course, if the stack is dide... ed, or disfigured, heights you will have to take the measurements in several places and obtain the average of them by adding them together and dividing by the number of measurements made. The number of cubic feet of hay per ton will vary according to the length of time that it has been stacked. The hay newly stacked has it will take about 500 cubic feet to equal a ton. But it has been stacked for two to three months from 450 to 480 cubic feet will form a ton. After you have obtained the number of cubic feet in the stack, divide by the number of cubic feet in a ton, taking into consideration the length of time that the hay has been stacked.

Ingenious Spiders

The Royal Society of Great Britain was recently entertained by a distinguished traveller with an account of a spider living in Australia which makes his habitation along the sea shore. In the crevices of the rocks, between high and low water marks. But when the tide is in their homes are covered with water. Instead of deserting them, however, the spiders solve the difficulty for themselves in a very ingenious way. At which they have observed the entrances, behind which they manage to retain sufficient air to keep them alive during the time they remain submerged.

LLOYD GEORGE'S SERMON

Insurance Act a Huge Co-operative Benefit and Success, He Says

"We are teaching the people of this country, through the medium of an Act of Parliament, the great Scriptural lesson, 'Bear ye one another's burdens,'" said Mr. Lloyd George in a speech at Criccieth, Wales, on the Insurance Act. "You will find that test on every insurance card. In practice the employers help the employed. The rich are helping the poor, the sick, the strong men helping the feeble children, and those who are neither employers nor employed help as ratepayers and taxpayers. They said we should have no doctors; we have an army of 15,000 guarding the sick beds of our industrial heroes.

"They said we should have no sanatoria; we have 4,000 workmen in sanatoria (sanitariums receiving the best treatment); and they thank God for that Insurance Act. We have scores of thousands receiving sick pay who, but for the Insurance Act, would be at this moment without a spare penny.

"When you consider the physical character of the task we had in hand it is marvellous to me so much has been accomplished. Before the Insurance Act we had barely 1,000,000 of the industrial population of the country insured against sickness. You now have 14,000,000. The old societies alone have increased their numbers by 3,500,000; new societies have sprung up with an aggregate of 8,000,000 members.

"Just imagine if the Insurance Act had not been passed and what would happen if suddenly the population of this country had voluntarily thronged to the offices of friendly societies and the insurance companies and asked to be insured against sickness. You can imagine the disturbance, delays, and confusion which would necessarily arise in all those offices."

DUKE'S QUIT RENT

Boot Maker Objects to Payment of Same Due

Thirty pairs of ladies' shoes were seized from Mr. Alfred Dorn, boot and shoe maker, of Claypool, Alsatia, and sold by auction to satisfy the claim of the Duke of Northumberland for "quit rent," amounting to 1s 6d, which Mr. Dorn declined to pay. He made certain objections to the "feudal" items.

Mr. Dorn hopes that his retreat in the east, so to speak, will be secured. He has goods seized and sold on previous occasions to uphold the duke's rights.

Quit rent was a payment by the tenant in consideration of certain services which he owed his seigneur. In olden times the 6d. was worth many times more than it is now, but during the lapse of centuries it has been forgotten in man's inadvertence, and where it is retained, the sake of form the tax is general, an inconsiderable sum.

Urge The Better Protection of Game.

A sportsman who takes a great deal of interest in promoting good hunting by better protecting game, is of the opinion that most thinking sportsmen and men who wish to protect the game of our country will be both ready and willing to fall in line with the following suggestions which should be presented in petition form to the Minister of Agriculture, under whose jurisdiction the game department is at present situated.

1. Make the close season for duck, chicken and partridge from November 15th to September 15th of the following year.

Some reasons for this change would be: The duck having three weeks of closed season would be stronger on the wing and more fully matured, affording better sport and being in better condition for the table. The chicken would be fully matured and will be able to take care of themselves. Another very good reason why this change in the game laws is necessary is, that 75 per cent of the men who call themselves sportsmen cannot or will not, resist the temptation of shooting a prairie chicken when they are out afterduck. Take this temptation away and these men will not hunt the law by shooting before the season opens and so spoiling the chicken shooting.

Under the present game act, with the duck opening August 23rd there are many unscrupulous men who take pride in killing chicken out of season. If these men were not permitted to hunt any game birds until all were in season, there would be less chicken killed during the last two weeks of September than there are now under the present law. It is no uncommon thing to see hunters, when they are going to or coming from the launch of the prairie, shoot at a mass of prairie chicken which they have shot and skinned as soon as killed.

Another class of offenders under present law are the foreign settlers who once they are allowed by law to hunt over their lands in the month, by the monstrous misterm, the "open season" they are allowed to kill the smaller animals, endangering the finer fall, distributed diamonds.

2. The limit should be sufficient to have an amendment to the game act passed in the next session of the legislature, making the season of duck and chicken shooting come on in the same day, says this sports man.

Persons not in favor of the change may argue: Put your season back to September 15th, and you are protecting the ducks for the sportsman of the United States. This on the face of it seems true, but let these men study the general laws of the different states and they will find that there is a big limit which is enforced very efficiently.

Another change which perhaps would be more than beneficial, would be the prohibition of pumping or ejecting shot guns. These guns are but common to the automatic and just as deadly in the hands of a good shot. It is no un-common thing to see a sportsman bombing a repeater, kill three or four chicken out of a flock in the early part of the season. A good double barrel is good enough for any sportsman.

The market hunter would object, but if the province were to follow the example of several states south of the line, the sale of any game bird whatsoever would be prohibited. Under the present game act no chicken can be sold, but duck can be sold after September 20th, upon the payment of a $10.00 license fee. The way this license is abused is simply shocking. One party takes out a license to sell game, then he and several friends shoot all they can and sell them, thus depriving the government of a few dollars and decreasing the supply of wild duck for the bon dreds.

If the sportsmen of the province would band together and use their name who represent them in the legislature were approached, and the facts of the case plainly stated to them, there is no doubt what ever that they would see that the necessary act as set forth in this article would be made to the game act. Several prominent sports men have been interviewed on the subject, have endorsed the proposed amendments and have promised to use their influence to have them put in force.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is some of them. H. W. GURNEY-TILDEN

The Gurney-Oxford

Why it is the Best Range Procurable

It stands to reason that the foundry of national reputation for its equipment of the most notable hotel, restaurant, and institutional kitchens throughout the Dominion, also makes the best range on the market for the home kitchen.

This Gurney-Oxford range is the result of over seventy years' experience and experimental study of improvements to benefit the woman who toils in the kitchen.

Even Bakings

Be means of a Divided Flue Strip, the heat is divided evenly over the top and down the back and sides of the oven. A pan of biscuits in the front and back of the oven will brown with perfect evenness without having to change their places many times during the baking. The two back lids of the range also receive an equal cooking heat that will boil two kettles at the same time.

Perfect Control

The entire range is controlled practically by one handle, called the Economizer. It turns around a series of six notches to determine the exact degree of heat required. Such control saves time, fuel and labor.

Saving of Fuel

Then again the special Reversible Grate saves coal bills by burning the coal to a fine white ash. No unburnt coal can lodge in the rounded corners of the firebox.

It's Sanitary Too

Its smooth, clean top is polished and requires no black lead.

The Gurney-Oxford is "different" from all other ranges—its exclusive devices make an irresistible appeal to every woman.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Watkinson. There was a very good attendance and those present had a pleasant and interesting time. It was decided to hold a social evening in the near future. Refreshments will be served and a good program is promised. The Superintendent of Work among the White Ribbon Recruits is Mrs. Tuffs. A small sum was raised up to contribute to their different members of the Union and will be forwarded to Dr. T. Albert Moore as part of the social refreshments.

It was decided to proceed with the preparations for a social at the best to be held about the middle of October.

The members of the Union are much pleased to know that Mrs. Mr Stewart has finally succeeded her influence to be used in other segments of the Bay Province.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. A. Hutton on the second Thursday in October.

NO INTOXICANT INCLUDED IN TORIA'S HOSPITALITY IS HERE

SIR JAMES

Eldorado per cent drinks were served to guests who were present at the opening scheme in her world at Victoria and Esquimalt hotels when the Empress most recently entertained. It will be known as the Chateau Cobourg, the address of Victoria and is an imperial organization.

The Federation of Adult Bible Classes in Victoria could appoint the Empress could not be induced to be included in the city's hospitality. While the deputation was present with a view to getting the Empress which no opposition was offered, though it was noticed that there were some who did not join in enjoyably. While several expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the idea of the deputation, it appeared that no hopes were entertained the success of the city's hospitality remaining unbroken as the hotels were closed to transportation hubs, and will be open for sightseeing services and refreshments as heard for dinner, "Ale to be had for the taking."

When a petty officer was warned on the subject he is said to have replied with "It will well suit the commander." And why not?

And who would say that the enjoyment thus afforded the men of the proceeded any hospitality which would have included intoxicants freely dispensed, which in many cases would have resulted in the lunchery.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS NOT BLISS

Suppose you could run back over every purchase of every kind you have made in the past twelve months. Suppose you could classify them and analyze them just as the purchasing departments of big business do it.

Do you think that you would change some of your buying methods? Some, undoubtedly. Some you would not change? Some you would? Some you would? Many of the purchases you have made would be found to be foolish. Many of the purchases you intended to make would be found to be wise.

Where ignorance is bad, it is better to be wise.

Fair a Success

DESPITE the untoward weather which in a large measure spoiled the exhibit in and Live Stock Show last week, the management and attendance unanimously voted a success. Notwithstanding the unwelcome attraction of Jupiter Pluvius, who seemed to peek past the one day of the Fair to send us a shower bath, both the attendance and the number of exhibits were largely in excess of any of the Fairs of the previous years. That the Tofield Fair is annually becoming the most popular occasion for general holiday and jollification was demonstrated by the good humored crowds which thronged the grounds and buildings. Had the day been fine both attendance and exhibits would have exceeded all expected proportions. This years record will amply justify the Fair Management in planning for a greater for next year and a Fair of longer duration than one day. It has been shown to almost every body's satisfaction that the exhibition is be coming too great to be handled in one day. Plans will be set on foot at once for a Bigger Fair in 1913 and one which will be lasts many attractions in addition to the exhibits and general program of races and sports which have been the only features of the past.

The A. & G. W. Solution

THE announcement by Premier Sifton in the Legislature this week that the Government has accepted the proposal of J. D. MacArthur to build the railway from Edmonton to Fort McMurray to the standard of the Edmonton Dunvegan Railway are a note to be approved by the government and for the original bonus of $20,000 per mile for the number of miles actually built, the remainder of the bonus money to be used in a similar manner on the construction of similarly approved branch lines, will be received by the vast majority of the Alberta public with approval. MacArthur's standing as a railway builder is unquestioned. He is a responsible party with whom the province has had dealings for railway construction which have been satisfactory. The railway will have four-tenths grades, 80 pound rails, steel and concrete bridges and will be a first class railway line. The province will have ample security in the road for the payment of the interest monies. The undertaking on the part of MacArthur to complete the construction, within two years, is another feature of the bargain which Alberta people will receive with satisfaction. The north is coming in to its own and the whole province will be the beneficiary.

Clean Your Stove and Furnace Pipes

The time is here for all citizens to see that their stove and furnace pipes are cleaned and in sound condition for the coming cold months. Too many fires are caused by carelessness in this regard and an ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. Better clean your pipes and replace worn ones with sound. Better be comfortably safe than sorry when it is too late.

Large Increase in Work of Department

The work of the Department of Neglected Children since Jan ary 1st, 1913, has proved double that of the preceding year for a corresponding period The number of cases dealt with has been enormous.

The Department has been forming into a fusing faster house for practically all the children who have come under the care of the Department from various places in the province.

167 children have been placed on probation in various places, and the records are good. It is a significant fact that, it has only been necessary to send 8 boys to a Reformatory school during the past year. This record is best in probation of any place on the American continent.

Probation has proved its success, and it is not costly. The Department of Neglected Children, unfortunately is a non revenue producing department, and must be considered as an expense which has to be met. Fines are not possible under the Children's Protection Act except in cases of interference and as the cases are usually adjusted without going into court, these fines soon it becomes necessary to the general public that the cost of running this department is heavy, commensurate with the and with few retrievers the ward of Superintendent of Neglected Children money. Against this is the fact ren, that, ever child dealt with means an asset of $1000 to the state on the basis established by the Immigration Authorities.

On the other hand, if the child ren are allowed to degenerate into criminals, the cost will be from three to a thousand dollars for the state to care for each criminal in Penal Institutions

It is the preventive nature of the work which gives this department its great value to the Province

The Children's Protection Act which of Alberta is the best Act of its kind in use on the American Continent, and its results show a good record in saving to good citizenship—thousands of lives of children who are drifting into lives of delinquency, and vice

Good roads and good public buildings are essential but what use are any of these unless good citizens are developed to properly enjoy and use them. The great object of this work is to produce good and upright citizens.

The ramifications of this department touch into into almost every home in the course of the work.

It is to be understood that in all cases, the difficulties are adjusted without going into court

Local Children's Aid Society and Committees have been organized in various places, and those who are interested and would aid to join the local branch or organ the general public that the cost of

CANADA GAINS MUCH BY AMERICAN FACTORIES

Leading New York Newspaper Shows What Objection of Uniting States Plants Means

(From New York American)

A reader of The New York American in Huntington, Conn., writes to tell us that he has read Governor Foss's statement about the driving of any millions of capital out of the country because we do not pursue the policy of reciprocity, and he asks: "What kind of capital is it? Is it money, credit, real estate, intellect or personal labor?"

When a factory moves from New England to Canada, one loss in all of these. The wages which support American homes and stores, go to support foreign homes and stores. The real estate comes on the market for sale The intellect that runs the business and as many of the workmen as can, follow the business and help to build up a foreign city. Credit also goes, for the American city and America are deprived of just so much assessable value.

Suppose that a small town is supported entirely by one big factory and that the factory moves away. The town will vanish, too.

The removal from the country of a big factory is a very real thing, a very real loss, not merely an occasion for theorizing.

HOW MANY PLANTS IN YOUR RIDING ?

Questions For Members of Parliament Who Are Considering Tariff

It is suggested by Industrial Canada that every member of Parliament who is considering the tariff issue should ask himself and his electors the following set of questions brought with vital import to the future of his constituency and the county at large. The questions are:

1. How many factories are in your constituency?

2. What amount of capital is invested?

3. How many people are employed?

4. What is the annual output?

5. What is the annual pay-roll?

6. What proportion of the manufacturer get his raw material and what duty does he pay on it?

HAMILTON FACTORIES

Immense Growth of Industries Under the National Policy

Hamilton, Ontario, known throughout the world as one of Canada's great industrial cities, has been undergoing its centennial. One by one, the city has magnificent new industries, until to-day, it has 354 factories and shops, representing a capital invested of $53,000,000 and turning out products every year worth over $55,000,000.

A large number of United States companies have their Canadian branch plants in Hamilton, and several others have their commercial eyes turned that way. The citizens and the civic industrial officers have the knack of steering prospective manufacturers to the so-called Ambitious City, which now deserves a new nickname, having realized so many of its big ambitions.

A table gives statistics of the industries of Hamilton as compiled during the latest census. The figures show that over 13,000 people are employed in the factories of Hamilton where they earn $8,370,375. The cost of the raw material used by the 354 industrial establishments in 1910 was $20,500,000 Hamilton makes everything from a paper bag to a threshing machine, from a biscuit to a boiler, from a bottle of "pop" to a railroad bridge. It is a city of diversified industries as the census facts show. Also it is an outstanding proof of the value of industrial protection.

HARD ON LABOR

Free Trade Sacrifices Workmen For Unity

United States and German manufacturers continually undersell British steel manufacturers for large contracts in Australia, Africa, South America, China and other parts of the world. In these instances the British wage-earner is sacrificed to our purpose. In a rain effect to undersell the products of protected labor in foreign countries his employer pays him a few free trade wages. Each expansion of foreign attacks as the United Kingdom does enjoy is too often at the expense of the ordinary workers in factory, mill and field. The time cannot be far distant when the workingmen of the Old Land will rise against this Cobden doctrine that nothing should be done for the manse of laborers. They are going to try protection as a means of securing steadier work and better wages and of gradually improving their own condition.

THE NEW TARIFF AT WASHINGTON

How it Compares With the Old Tariff and the Reciprocity Schedules

The new United States tariff which is being put through its final stages in the Senate at Washington bears a greater reduction on Canadian farm products than was expected. Not only that in many respects the schedules will be more favorable to the Canadian farmer than was the reciprocity agreement of 1911. A long list of farm and other products which would have continued to pay duties under Reciprocity will now go into the United States free. If the present bill is enacted May, 1911, articles like commodities will pay much lower duties than would have been charged upon them had the Washington agreement gone into force.

Cattle, swine, sheep and lambs, ripe potatoes, fresh milk, fresh cream, eggs, oats, grass seed, and buckwheat were all to enter the American market free under the Reciprocity arrangement and they are to have the same treatment under the latest draft of the Wilson-Underwood Tariff.

But what will be free to us will be the duties of the United States on many articles that we do not import. We do not in the least United States duty of 15 cents a bushel will be charged on a per canal ad valorem duty will be charged on potatoes. So will the duty of a bushel on dollar wheat. Remembering the large quantity of wheat which the United States is growing for export, and recalling the fact that practically nearly all the poor crop year Winnipeg prices have ranged from two to fifteen cents a bushel under the Minneapolis market, it may be questioned if many Western farmers would be benefited by a duty of to wheat yet awhile. Had the Canadian duty been off during the last few weeks hundreds of millions of would have filled their bins with and early harvested Americans would before the Western harvest is ready. Many wheat growers would have got big grain to market.

Fresh meat and bacon have also served heavily into the United States, northbound four, and wool and hides and unshorned sheep were all to pay varying duties under Reciprocity, and now they are to go into the United States free. Flour is to be free if Canada will make it free otherwise it will pay 51 cents per 100 pounds. Under the duty was to be 50 cents per bbl. The new tariff makes barley free, while the existing duty is 30 cents, following among other farm products, oats, barley, potatoes, poultry, cattle, sheep, fresh apples, pears and plums.

GRAIN ON THE HOOF PAYS THE COUNTRY

A Striking Statement of the Toronto Globe Regarding Canada's Foreign Trade

The Toronto Globe says that one of the most suggestive features in Canada's foreign trade returns for the past year is to be found in the large exports of grain. Turn to the conditions.

The advice to sell grain on the hoof is being disregarded, and the returns must tend ultimately to lessen and exhaust productive capacity. Exports of Breadstuffs increased from $91,066,350 in the previous year to $127,488,815 in the year under review. Wheat exports increased from $43,743,857 to $93,435,160, which shows that the West is following productive and wheat flour increased from $16,367,352 to $20,404,152, which shows that our power development is promoting secondary industries. It is evident that immediate returns are sought after eagerly than perpetual fertility, and that the loss through the exhausting of farms is not being considered sufficiently. It is suggestive in this connection that exports of hides and skins decreased from $1,251,122 to $1,033,977, and of butter from $1,-778 to $329,296. Cheese exports rose, of $20,193,347, which is but a slight increase from the previous years record. These important items show the need of diverting effort toward stock-raising and lines of production which restore fertility.

World Keep Money Here

Last year Canadians bought 7,000 motor cars in the United States, paying $9,200,000 for them. How much better for the country it would have been it all this money had stayed in the Dominion and gone to Canadian manufacturers and operatives in Canada and made labor employed!

PERILOUS JOURNEY IN UNKNOWN LAND

Ice Found on Mountain Top Near Equator—Strange Dwarfs in High Altitude

After encountering great hardships and losing three of their number, the British expedition led by Mr. A. F. R. Wollaston penetrated to the snowy Ruwenzori, or Mountains of the Moon, in the centre of Africa, and made a successful ascent of Mount Curtmont, almost in the summit. A valuable collection of birds and plants was obtained. Although it was only sixty miles from the spot where the expedition landed to the highest point reached, almost incessant rain, swollen rivers, and the difficult country made the work so hard that to enter this apparently short distance occupied four and a half months. At the end the expedition nearly came to grief through the capsizing of Mr. Wollaston's canoe. The explorer was rescued with difficulty, but later started crossing the marshes and a large quantity of ammunition and provisions destroyed. Three members of the expedition died. Mr. Wollaston left England determined to go and Mount Curtmont, the highest peak of the Tenten Range in Uganda, was named. He was a member of an expedition which unsuccessfully tried to accomplish this feat three years previously.

After consulting with the Dutch authorities at Batavia Lee doctor went to the mountains for eight days, before leaving Ipoha before returning to Batavia. Here he met Mr. Wollaston, curator of the "Sinoh Lumpur Museum, and the two, with five native companions, left Batavia by launch proceeded by boat to the mouth of the Kinabatangan River. They were guarded by forty Dutch soldiers and eighty convicts from Batavia under a native officer.

The party disembarked at the mouth of the Lower Kinabatangan River, and proceeded by Dutch travellers two years previously, and appeared to be the best route. The natives were unknown in being from the dusk of the ship could be seen in the river ripped paddles of the mighty Tarkisan. A Rotor boat sank in Tarkisan, and all the stores and equipment were landed, and a base camp was made twenty miles up the river.

At the river was quite unlimited of and the rapids difficult. Once every set in its own flood. Canoes were made for the Upper Kina, the river was ascended for two days before the limit but after that the canoes were hauled by hand. Depots were established three days' travel apart, and every three days' march up the first fall of the Snow Range.

Five the fourth depot the ascent was made to the first Progress was very easy, the ridges being appallingly steep and the track bad. In the high mountains the rain was never entirely absent for an hour together, and the travellers were always in the clouds.

At an altitude of about 1,000 feet, the rapids has not been entirely but friendly in the shape of natives, but bad parties, who showed the travellers their track and helped them. The highest point, 13,000 feet, was reached after five days' march from the last base. The rain descended in a continuous torrent, and although Mount Curtmont is almost exactly on the equator the temperature was freezing cold.

During the ascent a fine panorama was observed, but the mist again came in and when the party were within a very short distance of the top they were forced down by snow. Ice was found at a certain height, and the path was very slippery. Above the snow line the travellers were also in the clouds.

Dwarfs were found in the high mountains. They were only four feet high, and were very shy. Their huts were made of bamboo, and they lived on wild fruits and roots. They were also found in the valleys, but were not so shy. Their huts were made of bamboo, and they lived on wild fruits and roots. They were also found in the valleys, but were not so shy.

Tofield Foundry a Distinct and Valuable Asset

That the Tofield Foundry and Machine Company's plant which has now been in operation for several weeks and which is busy on contracts which will keep them operating steadily for some time, is a distinct and valuable asset to the town and district is becoming more and more impressed upon the public. This was impressed upon the Standard last week in no uncertain manner. On Wednesday afternoon while the first run of the week's heat was coming out of the press at the merry but tense rate of over 1800 an hour a local merchant happened to the press which stopped it instantly, causing a break which it was at first thought would not be fixed until repairs could have arrived from Chicago. This would have necessitated a lapping of publication for possibly two or three weeks. But the Tofield Foundry and Machine Co. came to our relief and within twelve hours the power was running again. The presence of expert mechanics at the plant, and the facilities for prompt machining of parts gives the Tofield public, both in town and country a wonderful assistance in having difficulties which otherwise would be hard to contend with and the advantage of saving of time which could otherwise be lost in case of a valuable asset.

Industrial League Had Successful Year

Members of Industrial League Hold Annual Meeting. Great Enthusiasm Manifested In The Practical Success Of The Organization During Past Twelvemonth To Develop Our Natural Resources And Locate Industrial Capital In Tofield.

A meeting of the subscribers to the Industrial League was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening which was presided over by President A. J. H. McCauley, Commissioner White gave a very interesting and lengthy resume of the industrial efforts of the League for the year ending 1913. Much has been done in the matter of securing expert tests of the quality of our clays and shales and our sands. This has taken a period of months and practically covers the entire year as it was only last week when the results of the final tests by Mr. Berg, the clay brick and stone manufacturer of Toronto, Ont., came to hand. Mr. Berg, than whom there is no more capable authority on clay products of fire-brick in the continent, and who will not allow his machines to be sold where the clays and shales will not work up into a first class brick and who lost Spring stated emphatically that these were no clays and shales west of Fort William which would make the class of brick which is manufactured in the Toronto country, was prevailed upon by Mr. White to make a series of tests from Tofield clays and shales. The first test was a surprise to Mr. Berg as the sample produced was equal to that sold at the brick factory near Toronto from $25 to $40 per thousand. The final test which was made recently has produced such a first class brick that it is equal to the best produced down east and which sells at a much higher figure than the $40 per thousand Mr. Berg now states over his own signature that his machines can be sold for the manufacture of brick from Tofield clays and shales according to the process which is now in operation at the Tofield Foundry and Machine Company plant which has been in operation for several weeks. The advantage of having plant of this nature right in the town is not only a great asset to the town but also to the district as a whole, as it will possess a large sphere of interest, and naturally throughout the local country, but throughout Central Alberta and the province at large is tested and is a going concern. This is the Tofield Foundry and Machine Company which has now been in operation for several weeks. The advantage of having plant of this nature right in the town is not only a great asset to the town but also to the district as a whole, as it will possess a large sphere of interest, and naturally throughout the local country, but throughout Central Alberta and the province at large is tested and is a going concern.

A general discussion followed which brought out the unanimous opinion that the effort of the organized Tofield should be continued through the coming year as in the past to push for greater and more further rich developments of our present valuable natural resources and the location of industrial concerns attracted thereto. A general meeting of citizens will be called shortly to determine just in what lines the organization should be and how the policy should be worked out.

New Shoe Repair Shop.

Tofieldites, both in town and country, will be pleased to learn that a Shoe Repairing Shop has been established in town and that to all who are in need of immediate repairs to footwear the opportunity to have their needs promptly attended to is now afforded. Mr. R. Halliday, who is an experienced tradesman in this respect has this week opened his shop on Main Street, just north of Grimsha's hardware store. He early and a word the rush for there are many pairs of shoes in and about town that have been waiting for the repair man for some time.

She was brought into Tofield the next day, where she has since been under the care of Dr. Tofield and is progressing toward recovery.

A "Safety First" Movement.

The Grand Trunk Railway, adhering to the progressive policy which characterizes that system, announces the inauguration of a "Safety First" movement. Mr. Howard G. Kelley, vice president, has issued an official circular calling the attention of officers and employees to the "great importance of an organization for the prevention of injuries and damage (property)."

Mr. Geo. Hodgson has been appointed as safety engineer charged with the duty of putting the movement into effect. He will inspect the lines, terminals and shops, and confer with the various officers on matters pertaining to the safety of the travelling public and employees.

The line engineer will also be the Grand Trunk is going about this important work is shown by the fact that the safety engineer, assisted by the local officers, will hold "Safety Meetings" at all important centres on the system, which practical instructions best for the safety of all the officers and employees in all departments. In these meetings views of unsafe and unsafe conditions and practices will be discussed and explained, with a view to reach and make a lasting impression upon the mind of every employee for the benefit of safety. Committees composed of officers and employees, will be organized on all divisions, terminals and in all important shops, whose duties will be to discover and correct unsafe conditions and practices.

The management of the Grand Trunk has kept in close touch with results obtained under organized safety systems in the United States, and having concluded, after careful investigation, that the movement has merit, will push it along in application with the greatest vigor.

"It is our purpose," remarked Vice President Kelley, "to extend this highly important work to every branch of the service. Safety is the first and most important consideration in railroad operation, and no effort will be spared to give to every patron and employee of this system the greatest possible protection.

Berlin, Sept. 21st.—The divining rod, or, as it is sometimes called, the dowsing rod of willow or hazel-wood, which is used for locating water, minerals and treasures, and which has many followers in this country had its first scientific consideration yesterday, when the first congress of the German society, organized for the purpose of enquiring into the question of the scientific value of the divining rod met at Halle.

Although the entire divining rod matter is generally considered as being connected more or less with sorcery or Satan, which, however, many scholars and learned men, as well as geologists and miners present at the congress.

A staggering array of statistics was produced, which tended to show that the divining rod appears not a plentiful supply of water was found.

BASKET SOCIAL

A concert and basket social will be held in Lea Beach School on Friday evening, October 10th. The proceeds of the social is to go towards with which to purchase an organ for the school. A low price can be secured and a low figure is being negotiated and a low and enjoyable time is expected. Everybody is cordially invited to attend whether the concert the sale of baskets or the Ladies refreshment booths takes place. Friday, October 10th. Don't forget the date.

Linbrook

A number of the young people of Linbrook claim to have had the time of their lives last week. First at a dance given on Monday, Sept. 22nd, by Mr and Mrs. Jessie, in honor of Mr. Jessie's return from Montreal, and again on Thursday, Sept. 25th, at Mr. P. Swain's Excelsior home was supplied by Messrs Dillon and Dunbrel, the latter carrying the programme by a long several supple folder for the coming winter. The grain fields are shown of there go between and a great part of the grain is already stacked, waiting the threshers.

This district boasts a quoit alley for on hand, a good deal of talk in the oft under cultivation and amply repaying the labor bestowed on it. Cattle raising is now going rapidly. Numbers of cattle and hogs are shipped yearly. The latter however are of some disadvantage owing to the lack of railway facility. It is hoped that in the near future the G. T. P. will recognize the advantage to all concerned and put in a station at Linbrook or Tofield.

The "slide" on the G. T. P. in front of Mr. Wetmore's field has caused no much labor and anxiety during the summer appears to be in a safe condition at last.

A number of ripe wild strawberries were found in the district on Saturday, Sept. 28th. What's the matter with Alberta? What other province produces two crops of berries in one year.

Mrs. F. Walker, who has been on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watts, during the past few weeks, returned to her home in Edmonton on Saturday.

The young people are busy getting ready for the entertainment on October 10th. A salad of work will be held and a grand time is expected.

Mr. Roger's large frame barn adds a pleasing feature to the landscape and constitutes a landmark of considerable importance.

Infraction Of The Game Laws.

LAST Saturday and Sunday saw some excitement in town and district over the fact that representatives of the government department having the administration of the Provincial Game Laws had appeared in the district and proceeded at once to see that the regulations of the Game Act were properly observed. That apparently a dozen alleged infractions of the law were observed and the offenders called to court on Saturday chose, counts to no surprise to the community and that a more or less large number of alleged offenders against the Sunday shooting clause were caught on Sunday was none the less surprising. It has been generally reported for some time that the provisions of the Game Laws have been wantonly disregarded.

To the credit of a large portion indeed of the people of the community, it can be said that the action of the authorities has been regarded in the proper light. The regulations providing for the protection of game are recognized to be for the benefit of the people in the attendant destruction of wild fowl is looking towards their extinction in an unmistakable manner. While there is room for improvement in the Game Laws by legislative amendment, the laws, as they are, are regarded as being in the interests of all concerned and not in the least oppressive. It will, no doubt, be readily admitted that the temptation is great to shoot a partridge or chicken out of season, particularly when the opportunity so often presents itself, but that is no excuse for the act and the offence is by no means to be condoned. The law is there. It is widely promulgated law and consequently well known. The offender knows that he is running strong chances and if he is caught he is the last one indeed who should expect leniency because he happens to be pinched.

Proportional Representation.

DR. STEWART, representative for Lethbridge, in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, referred to the difference between the representation of the opposition in the house and the strength shown in the polling. He figured out that the opposition had but 32 per cent. of the representation though polling 48 per cent. of the vote. From that he proceeded to argue that the distribution of the seats was unfair.

"The Calgary Albertan," discussing thesabove says:—"The principle of representation in Alberta and in all other parts of Canada is unjust. The distribution of seats in Alberta is doubtless as fair as in any other part of the Dominion.

In British Columbia the Liberals polled 50 per cent. of the total vote at the last election and have no representation in the house at all. That shows the injustice of the system rather than the unfairness of the division.

In Manitoba the Liberals polled more than 48 per cent. of the votes at the last election but have not above 30 per cent. of the seats in the house. It is the same in the whole Dominion. The Liberals polled a much larger percentage of the vote than the representation in the house shows.

It is not just. But that is no proof of any evil design in the distribution of seats, though doubtless all governments will take the advantage if they can get it. But it does not show the need of a different system in representation.

Proportional representation is the better system. Then the minority gets the representation that is coming to it. Then we have proper representative government. The system has not been tried in very many places, but where it has been tried it has been successful

Demonstration Work.

THERE should be some form of demonstration work laid out on every man's farm because many of the farming truths, as we know them, do not apply to individual farms. It means this, that every farmer dealing with his particular type of soil has particular problems to solve. No man from a public platform, a lecture room, or through literature can tell the man how to farm. However, if this lecturer or college professor could meet a man on this man's farm, he could give him assistance of a practical nature. This is the type of demonstration work that will be most profitable.

Comment

The editor of the Viking News, a fine little sheet, last week in his height newsy paper does not like Bulletin report of the Viking Fair which report stated that the fair at that town was held under cloudy skies and amid murky weather, etc., and says:—The editor cannot be accounted for unless it was meant for the Tofield fair, and perhaps the Bulletin already considers Tofield a suburb of Viking which it eventually will be one and in that case the error could be overlooked. In that case, if Tofield expands as much as to embrace Viking within its limits, Ryley and Holden will be more centrally located while the Viking section will be on the outskirts.

NEW CITY, OBJECTWAY TO BE SECOND GARY

New York American Explains How Canada Has Secured Great Steel Industry

A Detroit despatch to The New York American says:

"When the heads of the United States Steel Corporation learned a couple of years ago that the property agreement which the Taft Administration had negotiated with Canada had been defeated by a reluctant voice in Canada, they came to Detroit and picked out a spot across the river in Canada, where they could advantageously manufacture and ship steel and bought it. They have begun work on the construction of a second Gary there. A Canadian city of some 150,000 population, and named Ojibway, will be built up there within three or four years.

"Had the reciprocity pact been ratified that city would have been on the American side of the Detroit River, the labor would have been American and the supplies for this labor would have laundered the market of the American farmers who opposed reciprocity.

"The United States Steel Corporation wanted to sell its steel in Canada and was prepared to buy Canadian iron ore. It wanted to buy ore and raw materials in Canada and was prevented by the American tariff. It desired the best facilities for shipping to Canadian ports and all over the world by water. It had been contemplating building a plant on the Canadian side of the river.

"Agents had looked over the ground before the city, in the vicinity of the big ship building plants, had been practically decided to buy there. The Detroit River between the land bridge on the Great Lakes, completely shortened, yet large enough and deep enough to permit the passage and maneuvering of the largest steamships. The steel corporation and its allies already made, when the reciprocity pact went to smash.

It found there was to be no reciprocity it just moved across the river."

RAISING STANDARD OF ESKIMO LIFE

Children of Far North Seemed Beyond Hope But Gradually Reformed After Years of Work

The first attempt at civilizing the Eskimos of Baffin Island, where the most degraded natives are found, was undertaken in 1876 by Rev. W. C. Bompas, who later became bishop of the diocese of Mackenzie River, says Mr. C. E. Whitmore, who has been working in the Mackenzie River district since 1906. It would be difficult to find a more degraded people than those to which Mr. Bompas went. He found they were addicted to lying, stealing and stabbing. They practised heathen dances, songs and conjuring, spells and charms. Their religion was very crude, being vague ideas of a spirit of evil, called the cold and death, amenable to charms and incantations, and a good deity, to the good spirits is related with the sun and moon, and called Anningan. Mr. Bompas came as fellow missionary to Rev. Mr. Turner, who had made some headway there and a night in his party would find him busily like him with the Bible. The family in the wood was in rowing or wriggling into the sky through a hole and the sleeping in a pig was exactly my once with their houses. As to the habits of your companions, the advantage would probably be on the side of the pigs and the safety of the position decidedly so."

Mr. Bompas was relieved regarding the prevailing custom of infanticide, but other observers report a shocking state of immorality, bestiality, polygamy and worse, with an utter disregard of life and property characterized them.

Improved Their Habits

This was the only direct attempt made to civilize the tribes for twenty years, as Mr. Bompas never returned to them, but a gradual change came over them from observing the habits of the missionaries and Hudson's Bay Company officials at Fort McPherson, as well as the Eskimos who were now largely Christianized and civilized. The change was not effected with the moving of the older generation, but in the latter part of this period an intelligent band of natives took place of some members of another tribe, and while not they no longer founded their immorality before the gods, but with their evil ways they became more degraded than ever.

When the next serious attempt to Christianize these people was made in 1892 by Rev Isaac O Stringer, of Wycliffe College, Toronto, he found a difficulty to contend with which had not been met with by his predecessors to any great extent. This was the appalling result which Captain and non-Christian "civilization" now began to have on the people. From year to year from his return to Herschel Island Mr. Stringer frequently passed the winter in the harbor at Herschel Island. The average crew of these ships was about forty men, and neither officers nor crew seemed to consider themselves under any restraint in their relations with the Eskimos.

Widowers in Demand

Mr. Whitmore tells of having seen a short bedstead which an Eskimo after the arrival of a whaling ship turned into a bowling bedstead of dimensions, and obtained in addition to this, the officers and the cook only by their example supplied the work of the Mission for children and instilled the teaching of the missionaries.

Very slowly the influence of the Mission grew, chiefly through the work of the schools for children and a man which were established Point in 1904 Mr. Whitmore was moved to Herschel Island, and in this he had left the Arctic Point the

ALL PROTECTIONISTS

Both Parties Against Free Trade in Australia

The Labor Government which was defeated in Australia has for years sustained a protective tariff for revenue producing purposes and the benefit of domestic industries and workmen. On the eve of polling the Liberal leader of the Opposition, Sir Joseph Cook, abandoned Free Trade and committed himself to Protection.

Speaking for the party The Melbourne Argus said: "The Liberal undertaking is to maintain the present protective policy. No amount of dishonest argument or word-twisting can construe this into meaning that the present tariff is to be amended by them in the direction of Free Trade."

GRAIN GROWERS' GUIDE

Is Editorial View Does Not Commit Grain Growers

In a recent letter to the press Mr. F. W. Green, himself a prominent member of one of the Grain Growers' associations, declares that the Grain Growers' Guide does not represent the views of the Grain Growers' associations. He says:

"I wish to point out to our readers so, first, that the Guide is not an Association organ. It is a private concern owned and operated in the interests of a private company; in no sense of the word can the Grain Growers be concerned. We do not share in the financial losses or profits of the Guide. The association has not and never has had anything whatever to do with the conduct, or tone of the editorial columns of the Guide, either on the moral, religious, free trade or any other question. The views expressed in the editorial columns of the Guide need be one thing. The views of the Manitoba Association, as expressed in their position of the Guide, may or may not be the same thing. The Alberta association may express another view, and the Saskatchewan association still another different in any of them. The Guide can only claim to be an association paper in so far as it permits the associations to set forth their views in the columns which are top

Make Your Purchases from the Merchant Who Stands by What He Puts in Print

You are at the mercy of the businessman or merchant who does not advertise. When you walk into his store or place of business, you walk into a blind alley, from which there is no escape. The man, who advertises his prices and the quality of his goods is willing to stand back of what he has caused to be printed. The merchant who does not advertise is in no way compelled to do this.

Do you pay the same price for goods you buy from both men? In some cases their prices are about the same. With the ordinary adventurer, he has something of better value to offer or he would not advertise. It is time logical to assume that a merchant who does not advertise his goods, has nothing to offer in the way of bargains. Then it is policy and common sense to patronize the man who does his business through the newspaper.

NIBIGAMI

The Grand Trunk Pacific has just issued a handsome booklet, beautifully illustrated, with the title above signifying in the Ojibway language "Country of Lakes." Nibigami (Nee-bee-gum-ee) in the name applied to the territory along the Grand Trunk Pacific line, just east of Winnipeg to Nipigon; the lake where the speckled trout grow. The pamphlet contains a description of the many lost and canoe routes, short and long, to fit any need and any purse in this wonderful district of virgin scenery and outdoor sports accompanied by a map which makes a guide unnecessary and gives some idea of the magnificent territory and playground placed within reach of the public dweller.

To the people of Winnipeg who are forced for change to patronize foreign and less attractive resorts in the past, this should be especially interesting information. Many are unable to afford the expense of vacation to remote points and have been obliged to stay in the neighborhood of the city frequently playing out and unfit to return to work. This new territory is within reach of all and the expense of a real holiday, change, rest and renewal of energy and mind is procurable at an expense of not over ten or three dollars per week if necessary to limit to the barest necessities.

A copy of this pamphlet may be procured at the Grand Trunk Pacific ticket office, 266 Portage Avenue, or will be sent on request to the Tourist Department of the Railway, Union Station

HALF MAN, HALF METAL

Canadian Bridgeopther Greatest Piece of Human Patchwork in the World

That a man's hanging body could be built up piece by piece with metal bones and steel muscles and yet remain a human being, is the opinion of Dr. Lucien Bull, of the Canadian Bridgeopther Institute, who has just returned to Montreal from a New York hospital carried out by him. The patient was Joseph Thompson, a negro, who, after a runaway accident, had his left leg amputated. Dr. Bull replaced the lost limb with a steel one, and then proceeded to build up the muscles and nerves. He has probably made the most wonderful piece of human patchwork that has ever been attempted.

Thompson was in a bad plight when he left from a spur of the Quebec bridge on which he was working three days previous to the collapse of the structure. He could not walk a step, and had to have every bit of food he ate for the first week put into his body by means of a feeding tube. Then the negro began to show the grit that has made him famous. Every day he would insist on being propped up in his bed in a good plate larger than a silver dollar between his chin or spoon of steel grubs. He always got what he asked for, and soon began to put on flesh. Several tumor museums applied for his body post mortem, and he refused to be embalmed and placed in the Bridgeopther Museum when death comes his way.

NEW FISHING LAWS

White Men to Have Chance to Compete Against Japs on Coast

An important change in the fishery regulations of British Columbia, decided upon by the Dominion Government, is the abolition of the building of fishing community on the Pacific Coast. In the past Japanese fishermen have almost wholly owned white men from the industry. Hitherto a given number of boats were allowed to operate in each fish ing area and these have been assigned to the different canneries, the arrangement dating from a time when there were practically no residents of the area in question. Now that the canneries could be had for the asking, it is expected that under the new regulations white fishermen will settle permanently in the region and that the Japanese dredged upon was.

To apply the boat rating in the winter areas and not to the canneries is the decision of the Dominion Government for the fiscal year beginning with July 1.

As the season until March 15 each year as many licenses in each area to be issued as is reason to expect will be applied for by bona fide white fishermen, making the area boats and gear, and to assign the remaining boats as near to the existing canneries, jobbers as the general boat rating.

The licenses to white fishermen are now the to fish independently of the canneries and sell their catches to whom they choose.

MIXED FARMING

Is the Road of the West Says Premier Sifton

Premier Sifton of Alberta who has been in the east lately, is reported as having told a Toronto newspaper man that mixed farming is the proper road of the Canadian West. In part he said:

"The Western Provinces will be even more prosperous when the farmers go in for mixed farming. Our dominion statistics time are fast bringing this view home to the minds of the farmers with conviction.

"There is an economic reason for improving this truth on the minds of the farmers it is this. All grain farming is speculative. If weather conditions, and all else, remained calculable from year to year, grain farming would have no risk. But one year the crops are all A No 1, then comes a poor year, not an average good year, again a big year, then a failure. Under such conditions a man may be rich one year and a pauper another. But if the farmers went in for mixed farming, after crops besides grain and cattle and horses, there would be a balance of fortunes, and Western farmers would always be in a well-to-do position, with nothing to worry about."

Premier Sifton admitted that some of the discontent in the West was caused by bad farming. "But," he said, "on the whole the farmers are satisfied with the land and with the climate. Those who growl most are the speculative farmers who want to get rich quick and fail to do so."

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1913

President Wilson Highly Commended.

PRESIDENT Wilson is being highly praised through the newspapers of Great Britain for his success in pushing through the tariff bill in fulfilment of Democratic pre-election pledges. The general impression abroad shows a belief that the United States is now probably a free trade country. The London Daily Mail in an editorial thanks that both the American people and the statesmen who are at the head of affairs, and Britain manufacturers may imagine that it will open fresh and profitable markets for their goods, are alike destined to be disappointed, as the customs duties are only one of the complex matters affecting prices and the duties will still be generally high enough to preserve the bulk of the home market to American manufacturers.

"The passage of the bill, however," adds the paper, "has received the national decision of policy from the grip of privilege, and proves that at times the people really do rule."

The Toronto morning papers, commenting on the signing of the tariff bill, takes pains to explain, as the Morning Post pushes it: "It is absurd to pretend that the Democrat policy has any connection with the enactment of Underwood," but are in full agreement with the Liberal opinion in ascribing the success of the passage of the bill to the skill of President Wilson.

The Times expresses apprehension that President Wilson's very success may be dangerous for the Democratic party since it may lead him to drive the Democratic legislators too hard and thereby provoke a reaction of temper that would destroy the good understanding between himself and congress.

The Daily Telegraph says: "President Wilson has played a wise and winning game with a force and brilliancy which has won for him a reputation more solid than any popularity enjoyed by an American statesman for 50 years past."

The Daily News says, "America is to-day practically a free trade country. There has been no free trade achievement at all comparable with this great union Post abolished the corn laws. This revolution is the biggest thing that has happened for America since 1865, and in President Wilson America has produced a courageous, as well as the most constructive, statesman in the world to-day."

Battle Creek Review: A Kansas editor says that the most embarrassing typographical mistake that ever occurred in his experience was in connection with a marriage notice. The bridegroom was a man by the name of Dunn, whose father, Abraham Gunn, was a leading citizen. The editor wanted to get a few punny couplets in the notice and the paper all right. The next morning he read the announcement in the paper, and Gun Smith. The girl's name was Birdie. The notice went on to say that the blushing bride was tastefully arrayed in a dress of white mull (instead of white moll) and that she carried a large red rose. The copy said rose. He had written it a rose, on the ground that he was "the well-liked son of A. Gunn." The compositor set it up: The groom is a well-sized son of a gun. The editor lived that composition for how just the same he has never seen a bride who looked as groom or with old man Gunn Winnipeg Free Press: What if the frost has knocked up the nasturtiums, laid low the proud geraniums and played hob generally with our gardens! Have we not had, this year, a long and royal show of blooms and blossoms? It is surely no small thing to have enjoyed beyond the middle of September practically undiminished, the beauty and fragrance of the flowers. Therefore not so sad this year was the nightly destruction of soap boxes, sheets and newspapers that kept the flowers might be preserved for yet a few more days.

Be a Weather Sharp

The following formula of weather signs has been found to give satisfaction:

1. When the temperature rises and dewdy there is a storm forming north of you.

2. When the temperature rises and dewdy there is a storm forming north of you.

3. The wind always blows from a region of fair weather towards a point where a storm is forming.

4. Cirrus clouds always come from a region where a storm is in progress to one of fair weather.

5. Cumulus clouds always come from a region where a storm is forming.

6. When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the north or northeast, no matter how cold it is there will be a storm in the winter time.

7. When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from south to southeast there will be a hailstorm on the marrow. If it be in the summer, and if it be in the winter there will be snow.

8. The wind always blows about a storm in a circle, when it blows from the north the heaviest rain is east or west; if it blows from the south the heaviest rain is west of you; if it blows from the east, the heaviest rain is south.

9. The wind never blows, even moderately, unless rain or snow is falling within a radius of 1000 miles.

10. Whenever heavy white frost occurs a storm is forming within 100 miles north or northwest of you.

Begging is forbidden in this country our glorious and free Canada, but there are some poor specimens of humanity, from parts unknown, whom not being appreciated of their true character, our good government has put into power and who use the power this vested in them not only to escape the law but to collect a few miserable pennies with which to keep themselves up. It is time that such a practice should be stopped and such men chased where they belong.

PRICE OF WHEAT AND RECIPROCITY

What Good American Markets Have Been to Canada This Year.

Winnipeg wheat prices have been as much as ten cents a bushel above the Minneapolis quotations for the same grade of grain. Either there is a glut of wheat on the United States market, and Canada has no outlet for her Canadian wheat there, or Minneapolis cannot hold a candle to Winnipeg as a transfer market to the ultimate European consumer. In truth, there is an abundance of both conditions. There is scarcely no market for Can adian wheat for consumption in the United States. The country exports too much of its own wheat to permit of that. And with absolute equality of the European port of entry, there is a big advantage to Winnipeg as the point of exit. Reciprocity would not have avoided our market, but married it.

During 1911-12 a revival of United States exports of wheat and wheat or flour took place, which has continued into the year just closing. A year ago these amounted to 79,691,484 bushels, and for the ten months to the end of the crop year they have totalled 121,000,000 bushels. Assuming that the last two months of the year will witness proportional exports, the total for the year will be about 145,000,000 bushels. This is considerably heavier than any year since 1907-8, when the figure was 161,000,000 bushels. It is worth while to learn what 1913-14 will bring, and it promises to break all records and to make the United States the best customer a market for Canadian wheat.

Commenting upon these figures the United States Senate in Brantford Canadian wheat, The Expositor Press of May 26th said: "The American millers do not want the duty on wheat. The American farmer does not need it. Despite the efforts made by some politicians to create the impression that they are doing him a favor by insisting on protection, the farmer will not worry about competition from wheat that was rolling in Winnipeg yesterday at 97½c while the high-grade article in Minneapolis yesterday was 91½c." For a year past Western Canadian wheat prices have generally ruled higher than Western American wheat prices, and this year the United States is going to have an avalanche of wheat for export.

PULP AND PAPER

An Industry Which Has Grown Rapidly in Canada

According to the Toronto Globe, up to three or four years ago the pulp and paper industry of Quebec received little attention from the business world. Previous to that time all the big mills on the continent were located south of the border, and the smaller Canadian mills operating in a less remunerative field, were unable to make much headway. Carelessness methods of cutting and the heavy demands made upon the American forests practically exhausted their available supplies of pulpwood and they turned to Canada. For years American millowners were allowed to take out pulpwood from Quebec without let or hindrance. Some two or three years ago Mr. Lionel Gouin put into force a measure prohibiting the exportation of pulpwood cut from Crown lands, which proved to be the beginning of the wonderful expansion of this industry. American manufacturers, knowing that they could not get pulpwood from Quebec crossed the border, bought up limits and located their mills on this side of the line. In one year following the passing of the measure no less than nineteen pulp and lumber mills companies were incorporated in Quebec, with a total capitalization of $41,700,000. This capital came largely from the United States. Great Britain and France, although Canadians contributed a considerable amount. Last year several of the newly-incorporated mills commenced production, while during 1913 a large number of others will commence active manufacturing.

Of 1,500,000 cords of pulpwood cut in Canada during the past year, 900,013 cords were manufactured here only in Canadian mills, while 600,986 cords were exported in the raw state to the United States. The total cut for 1913 shows an increase of 21½ per cent. over the figures for 1911, while the increase in the manufacture of pulpwood in Canada amounted to 40 per cent. as compared with an increase in our exports of raw pulpwood of but then 17 per cent.

The importance of the pulp and paper industry in this country is shown by the fact that there are now 85 pulp and paper mills in Canada with 200 machines, of which 83 are located in Canada.

ROYAL PRINCES IN DR. LEE'S NAVY

Nowadays "my Kate Trait Francisco to a Greater Extent Than in the Past

The last of the princes of Albert, King Edward's son, enlisted up to a year ago by joining H.M.S. Conqueror, and a reader shows that past precedents in regard to the sea-going activities of princes are being relegated to the past. It is intended that Prince Albert, like his father, shall be carefully trained in naval matters. Edward, the Prince of Wales, will be remembered as a naval midshipman at Dartmouth College, but it was as a cadet that the Duke of Clarence, the eldest son of the late King Edward, made his first appearance in the navy. The Duke of Clarence was born in 1864, and was therefore 18 years of age when he joined the Britannia training ship, at Dartmouth. He was followed there by his younger brother, the Duke of Connaught, who was also destined for the navy, and during a cruise in the Mediterranean in the Bacchante, the Duke of Clarence had been promoted to the rank of midshipman. The Duke of Connaught became a sub-lieutenant in the Navy at the age of two years.

Prince Louis of Battenberg, who succeeded our Prince Edward as First Sea Lord, is the most notable instance of a Royal personage rising to a great position in the naval world. It is interesting to recall, however, that Prince Edward's father, the younger brother of George III., went to sea at the age of nineteen, was posted in the following year, and after only four years' service became his flag as a captain-commander in the Channel. Prince Edward was eventually on the ship's books as a volunteer for wages and rations, and his original commission, was afterward became his flag-captain, was Lord Hood.

Prince Edward's brother, Prince Henry Prince, also entered the naval service at a child's years when he was twenty-three years of age, and was likewise made a captain before he had been a midshipman. He was a daughter at the age of twenty-five.

ROYAL PRINCES IN DR. LEE'S NAVY

A Royal Jewel Bequeathed

The jewels which the Duchess of Cumberland wore on state occasions recall a memorable Royal squabble which took place over them, in the course of which Queen Victoria, on one of the few occasions in her reign, made a mistake. When William IV. died these jewels were in England, having been brought over in the reign of George II. The pearls alone were valued at over a million dollars. The young Queen Victoria wanted them badly, and Prince Albert did his best to retain them. A commission of Judges however, in 1847 found against the Queen, and the pearls had to be returned to Hanover, much to the chagrin of Queen Victoria and her Consort. The Duchess of Cumberland is the mother of the young prince who married the German Emperor's daughter.

MIXED FARMING

Important Growth in Western Live Stock Herds

It is encouraging to learn from the Toronto Globe correspondent in the West that Southern Alberta farmers are turning to mixed farming. During the spring the first mixed farming convention was held at Lethbridge. Dr. Rutherford, ex-Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, talked about feeding beef cattle; Prof. Elliott of the C.P.R. farm at Strathmore spoke about dairying, and Mr. W. F. Stevens, Live Stock Commissioner for Alberta spoke about swine; but nothing was said about the use of tractor engines or the best way to grow grain. Throughout Alberta this feeling in favor of live stock is growing, as the figures published a short time ago by The Globe show. It was shown then as compared with 1,735,900 head of horses, swine, sheep and cattle, including beef and dairy breeds, at the beginning of 1913 there were in Alberta at the beginning of 1913 some 2,466,586 head.

In Saskatchewan, too, the holdings of live stock have increased of late:

BIG STEEL PLANT

To be Built Near Montreal by English Capitalists

The big industrial corporations of Great Britain and the United States are realizing the significance of the rapidly-growing markets of Canada. The firm of Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., the well-known English engineers, has its intention to erect a steel works establishment on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, directly opposite Montreal, east and southeast of the town of Longueuil. Two hundred and fifty acres of land have been purchased at a cost of $1,000,000, the water frontage of the property extends two thousand feet.

Plans have been received and contracts will be immediately awarded for the erection of the first series of buildings, which will cover 75 acres; the remainder will be added later, and the plant will be in running order in a year's time, giving employment to 1500 men. The total cost will be increased to 5,000 two years hence.

The tenders call for the erection of a large building, five hundred feet in length, of concrete and steel, together with a number of other lesser structures. Lock gates, steel barges, and a ten-acre basin to accommodate vessels requiring the best quality of steel will be turned out of the Longueuil works.

The Armstrong, Whitworth Company Limited, at Elswick, near Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, employs over 28,000 men; at Manchester, over 5,000 more, and it is regarded as the most subsidiary concerns to which the parent company will supply the raw material for the Canadian yards. Canada would not secure the industry with the livelihoods for workmen which it will bring with it.

At Montreal

"There is no better country in the world than the west," said President William Taylor, of the Owen Sound, Ontario, Board of Trade, after his recent visit to Montreal and other leading Alberta centres. "Montreal is next to the west now in manufactories and inland farming."

Athelstan Cured Through Eyes

Dr Archer Leslie Hood, an English orchid, who made a study of the human eye as an index to character, declares that he believes he can tell by her happiness, good behaviour and disposition. He says that the eye is full of good, talkative, honest, intelligent and, if your life has been purchased with miserable failure, perhaps it wasn't all your own fault. You may attribute it to your head, or rather to the condition of your brain

FOSTER FACTORIES

Calgary Municipal Mother-house for Experimental Work

In submitting to the ratepayers a by-law to authorize the fitting up of a house to foster industry, the council of Calgary showed most commendable enterprise, and other cities might well emulate.

The Prince Albert Times commends appreciation and adds:

"Briefly the scheme is to provide a suitable building divided into small suites of rooms each well provided with light power and water to enable the tenants to carry on small manufacturing plants. Men with large ideas and small means will be encouraged to start manufacturing in one of these suites. The rent being nominal, the water, light and power supplied at cost, they have practically only to provide the particular tools required for their business and their appliances. Of course, only applicants approved by the committee of management will be given accommodation in the building and their ages therein is strictly limited, so that a succession of young men, full of energy and good business qualities are encouraged to enter business, thereby making room for other beginners. In the local mother house, an enterprising committee of management will attend to the business, whose object entitles them to some consideration.

"Such an establishment may well be called a nursery, or incubator of local industry and while there are no Canadian examples to point to, there are several in the United States."

BOYS ON THE FARM

How to Attract the Lads to the Land

Three years ago a farmer living in the county of Wellington, who had a couple of boarded aroun' clear and a settlement duty house, went to work by his own that he was going into the land. Gradually he cleared the bush and built a barn, and to-day he has a dairy farm worth, and he had no cash. Every year he planted the stumpy field with a hoe and a half, and he got a crop of corn. Then he had to team in the city for a dollar and a half a day. He thought it over, and finally he made up his mind that he would remain on the farm he would have to get a team of his own. He sold his cattle in the country, and he could have them for himself to look after the farm. He went to the city for a year, and this is the third year since the experiment was tried. His father says it is difficult to get him to the city for things that are absolutely necessary. His whole interest is taken up in developing the herd. He says you can't drive the boy off the farm. He has learned the points of his herd and how to develop them, and he produces a better animal than anybody else. He has found an outlet for his stallions, and sells to the best buyers.

A farmer up in Simcoe county induced the writer to look at his herd of fourteen years. The father was manifestly proud of him. He said the boy's grandfather had presented him with a few pure-bred sheep, "Dicky" said he, "has kept them on the brain. He reads every book and bulletin he can get on the subject, handles on. There is no mistake about it, he is going to be a farmer."

THE CATTLE INDUSTRY

"It is rather curious," said the Chicago will get any grass beef from western Canada this season," said J. H. Watson, of Montana, who brought several heavy shipments across the line last year. "The best cattle I have ever seen, able to get on grass steers C. Sword at Moose Jaw, Sask., by cars, and they are the same cattle I had two years ago at Medicine Hat. I expect to cattle value to increase sharply in Western Canada during the next years. Even the cattle I sold there I do not look for any profit on, but many Alberta cattle are still to be had at low prices, and will be needed for home consumption."—From the Chicago Live Stock Gazette.

HARD ON LABOR

Free Trade Sacrifices Workmen For Profit

United States and German manufacturers use material that gives steel manufacturers for large contracts in America, Britain, South America, China and other parts of the world. In these instances the British workman is sacrificed to the purpose. In a vain effort to underbid and undersell the workmen of foreign countries his employer pays him a few cents less than wages. Such expansion of foreign trade as the United Kingdom does enjoy is won often at the expense of the ordinary workers in factory, mill and field. The time cannot be far distant when the workingmen of the Old Land will rise against this Cobden doctrine that nothing should be done for the manner of laborers. They are going in try protection as a means of securing steadier work and better wages and of generally improving their own condition.

STRONG LEADER OF DOUKHOBORS

Peter Verigin Practically a Despot Although a Benevolent One to His Strange Followers

Out of a lengthy official report emerges the figure of an empire builder in a small way—Peter Verigin, leader of the Russian Doukhobors in Canada. Incidentally, he report was made to the British Columbian Government by William Blakemore, who was appointed to look into the distressing plight of the Doukhobors as colonists. It has many interesting things to say of them, it is by strictest fealness to the teachings of their guide that they have built up the prosperity they were and by a sweeping, Lazarus Yaryloven, Kalmykoff on his death Verigin succeeded to the office. The next step, Verigin's enemies had been exiled to Siberia, and Verigin travelled 2,000 miles over the snow to maintain communication between him and his people. After the Doukhobors were enabled to migrate to Canada things went badly. Therefore the Russian Governor at Yaroslaw had to liberate Verigin, and he became the actual ruler of the Doukhobors.

He is described as a benevolent despot, absolutely devoted to the interests of the Doukhobors, at all times assisting, planning and scheming to advance their cause, and catching at every opportunity as a real leader. Implicit obedience and strict discipline are enforced.

He is said to own every acre of the ward, the history and traditions of the people, the language of the country, which great men have been the characteristics of his race, among which are strong religious fanaticism, diplomatic skill and ubiety. The latter characteristic is displayed in the manner in which he has for years kept the Doukhobors together in spite of an environment entirely alien to their ideas, their cherished beliefs and their ambitions. In the freest country in the world, the civic branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has been at its wits' end to find a solution of the prairie live stock industry and of mixed farming generally.

Take Off Duty Cries Toronto World

Toronto World, Conservative Paper, Comes out Strongly in Favor of Literal Policy

Toronto, Oct. 6.—The Toronto World (Conservative) is vigorously advocating the removal of the Canadian duty on wheat, so that Western wheat may enter the States duty free. This morning it says:

"Here are some interesting facts which the world presents to the Canadian people particularly as the price of wheat of the class of our Western wheat, is higher in the States than in Canada.

"Mr. James Carruthers, our local grain dealer is only one of our authorities on that point.

"Freight rates on wheat are low in the United States than in Canada.

"With free entry into the United States of Canadian wheat, by adding drawing our duty on wheat—our farmers will get higher prices and we will benefit.

"As long as we keep at the duty be Canadian Pacific Railway is master of the situation, and is master of the freights. It is the chief factor in the merger on our wheat and river transportation and it is the chief factor of the North Atlantic Ocean combine.

The Waterways Legislation Progressing.

The bill amend the A. A. G. W. Railway providing for the building of the road by J. D. McArthur has passed its second reading and has been the subject of very lengthy discussion in the House. The opposition put up a counter proposal last week to build it as a government road, the local road committee bidding at a figure of from $14,000 to $16,000 per mile. As this position would necessitate the government needing and meeting all claims against the A. G. W. Ry., the government threw out the counter proposal.

The bill now is before the committee of the whole and will be dealt with section by section.

H. E. Lamoureux, Teacher

The Lindbrook school garden is still flourishing. Cauliflowers, sweet peas, mange tel, poppies and even flowers continue to bloom profusely. It is interesting to note in this many of the cauliflowers and cauliflowers plants were sold seeded from plants sent by Miss Neale, who is now teaching school in England, was the first teacher to start a flower garden at the school.

The fact that the flowers seeded the nucleus should encourage the farmers on the rolling land of the district as it shows a wonderful freedom from frost.

Chicken season has arrived and the sportsmen appear to be taking advantage of it. It is to be hoped that these sportsmen show more consideration than that of parties from neighboring towns at the beginning of the shoot season. Numbers of chicks were slaughtered where there was no hope of procuring them for food. It is amply settled to mark dead chicks. Bathing is also quite out of season at present. In the event the life of a chick—of no little value that its Creator should be reckoned by the beside and such an destruction of it?

Miss Swain paid a visit to the city of Edmonton on Tuesday, September 30th and returned on the following day.

The meeting on Friday, Oct. 3rd in the Literary Society was well attended by the young people of the district. The room full of the usual and ever interesting proceeded smartly. All are looking forward to the concert and tea meet and social to be held in the near future. Don't miss this opportunity of a life-time treat.

Will Stifle Movement To Help Ulster

Any Attempt to Aid Protestant Carson Rebellion Will Likely Lead the Dominion Conspirators in the Criminal Court

Ottawa, Oct. 8—The Evening Free Press says: "Under instructions from the government the Attorney-General's department in the Dominion police are watching the development of the Ulster movement in accordance with the laws, notably the Foreign Enlistment Act, which will likely lend the Dominion constructors in the eventual event and possibly in the prosecution of any one found guilty of violating the same.

"The government is much concerned over reports that at present taking in Canada money is being raised in aid of the rebellious movement in the north of Ireland and that in these likelihood of Canadians being quietly enlisted and sent forward for the Ulster fight. Then there has even been talk of a Canadian volunteer contingent.

"The government of Canada has determined to stifle such a movement at the beginning and for the purpose of obtaining the earliest information the Dominion secret service has been put upon the watch. The laws are very severe against participation in, or aiding such disorders as that proposed by the Ulster objectors to home rule. The acts are set down in the criminal code of Canada as treason, with liability to punishment in the form of imprisonment for life."

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. A movement has been started towards the securing of a 24 hour local telephone service. Although the number of phones in the local exchange is slightly under that required for the 24 hour service, the Standard is informed from Edmonton that the 24 hour service will be installed at once if the telephone subscribers ask it. A properly signed memorandum to the department will turn the trick. This means the addition to annual rental charges of three dollars per instrument. Parcel Post Blocked by Inadequate P.O's.

Ottawa, Oct. 6th.—Inadequacy of post offices thus giving the Dominion is proving a serious stumbling block to the way of the establishment of a parcels post.

The government has now one or more inspectors looking into this important phase of the question and it is being found that in some of the cities and towns post offices are too small to meet the demand which the parcels post will make. Ottawa is given as an illustration of this condition of things. For the past two or three years the local post office has been found hopelessly inadequate during the Christmas rush and the addition of a new of post would be well received by the people.

The same difficulty was encountered in the United States, although it was not of such a serious character there as it will be in Canada, where the growth of the country during the past few years has been all too rapid for the growth of adequate buildings.

WAR DOGS IN LEASH

Secrecy of Little Value in the Construction of Fighting Ships

The most striking point in recent dreadnought development in the increasing size and power of the gun. The British navy was the first to abandon the 12-inch gun as the main armament of dreadnoughts and four battleships are now in commission, "Orion," "Thunderer," "Conqueror" and "Monarch"—which have ten of these weapons, firing 1,250-pound projectiles as fire-controlling turrets. The same arther of gun is mounted in the four ships of the "King George V." class, and the four of the "Iron Duke" class, but the gun is of a much more potent type. The length of the shell has been increased and 200 pounds added to its weight, much of the additional being accounted for by an increased weight of bursting charge. Another notable development in British dreadnought designs is the restitution of the 4-inch gun.

The commercial difference between the battleship and battle cruiser is that the battleship has thicker armor more guns and less speed than the battle cruiser. Thus the battleship "Iron Duke" has a 12-inch belt, carries ten 13.5-inch guns, and is designed for 21.5 knots, while the "Tiger" battle cruiser, has a 9-inch belt, carries eight 13.5-inch guns, and is designed for 28 knots. The first four battle cruisers built for the British navy were designed for 25 knots.

The German authorities have not been content to accept with their dread noughts designs. The first eight battleships have seven big guns each, but only eight available for broadside fire. In the "Seydlitz" and "Friedrich der Grosse," the number of 12 inch was reduced to ten, but there is a considerable gain in efficiency. Instead of all can fire on either beam, though only over a small arc. The next group, those of the "Kaiserin" number, and in only a very few instances are the main features of large ships under construction unknown.

HUGE IMPORTS FROM THE STATES

We Should Keep at Home More of the $418,000,000 That Goes Across the Line Annually

According to a Washington government report the United States during the fiscal year 1912-13 exported $818,-000,000 worth of goods to Canada, an increase of $66,000,000 over the previous year, and of nearly $200,000,000 over the year before that. That is to say, in three years our imports from the republic have practically doubled. In that period our purchases of American freight and passenger cars have risen from $600,000 to $5,333,000; our imports of automobiles from $2,-833,000 to $9,350,000; copper pigs, bars, etc., from less than $1,000,000 to over $4,000,000; coal, from less than $1,000,000 to nearly $4,000,000; cotton cloths, from $750,000 to $3,000,000; locomotives, from $250,000 to over $1,000,000; structural iron and steel, from less than $3,000,000 to over $9,000,000; metal-working machinery, from $555,000 to $2,222,000; agricultural implements, from $2,333,000 to practically $7,000,000; pipes and fittings from $1,500,000 to over $3,000,000; leather boots and shoes, from $.350,000 to over $1,000,000; and illuminating oil, from about $500,000 in 1910 to over $3,000,000 in 1912.

The manufacture and foodstuffs the increase is less pronounced. Raw cotton, of which the Canadian mills consumed to nearly $9,000,000 in 1912, shows practically no increase in value during the three years in question, though a slight increase in quantity has been recorded. Wheat, of which, in 1910, was $4,750,000 in 1912, un manufactured tobacco, $2,750,000 in 1910, $3,750,000 in 1912; lard, $1,250,000 in 1910, $1,350,000 in 1912; wheat, $2,-$3,000 in 1910, $750,000 in 1912, shows a marked increase from $21-per cent in 1910 to $28,250,000 in 1912, the value being about equally divided between anthracite and bituminous.

It is not that the United States has overtaken its internal demand for manufactured goods, and consequently are entering more decisively into the competition for foreign markets. But for a protective tariff Canada would have been the first to feel and suffer from that policy. She was in 16, the course of trade shows that the contiguity of the Dominion has to a considerable extent counteracted the effect of import duties. No patriotic citizen wants to see the Dominion discharging new materials for manufactured products. His desire to have these industries operated in Canada industries.

It will be a great thing for Canada when we can produce and manufacture a greater proportion of the $418,000,000 worth of goods here at home. The proved policy of moderate protection is one guarantee that we shall be able to do so. It is forcing American capitalists to invest millions of dollars in industries all over Canada.

FACTORIES COME BECAUSE OF TARIFF

How the Canadian Policy of Moderate Protection Brings Industries

If the American manufacturer establishes a branch, let us say in France or Germany, he may do so because he has to meet the peculiar tastes and demands of a people who want the article made their way or at least in a different way from what appeals to the tastes and meets the conditions of the American customer. He may also be influenced to take this convenience in distributing to a country on the other side of the world from the factory.

But he is not compelled to establish a branch factory in Canada by the above reasons, either of which might be effective in the case of countries upon another continent. He has no identical consistency in Canada and the United States. When he comes to Canada he does not manufacture differently to meet any peculiar taste or demand. So far as pleasing his trade is concerned he has no difficulty in selling in Canada what he manufactures in the United States.

Neither have we observed any reasons three thousand miles wide between the United States manufacturer and the Canadian consumer. The manufacturer can distribute to Canadian customers just as conveniently from Boston or Minneapolis as he can from Halifax or Winnipeg.

It is moderate protection which preserves the Canadian home market. The American manufacturers say that they build factories here because they cannot manufacture in the United States pay the duty and compete in the Canadian market with the Canadian manufacturer. They probably know what they are talking about.

Thelma Noland Wins Medal

The Young People's Medal Contest held Last night in the Methodist church under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. proved to be of great public interest, judging from the attendance which filled the church to the very doors. The contest which was discitionary in nature was taken part in by seven young ladies all of whom acquitted themselves well. Miss Thelma Noland secured first place being a point or two ahead of Mis Marjorie Mahaffey and Miss Keitha Lee. Miss Noland was presented with an attractive WCTU. silver medal as a reward for her carrying off first honors in the contest while the others were awarded with a prize in form of a book. It is probable that a series of these contests will be held until all have won silver medals when a contest when a contest will be brought off among the holders for a grand medal. There is no doubt of the popular attractive of the contest feature and the educative value is great to young and old alike.

The great difficulty is to reconcile the advantages of centralized organization with the essentials of local freedom. I think the problem is not insoluble. I speak not what only is in my own mind, but what I, I believe, am called on to say on behalf of the Unionist party in the mother Country and the people of Canada. The British Postmaster-General handled points of the situation delicately, with much tact, and yet with much firmness, as to stir the ad miration of all who heard him. He created the impression in the minds of his hearers, whatever their political opinions, that questions affecting Imperial relations, ships, it will not be for want of prudence, intelligence and understanding of the colonial viewpoint on the part of those who are of the same stock of thought as the British Postmaster General.

He declared that the parts of the Empire could not be bound by commercial ties.

In his speech he said further:

The Dominions have great interests in the Mother Country, and in dealing with Imperial matters, but they have no formal and direct share in the constitutional working of the Imperial machinery.

There is no central legislative or executive body. This is a task of a problem, and as soon as you come to face such a vast and formidable problem as how to change this condition you are indeed in difficulty.

"There must be considered in the first place the question of local autonomy as against centralized government, and how to reconcile the two. We in the Mother Country recognize quite as well as you do in the Dominions that the best freedom of the Dominions to manage their affairs is essential to the welfare of the Empire. You speak of me as a representative of [illegible] Street. Well, of Downing Street in sense, but not, let me assure you, of the old spirit of Downing Street which prevailed three or four generations ago. That is gone. That is dead. We recognize in Canada, Australia, New Zealand and United South Africa must manage their own affairs.

"So the great difficulty is to reconcile the advantages of centralized organization with the essentials of local freedom. I think the problem is not insoluble. Conservatives Win In Chateauguay

The by-election in Chateauguay county, which does Confederation 25 years ago, has always been represented by a Liberal, has resulted in the return of Mr Morris, the Conservative candidate by a majority of 111 votes over Hon Sydney Fisher, the Liberal candidate. The poll was a heavy one. Mr. Morris, the member-elect, is a prominent local man, while the Liberal candidate was not well known in the constituency.

Herbert Samuel, British Postmaster General, Delivers A Brilliant Speech Before Canadian Club In Toronto.

This was part of one of the most brilliant speeches ever delivered before a Toronto audience, if indeed not one of the most remarkable delivered in Canada. It was made by Right Hon. Herbert L. Samuel, British Post-master General before the Canadian Club. The enthusiasm with which the speech was received was remarkable. The address was, in effect, the setting forth by one of the most precise and lucid speakers in British public life, of the attitude the liberal party in England takes towards the question of imperial relations. It was not only delightfully worded, but its message was significant as being tantamount to an unofficial communication between the party in power in the mother Country and the people of Canada. The British Postmaster-General handled points of the situation delicately, with much tact, and yet with much firmness, as to stir the admiration of all who heard him. Tofield Fuel for Industrial Purposes Cheapest of Anywhere on Earth

A Broad Statement, But One Which Can Be Backed By Figures To Prove.

An abundance of coal for fuel, area are available whereby it has for manufacturing purposes, available in quantities to meet in full the most exacting and exhaustive demands lies at our door awaiting that demand. It is most pleasing and gratifying for the STANDARD to be able to announce most authoritively that the facts and figures are available whereby it has been ascertained that coal can and will be delivered on the car at Tofield mines for Tofield's industrial purposes at figures which defy competition anywhere else in the west, and which will be an irresistible incentive to industrial capitalists seeking locations for their plants to come to Tofield.

Drilling on the gas well has been stopp'd for the present. The level of 1670 feet having been reached and also the present limit of finances appropriated for the purpose, it was mutually agreed that the offer of the contractor to suspend further operations until April 15th, 1914, pending the decision of the town as to whether they would be warranted in going further would be accepted. In the meantime, during this period the attempt of Corcoran to secure a gas flow will probably be successful or otherwise. No large gas flow having been struck in one gas well, down to a depth of 1670 feet, should the Cantone well, which is only 26 miles away or the south east, result in a strike at a lesser or greater depth, the fact will have weight in determining a gas flow. In the meantime also, the contractor leaves his rig, machinery and tools all intact, at Tofield and a balance of $600 as an earnest of his good faith in his agreement to return and continue the drill as soon as it is deter mined to do so.

Tofield's effort to duplicate the big gas flow of June, 1912, which was lost through lack of proper and expert intelligence, has not resulted in the success desired. Very true, at the depth of 265 feet a flow was struck, which in the opinion of Mr. Peet, whose expert ence is unquestioned, was equal to the much heralded strike at Athabasca Landing, but such a flow was wholly inadequate to supply the demand for industrial purposes and was consequently shut off and drilling to a greater depth continued. At the 1040 to 1050 levels, where it was supposed that the gas flow of Feb. 1 well would have been struck, none was found, but a few feet further there was struck a 20 feet seam of soft water sand, from which there immediat ely sprung a flow of over 300 feet of salt water, and had this water was struck the well was delightfully free from water, being an absolutely dry hole.

It is decided to let the hole remain as it is as it may be a valuable asset yet to the town.

In the meantime, while drilling what policy to follow with reference to the gas well, Tofield is making immediate hold of the actual gas propositions as also has many industries waiting for the furnishing of the power or fuel which Tofield can produce before constructing their various large manufacturing plants. Our coal are near and afar, have known for years that one of the most curious and wonderful freaks of nature has existed and does exist at Tofield. This is in the shape of a deposit of good lignite coal, a seam of from 8 to 10 feet in thickness, within from 6 to 20 feet from the surface of the ground, varying according to the respective localities. Scientific tests of this coal by the Fuel Testing Branch of the Department of Mines at Ottawa has shown it to be of a most wonderful grade producing quality. Months ago one of the largest industrial iron ores which is coming into Tofield sent us the pertinent query, "Tell us whether you are going to give us natural gas or not?" That firm has thoroughly investigated the coke producing qualities of our coal and is prepared with the figures and estimates to install a gas producing plant for its own manufacturing purposes, as are available the most exacting and exhaustive demands lies at our door awaiting that demand. Buys Tofield Property.

P. F Ingram, who has been a resident of the Tofield district for the past eight years or more and who recently made arrangements with Chas Arnson to take over his farm and run it for a number of years and who took a trip back to eastern Canada, extending his visit to several states, returned to Tofield about ten days ago ve y much satisfied that he is an Albertan and a Tofield r. While there is always to be found some keen source diversity of opinion about the merits of investment, no matter where the place may be, Mr Ingram's deep conviction regarding Tofield's future is manifested by the fact this week he has purchased property on 5th Ave and is immediately going into residence upon it.

Will Push Forward Development.

TOFIELDERS will, while not losing sight of the further development of the natural gas field, and now that the further prospecting of it is at least temporarily laid aside, set themselves to the development of our industrial effort from the basis of our immense deposits of coal, which furnish an unlimited and valuable supply from which to manufacture power by steam producer gas or electric current. So far as natural gas is concerned, while we may yet, and shortly at that, be able to supply it for various purposes, we will not, this side for the more and quite evident source of supply of fuel for manufacturing purposes, which we have at our best. Tofield is in the unique position of possessing practically within the town limits, an unlimited supply of one of the best gas producing coals known on the continent. Scientific tests have proved this to be so. For steam power it is an economical fuel. Undoubtedly the time will shortly take on the progress of manufacturing electric current for light, heat and power and this can be done at a minimum of cost at the municipal plant where we have large steam boilers in connection with the waterworks department. While the municipality has been prospecting for gas the development of power for domestic and industrial purposes on other lines has been temporarily suspended. Now this will be taken up with a will and in an incredibly short time the efforts along those lines will have been brought to a successful fruition.

Enthusiasm Will Mark Each Step.

HAVING settled in our minds the following up of our industrial and civic development along any one safe, sound and sane line, Tofielders will unite in one grand, concentrated effort to push forward the development of our intensely valuable natural resources. Having in mind the fact that we have the raw natural commodities with which to manufacture articles in strong demand throughout the west, one of which is embodied the best clay proposal face brick, an article which will be in great demand in all the large cities of the west, an article, and this is speaking broadly, but truly, which surpasses anything of its kind attempted to be made at any other point as yet in the west; this one manufactured article, which has been demonstrated by Mr. Berg, President of the Berg Dry Pressed Brick Machine Co., Toronto, a man than whom there is none more experienced on the continent to make the test and statement, Tofielders realize that the future holds bright prospects for expansion and no lack of whole-hearted enthusiasm will mark the campaign to make this promising town the centre of the vigorous industrial and commercial activity which it is destined to be.

Atlantic Liner Burns in Mid Ocean

Large Numbers Perish—Heroic Rescues

London, Eng., Oct. 13th.—The stories told by the passengers of the steamship Carmania and other liners which went to the rescue of the burning Volturno, describe the heroic efforts in the face of almost insuperable difficulties to save the passengers and crew of the doomed ship.

As yet information is lacking as to how the fire originated, but it is shown that the fact that not more lives were lost was due in the first place to the witness and in the second place to Captain Barr's happy idea of calling the Narragansett for help.

There is some discrepancy in the stories with regard to the behaviour of the crew, but it is significant that of the crew, numbering 561, it is reported that 78 perished, while most of the officers remained on board and were eventually rescued.

What issues clearly from all the narratives is that practically all lives lost were sacrified in attempts to launch the boats before the arrival of the other steamers after they had Capt. Inch known so much help would be forthcoming all would have been saved.

The Carmania arrived at Fish Guard today but her commander declined to give out an official statement until he had submitted his report to the company officials at Liverpool, where the Carmania is due tomorrow

New Variety of Wheat Has Been Discovered

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The discovery of a new variety of wheat has been reported to the government by J. E. Ray, the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Birmingham. He says:

"The new wheat discovered at Buckden, near Huntingdon, is reported to be of an excellent milling flour of the ever, but it is significant that of the crew, numbering 561, it is reported that 78 perished, while most of the officers remained on board and were eventually rescued.

THE COAST INDIANS

Gradually Taking to Agriculture—Values Their Trees Wild

Mr Thomas Wilson, Dominion inspector of fruit orchards and instructor in horticulture to the Indians, after a two years' trip in charge of British Columbia said that although the Indians of the province be fond of fish, game or thereabouts he takes to farming and ranching.

Among some of the tribes little attempt is made to cultivate the land, agriculture and horticulture, because they have learned a good living in this way. The Haidas of the Queen Charlotte Islands for instance get as much as $1,000 a year from the canneries at Masset. They have a regular annual payment and during their visits here purchase provisions and clothing. However, they are still rich as regards among them and the Indians do not seem to be making much progress in learning how to conduct the industry.

Mr Wilson recommended to the Provincial Government that steps be taken to preserve the "huckleberry" trees, from which the fruit for the canneries is obtained. It grows wildly in parts of the Province but soon would be cultivated so that an acre would produce as much fruit as a score of trees worth $100. Some are already exhausted and Mr Wilson thinks the lumber should in the British Columbia would do well to see that the "huckleberry" trees be not destroyed when the land is log ged over.

Of the possibilities of Queen Charlotte Islands, Mr. Wilson speaks in high opinion. The soil is very rich and will be excellent for fruit production when it has been drained and the stumps have been removed. Large herd of wild cattle, descendants of some that were landed there years ago when jettisoned from a Hudson's Bay Company boat, now roam about in considerable numbers.

USEFUL WILD LIFE

Student of Creatures of the Woods Urges Against Their Extermination

In an address at Ottawa, Lieut.-Colonel Wood, naturalist, traveller and historian, made a most eloquent appeal for the preservation of wild life in Canada. Recent visits to Labrador and Northern Quebec had brought him familiar with his subject, which, he declared, was going fast. The Colonel urged upon the people to make a study of wild life and that he had always been interested in the preservation of wild life in Canada.

There was no reason why war between man and wild animals, but no man was "privileged" to kill wild life. But it was interesting to note that to get ahead of other animals man had had to take the animal into partnership with him—the dog. He had been to Canadian Labrador, 500 miles of coast with very few people he knew existed. The only domestic animals there were dogs. He had opportunities in the primitive state of such civilization to see the vast part played by the dog. When the dogs, however, got lonely in the winter they went back in their wild state and ate the men. He knew of one family of seven, a family of eight, and a family of nine. After a few days they came the stage of regret, and he had nothing to say against sport—but it was necessary to put certain limits upon the destruction of wild life.

West Newfoundland should be a paradise for wild animals, but it is a desert. And it was a mistake to let ageise in any part of the country that because there was a plentitude of wild life that it would never disappear. The had been said of the Indian and many other animals. On the coast of Labrador the position of the 1,200 people relied for fresh food on the birds it shot, yet he knew of a millionaire who landed one day from his yacht and shot on a bird.

The elder ducks about this part of the world were ruthlessly destroyed, and yet a very profitable industry could be made out of the down that was now wasted. The country was the wild life developed progress, and he sincerely hoped that one small part of the world would be left, and in Canada, where man would learn through the study of wild life an opportunity of recreating himself.

AN IDEAL LANDLORD

A Good Name Better Than Riches—This Man Had Both

John Thomson, who died in Hamilton, Ont., Wednesday as an ideal landlord, and was blessed by tenants who were living in his houses at rents at five and six dollars, while others were paying fifteen and twenty. He acquired the houses many years ago, and refused to increase the rents as the values of the property went out of the island. Mr. Thomson was not a fussy landlord, and was not known. He seems to have been guided by simple, natural human impulses. He was good-hearted, unostentatious, and free from pride. He lived in poverty, and died worth $100,000; "worth" it is more than one cares.

BOYS FIGHT DUEL

Germans Youths Use Pistols at Request of Their Fathers

Again the martial feeling in Germany is to the fore in schools and youths had the peculiar idea of honor and the duel is in this country. It is resorted to a "schools of duel," in which one of the combatants received a slight wound, was pronounced fit for his life.

A boy of seventeen years was killed in a recent duel near Berlin in a most barbarous condition, with a bullet wound in the right breast. He was taken to the local hospital, but in his wounded condition died.

It seems that the duel took place in the grounds of the father of the boy, who was an officer in the German army. Both boys were students at the same school and had a misunderstanding between themselves, and for some days there were rumors in the air that differences of jealousy had to be settled that each was chastise the other, the two youth had become mutually devoted to one "affair," in which one should win the only possible result was the loss of life.

In accordance with the code of honor, the duel was duly carried out. This proved to some means obtained possession of firearms, and repaired to the wood, without seconds or other witnesses. At the first exchange of shots one of the combatants fell mortally wounded, while the victorious survivor walked off without even troubling to send help to his fallen opponent.

KRUGER'S AMBITION

Hoped to be Napoleon of Twentieth Century, Says a Relative

Mr. Mark Kruger, of Pretoria, South Africa, nephew of the redoubtable "Oom" Paul, who was the soul of the Boer resistance in that fateful one first at the beginning of the century, made some interesting statements while in Montreal recently.

"Kruger was a man you knew," said Mr. Kruger, "that my uncle's ambition was to be the Napoleon or Bismarck of the twentieth century. Actuated first of all by motives of best patriotism, the success which crowned his early efforts led him to believe that he was a predestined military genius."

"In my opinion," continued the Boer leader's nephew, "it was this over-weening confidence which led to the Transvaal's downfall. Kruger, I repeat, was the soul of the Boer resistance in that fateful one first at the beginning of the century, made some interesting statements while in Montreal recently.

Lindbrook

The event of the season has come and gone. The concert of Oct. 10th, is a thing of the past and we are happy to say it proved a great success both socially and financially.

Though Lindbrook is proud of the creditable way in which its young people acquitted themselves on this occasion, much of the success was due first, to the ability and tact of the chairman Hon. M. McCall, principal of the Alberta College, Edmonton, and second to Mr Whillans, editor of the Tofield Standard. Several others from Tofield helped in the program and rendered a great deal of add finish to the entertainment. Lindbrook felt deeply grateful for the honor of having Mr McCall as chairman Mr McCall was the first teacher in the present school district, and was also the first to settle in the district as Mrs. Fielding taught before the present school was erected. While teaching in the district Mr McCall won the esteem and love of all and his presence at this, the first concert in the school added greatly to the pleasure of the evening, all Lindbrook being happy to attend where hearts welcome is as valued a friend.

Mr Whillans' solos and reading were admirably rendered and gave much entertainment. The Thanksgiving solo proved especially popular and several of the young people have been straining their vocal organs in vain attempts to imitate the sweet warble of a turkey.

The collection given by the Tofield musicians and the solo "A bunch of maple leaves sung by Mr. Methuen did were also greatly appreciated.

The amount realized on Oct. 10 was slightly over $50 and several dollars' worth more before the concert by sale of tickets and some of the work. The twelve hours alone realized over $20. Our auctioneer Mr C. Blake is much to be congratulated for his ability as salesman.

The people of Lindbrook desire to tender hearted thanks to all who aided in any way to the success of the evening.

The following is the programme: Phonograph selection, Mrs Harrington.

Speech by the Chairman, Rev Mr McCall.

Dialogue, How the story grew" Miss Waite, Miss H. Waite, Miss Woonerroff, Miss G. Woonerroff, Miss Anderson and Miss Langton Recitation, Bursting," Master Leo Rogers.

Solo, "The laziest man in town, Mr Whillans.

Dialogue, "The mix up," Miss Waite, Miss H. Waite, Miss Woonerroff, Miss G. Woonerroff, and Mr. W. Glenn.

Song, "Keep in the middle of the road" Mr. P. Bowie.

Reading, "Batchelor's Hall," Mr. Whillans.

Phonograph selection, Mrs. Harrington.

Dialogue, "Tom and Sally Miss Woonerroff, Miss H. Waite, Mr. Wetherall and Mr. W. Glenn Solo, "Chinese song," Mr. Whillans. Rogers, Thanksgiving song.

Dialogue, "The census taker," Miss Waite, Miss Langton Miss I. Rogers and Master John Rogers.

Recitation, "The custody of an apple," Miss Langton.

Phonograph selection, Mrs Harrington.

Dialogue, "When women have their rights," Mr P. Swain, Miss Swain and Mr. Walters.

The sale of home and of work took place immediately after the programme and later ice cream and hot coffee made a grateful addition to the contents of the house.

The threshers are here bringing the usual bad weather attendant on such occasions. Threshers really should be a little more careful as to the brand of weather they bring to the district.

Our first fall-like snow storm arrived yesterday. It was accompanied by a tremendous hurricane of wind. However to-day is fine though cold, and this early snow storm probably foreshadows a fine winter

Necrologic

While the many friends of Mr and Mrs. A. S. Maxwell will have been pleased to see these two back again in Tofield, greater sadness will have been the regret that it was a sorrowful mission that brought them to town on this occasion. It was to bury their only child little Evelyn, who died after but a few brief hours illness of spinal meningitis while on the train between Edson and Edmonton last Thursday night as the fond parents were hurrying to be the early with her to secure the best of skilled medical attention. Mr. and Mr. Maxwell reside at Hinton and left Thursday the little girl was suddenly taken ill. They brought her to Edmonton by first train and called a doctor to the station. He pronounced it the dread disease and they hurried on by the same train to the capital, hoping against hope that some thing could be done to save the darling. It was and to be, how ever, for the little one passed away before the city was reached. The bereaved parents brought the body to Tofield, where on Saturday the services were held beside the side of little ones of the same family in Tofield cemetery. The deep sympathy of many friends here go out to the bereaved ones in their sad loss.

Card of Thanks.

On behalf of my wife and self, I beg to offer our sincere and heartfelt appreciation for the kind sympathy and attention from our friends in Tofield in our sad bereavement.

The meeting of the Lindbrook Social is meets held on the school on Friday evening, and entertainment as usual. Then the band marched and two hockey teams have been formed in the school, Tofield and Lindbrook coming here. We are told a return game will be played in Tofield shortly. Secretary Mr. Newsom is trying to get a league formed in the district. Refreshments were served by the ladies. Dancing was then resumed and kept up until the early hours of the morning. Everybody reported a good time.

The threshers have come and gone and Lindbrook reposes in its well-filled granaries. No more we hear the anxious question "Are you threshed yet" To the unanimated this question appears rather unpolite and even savage at times, but to hear the invariable answer "Not yet, I was threshed last week" At a glance at the spelling of the word makes all things clear.

A tea for raising a hog mother remarked "The threshers are here Her mother answered Hladly note that the operation of separating grain from straw is spelled with an "e". The teacher replied that as she was much more accustomed to the operation of separating gruel from the child, it was little wonder that she had failed in the pla e of the e.

Municipalities Lose License Fees

Hitherto in Alberta the councils of cities, towns and villages have been empowered to charge license fees in respect of hotels and wholesale liquor stores equal to the fees collected by the Provincial Government.

At the recent session of the Legislature the license law was changed, the fees payable to the Province doubled, and the power also to impose fees was taken away from the municipal authorities.

Under the former arrangement the Province charged $400 for each bar-room and wholesale license in a city of more than 10,000 people, and $200 for licenses elsewhere in Edmonton as to probably most other cities and towns—the power to levy a municipal fee was exercised, and the city collected $400 from each holder of a hotel or wholesale license.

Under the new arrangement the Province will get $800 for each city license, and $400 from each license elsewhere, the municipality getting nothing. In the case of Edmonton, as of each other city which had a maximum fee, the change means a loss of $400 per year on every hotel and wholesale liquor license in the city.

There are now in Edmonton 34 licensed hotels and 11 licensed wholesale liquor stores. The change in the law therefore, deprives the city of $18,000 revenue which it would have received during the next year from the hotels and stores now in operation, together with the fees which would have been collected from new enterprises of the kind. The other cities, towns and villages are of course similarly affected, in proportion to the number of licenses in each.

The obvious purpose of the amendment was to secure a larger revenue for the province without increasing the assessment on the license holders. But as changes in every real and substantial respect as does the cities towns and villages. While the enforcement of the liquor laws is the business of the province, the existence of the licensed houses the cost of the machinery of government.

It was admitted fair and right under the previous system that the province should be called upon to collect a considerable sum of the fees, and expense a fee as large as that demanded by the province. The change in the law simply puts the municipality out of this income altogether, appropriates it for general purposes and leaves the local taxpayer to make up the loss of the revenue to the municipal treasury.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Ask for Increased Subsidies.

L. Borden, who assured the delegates that the recommendations would receive the consideration of the Dominion Government.

According to report the Miami and its able seamen—that Tofield will shortly have some new posters of the place. It is understood that a string of photos are being in the town hall just Monday afternoon Mr. Morton announced that Mr. McCallum had written him to the effect that all present A P's in the province were to be raised from office shortly and asking him to have two recommendations made. The two men next nominated by organizations were A. A. Neary and Frank Mokeffer. It will be quite a card for some present justices to be relieved of the responsibilities of their trying positions.

OH Lord! I ask no pledge Thy existence and the existence of a life of more than these perishable hours to be known unto Thy holy and the help of one to whom know I call, realize that on all sides unseen forces do seek an abiding trust, and that, if I am to come through my earthly ordeal I must fight every method of my own.

Give me strength to battle bear my burdens of living, and to smile but no burdens become a joy for verily this is the secret of all earthly gladness.

Teach me that sorts consider in the one hour, sixty minutes one pound and one hundred cents one dollar.

Help me to live each day as if to be about at night with a clear conscience without a pain under my pillow, and ashamed by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

Grant, I do seek Thee, that I may not use me need to bet on the square, and in doing thereof that I may not steal the nail where it does not belong.

Deaden me to the impulse of tainted money and the rustle of nobody's shirts.

Blind me to the faults of the richer fellow, but reveal to me mine own.

Guide me so much night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with my children and to know my self in their play.

And then when comes the smell of flowers, and the tread of soft steps, and the crushing of the hearse's wheels in the gravel out in front of my place, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple.

"HERE LIES A MAN"

Need Of Civic League.

THERE is need at the immediate reorganization of the Civic League. Why, the hitherto progressive and aggressive citizens of the town of Tofield should be on their mettle for a week or two cannot very well be explained. The last twelve months, which has been a period of profitable activity on the part of the Industrial League, has been the time of mowing. Much, very much, remains to be done. The unsurpassing done by the league has been valuable work. To be dormant in our activities is the worst possible condition. The every present is ours to make the most of. Are other towns utilizing a new from the new event sound of the publicity campaigns? Not on your life. Let us get together. The town is still fair. Do not let us allow it to become cast. Let enthusiasm in our minds be uppermost. There's abundant reason for it.

Our Prospects For The Future

TOFIELD'S prospects of a bright future were never a whit brighter than they are today. In no place, district or community in the wide West are there better inducements for the man of the manufacturer from the cheapness of fuel point of view. The wonderful coal deposits which are located at Tofield, lying handy beneath the surface of the ground have been found by experts to be of specially valuable importance to all those who have use for an effective fuel for manufacturing purposes. Cable many other coals they have been found to be very high in gas. It is a peculiarity of Tofield coal that it burns with a flame until it is almost completely reduced to ash. This shows how strongly impregnated it is with gas. Recent tests have resulted in actual figures which show the great value possessed by this coal for gas producing purposes. Tests have been made by which 2,000 and 62 cubic feet of gas to the pound of coal. Existing at produced. Take it to be. Through the efforts of the Municipal Industrial Committee figures for the delivery of Tofield coal on the cars at the mine have been secured which place Tofield in the cheapest place which an industry can select when it comes to a matter of point of fuel for manufacturing purposes. Either for heat or power through the gas producer.

The Much Advised Farmer

AT LAST the farmer, the unfortunate most advised man of all, the other person to whom all members of his own calling, in pamphlet, in speech, and bellicose has found a champion in the Chatham Record. Here the following paragraph appears:

Essential as he is with these he knows pamphlets and bulletins the average farmer can't persuade himself that all of them are not worth anything, and that it would take about as much time to segregate the real from the chaff as it would to read all of them. The result is that in the course of the year all of them and the waste basket or trash pile is generously filled to overflowing, however uniform are. We believe that the literature that is prepared for the farmer would be ten times as effective if it were not on such an voluminous as it is

Comment

Monday, December 1st, is the day for nominations of candidates for councillors, which day is now weeks from next Monday. The citizens have plenty of time to make a good selection from amongst their number. The success of municipal affairs, both present and future, rests largely with the men chosen to transact the municipal business. To be a public servant of this kind all realize is no snap. Many refrain from coming out for short as to public offices of this nature largely owing to the apparently inevitable storm of criticism which is levelled at councils in general during their terms of office. It is tacitly admitted that much of this criticism is unwarranted and unreasonable when good men decline to allow themselves to be made the target. Many municipalities thus lose the services of good and capable men and it is directly the fault of a considerable section of the citizens that the benefits which would otherwise accrue to the municipality by securing the services of capable business men are lost. On the other hand it is not the duty of any citizen, if he be called upon by his fellow citizens to take his turn in conducting the public business, to accept that responsibility rather than to shirk it?

o o o o o

There seems little doubt that oil of a high grade has been found near Calgary. Whether it exists in large enough quantity to be of commercial importance has yet to be determined. In the meantime the drillings that are being issued to the public to be careful of company flotations that are already being made cannot be too strongly impressed.

Beaver Lake East .....

Jas. A. Stewart's "consecrated" the slur is doing good work this; season Mr. Stewart was kicked by a horse recently and a consequence was laid up for a few days.

While the grain in this locality is very good, the yield in some cases is disappointing. This fact, coupled with low prices makes things not altogether so satisfactory as we could wish.

The "Vegreville observer" of the 22nd inst., says: "Who says anything about the climate of North-eastern Alta? Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Steele, of Beaver Lake, picked three and a half bushels of apples from their one apple tree this fall. These were grown out in the open and with no special shelter." The foregoing is more or less correct for the fact that there were four trees, not one. Three were Russian seedlings and very small apples. One crab-bred produced nearly two bushels. Twenty-six crab-bred of six kinds were picked off this year. Of these twenty-three made excellent growth. If these do split and likely some longer varieties will be tried.

Miss Daly, who for a long time has been a generous sufferer from sciatica, from at Lamont, under Dr. Archer's care. A phone from the doctor says she is doing nicely and that Miss Daly is to be home there soon, if with scarlet fever. She is doing well too, we are glad to say. The King family here are recovered from the diphtheria, and Dr McPherson has fumigated the school house and all infected places. It is to be hoped that we will soon have a clean bill of health. For we've certainly had more than our share of sickness this year.

We are glad the Conservatives in the local House will support Mr Bayly in his fight for the Speakership. In Manitoba both parties went down on the dough. Mr Norris, leader of the Liberals, stated only 7th that his party was responsible for those meal schools. They weren't. In 1907 Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited the Hon Thos. Greenway, then premier of Manitoba, and arranged the matter with him. Now, an already built the matter are in favor of them. When we say "both parties" we mean the leaders. We believe the most of the Conservatives are opposed to these schools. Bolshi had better attend, for the Grangemen are coming on his trail. More power to them!

WHOLESOME FOOD FOR KING'S SAILORS

Substantial Bill of Fare on War Vessels and Many Delicacies at Reasonable Price

Within the past decade the dietary in the Royal Navy has altered greatly for the better. Some are the old biscuits so full of weevils that they had to be rapped on the table before being eaten, of salted meat, very fat and hard that it could be masticated into ball before it could chew and water which through long keeping in wooden casks, was as often as not quite unfit to drink.

Beef and pork in the brands that are received a quarter of a century ago supplanted by tins, when the water are issued in new kegs in the ports which are refilled from the reserve tanks by the distilling apparatus on board as frequent opportunities.

All modern ships are fitted with bakeries, so that everyone is now newly baked, and every day of his life where he also a certain ration of bread on which is issued enough fresh meat and vegetables to last every man on the ship for a month. So that there is no longer subsisting on salt beef and pork, which is all that is issued in harbor.

Like a Big Hotel

A modern battleship in fact, may carries about two days' salt meat, that is to say it is issued on a certain day, and is then salted away as it is called by the served out in very exceptional circumstances.

You seldom daily menu of every man in the navy is 1 pound of fresh bread, 1/2 pound fresh meat; 1 pound vegetables; 1 ounce of cheese; 2 ounces of coffee; 4 ounces of sugar; 1/2 pint of cocoa; 1/2 ounce of drug of chocolate, or 1 ounce of coffee. 2 preferred. A ration of one-seventh of a pint of rum; 1 ounce of jam or marmalade and 4 ounces of preserved fruit once or twice to the week in harbor, or on two days while at sea.

Mustard, pepper, vinegar, and salt are served out as required while vinegar at the rate of half a pound of flour is issued to each of the head of the mess in port, available. A man over the age of twenty receives one-eighth of a pint of rum daily but those who prefer it can receive money instead.

Origin of Grog

The rum issued to us men every warrant not more of petty officers is served out in two lots of grog. Grog was invented by Admiral Vernon, who was so called from the cloak of grogram cloth which he used to wear. It consisted of rum and water in the proportion of one part of rum to four parts of water, and was served out to the men at noon by the lieutenant of the watch.

The issue of spirit ration to the royal navy is probably the cause of a remarkable freedom from drunkenness and with the men be issued in one extra issue for every man who has been specially recommended for good conduct, or who has performed any meritorious service, and is consigned to the surgeon for the receipt some one he knows to be a hard drinker, who has suffered from fevers and colds, or who is undergoing punishment.

All these articles are of the very first quality, and are then sold by the paymaster department of the Admiralty to messmen and others there is no desire that it should be a profit to be made by the issue.

Economy is Possible

A man, moreover, is not forced to buy up his full allowance of provisions. He must draw something of his allowance of meat and vegetables, but for the rest, if he likes he can be paid their equivalent value in hard cash.

Once a month each sailor can buy one pound of whatever "you" duty. It is issued in tins of 24 cents a pound, and as many sailors should not know but this brand it speaks well for its quality. All this tobacco comes from specially plantations in South Africa and could not be bought anywhere under 10 for a pound.

"Undervaluing" in Japan

In an article in a Japanese period ical Augustus H. Mason's Genteel Handbook was censured as one of those who are aware but Japan. They are interested interesting, as affording some indication of the attitude of modern Japan. First in the list of undervalues comes the Japanese who have received a complete education and have characters considered good, but who, with the difficulties of life, should see those whose habits are unfashionably developed and a prey to various comforts, owing to my unable to live other ways. Third are the young men who have no objection and are stupid and narrow-minded. Last with and this causes against success those who have not learned the profession to handle life as are those who early lose the affection of the world.

FOX FARMING

Prices Paid for Breeding Purposes Excess Pelt Values

A return of three hundred per cent on the capital invested in what silver farmers in the Maritime Provinces and on the Prairies are getting for breeding stock of foxes, is a matter for comment. It is about [illegible] according to the quality of the pelt but the prices paid for foxes for breeding purposes far exceed this. Ultimately the value of the silver fox must be determined by its fur value and not by the prices now being paid for breeders. It is plain also that, in the course of a few years the numerous ranches in process of formation and which are creating such a demand for breeding stock will be producing pelts for the market. The principal points at which the industry is centering are around Alberton, Bathurst, Charlottetown and Montague in Prince Edward Island, Quebec city in Quebec, Port Elgin in New Brunswick, and Wyoming in Ontario.

Then he proudly announced that the figures for a lifetime showed that woman spent the total of 237 days before her mirror. To which the answer is—Let her

English Woman Who Spent Six Months in Canada Gives Address

Miss Sykes addressed the Royal Society of Arts concerning openings for educated women in Canada. Miss Sykes was not sent by the Government, she explained, but was induced to go out to Canada by the glowing accounts which she had received from friends who had settled there. She was not a young woman, had for the greater portion of her life been in London, and received her education at home, and at a school in Germany. She was not a believer in "Emigration for Emigration's sake," but she was convinced that there were openings for educated women in Canada, and that the best of them were to be found in the Province of Alberta. She was not prepared to find [illegible] was far more [illegible] than she had thought, but she found this really very different from what she had heard of it. The capital is a capital city, and the work of keeping house is [illegible] and [illegible] Her experience in several situations convinced her that the part of home help is unsuitable for educated ladies. Miss Sykes recommended educated English emigrants to consider turning their attention to large eastern boarding establishments, to [illegible] employers or shareholders. Poultry farming was invariably a failure [illegible] the work themselves. "We are accused of wishing to drain the United Kingdom of all the capable women," concluded Miss Sykes. Retail Merchants' Organization Formed

On Wednesday of last week a majority number of Tofield retail merchants met at Somers' Drug Store and formed what will be known as the Tofield Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada. Several days previous to Mr. Odlum, representing the Alberta Provincial Board of the Canadian Association visited Tofield and at a meeting of the local merchants at the Royal Alexandra explained at length the aims and objects of the association. It is a Dominion wide organization and has been in operation for seventeen years. The merchants of Alberta are actively organizing now and it is expected that during the coming winter there will be over sixty towns in Alberta which will have local associations. A convention will probably be held in Calgary next March.

Through this organization merchants will be able to protect themselves and put trade on a safe and sane basis. The officers of the local association are as follows: President, Geo. B. Brace; 1st Vice-president, R. S. Rudd; 2nd Vice-president, L. C. Hay; Secretary, Harry Rogers; Treasurer, J. W. Somers. Meetings will be held on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of each month.

When in need of coal call up Wm. Lee, 'phone 14.

"It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine tent I have ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell, of Lavonia, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory. For sale by all dealers.

Local

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cole, of Edmonton, were the guest of his brother R. S. Cole.

J. H. Hannan returned this week from a big game hunt north of Fort Saskatchewan with a big moose which is exciting the admiration of the general public.

On Sunday last anniversary services were held in the Methodist Church. Special music was rendered by the choir and Miss Rudd sang very acceptably. Someone? The preacher at both services was Rev. T. Powell of Edmonton.

There is no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with the whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. E. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. Sold by all dealers.

The local lodge of the Loyal Orange Association will attend divine service on Sunday, November 16th, in the Methodist Church at 11 a. m., or as soon thereafter as they can get up from the depot, where they expect to meet a large number of visiting brethren from Edmonton who are expected to arrive on the morning train for this occasion. After the service the Edmonton visitors will go to the hall, where any of the citizens wishing to meet them will be made welcome.

Board of Trade Organized for 1913-1914.

Tofield's Industrial League of 1912-1913 has been succeeded by a strong Board of Trade organization for 1913-1914 and the work of the industrial campaign will go on with greater zest and enthusiasm than before. At a general meeting held in the Town Hall last Tuesday evening which was attended by a large and representative body of citizens, a resume of the work done in the past year by the Industrial League was given by President McKinley, Secretary Prescott and at greater length by commissioner White. Many of the citizens present spoke enthusiastically of the opportunities possessed by Tofield to create industrial, commercial and agricultural activity by the development of her illimitable natural resources. The earnest and decided opinion of the meeting was that the work should be pushed on as actively as ever and the organization was at once effected. The officers of the Board elected were as follows:

President, W. C. White, Vice President, J. W. Somers; Secretary, B. W. Prescott; Chairman of Committees, Messrs J.C. Jobb, A. J. H. McCauley, G.L. Pugh, R. C. Rudd and R. Grieve. The next meeting of Board will be held on next Tuesday evening.

Council

Council last Monday night met in regular session, Councillors Lagan and Young being absent. Beyond the regular routine business of passing current accounts and considering reports of committees little was done. The bylaw to provide by the issue of debentures for the cost of the fire fighting equipment of hook and ladder truck, hose and hose reels ordered by the 1912 council in its dying hours was considered and passed provisionally for submission to the ratepayers for their approval or otherwise. A bylaw providing for the holding of the annual election and naming J. W. McMullen, returning officer was put through its three readings and passed. The annual meeting of the ratepayers is due to take place on Monday Nov 24, at which the mayor and each of the sitting councillors will give an account of their stewardship during the past year.

All kinds of rifles and ammunition at lowest prices can be had at Brace's Hardware.

Ross Creek

Threshing is completed in Ross Creek. The farmers are all busy doing up for the winter.

Mr and Mrs. F. H. Parker paid a business trip to the capital last. We understand that the catching of the train at Tofield was the result of some quick operating on the part of both the travellers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hallberg visited at Mr. Munro's, across the lake, last Sunday.

A party and dance took place at F. H. Parker's on Tuesday of last week at which there was a large gathering of guests from far and near. G. T. Richardson, wife and daughter, and Miss Rudd were out from Tofield. Mike Bamberger furnished music with his fiddle.

Work has been progressing on the addition, alterations and renovation of Mr. Geo. Hagh's house and the same is nearing completion. When finished, this residence will be one of the most palatial in the settlement.

Alf. Chambers and wife are coming back from Edmonton to live on the farm for the winter.

R. R. Hallberg and Mrs. Hallberg were visitors to Tofield on Monday.

A number of horses in this district have been suffering from an ailment, which seemed epidemic for several weeks and which appeared to be pneumonia in character. Several have died but the disease seems now to be on the wane.

There was quite an old fashioned barn raising party one-day-this week at Pete Gate's, when a large number of the neighbors formed a bee and put up his new barn. It saved much of eleven times and there was much merry mashing on the occasion.

How The Standard Is Received.

From away down in Kansas a subscriber writes us, "We take great interest in reading your paper and as soon as possible we will be taking a trip into your wonderful country." There are many people look in the States, in eastern Canada and in countries across the seas, who would be delighted with and intensely interested in the happenings in this new-making country. Why not send them your copy this week just for sample? It will boost the town and country, it will give them an idea of what the big West is like, and Tofield and you will be the benefactors in the end. Better still would be to send write for them. Try it; you will not be the loser.

Lakeshore.

Sunday, Nov 9, being the anniversary Sunday in Tofield Methodist congregation, the Rev. Thos. Powell, who was minister for the day, preached at Lakeshore in the afternoon. Speaking especially to the young people, he took for his subject, "What are you worth" and illustrated his talk by using a 25 c coin. Noting first its round nose he showed that a life should be well rounded mentally, morally and spiritually. Then the coin had a certain value, always the same it talks and tells the truth of its true value, that it bears the image of H. Parker's on Tuesday of last the King as the legal sovereign to week at which there was a large whom that made must be made him in His own image and we belong to Him. The image on the coin may be easily destroyed by the use of a knife or a file. So God's image in us may be destroyed by sin. But showing us that we should keep from sin.

A choir was especially organized for the occasion and rendered two fine selections.

Tofield Has an Up-to-date Fire Fighting Equipment

Tofield has installed an excellent fire fighting system. Chemical engines will be back to one quickly to a fire and check the flames while in an incipient stage and a waterworks system operated by powerful steam pumps which furnish a strong pressure of water through mains to hydrants located at strategic points throughout the town. Suffice it here to say that in less than one to two minutes in the outer portions of town upon any fire which might break out and ten more lines can be laid to fires within the business section. A competent volunteer fire brigade who meet regularly for practice, handle the equipment, while an engineer is on hand at all times to get good results at all times with steaming. The system was installed during 1913.

Don't waste your money buying fire-fighting plaster. Chamberlain's Liniment is the best and best by. Prepare a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the parts affected and it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by all dealers.

Just Plug the Game

Just play the game and play it on the square.
Some men may break the rule — to your despair;
But let them do it: any fool can bent
Who plays with honest men and stoops to cheat.
It takes a head to win when playing fair
Dont lose the chance: no but take your share:
Dont cater to the grand-stand folks who stare.
Keep on the job, be honest for what you meet.
Tall time is called the game is not complete;
And here's your motto always everywhere—
Just play the game.

Electric Franchise.

TOFIELD has a proposition put before it for the granting of a franchise for the manufacture and distribution of electric current to domestic and power purposes. The proposition is not yet in bound form, it being placed informally before the council and citizens at a meeting held in the Town Hall last Monday afternoon, with the view of ascertaining the general public opinion as to the granting of a franchise, but the matter will be placed formally before the council within a few days and in definite form.

The proposition is being made by W. B Leitch, of Montreal, Que., and Mr. Davis, of Medicine Hat. Mr. Davis is interested already in Tofield, being one of the main shareholders in the Tofield Foundry and Machine Shops Having these interests here, he is anxious, with all Tofieldites to have conditions so improved at as early a date as possible as to give still better inducements to manufacturing interests to locate here. Tofieldites are all anxious to co-operate in assisting legitimate enterprises, which will in turn create industrial and commercial expansion. In doing so Tofieldites will also be just as anxious to have their own interests protected as far as justice and mutual benefit will allow.

Annual Ratepayers Meeting.

THE ANNUAL meeting of the ratepayers will be held in the Council Chamber next Monday evening, as provided by the Towns Act. At this meeting it is generally expected that there will be a large turn-out of the ratepayers as the councillors and mayor will each have to give an account of their stewardship. Each councillor is in charge of a Branch of the civic government and it will be his duty to report to the citizens what has been done and what progress made during the year and up to October 31st. The auditor's report of the town's affair for the year up to the above mentioned date is supposed to be on hand. As yet the auditor has not put in his appearance to make this report. It is up to the council to see that the provisions of the Act in this regard are observed. The citizens have a coming to them. But even if this be not available at this time, the councillors may be expected to render their respective accounts of the departments of which they have charge. It is to be hoped that the meeting will be a large one.

Comment

The Board of Trade should be made a "Boosters Club." A good "Boosters Club" will be like a strong magnet, it will attract others to it. It will make a man or that will be heard through out the land. A good "Booster Club" is somewhat like a high pressure boiler, with full steam up and the safety valve popping. Tofieldite come and all should belong to the Booster Club. Every member "boosting," popping all the time.

Self-criticism on the part of the Board of Trade executive the other night was brought to the surface by the meagre attendance at the meeting. Perhaps it could not be a bad idea at for the next general meeting of the board some versatile orator like John C. Phillips were to give an address having for it theme. "Are Tofieldites backwards?" That would surely draw a crowd.

Cultivate kindness at least think well of your fellowmen look with charity upon the short comings of their lives; do a good turn for the first opportunity offers, and really do not forget the kind work at the right time.

DOLLARS FROM MILK

The Cow as a Bread-winner Helps the Owner to Gain Money

In 1909 the representative of one of the largest condensed milk companies in the United States, interviewed the Town Council of Tillsonburg, Ontario, with a view to securing their co-operation in the establishment of a milk factory in that town. It did not take the five merchants of Tillsonburg long to realize that the five or six thousand dollars which the company proposed to distribute to the milk producers around Tillsonburg each month, would soon go into circulation over the counters of their stores. As one merchant put it "The increase in the price of milk would enable a farmer to buy at least one hat per year more for his wife in addition to many other equally necessary things."

In the first of October, 1909, the factory opened its doors and 21,000 pounds of milk went into the vendors cans. After four years operation it is interesting to note the effect of this industry in the neighborhood. Prior to the establishment of the factory farmers had been getting from 1c. to 1½ per cent. for milk. In 1910 the price had risen to 1½ to 1¾ per cwt. The price has risen continuously. The price is now $1.65 per cwt., with prospects of going higher next year. From receipts of only 21,000 pounds from a few patrons the factory has increased its capacity until it now takes care of 125 patrons and 161,000 pounds of milk in one day.

The industry in question, The Borden Condensed Milk Company, had hitherto operated entirely in the United States, but the fact, coupled with its growing trade in Canada, are the factors which induced it to locate a branch in Tillsonburg. The Company's scientific methods and its educational efforts to improve cattle raising with a view to better milk production, have been of tremendous value to the country. Cows have gone up in price. Where formerly an ordinary grade Holstein sold at $60 it now has to bring from $80 to $100, and there has been a corresponding increase in good ordinary Ayr and grade breeds.

Some interesting figures are available from some of the patrons. One farmer from eight cows during eight months time received $1,482.16 in cheques from the Borden factory. Certain parts of the Province are eminently suited for dairying, and there is no doubt that within a few years condensed milk factories will be established at different points in the West, thus creating a profitable home market for milk and cows.

SHOULD BE GROWN AT HOME

C.P.R. Vice-President Would Change Farming Methods in the West

In the course of a very interesting speech before the Regina Board of Trade the other day, Mr George Bury, Vice-President and General Manager of the C.P.R., made some very interesting remarks. After discussing the policy of the Company as it concerned Western Canada particularly, he emphasized his belief in the home market idea in the following words: "Canada imports too much. The imports into Canada for the year ending March 1913, amounted to $670,000,000, without counting coin and bullion, and of this amount, the articles we import, raw material for which lies right at our own door, amount to over $200,000,000. Just think of us importing statoes and a half million dollars' worth of vegetables and thirty-three and a half million dollars' worth of wool and its manufactures, when we consider that the sheep industry lends itself particularly to the development of the West. A report published in 1911 disclosed the fact that in Canada there were 2,100,000 head of sheep, while in the United States there were 51,000,000 and in Australia 92,000,000, and even in Great Britain 32,000,000. Also, just think that 11,000,000 bushels of flax were produced in Canada in 1911, all the straw of which was destroyed. This straw properly manipulated, would have produced 300,000 tons of commercially spinnable flax fibre, which, at Canadian prices, would have yielded something like $60,000,000. At the present time Western Canada with a population of two million people, is importing a large proportion of its seasonal fruit supplies from the United States, the East and elsewhere." Further on in his address he Bury drew attention to the possibility of the Western Boards of Trade working out a policy for the development of water powers in the Saskatchewan so that electric energy could be supplied cheaply to farmers

Hon. J. R. Boyle and School Library Grants.

In accordance with an amendment of that part of the School Grants Ordinance which deals with the administration of grants to school libraries, the Hon. J. R. Boyle has devised a much improved method of stocking school libraries, which will prove of great benefit to the schools in the Province, but more particularly to the rural schools. Grants earned by schools for library purposes have hitherto been paid to such school district, and within the limits prescribed by the Department each school made own purchase of books.

Certain disadvantages attached to this method of purchase. Trustees experienced difficulty in obtaining books required, and in many cases it was found that inferior editions had been supplied. Under the scheme proposed by the Minister of Education, the Department will carry in stock a good supply of books listed in the authorized catalogues, obtaining special by low terms upon quantities. The books will then be supplied to school districts at actual cost, thus materially increasing the actual purchasing power of every dollar of the library grant. In addition, difficulties with customs will be entirely eliminated and school districts will be assured that they have always the best editions of all requisite books. The School Library Branch of the Department of Education has just under the care of a competent and experienced teacher and circulars are being mailed to each school and teacher, asking for full information concerning the present state of the library of each school the number, nationality and grade of proficiency of the children, and other information calculated to assist the branch in a fuller understanding of the position in each school.

HYDRANTS TESTED FOUND SATISFACTORY

Deputy fire chief with a gang of firemen tested the hydrants and water pressure on Tuesday after noon and found everything satisfactorily ready for any call that might be made upon them. At the power house the new boiler received its first test and the demands made upon it made not the slightest reduction in steam pressure. The big pump worked to perfection. The streams thrown from the nozzles were of such volume and power as to be a perfect assurance to protection in case of any emergency.

Board of Trade Discussed Many Important Matters

The general meeting of the Board of Trade held in the Town Hall on Tuesday night was not as well attended as could have been desired considering the importance of the occasion. Mr. White, the president occupied the chair.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting a letter from Mr. Chatwell, in which he proposed to supply toilet paper and gas for Tofield at a reasonable rate was read. He proposed if he got a taxi car franchise to install a plant if manufacture gas so that cities and gas were not used by clothing he would be in a position to supply it. He proposed to lay down his pipe and would be able to supply gas at 25c. per 1000 cubic feet for industrial purposes and $1.25 per 1000 to private houses. It was finally decided that the President and Secretary frame a reply stating that they could not consider the proposition except as an artificial gas franchise only.

A complaint from the Railway Teamsters Limited regarding unfavorable reports said not to be published in the Tofield papers was laid on the table. Mr. Cutbush could see no need considered it. It could also be signed by Tofield Steam and Machine Co.

"There is no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with the whooping cough. One of them was in bad, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. CATTLE AND HOGS NEEDED FOR MARKET

Scarcity and High Price of Meats Point to Profitable Opening For Our Farmers

In the high price of meats and the scarcity of cattle sheep and hogs the Canadian farmer has a strong intimation to go in for livestock where he has not done so before, and to go in on a larger scale where he already has made a beginning. The population is growing far faster than the meat supply both in Canada and the United States and the new American tariff will, it now appears, admit Canadian cattle to the States free of duty. It would seem as though the Canadian farmer has a profitable source of profit high profits right at hand.

That extensive section of the West called the Peace River basin is indicated by the statement that one man has brought four young steers from Mexico. It is said that Alberta alone will have forced to import beef this year and that the Lethbridge district will feed a thousand carloads of cattle in plenty of room for progress along this line.

Six or seven years ago Canada and the United States were both cut off from a ready market for meat in Europe. Now, particularly Britain is in need, especially of beef, and the Canadian and the new American tariff will be in our favor. Additional impetus to the movement is given by the fact that the Argentine Republic is now an importer of meat instead of an exporter, and the Australian commonwealth is rapidly consuming its own meat.

Advertising

The Strong Right Arm Of Modern Business

The merchant who does not recognize the great value of advertising for a business of to-day is closing his eyes to the modern method of business building. All about are instances of where certain stores, small and unknown a few years ago, have grown to large proportions because they have taken advantage of the modern method of getting business. In various localities and in various lines these businesses have grown all by the same power—Advertising. True to the plan which will interest people in one line of goods may not always successful in another line. If however, a merchant is selling an advertised line it does not take long seeing certain well defined places usually sell it successfully. Advertising is the strong right arm of modern business. — Business and The Bookkeeper

Drowned In Beaver Lake

Eldest Son of C. Sutter meets untimely death in icy waters

The first drowning in nearly twenty years in Beaver Lake here occurred on Sunday, when Clifford the ten year old Son of Chris Sutter slipped through a hole in the ice and was drowned. The accident happened at about three o'clock in the afternoon. Clifford and a younger brother were taking stock not far from shore when the older brother was said to have skimming along the surface of the ice further out. The older brother gave chase not understanding the act that his father had given instructions that the boys were not to do so. He chased the lads out about three-quarters of a mile, when without a minute or dropped through the ice and out sight. The parents being away at church, the older brother could not realize that until their return about six. Mr Sutter immediately phoned into Tofield for assistance to recover the body of the lad.

As grappling hooks were not available, Fred. McKinley, blacksmith, manufactured a set of hooks and a number of men went down to the lake after dark to begin the search for the body. The body was found where Clifford went through, his cap lying on the ice a few feet from the hole. In about ten minutes the body was recovered in eight feet of water. This is the first tragedy of its kind in Beaver Lake during the last ten decades. About twenty years ago the remains of some unknown drowned person were discovered in the lake in spring and never identified.

Annual Meeting Of Ratepayers

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of Tofield was held as per schedule last Monday night in the Council Chamber. Of the council all were present with the exception of Councillor Ingram. As is usual at this meeting each of the councillors present gave a report of the work accomplished during the year in the department of which he has charge.

In rising to open the meeting Mayor Letournau stated that while there had been radical differences of opinion in council over matters of public interest, yet there had been continuous harmony amongst it members and that all had worked hard for the advancement of the interests of the municipality. Councillor Storey, chairman of the Public Works Department, gave a brief sketch of the work of his department, which included the drain, road and culvert construction north of the track and on industrial sites. Councillor Yonine, chairman of the Finance Committee, read the auditor's report as the report of that committee, which showed the town to be in good condition financially. Although there was a large amount of outstanding taxes unpaid, Chairman Watkins, of the Fire, Water and Light Department, gave a full report of the cost of gas well drilling operations, installation and equipment of the water works system and for lighting apparatus. Councillor Lee reported what was done in the Electric and Police Department and Councillor Purcell gave a synopsis of what was done in the Relief and Civic Advancement Department. Several questions were then readily and satisfactorily answered Councillor Storey took exception to certain methods of financing. A motion of confidence and appreciation in council and Secretary of the year was moved by Dr. Hammond seconded by J. W. Somers and carried without a dissenting voice. Next Monday is nomination day. Three councillors are to be elected to fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of Councillor Yonine,

See Signs of Renewed Prosperity

J. L. Lovering Optimistically Talks of Near Future.

J. L. Lovering of the Canada West Tramway Co., Winnipeg contractors for the Edmonton radial line, is spending a few days in town. Speaking about general business conditions, Mr. Lovering, who is on constant travel from coast to coast both in Canada and the United States in the course of looking after the company's wide spread business operations said: The resources and wealth of Canada are being established all over the world and there is making it easier for Canada in interest to get money. The keynote is that the boys must keep down to show. He showed the books out about three-quarters of a dozen to him, without a single or dropped through the account and ought. The parents being away at church, the older brother could not realize that until their return about six. Mr Sutter immediately phoned into Tofield for assistance to recover the body of the lad.

As grappling hooks were not available, Fred. McKinley, blacksmith, manufactured a set of hooks and a number of men went down to the lake after dark to begin the search for the body. The body was found where Clifford went through, his cap lying on the ice a few feet from the hole. In about ten minutes the body was recovered in eight feet of water. This is the first tragedy of its kind in Beaver Lake during the last ten decades. About twenty years ago the remains of some unknown drowned person were discovered in the lake in spring and never identified.

"With the ideas that are already set forth by the speakers of the town I see no reason why Tofield should not begin to improve right away and our company shall certainly do all it can to assist. I feel Tofield is sadly in need of all along the line. I talked with one man in travelling along the G. T. P. and Tofield looked the best to him of the towns in the West. He was from the United States and an entirely disinterested party. Our company has two men in Steeber, Nowata and Bentwick, who are doing good work in interesting a lot of farmers to come to Alberta. I think Tofield will certainly get a bunch of these newcomers."

Mrs. S. A. Hall is the proud possessor of a fine new piano, the mastery of which she is diligently acquiring.

The funeral of the late Ernest of Clifford Sutter, who lost his life last Sunday afternoon on Beaver Lake took place on Wednesday to Tofield cemetery, near Beech.

Comment

"Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt." SHAKESPEARE

Leduc has a motel idea. Its council has requested the Attorney General's Department to place R. N. W. M. Policeman permanently in that town on account of the fact that the town will be deprived of revenue from the hotels in the shape of license fees.

There is still another way to look at this question. It is the people of a town, village or city who petition the Liscence Department to issue a liquor license for a hotel in their particular municipality. The government is not running around looking for places to spot bars. If the people of municipalities want to have liquor dispensing bars in their midst and ask for them, perhaps it is up to them to attend to the policing, which comes as a direct result of their having requested to have the bar located in their midst. It is a case of the people having to be out and out prohibitionists or straight pro liquor traffic sympathizers. The men law puts it straight to them.

It is a good thing to get away from everyone, even for a brief time, and look yourself square in the eye and ask yourself all you want to know about yourself. In this way you may get acquainted, for the chances are that, being cornered, you won't undertake to deceive yourself. You will probably find at first that your acquaintance with some of your friends and their hopes, aims and haunting sins is much more intimate than with yourself.—ROBERTA.

An Open Letter To The People of Tofield and District

IT IS now almost four months since the present management undertook to provide amusement for the people of Tofield and district, and judging by the ever increasing patronage we have reason to believe that we have succeeded in pleasing a very large number.

Believing that our patrons appreciate good pictures we have made arrangements to obtain a higher priced service, and commencing on Monday, December 1st, the Mutual Program will be shown here on the regular nights. We might say that this program includes such well known brands of films as Keystone, Kay Bee, Broncho, Appollo, Komic, Gaumont, etc., etc.

We have also obtained at a very big expense the famous six reel feature "CLEOPATRA" played by Helen Gardner and her own company. This is a most beautiful picture and a real feature in every sense of the world. This comes here Friday, November 28th next and although it has been playing to 50c., 75c., and $1.00 houses in the cities, we have made arrangements whereby you can see this great masterpiece (costing $4,000 to produce) for 15c children 10c. Just think over a mile of magnificent pictures for fifteen cents.

Towards the latter part of next month we will have on the following great features. "Homer's Odyssey," (2 reels) "Cardinal Richelieu" (3 reels) "Paradise and Purgatory," (2 reels) and the great pantomime "Humpty Dumpty" (3 reels). Full particulars of these later features will be announced shortly.

In the meantime we respectfully ask you to give us your generous support in our endeavour to place before you pictures of such sterling merit as "CLEOPATRA."

Remember the date—NEXT FRIDAY, Nov. 28th. One Show Only at 8:30.

Yours truly,

It would appear as though the ratepayers held various opinions as to the manner in which the work of the 1913 council had been carried on. The proposed by-law to raise by way of a debenture loan the sum of $6,000 for road construction throughout the municipality is also provoking keen interest and is manifested by both, apparent and strong opposition. The election and vote on the by-law will be held next Monday and on Wednesday, the 17th inst the returning officer will sum up the votes for and against and declare the results of the election. The candidates in the field are as follows:

R. J. Stirrett, Robert George, Chas Ingram, B. F. Waldman, Jos Fletcher, E. A. Hollin, T. A. Rogers, Chas Banks, K. W. Cameron, W. J. Burdett, T. J. Olson, Anton Swaze, A. Swanson, Alex Lewis, C. S. Blake

The Election

THE result of the nominations last Monday of candidate to fill the vacancies on the councilmanic board is that an election will be held. Four candidates are up and three will be chosen. Incidentally it may be remarked that the luckiest one of the four will be the one that is fortunate enough to secure the least number of votes. That is speaking from the personal side of course. Any member of council who put forth an effort to give the best in him for the benefit of the community at large must necessarily sacrifice much of selfish interest and convenience. But it is through the unselfish spirit of public minded citizens who devote their energies to furthering the interests of the community in which they live that the community is nurtured along through the difficulties, financial and otherwise and become thrifty and prosperous. Whoever may be the successful candidates, it is up to the citizens of the town to stand loyally by the council of 1914 in its efforts to guide the ship of state safely over another stage of its voyage of life.

Rural Municipality Election

NOT UNEXPECTED was the multiplicity in the number of candidates brought out at the nomination of candidates last Monday by the ratepayers of Cardhill Rural Municipality. An entirely new council has to be elected in this case. It is worthy of note that of the old council only three came up for the field. One term appears to be enough for the average man to serve upon a council in this western country. Strong cross currents of opinion appear to agitate the public mind throughout the municipality in this election campaign arising from the much discussed question as to whether or not the municipality should borrow several thousand dollars by debenture with which to construct roads throughout the municipality. Advocates of this proposition argue that the profits which would accrue from having good substantial roads to market would more than offset the annual charge of payment of principal and interest while those that oppose it hold that it is not good business to borrow this money and have to pay back an amount nearly double that of the proceeds of the sale of the debenture in a given number of years. Be this side they argue as it may, it is better to raise the taxes, if necessary higher than the present rate, and put the money in road construction and get the roads this way rather than by paying for them in interest.

Minisiik

A general meeting of the people of the district was held last Friday night at Minisiik school house which a large attended. Councillor Pasley presided and there were speaker Hon. Glenn Mc Cranford M. L. A. and others.

Mr Cranford spoke interestingly about his connection the last session of the legislature. He discussed the question of experimental farms and gave a few facts, stating report of the government in handling of these farms. He spoke at length about the A. G. W. deal and advocated the opinion that it would have been better had the Mc Mullen route gone to Vermilion not and the railroad as a government road and the street given at cheaper figures to other contractors.

Mr Glenn spoke at length upon the advantage of the proposed bank for road construction throughout the municipality. He said that it would be the saving of at least 2 mills in the taxes and that much more and better work could be done instead of a backlog in the settles it would always have to a great extent. Several others spoke for and against the loan.

Later the meeting was thrown open open for the discussion of nominations for council for next year. Excitement started at this item of the evening's business approached. The following were nominated. Low 2S Cameron 9 and Mr George 8 Mr. George was attacked by Mr Cameron as to his eligibility to run as a candidate, he having during the past year sold his property to R. Edwards. Mr. George defended his eligibility saying that as his name appeared on the last revised assessment roll he had the right even though he had not at present his farm property. The general opinion of the meeting was that as he had no property now within the municipality that he was not eligible.

A pollination will be look in the new Hastings Lake School on New Years Eve, it being the occasion of the opening of the new building. A number of Lindbrook people who are well known as entertainers are expected to be present and lend their assistance towards the evening's enjoyment.

Mrs. Todd, who has passed the 100th milestone in the journey of life cast her first vote in the recent referendum election here. She is in fine health and takes a keen interest in politics. There was quite a large gathering at the special meeting of our Local Union, which met last Friday afternoon Nov 28th, at the home of Mrs Swift. Mrs Living whose active field worker gave a very interesting address and was listened with marked attention. She spoke the Union great encouragement and gave many helpful suggestions. We feel sure good will follow her visit.

Edmonton Temperance Field Day in Edmonton, on November 7, was a day of genuine interest and entire success. Some forty live or fifty temperance sermons were preached in the various Protestant churches of the city, in all of which the true spirit of citizenship was clearly recognized and expressed. In the afternoon a public mass meeting was held in McDougall Church at which Lieut Governor Robert Service and Prof. C. K. Bland and Mr. A. P. Ewing M.P.P. were the speakers. The various temperance organizations of the city attended in a body, and the Salvation Army Band conducted the musical exercises.

Five of the temperance sermons in the Edmonton City churches on Temperance other than English, and the subjects of the sermons being in accordance with the general question of moral and social reform which was to mould the character of our own race and country.

More Light Wanted On Proposed By-Law No. 118

Editor Standard:

Sir,—I have read with interest in last week's issue of this paper a statement signed by a party (or parties) claiming to be ratepayers, but for the life of me I cannot conceive of his or their reasons for the first thing in the financial outlook of the town.

Spend $15 more than is needed in order to get more debt—seeming there is a state of unutterable stagnation here, verbal ass straggle ad infinitum, and on the other hand facts by pads piled 14 feet to the troop ceiling and here we find people trying to get up and find to make more debt. It sounds to me like a case for the mental specialist.

Perhaps I am the incorrect party to endorse or to confirm the by-law in order to get more debt—seeming there is a state of unutterable stagnation here, verbal ass straggle ad infinitum, and on the other hand facts by pads piled 14 feet to the troop ceiling and here we find people trying to get up and find to make more debt. It sounds to me like a case for the mental specialist.

I should also like to say a word or two in support of the petition presented to the town by the ratepayers requesting that a vote be taken on the by-law. I speak for myself, and I believe I would have held one of the most ardent supporters of the by-law, when necessary, which led to the present state of affairs.

I have this announcement to make—that on reading and studying the by-law I have come to the conclusion that the figures are correct, and that the town can and should go ahead with the by-law. On the basis of the assessment, I should figure that the yearly revenue would total some where about $90,000 and deducting $30,000 for paying interest and sinking fund on existing debentures debt would be $60,000 annually with which to run the town.

I believe, however, that the case of this town is like a lot of people in it, it is "broke" and owes money demanded, but what can we do about it, therefore the only issue by which I can see its financial worth is the figure which accurately represents the total revenue which the town shall receive during the forthcoming year, using every legitimate means to increase that amount by the issuing of debentures on the security of property, covering the maximum of present sub-divisions.

This should be the basis on which forecasts are made, irrespective of how foolish it may appear to some. In fact so much the better, for it is only when we are ridiculed that we begin to realize that we are on the right track.

Until the time arrives when the town as a whole is ready to say "Hands off" I for one am prepared to go ahead with the by-law, and I am sure that the majority of ratepayers are with me.

By the way, I am informed that the Toronto Exhibition Association are contemplating the holding of a fair next year, and I think it would be a good thing for the town to take a stand and have a booth there. Let us show the world that we are alive and not dead.

MIXED FARMING

Is the Need of the West Says Premier Sifton

Premier Sifton of Alberta who has been in the east for some time, and having told a Toronto newspaper man that mixed farming is the great need of the Canadian West, in part because conditions, and all else, remained favorable from year to year, grain farming could have no ebb. But one year the crops are all a No. 1; then comes a poor year; next, an average good year; again a big year; then a failure. Under such conditions a man may be rich one year and a pauper another. But if the farmers went in for mixed farming, other crops besides grain and cattle and horses, there would be a balance of forbears, and Western farmers would always be in a well-to-do position, with nothing to worry about."

Premier Sifton admitted that some of the characters in the West was caused by bad farming. "But," he said, "on the whole the farmers are satisfied with the land and with the climate. Those who grouch most are the speculative farmers who want to get rich quick and fail to do so."

HAMILTON FACTORIES

Immense Growth of Industries Under the National Policy

Hamilton, Ontario, knows throughout the world as one of Canada's great industrial cities, has been celebrating its centennial. One by one, the city has magnified new industries, until to-day, it has 364 factories and shops, representing capital invested of $50,000,000 and turning out products every year worth over $60,000,000.

A large number of United States companies have their Canadian branch plants in Hamilton, and several others have their consideration upon turned that way. The citizens and the civic industrial officers have the knack of steering prospective manufacturers to the so-called Ambitious City, which now deserves a new nickname, having retained so many of its high ambitions.

A table gives statistics of the industries of Hamilton as compiled during the last census. The figures show that over 16,000 people are employed in the factories of Hamilton, where they earn $8,374,476. The cost of the raw material used by the 364 industrial establishments is $16,0 ??? $21,000,000. Hamilton makes everything from a paper bag to a threshing machine, from a biscuit to a boiler, from a bottle of "pop" to a railroad bridge. It is a city of diversified industries in the serious sense, and Ontario is in an outstanding proof of the value of economical diversification.

Prisoner Afraid of Auto When He Gets His Freedom

Kingston, Dec. 3.—Peter Dewar, aged 55 years, passed out of the prison at Portsmouth to-day a free man, after serving thirty years within the walls of the prison.

Dewar's was next door from Vancouver, B.C., for a murder for which he was sentenced to be hanged. The department of justice however, commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

He said he be the oldest prisoner in Canada. Berarch was brought from the east to the prison before Canada had a trans-continental railway. When he was released today, he found for the first time on a street car and an automobile. As he took his first step across the big gate of the prison an automobile passed through opening and looked away from the concert urging to get behind the walls of the prison. A street car then passed and the aged prisoner showed the same terror. He was taken to the T. B. station on the street car, but for a time he refused to go near the the car. He will stay in Toronto.

GROWTH IN SOURIS

According to the census of manufactures for Canada, 1911, which has been issued from Ottawa, Souris has since manufacturing establishments. Their forty two employes earned approximately $20,000, or an average of $744 per year for each employee. This is a very high average and shows that the workingmen in Souris is well paid. The three employers of Souris establishments capital were able to get ture products to the value of $751,000, so only did this money circulate in Souris on the point of shipment of these products, but the 15,000 ... wages circulated many times over through the purchases of the working men over the counters of Souris merchants before it went to the bank at night. It is the hum of industry that spells in great measure for the ... in this few points which ... the next ten years if Canada's present trade policy endeavors in force it is safe to predict that Souris' manufacturing industries will have doubled or ... number, wages paid and output.

Elections.

Pugh, Mahaffey and Swift Successful Candidates.

Dr Hammond, J. G. Jobb, A. E. H. McCauley and S. S. Smith are Elected to Board of School Trustees. Large Vote In Polled

Although there was no keen opposition element about town yesterday election day over the impending election for town councillors, yet the day brought quite a large number of workers for respective candidates and although there was not the usual excitement pulled out, the polling demonstrated quite satisfactorily the fact of the wisdom and it also precluded the unpleasantness of the successful candidates over G. L. Pugh who headed the poll Morris E. Mahaffey second and W. C. Swift, third. There are 61 votes to be cast for a two year term The council for 1914 therefore is as follows

Mayor J. G. Letourneau
Councillors—Messrs. R. N. Whitlaw, R. W. Pugh, A. A. Stone, G. L. Pugh, M. E. Mahaffey and W. C. Swift.

In the election for school trustees the vote was close between J. G. Jobb, Jas. L. Hammond, and A. J. H. McCauley. All three were elected as was also N. S. Smith.

The vote on the debenture by law to provide for the payment of the cost of the fire fighting apparatus erected the enbenzation of the corporation to a sum of 76 to 34.

The last meeting of the new council of 1913 will be held on the evening of the first Monday in January next.

Commons to Meet January 15th

The report emanates from Ottawa that the Official Gazette in its next issue will contain the proclamation for the meeting of the next session of Parliament on January 15th next. It is expected that the naval question will come up again but that perhaps the most contentious question will be the redistribution bill

Who Killed The Highway's Bill

The Albertan, Calgary, says :—

THE LIBERALS in the commons, and in the senate opposed the Highway's bill because there was no assurance in it, that the provinces would be treated fairly They objected because there was a danger that such provisions as Alberta and Saskatchewan would not get a fair deal. Rather than give any assurance that all the provinces would be treated fairly the government declined to sanction the fair play amendments of the opposition. The Calgary Herald quotes figures to show that the government would have acted fairly. If the government had placed those figures in the bill it would have been accepted. But the government would not do it. After refusing to put in the fair play amendments the government published a set of figures to which no reference was made in the bill. The publication of the figures was granulated business. The senate defeated the highways bill because it was threatening to the province. The government preferred to defeat the bill than to be fair to the province.

Municipal Election

THE Municipal election for 1914 passed off on Monday quite satisfactorily, that is, quite satisfactorily to the majority of the electors. Regarding the successful candidates, it can be said that the public at large have every reason to be satisfied. In Mr. Pugh we have a citizen who is deeply interested in the progress and development of Tofield and who will use every legitimate effort to assist this progress and development. He has had experience already on the council and will take hold with an interest and familiarity which will count strongly in favor of an unelected body. In Mr. Mahaffey we have also a man who has seen service, it is understood, on councilmanic boards and his experience in this regard will stand both council and town in good stead. In Mr. Swift we have a man who has had valuable business experience and who has served locally several years upon the Board of School Trustees and who will bring to council an intelligence and desire to handle the business upon business principles. There does not seem to be any doubt that council of 1914 will be in a position to transact the business of the coming year with that care and disputch which is so much to be desired.

o o o o o

The Rural Municipality Election

The Rural Municipality Election was subject to a greater general interest than any previous election covering the rural districts. The results have created a few surprises, but in the selection made by the ratepayers it can be said that the choice has fallen upon excellent men. Throughout the municipality there are plenty of good men who are competent to handle the business arising with that attention and foresight which will be to the ratepayers general advantage. It is not surprising that new men will be selected to act upon the council each succeeding year. That is only proper. While from results at hand, roughly estimated, it will appear that Reeve Glenn will have the happy lot of not being on the council this year, the experience of whichever councillor is chosen to fill that office will be such that it will be found that Mr. Glenn's work of 1913 has demanded from him and received from him much painstaking attention and care for which he may be said to not have received due credit for at the present. He has done his work loyally. This may also be said of the councillors, only to a somewhat lesser degree. It undoubtedly was the policy represented in the proposed debenture by law which restored the support given Mr. Glenn at the polls Whether that policy is to the better advantage of the municipality than the opposite view can only be demonstrated and proved to the general satisfaction within the next two years.

Comment

Our Beaver Lake East correspondent takes a huge delight in dabbling in politics and rendering and quoting political opinions. That is his privilege. It is the privilege of every British subject. In our correspondent's budget this week he takes keen pleasure in quoting the articles of Sir John Willison in the Toronto News of which paper he, the latter, is the editor. Sir John is a deep thinker and an excellent expositor of his own opinions. Undoubtedly others, as our correspondent does, coincide with him in his opinion But there is one fact which the STANDARD will place before its readers, which is, that such articles are but opinions and need not necessarily be gospel fact, and only too often are far from the truth There are many of our readers who will not join with our correspondent or even Sir Joan Willison in the views expressed It is true that in the leadership of parties of both sides we see failures and short comings It is easy to criticize and to condemn. It is a very difficult matter for the arm chair critic or the curb stone agitator to realize or measure the fiscal problems and matters of weight) general policy which must be faced and solved by the men we place in executive positions. It is therefore up to the intelligent citizen to be conservative in matters of criticism and liberal in his views of others.

HOME MARKET NEGLECT
A Prominent Grain Grower Complains —Opportunities in Calgary Market

One of the leading editors of the United Farmers of Alberta in an open letter to his fellow members, which appeared in the "Grain Growers' Guide" of October 1st, makes some very pointed criticisms of the methods of some of those who are offering produce for sale at the Grain Growers' booth in the Calgary market. After dealing specifically with the members and neglect that characterize the marketing of some of the produce, he offers the following some and timely advice :—

"The farmer throughout Western Canada casts longing eyes at the Old tant markets. He thinks if he could only get them he would make all kinds of money, yet here in the city of Calgary is a direct opportunity for him to use an open market and not direct to the consumer without any middle man, and the above stuff, faithfully described, is what he sends for exhibition on that market. Is it any wonder that the wholesaler and retailer will not buy our shipments of Alberta stuff when they are liable to be loaded up with inferior stuff that like as the Grain Growers' Grain Company was last Saturday." With the possibility of being favored with cent stuff as that, one cannot blame the wholesaler and the retailer for going every down to far off California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for their supplies instead of ever looking near to Alberta, the only difference being that in those States the wholesaler knows he is dealing with men who will ship nothing but the best, who will put it up in neat boxes and pack it correctly so that it will not be damaged in a journey of even thousands of miles, whereas. if one may judge from last Saturday's exhibit—but enough has already been said about that. If last Saturday is to be taken as representative of what Alberta farmers can do, the sooner the U.F.A. ceases to work for the establishment of open markets and cooperative distributing centres, the better for the reputation of the type we have."

Calgary's increase in population is assured, particularly when one bears in mind the great industrial development that is taking place in and around the city. Every new industry means addi tional population, and most of them have cities and families to feed and clothe The Calgary market is bound to show a corresponding increase in growth and opportunity so long as the present trade policy is maintained. It is well therefore that the farmers who are supplying the Calgary market with their products should cultivate the market. Greater attention to methods of production and marketing is their immediate problem, rather than striving after increased markets which take longer to reach, and therefore offer greater difficulties in placing their produce properly before the consumer

The Saskatchewan Trustee Wall and Building co., capital $150,000, will erect a brick factory in Saskatoon. Sask.

We wonder where the auction will be here this year Mrs. P. B Alberson writes from Washington that the weather there is "simply fine, foggy and chilly We are having Washington boat for weather and Herbsters are all enjoying, pressing, and taking advantage of it Some are sawkling and some are cutting brush and others are even talking of breaking up steam power.

Pumping water by hand for 70 head of cattle and horses is no end job. P. B. Anderson has found this out and is now putting up a wind power mill which will pump water, grind feed and do other odd jobs around the farm

The school entertainment last week was a great affair Two great some think. Three schools Farmington Grand Forks, and Hardy, pooled together in the entertainment The school house was packed to the doors, standing room even being scarce A long varied programme, starting at 8 o'clock followed by basket sale and supper consumed lots of time and it was very late or rather early before some people got home. Some persons are old fashioned enough to think that this practice is not healthy especially for young children who should not to be deprived of their rest and sleep However, most of those present enjoyed the entertainment and thought it a great success The proceeds of the supper will go towards the libraries of the three schools

THE BONUS QUESTION
Why Not Bonus the Greatest of Basic Industries Agriculture?

For many years manufacturers of iron and steel tool and other articles produced from the Canadian raw material have received bonuses from the Dominion Government. Where there have been new ventures at this policy, it has as a whole been approved by the Canadian people as tending to promote the development of our native lines offering employment to Canadian labor Thus is no doubt a legitimate basis for the bounty system if properly applied and what is more important it results are being obtained But why confine the bounty system to manufacturing ? Is not the homesteader who converts the virgin prairie into wheat, oats, and who also raises good stock, entitled to his share in the development of our natural resources? True, he is given his land for next to nothing but he must work for it. Why not receive a concession from the Government as a very low figure Under present conditions the new comers have little or no capital to farming experience and on the whole are poorly qualified to take up the work of homesteading If there was no bounty on the steel, wheat produced from an acre on the method of cultivation or on the number of stock kept, or on some other basis that our agricultural experts may decide upon, it would be a great incentive to the inexperienced agriculturalist to make a careful study of his methods, and what is more important, it would attract a better class of farmers to the front. Some form of financial assistance to the immigrant means everything to the West. It is the only sound basis. The investment keep exceeds of the money will go towards the libraries of the three schools

Jet Pinseth has started an evening school to teach a class of beginners in English. There are people of all ages from 50 years down to the age of ten, all eager and determined to master the bugbugs of the land. Well done.

But it will be found that the money will be supplied to assist the Western farmer. Sadly during the first few years on the new land. If he felt that the money he was paying out of crops needed in the form of a customs revenue was being back to him through the other pocket in another form, the spirit of unrest and discontent which now prevails in some sections would disappear. The true and steel industries have built up tremendous industries in the United States, Sydney, New Glasgow and other points These industries have brought returns not alone to the manufacturers who organized the enterprises but to the workmen and the municipalities interested in them they are treated. Agriculture is the basic and steel, a basic industry and there would be very little doubt if a measure of this nature were laid before the House of Commons that it would be carried by a great majority. No sound reason can be given against the proposition. Before the Imperial movement could not make headway. But no man in Canadian public life ever professed greater devotion to Federation, and he knows his great backbiting. In 1896 he obtained office by opposing the protection of Separate Schools in Manitoba. In 1901 he imposed Separate Schools on Saskatchewan and Alberta. He declares he violated the constitution I can immediate political danger. Nothing can relieve them but, subject to appeal to the Dominion in certain cases matters the governors are vested with control over education and that in the interests of the hour is to back he belongs and against which he has been a life long battle the Liberal leader set aside the constitution which he was bound to respect. It was natural that the Church should make the demand. It would not be forced but still it should take care of the best interests of its faith. But it was left to our Premier not for the Dominion to determine whether or not their should have control over education. This is the outstanding fact in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's political career which is sufficient to explain and impossible to justify.

Beaver Lake East

K. G. King and Jas A. Stewart are away on a hunting trip.

Miss Bixby and Miss Jean Boley are home again from Lamont, quite recovered.

This weather certainly beats the record, as even old timers must agree. May it start with us a month now

The ice on the lake is about a foot thick. The lake has been making a great run of late, but as big a crop has developed as on the sale The good skating still continues

In a recent number of the Tofield STANDARD was Sir John Willison gave a very correct appreciation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier The following are extracts

Never shows that he does per sonal deference to party It is by leadership and capacity for public affairs. He has private honour, a high standard of conduct as per model leader and something of the magnetism for which Sir John Mac Donald was distinguished. A great writer has said that the power is equal to personal charm, and the fact lies at the root of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's personal and political success

It is true, however, that the liberal leader has been an exceedingly flexible politician The man who led the Liberal party in office in a campaign contest to the man who led the party in opposition Between 1878 and 1896 the Liberal press and the Liberal leaders denounced electoral corruption with something like religious fervour that it cannot be seriously argued that Pictorial methods improved under the Laurier Administration. Huge funds were collected and disbursed for municipal purposes In two elections every phase of trickery and misdoing was revealed. In general elections Federal Treasury was treated as the private purse of the Liberal politicians If the Liberal managers did not intend not to use the power of the purse to manipulate Dominion elections they did something to debase corruption into a science

Sir Wilfrid Laurier never was an Imperialist and therefore can not be expected to further the ideals of Imperialists. It is when a man placed on his conscience, and when he believes it his conscience, that he may become great for emphasis. It is true that in England he asked the Imperial government to call Canada into the councils of the Empire but not in an utterance for an occasion and not a deliberate declaration of faith So long as he was Premier the Imperial movement could not make headway. But no man in Canadian public life ever professed greater devotion to Federation, and he knows his great backbiting. In 1896 he obtained office by opposing the protection of Separate Schools in Manitoba. In 1901 he imposed Separate Schools on Saskatchewan and Alberta. He declares he violated the constitution I can immediate political danger. Nothing can relieve them but, subject to appeal to the Dominion in certain cases matters the governors are vested with control over education and that in the interests of the hour is to back he belongs and against which he has been a life long battle the Liberal leader set aside the constitution which he was bound to respect. It was natural that the Church should make the demand. It would not be forced but still it should take care of the best interests of its faith. But it was left to our Premier not for the Dominion to determine whether or not their should have control over education. The executive committee of the [illegible] met in the rooms on [illegible] and [illegible] Tuesday evening at [illegible] secretary Pinnell's office and later adjourned for the regular general monthly meeting of the Board in the town council chamber. Reports were received which show that the industrial effort of the coming year is to be put forth just as aggressively as that of last year it was decided to set aside all the subscription amounts coming in from the most recent large real estate owners for the purpose since it for which they are given viz. for following up last years active trial campaign. The line of effort which will be followed will be similar to that adopted by the Industrial League. The plan which effort was productive of a certain amount of success.

Anxious Concern Gladly Dispelled

Anxious concern was manifested among their friends also in town towards the close of last week when it became known that about ninety mounted Red Deer's escort from Mail Ferguson, Tom Lee and Herbert Miller who left at the last of October for a hunting trip north of Mr Paul de Metis. It is understood that they had stated that they would be back before a week's end and the long continued absence as to their whereabouts gave their friend need concern. The matter was placed in the hands of the Mounted Police who at once instituted an enquiry and the Monday word was received from St Paul de Metis that a party of three men answering the description given had passed through there that morning who were headed for Tofield.

Forecast Made on Redistribution Bill

Alberta Will Be Divided Into Groups Similar to Quebec

A report from Ottawa says that under the publication of the redistribution bill to be introduced next session Alberta will be divided into groups or districts not unlike the old long to those in Quebec province. Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Macleod will be three such districts. Edmonton will be given one seat, as Calgary Port Saskatchewan. The Strathcona constituency will run south and southeast. Victoria represented by Mr. Whiteside, M.P. remains unchanged.

The Winnipeg district is the centre of a big upheaval all the territory from range 12 east to the boundary is given one seat.

In the matter of redistribution the dispatch says, the liberals were consulted in almost every district

Dies From Burns.

Oscar Anderson Victim Of A Gasoline Explosion.

Oscar Anderson, twenty year old son of Lawrence Anderson, of Ross Creek, was seriously and probably fatally burned in a gasoline explosion last Sunday morning, while attempting to light a fire in his home with the use of gasoline. The whole interior of the house was at once in flames following the explosion and the home and all its contents were reduced to a pile of ashes in an incredibly short time. Young Anderson was taken into Edmonton on the evening express and placed in the Royal Alexandra Hospital. The flesh on his face, arms and hands was literally cooked, as severe was the effect of the burns.

Oscar Anderson died at 4 p. m. on Monday, at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton. The funeral took place at Ryley yesterday.

Christmas Giving

By giving presents at Yuletide, one experiences a certain joy for one has made someone happy, and that is one of the best and greatest things one can do. It is not the value of the present that does this: it is that manner by which it is given: the sentiment it conveys. One would not really be thrilled by the holiday spirit if one receives a costly present which does not mean anything to you, but if one receives a small present with a great deal of kindliness behind it, one appreciates it much more.

Christmas Reveries.

A right round merry Christmas.

o o o o o

Joy be with you, peace and good will.

o o o o o

The very name of Christmas seems laden with good things. There is a ring of joy in its tone and one can only associate it with pleasant thoughts and fond remembrances. Christmas to the child is the brightest star in the year's firmament. It is the beacon light on which their little eyes and thoughts are ever fastened.

o o o o o

Christmas is the same this year, last year and all the years before. It is old, yet 'tis new. It is a thing of the past, of the present and will be of the future until time transmorted. [illegible] who is there, among he one can to remember the Christmas of his childhood? Is there one who does not look back upon it as the happiest day of his life

o o o o o

Christmas is eminently the children's day. From the gray of early dawn—it is the only day in winter when their eyes open at that hour—to the latest hour at night, let everything give way to the little autocrats whose tyranny is courted by every man and woman who has any of the essence of love in his breast. Romp and tumble and shout with them. When another Christmas comes, some of them will not be here and those that are will by one year be that much further from the royalty that doth so fittingly become them. Christmas is for the children—let everything bend to their enjoyment.

o o o o o

Santa Claus was one of the oldest ideas of Celtic west in pagan times as he was of the pagan east before. In Christian times he was still regarded with religious reverence, sitting, as he had sat for ages in Egypt and elsewhere, in the arms of his mother. Santa Claus was, in fact, the child Jesus in the middle ages; and throughout that period the festive creed of Germany and all Celtic Europe was that he visited all family dwellings of good Christians on the eve of his anniversary, and brought with him gifts and blessings for the children. This beautiful tradition is still to be found lingering in Germany, though Santa Claus does not seem to be especially connected with it by name.

o o o o o

"Christmas," wrote Dickens, "is the only holiday of the year that brings the whole human family into common communion. We are scattered in many lands, yet the bond of union that has long held us together seems to strength with years. Many Christmas anniversaries have come and gone since we first assembled, in spirit if not in presence, to hang the holly and pledge our faith and friendship, and each recurring Christmas time has found us more closely united. Let us hope and believe that when even toddlers of our family shall have seen their heads grow gray the spirit of Christmas shall still make young their hearts.

Comment

The fact that the fire alarm rung out on the old bell last Wednesday morning was not heard as widely throughout town as it should be, demonstrates the wisdom of the Fire, Water and Light Department in deciding to install a steam whistle at the power plant for use in case of a general alarm being needed. The first whistle supplied did not meet with the approval of the Department and another one is coming which should arrive in a few days. The electric fire alarm system is now extended into the engineer's quarters at the power house so that an alarm rung in will at once be attended to by the engineer.

VIGOROUS JOURNALISM
Of the Out and Out Independent Kind
People who really want a sturdily independent but frankly liberal newspaper, will appreciate Mr. Dougall's paper, the "Montreal Weekly Witness." While some papers are meticulously and obviously at the beck and call of predatory interests, there are others that have maintained their independence and notably that great national paper the "Montreal Weekly Witness," is a striking example. It has never been under the thumb of any person or party, or clique. It is never grovelled. It has never pandered. The "Witness" is its unique self, loyal to its friends hated by its enemies.
Founded some sixty-eight years ago by the late John Dougall, the "Witness" has always been and the "Weekly Witness" still continues to be, exclusively owned and edited by Dougalls.
During the past three years from it has consecutively, developed and very efficiently, served the country in many ways, notably in its campaigns for Temperance, Right-to-vote, Religious Education and Lower Tariffs. Including two such lower cost and higher placed dining. If Canada is not yet enjoying to the full the benefits of these things, it is far ahead of many other countries in need of them, and this is due in no small measure to the stand, or, more correctly, the splendid campaigns of the "Witness" whenever opportunity afforded. The welfare of the Canadian farmer in particular has always been considered of prime importance by the Editor of the "Witness," and the "Witness" has done yeoman service to agriculture.
Generations of our finest Canadians families have literally been "brought up on the "Witness"—many of the most eminent Canadians will testify, and they continue its devoted admirers.
Besides the moral and political aspects of this great newspaper, it has attractive features embracing all the interests of the family and a splendid Farm and Poultry Department. Its short and serial stories are strong and fresh, and they alone are worth several times the price—one dollar a year. It has 50c New Subscribers now issuing the name of this paper one trial year may be had for only 65 cents. The publishers are as always, John Dougall & Son "Witness" Office, Montreal.
The "Weekly Witness" has no connection with our daily newspaper and is the healthier for it

W. C. T. U.
The December meeting of our Local Union was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Watkins. The Parsonage. The meeting was not as well attended as we could wish, but that was probably owing to the fact of the Xmas festivities being in prospect and the needful preparations for them. Some of our members were present and we had the great pleasure of hearing the addition of another member to our roll.
A discussion took place relative to the suggestion given us by Mrs Langstone, in her recent visit, in reference to those departments of W. C. T. work which could be advisable for our local union to adopt. Three of those were chosen and superintendents appointed.
Our union is composed of women who have many household duties to occupy their time, but each member feels anxious and willing to help on with the good work.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Stewart, "The Manse," on the second Thursday in January.

One afternoon not long ago, a certain Brooklyn youngster was much depressed by loneliness. His own brother had gone away for a week, and the lad across the street with whom he played occasionally, was ill in bed. Moreover there were no toys that he found amusing. In this sad state his mother found him.
Perhaps, she suggested I can play with you. What is it you wish to play to-day?

The supplies for the new Hast-ings Lake school arrived this week. Messrs. Stackhouse, Fred and Mar-tin Poole made a trip to Tofield last Monday with their teams and brought them in. The school will open shortly.

The settlers in this section of the Rural Municipality feel satisfied with the results of the recent elec-tion. They believe however that it would be better to have the municipality divided into electoral divisions, so that each and every division will be represented on the council.

A. J. Poole is in Edmonton this week on a business trip.

W. C. Stackhouse had a letter from his brother in B. C. last week. The writer says that they are hav-ing lots of fog and wet weather there. He is coming back to Sunny Alberta.

Beaver Lake East

This is the oldest settlement at Beaver Lake and the oldest be-tween Battleford and Fort Ruska-tchewan. The original settlers were half-breeds, the Berards, Beauchamps and Whitfords. In 1891 came Godfrey and Richard Steele and W. Inglis. In 1893 J. B. Steele joined his brothers. Then Major Butler, cousin of "Lone Land" Butler, arrived. In 1894 P. D. McCallum, brother of Malcolm and Dan McCallum, erected a large frame house for the major on But-ler's Lake (then named Tuwesinan Lake by the major), which has stood a mile and a half east of Beaver Lake.

In 1895 the North West Rebel-lion came to a head and the settle-ment was, for the time being, put an end to. The French half breeds, except the Berards, went off to join Riel. Major Butler and the Steeles went to the Fort. The Berards and Whitfords joined the Alberta Field Force as guides and scouts. The Steels also took an active part on the side of law and order.

Those were stirring pioneer days, when the Beaver Hills abounded in game, elk and other big game, days of hardship, of scarcity of grain and other necessaries; of nights spent out alone on the Fort trail in all sorts and conditions of weather. Thank Providence they're over and past, yet they were happy days too.

In 1897 Godfrey Steele and Dick returned to their claims; Jim going to Belmont, near Edmonton to teach school. A. R. Moody also came out that year. In the early autumn there was quite a rush to the settlement. Amongst others we might name Malcolm and Au-gus McCallum, Henry Daby, the celebrated writer for the press, and son Tom. J. D. MacAllister and his brothers Sandy and Donald, Chas. E. Clark, Frank Walker, F. W. Fane, J. C. Morrison, August Verch and Chris. Freeman. Some of these and others got tired wait-ing for the railroad and left.

The Beaver Lake School District, No. 223, was organized in 1892, the first trustees being Henry Daby, Malcolm McCallum and Arthur Moody. The first teacher was J. B. Steele, who held the job for nine years. Mr. Daby has been on the School Board almost continuously since that time.

Amongst the later settlers with their families, who arrived in the late nineties and the first years of the present century were Dan Mc-Callum, Jas. A. Stewart, David Watson, Jos. McCallum and E. G. King. Now we have a continuous "white" settlement along the east side of the lake, bounded in by a solid mass of Galicians, Ruthenians, Poles and other bi linguaists not to speak of "Roochians."

The first church services were held by Rev. Munroe, Methodist missionary at Victoria (now Pakan) and Mr. Arrol, Presbyterian mis-sionary at the Fort. Since that time the spiritual needs of the peo-ple have been ministered to by a long line of missionaries, Presby-terian and Anglican.

Beaver Lake East is one of the best grain growing districts in Al-berta, but until farming is the stand by of one and all. Wheat has yielded over fifty bushels per acre, oats over one hundred and barley more that fifty. All kinds of grain do well. Messrs. Henry Daby and J. B. Steele have experi-mented with apples successfully, the latter having the honor of pro-ducing, in 1902 the first fruit of this kind at the lake. As a proof of the superiority of this locality we may state that when the oats on other places have been at times killed by frost on account of frost, there was abundance of seed oats here, showing a germination test of from 91 to 97 per cent. Since 1893, corn (it is fodder corn, has never failed on at least one farm in the settlement. Amongst the most successful farmers in the district are Jas. Munroe, Albert McCallum, E. G. King, Cyrus Young and his son Charlie, and Forest Boyles.

Limited space counsels us to leave this brief sketch to a close. We are chock up with things we would like to speak of, but must refrain, for the present at least.

Council

The introduction of a by-law providing for the remission of pen-alties on arrears of taxes outstand-ing if same are paid together with all current taxes on or before De-cember 31st of the current year was made last Monday night at regular meeting of council. The consideration of such a proposition was strenuously opposed by Coun-cillor Sloan but the other members of council were unanimously in favor of it. The reason advanced by the municipality will settle all claims for compensation caused by a diversion being made for road purposes between sections 15 and 16-51-19-4.

On motion of Councillor Aber-nethy it was decided that T. J. Rogness be allowed $200 for extra work done for the municipality.

The adjournment was moved by Councillor Stirrett. The next meeting will be held on December 30th.

Pirrott urged that as the Palmer extension asked for would not in-crease insurance rates it should be allowed. Councillor Story said that if Councillor Pinsett would agree for the amendment to the by-law mak-ing a new southern limit of the re-stricted zone at 1st avenue he would not vote against it. Coun-cillor Pinsett thereupon moved such amendment but Councillor Story would not second it. Coun-cillor Williams stated that he would oppose it and gave as his reason that he was opposed to al-lowing large frame mercantile buildings to be erected on Scott & Emery's corner or on the one opposite, and besides, council could act with reason and grant an ex-emption at any time when it could be shown that what was asked for was in the public interest and would not increase any existing hazard. The proposed amendment not having a seconder fell by the wayside. Then council granted the special permit to Mr. Palmer to erect his fifth addition to the rear of his shop.

Councillor Williams, chairman of the Fire, Water & Light com-mittee, reported that he had as chairman of that depart-ment, ordered the construction by the engineer of a large steam vol-ator behind the big fire pump in the power house to keep it heated. He thought that this method was now to be preferred to installing a coal heater as it would be much cleaner and economical. Council readily acquiesced and adopted the report. The chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee reported also that no one was at present sleeping at the firehall at night and conse-quently the fire protection system was out of kilter in this respect and asked council to consider the matter and give necessary instructions. The matter was placed in the Fire, Water and Light Department with power to act.

Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Hammond, presented his annual report which showed the Health department to be active in taking hold of things pertaining to mat-ters of public health. With refer-ence to the milk supply of town he made some caustic remarks and stated that if the milk used in town was more or less contaminated. The department was endeavoring to secure a sanitary source of supply. Council then authorized the department to use all endeavor to secure a permanent and sanitary source of milk supply and then it would see that the pro-visions of the act in this respect were strictly complied with.

The next regular meeting of council will be held next Monday night. It being the last meeting of the old council.

With The Passing Of The Year

WITH THIS, the last issue of the old year, a brief resume of the developments which have taken place in Tofield and a summary of the good things which Westerners have enjoyed during the past year will be in order. The outlook at this beginning of the year, in the face of a strict financial stringency, while hopeful, was none too encouraging. But, Westerners are not enslaved with a pessimistic spirit and all went to work with a will to do and to make 1913 the best year in our history. It will be generally conceded that the year 1912 has been one of the best that the West has had. Not only have we come so far through the financial stringency with flying colors, but we have garnered in the best crop in the history of the West, both as to quantity and quality. Farmers have done well not only in grain raising but in the stock and hog lines. In Alberta, and particularly so in the Tofield district, the dairy phase of mixed farming has commanded more and more of the farmers' attention and this industry has resulted in an ever growing and regularly coming in revenue. While it is yet only half-heartedly followed by many, the poultry industry has made rapid progress and the great profits which accrue to followers of this industry will eventually be taken more advantage of.

Agricultural

Municipal

In Tofield municipal development has progressed satisfactorily. 1913 has seen the long looked for installation of a first class waterworks system for fire protection primarily. This system, however, has been designed as the first unit of a permanent system for domestic use and the plans and specifications of all work and materials were made accordingly. The installation of a water distribution by team and wagon to householders has relieved a perplexing situation for many. Street improvements and drainage, such as have been done, are of permanent and lasting benefit. In all departments of civic government and development progress has been made which has placed us far in advance of our position one year ago.

Industrial

Industrially Tofield has made decided and satisfactory progress. While expectations may not have been fully realized owing to 1913 being a year of financial stringency and there being a consequent tendency on the part of all industrial capital to stand pat for the time being, industrial development in Tofield has taken on concrete and satisfactory form. The Tofield Foundry and Machine Shops have installed a full plant and are in operation. The Dominion Brick Co. has installed a plant and demonstrated to the utter satisfaction of all concerned, themselves and others, that the brick industry in Tofield is most satisfactory, both as to the quality of the production and as to the market demands for the output. It is a matter of considerable satisfaction that tests made by various competent and scientific experts as to the quality of our clays and shales have resulted in the demonstration that these will make clay products of the best known quality and that the eyes of capital have been drawn to this fact and steps are being taken by it in various forms for the early development of our natural resources along these lines.

Coal

Never before has there been such a demand upon the Tofield Coal Mining Firms for a supply of OUR CHEAP FUEL as there has been this fall. This demand is increasing wonderfully year by year and the limits of the field covered by consumers of this article is extending over the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan with astonishing rapidity. From Manitoba, Regina to Yorkton in Saskatchewan, east along the G. T. P. and south along the Tofield Calgary branch and to Edmonton west and south, Tofield coal is finding a permanent and ready market. Development in the Tofield coal mining industry can scarce keep pace with the demands which shower in from all points for this necessary article and which Tofield can supply at prices which defy competition and the quality of which article is unquestioned.

Power

This brings us to the power question. Progress has been made along this line, such progress as has created a condition upon which will be based an early development of a most satisfactory nature. This development will take the form of an industrial activity. The power question will be solved by the manufacture of electricity from ungetheap coal, a superabundance of which lies at our very hand. Various propositions are already on tapis in regard to the establishment at an early date of a large industry of this nature and developments are expected almost any day which will result in a wonderful increase in activities in connection with our coal fields and which will make Tofield a great electrical centre.

Aside from the working towards a sure thing in the power and fuel question, which "sure thing" is the superabundance of cheap coal at our doors, the natural gas question is a live matter. In 1912 Tofield demonstrated to Central Alberta that a great gas field underlaid this portion of the province. Kindred towns at more or less distances from Tofield have since corroborated this demonstration by feeding gas in more or less quantities. The development of the resource is a live question and while it is not considered expedient that the town should of itself push further prospecting, steps are being taken along private co-operation lines to bring this work to a successful fruition.

So, on the whole 1913 has been a year of development and progress for Tofield. A progress and a development in which all have a part and from which all have benefitted to a more or less marked extent. May the coming year have many more good things in store for us.

Complimentary Shows Largely Attended

The people of Tofield and district responded readily to the invitation of the Retail Merchants Association of Tofield to attend the complimentary shows provided by the latter at the Variety Theatre last week. Not frequently has the Theatre been so crowded to its fullest capacity as it was on several occasions at these performances. Never before perhaps has the excellence of the shows put on by Messrs. Bowker and Elliott, managers of the Variety, been demonstrated at one time to the people in the country surrounding in such a pleasant and entertaining manner. The people one and all, were much pleased with the entertainments provided and the spirit of cordiality on the part of the businessmen much appreciated.

WORLD WIDE

Canada's Leading Literary Review

"World Wide" is a choice weekly selection of articles and cartoons reproduced from other journals and reviews reflecting the current thought of the Old and New World.

To the busy man who wishes to keep in touch with the world's great events "World Wide" is invaluable. Trained experts select for him the really best articles of the week from the world's best publications. Almost every article you wish to keep or must to a friend.

"World Wide" started twelve years ago, has found its place on the study table. Preachers, teachers, writers and thinkers generally hail it as a welcome companion. As a pleasant tonic, a stimulant to the mind "World Wide" has no peer at the price, no equal among the journals of the day.

As someone has said "World Wide" is a feast of reason — an intellectual feast.

Principal Peterson, LL. D., McGill University, Montreal, says: "I am sure 'World Wide' ought to have a highly prosperous career before it."

Principal D. B. Read, Arcadia University, says: "I look eagerly for your weekly collection of good things, and recommend the paper warmly to my friends."

Professor H. Rhodes, West River, N. S., says: "'World Wide' is a delight to me. Read every word."

S. E. Dawson, LL. D., Ottawa, says: "I take a good many papers, but 'World Wide' is the only one which I read without skipping."

"World Wide" is wonderfully well edited.—Jos. Ryan, Notary, Cranbrook, B. C.

"Almost every article in almost every issue you feel you would like to put away among your treasures."—Editor, "Telegraph," Welland, Ont.

"Permit me to add one more appreciation from the Far West. 'World Wide' is a source of information. Good to have, hard to do without."—Jno. Nicholls, Editor, "Sun," Grenfell, Sask.

On trial to new subscribers—three months for only 25c; twelve months for only $1. Regular rate $1.50.

"World Wide" is published by John Dougall & Son, "Witness" Block, Montreal, Canada. Try it for a year.

The following paragraph from an article by Andrew Long may prove profitably suggestive to those who have cares to sell and are shy about advertising them:

When a goose lays an egg, said Mr. Long, She just waddles off as if she was ashamed of it — because she is a goose. When a hen lays an egg, she calls fourteen neighbors to witness it. The hen is a natural born advertiser. Because the demand for hens' eggs exceeds the demand for goose eggs, and the hen has all the business she can attend to.

Ross Creek

Mrs. Elmer Hallberg, her son, and her mother, Mrs. Cremonson, left last week for the coast to spend three months visiting friends. Elmer is batching these days. He comes round once in a while for a square meal.

A. T. Banks shipped half a car of hogs last week through Charlesworth and Smith of Tofield.

F. H. Parker was in town last Monday on business.

Frank Harris was a visitor to Tofield on Monday.

The epidemic amongst horses in upper Ross Creek seems to have passed away. Quite a number of farmers lost several horses each. F. H. Parker lost five.

The Ross Creek Syndicate are busy grinding grain for feed for the settlers round about. The rig is stationed at Geo Raph's. They are doing quite a business.

The snow was a welcome change and makes the Christmas season more like it ought to be. As yet we have not enough for sleighing.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

R. G. Grieve & Co announce that they have disposed of an interest in their hardware, furniture and implement business to Mr. Geo. McLaughlin who has been with them for the past six months, and that the firm will after the new year be known as the Grieve-McLaughlin, Limited. Many of our readers will be interested and pleased to receive this announcement. Mr. McLaughlin, besides being of pleasing personality to every customer has behind him a thorough experience in the hardware business. Born in Winnipeg he in his early youth entered the well known firm of J. H. Ashdown's hardware and spent several years with them. He later spent some years with Cunningham's in Vancouver. For six years he was in the hardware business in Manitoba on his own account. More recently he came to Edmonton where he was associated with the Cheeva Hardware Co. It was there that Mr. Grieve found him and secured his services for his firm at Tofield, a move which has finally resulted in Mr. McLaughlin's taking an interest in the business, and becoming a permanent townsman.

It would only be proper and coming to him for the Standard to have a word to say about Mr. Grieve. Since coming to Tofield last spring Mr. Grieve has proven himself to be a man of good business judgment and has built up an excellent trade. He has taken a keen interest in town affairs and is a live member of the Board of Trade. May the firm prosper.

The Standard Extends to its Readers the Best Wishes for a Happy Christmas and Prosperous New Year.
